

THE DAILY BEE. F. ROSEWATER, Editor.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily Bee (without Sunday) One Year, $4.00; Six Months, $2.50; Three Months, $1.50; Sunday Bee, One Year, $5.00; Saturday Bee, One Year, $5.00; Weekly Bee, One Year, $1.00.

OFFICES: Omaha, The Bee Building, South Omaha, corner 2d and 26th Streets, Council Bluffs, 12 Pearl Street, Chicago Office, 37 Chamber of Commerce, New York, Rooms 14, 15 and 16 Tribune Building, Washington, 313 Fourteenth Street.

ALL communications relating to news and editorial matter should be addressed to the Editorial Department.

ALL business letters and communications should be addressed to The Bee Publishing Company, Omaha. Drafts, checks and postage orders to be made payable to the order of the company.

THE Bee Publishing Company, Proprietors THE BEE BUILDING.

SWORN STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION. State of Nebraska, ss. N. P. Fell, business manager of The Bee Publishing Company, do solemnly swear that the actual circulation of The Daily Bee for the week ending September 13, 1891, was as follows: Sunday, Sept. 13, 38,319 copies; Monday, Sept. 14, 34,773 copies; Tuesday, Sept. 15, 34,509 copies; Wednesday, Sept. 16, 34,509 copies; Thursday, Sept. 17, 34,509 copies; Friday, Sept. 18, 34,509 copies; Saturday, Sept. 19, 34,509 copies.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 19th day of September, A. D. 1891. E. P. Rosewater, Notary Public.

For the Campaign. In order to give every reader in this state and Iowa an opportunity to keep posted on the progress of the campaign in both these states we have decided to offer THE WEEKLY BEE for the balance of this year for twenty-five cents. Send in your orders early. Two dollars will be accepted for a club of ten names.

EVERY republican elected a delegate to the state convention should go in person and do it at his own expense.

THE week has been hot as midsummer, but that is the way we like it when hot weather is worth $1,000,000 a day to our farmers.

A $8,000 frame school building will be a grand monument to the inefficiency of the Board of Education which awarded the contract for it.

IF JUDGE COBB prayerfully meditates during the Sabbath upon the political condition prevailing just now he will gracefully retire from public life without further ado.

IF THERE is one man in the state entirely too dead to skin so far as his political future is concerned that man is the Lincoln Journal's preferred candidate for regent of the State university.

THE members of the Methodist conference now in session all agree that the reports of their proceedings published in THE BEE have been both full and accurