The first thing on the programme was a paper on "Pseudo Experts in Lunacy" by Dr. S. Grover Burnett of Kansas City. It was a scathing criticism of the present custom that prevails in the courts of allowing attorneys to bring forth anyone who has been able to secure a diploma from any sort of a medical institute and introduce him on the witness stand as a "medical expert" in any branch that happened to be in question. He took the ground that in cases where insanity was the question, no one should be allowed to be put on the stand as an expert unless he had been living among insane patients and had secured the insight which comes only from the closest examination into the peculiarities of the victims themselves. He also thought the question whether a witness was an expert or not should be decided by the court and not by the attorney who had the witness issued. He sustained his position by citing a number of instances in which the evil effects of the present system were shown.

The reading of the paper was followed by a discussion which was participated by Drs. Theobald, Payne, Stone and Gagen. This was followed by an interesting paper on "Neurasthenia Treated by the Keeley Method."

Dr. F. W. White gave an interesting talk in regard to "Gratitudes Wrongly Bestowed," after which the society adjourned to the Grand hotel, where a magnificent banquet had been prepared for a number of toasts were responded to. Dr. Donald Macrae of this city acted as toast master.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Democrats Promise to Kick Up a Very Lively Row.

MANY CANDIDATES FOR EVERY OFFICE.

Today Will Witness a Struggle Among the Untried Hosts Which May Split the Party.

The democrats of Pottawattamie county will hold their convention today. The discussions which arose in the rank and file of the party last Tuesday evening have been steadily growing ever since, until a genuine war seems likely to break out. W. H. Knepper, who is looking with longing eyes at the treasurership, is going to make trouble in the statements of some of the old democratic war horses are to be believed. The delegation which was elected the other night from the Second ward at the city building is said to be unanimously in his favor, and Knepper is quoted as saying that if he doesn't have twelve votes from that ward alone he won't go into the convention at all. The delegation which was selected by the dissatisfied democrats in the same ward is going to make a frantic struggle for reorganization from the convention, and Knepper is also quoted as saying that if the convention recognizes the supporters at the expense of his registers, he has a lot of good friends who will pull their knives out of their pockets and go in for, metaphorically speaking, the prospects for war are accordingly very flattering.

The contest for sheriff is a badly mixed affair, and time alone can tell how it will be decided. Three candidates are mentioned prominently from outside the city, viz: A. H. Hooker of Avoca, J. T. Hazen and J. P. Stur of Minden. Hooker is O'Neill's deputy. A democrat who has the reputation of keeping thoroughly abreast of the times in political matters, furnished the following information to a local reporter yesterday in regard to the candidates whose names will be brought before the party for nomination in the various offices: William Gronow has a monopoly on all senatorial aspirations that are to be found in the democratic party, so far as is known. The candidates for the legislature are more numerous. W. H. Ware, R. W. Briggs, W. Wyman, A. W. Hensley, J. B. Johannsen and S. G. Underwood have coveted offices on the office, and even Lucius Wells is said to be willing to exchange the business of selling self-bleeders for that of making laws. Those who have signified their willingness to accept the nomination of sheriff are C. D. Waters, Larson, A. H. Hooker, John P. Stahr, John T. Hazen and George C. Wise. Several weeks ago Chief of Police Cary was known to have an eye on the office, but recently his remarks have been few and made only to his intimate friends. The same democrat states that Mr. Cary is hard to know how that may be struck.

For county treasurer the following are in the field: W. D. Harp, J. B. Matthews, Brooks Road, Knapton, A. P. Rice, F. W. Spelman and John Plummer. There are but two candidates for county superintendent of schools: O. H. Moore and H. Cooper. J. C. Waterman is the only one who wants the office of coroner. For county surveyor L. P. Johnson and E. Stinson are the candidates. Two members of the Board of Supervisors go out this fall, Alexander Osler and Charles Alexander. The latter is a candidate for re-election, and with him are J. R. Wilnot, John Williams, J. R. Black and D. A. Cole. Of all this amount of democratic talent a good share must be disappointed. Republicans are taking advantage of this fact, and are making a canvass of the situation with a view to making something more between now and next Saturday, when the republican primaries are to be held. The squabble in the democratic ranks has convinced the republican leaders that now is their chance to slide in and win some of the plums themselves.

Good Deal of Trouble, Considering. Theodore Bray commenced a suit in the superior court in 1888 against Mason Wise to collect $140 for a horse which he sold to Wise and which had been seized by Wise to pay for his keeping. The suit was tried before Judge Ayersworth and a verdict for 25 cents was rendered in favor of the plaintiff. The outcome of the case was unsatisfactory to the attorneys and the case was appealed to the supreme court. The papers have just been received from the supreme court, with the court's decision marked "affirmed." Bray's attorneys will now proceed to collect their judgment of 25 cents.

False Report. A report was circulated all over the city yesterday that Prof. D. W. McDermid had died at his home in Winnipeg, Canada, from an attack of pneumonia. The information professed to come through a telegram received by Prof. Southwick of the Deaf and Dumb institute at St. Joseph, Mo., yesterday afternoon, and stated that he had received no telegram at all from Prof. McDermid, and that the only information he had had concerning him was a note, which stated that he had been ill but was rapidly recovering. How the report originated is a mystery.

Famous Case. Attorney General Stone finished his brief yesterday in the famous case of the United States against the Des Moines River Navigation company, which has been in the supreme court for the last twenty-five years. It is massive document of about 120 type written pages, and tells the story of the case, and considerable length. About 10,000 acres of land were given by the United States government to the state of Iowa on the condition that the state should make certain improvements along the Des Moines river. The state turned over the land to a company known as the Des Moines River Navigation company with the same conditions. The company took the land and sold it, but neglected to make the required improvements. From that time to this the government has been trying to oust the settlers who claim the land by right of deed from the state. The case is now on for final hearing on the third Monday in October before the supreme court at Washington. The land in question is now valued at $4,000,000, and the case is consequently of great importance.

Candidate for Coroner. The friends of Dr. J. J. Allen have been pushing him to the front the past few days in the race for the coronership and a great deal of quiet work has been done in his behalf. The indications now are that he will come out first best in the race. He will go out at least with at least a good showing, and also has a large number of adherents in the country districts. Dr. Allen is well known in this city, where he has a large and lucrative practice. He is a man of well fitted for the position, and if elected will no doubt fill the office acceptably.

FOUGHT TO A FINISH. Two "Burlington" Boys Settle a Difference in the Roped Arena.

The general headquarters building of the B. & M. railway is assuming a very "sporty" tone and holds within its walls several patrons of the popular sports. The baseball crank is too numerous to mention and the devotees of the kindred sports of hunting and fishing are numerous enough to entertain the entire force with accounts of their wonderful adventures, but it was not until yesterday that it became known that the headquarters also became a brace of full fledged prize fighters. The fact would not have leaked out then, but the very dilapidated appearance of Frank Rasmussen, a young man about 18 years old, employed in the telegraph office, better known as "Rassy," and Fred Johnson, a clerk in the general freight office, about the same age, and called "Curly" for short.

Rassy tried to hide a variegated optic and a swelling on his left cheek the size of a hen's egg, decked in several colors, while Curly wore his hair perched jauntily over his forehead, which was decorated with a projection done in sombre colors.

The appearance of these two ambitious youths naturally excited a great deal of suspicion and the truth of the matter leaked out during the day.

Monday night these two kids, accompanied by Charles Boyd of the general manager's office, Ted Toussand, George Guild and Al Shook of the telegraph office, and a crowd of about a dozen spectators, gathered at the home of the treasurer's office and another clerk whose name could not be learned, went across the Douglas Street bridge to the Iowa field. Here a crowd of about 100 well fitted for the occasion and the doughy principals were prepared for the bloody fray.

Boyd, Toussand and O'Brien acted as seconds for Rasmussen while Guild and the nameless party performed the same service for Johnson. Shook acted as referee.

The principals were both stripped to the waist and each had blood in his eye. Time was called and they went at it savagely with bare knuckles. The contest lasted ten short rounds and the decision of the referee was in favor of Rasmussen.

After the victor and the vanquished had been sponged off the party returned to this city and all swore secrecy.

As far as could be learned the conflict was merely for the purpose of settling who was the best man, but there is a growing suspicion about the headquarters that there is an affair of the heart at the bottom of the business.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT. Lincoln Officers Swope Down on a Busy Counterfeiter.

A few days ago Deputy United States Marshal S. M. Melick arrested a young man named Clark in Lincoln for passing counterfeit money at the fair. Clark had a hearing before a United States commissioner and was bound over for trial for the sum of $1,000.

Marshal Melick picked up a clown when Clark was arrested and started out to locate the plant where the bogus coin was being manufactured.

An arrest made yesterday afternoon shows how successful they were.

In a little while the money was found near East Omaha David Enslow was found yesterday afternoon by the United States marshal and Detective Charles Crow and placed under arrest charged with making counterfeit coin.

Quite a number of molds and some metals used in the manufacture of the money were also found and confiscated by the marshal.

The story of the capture is an interesting one and reflects credit upon the officers who were successful in their mission. The counterfeit money was found in the county jail, along with his pal Clark.

WARD CLUB MEETINGS.

Republicans of the Ninth Ready for the Campaign.

The Ninth Ward Republican club reorganized last evening in its hall at Twenty-ninth and Farnam for the coming campaign. The first thing they did was to elect officers, which was accomplished after something of a row.

The officers elect are W. I. Kierstead, president; E. P. Davis, vice president; C. J. Johnson, treasurer; Jerome Condit, secretary; Charles J. D'Annunzio, janitor.

The president announced that the ward committeemen to whom was delegated the work of naming the delegates from the Ninth ward to the state convention preferred to have the club select them, and a committee consisting of Messrs. Davis, Rice and Johnson was appointed to bring in a list of names to be balloted for by the club.

The committee selected the following delegates—Dr. S. D. Mercer, Frank Hanson, W. Kierstead, D. J. O'Donohue, P. E. Winters, Alternates—M. E. Rice, C. J. Johnson, Simon Trosier, F. M. Ellis, A. G. Edwards. The above named gentlemen unanimously selected to be reported to the county central committee.

A resolution was adopted asking the Park commission to help the offer of Charles Turner of twenty lots between Farnam and Dodge and Thirty-first street and Thirty-first avenue at $1,500 per lot, as the adjoining property owners had agreed in that event to purchase an additional fifty feet and present it to the commissioners as an addition to the park; and that the next big park be purchased in the northern part of the city.

Several members of the Sixth ward club were present and spoke in favor of the jubilee to be held in Exposition hall, October 17. A committee, consisting of Messrs. Palmer, Trosier and Pettit, was appointed to assist them in selling tickets.

Mr. O'Donohue was appointed a committee of one to secure the loan of chairs from the Real Estate exchange.

It was decided to hold the meetings of the club every Thursday evening, and this meeting adjourned for one week.

Fourth Ward Republicans. A large number of the republicans of the Fourth ward attended the meeting of the Fourth Ward Republican club at Judge Anderson's office last night.

OTTAWA'S BOODLING SCANDAL. Examinations of Witnesses Does Not Make it Appear in a Better Light.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 17.—The Printing bureau investigation was continued today. O. Beauchemin of Montreal, showed that Senecal, the superintendent, obtained ninety commissions from his firm on $900 worth of orders.

F. Benoit, president of the Montreal Conservative association in 1887, gave evidence as to receiving a $1,500 check for election purposes, made out by the Dominion Type company.

The opposition wanted to examine the reporter who took the notes in the New England company-Lalrasse suit to show that land company-Lalrasse suit to show that J. Brooks Young, a recent witness, had made a different statement about the much talked of letter from Chaplain to Young.

The conservative opponents to the admission of such evidence, and during the discussion a wordy war took place between Lister and Foster, minister of finance. Lister said that Foster knew that Young had given in incriminating evidence in the trial at Montreal. Foster denied this, but Lister reiterated, when Foster angrily appealed to the committee to be protected from such backguardism. Lister finally took it back and Foster peacefully accepted.
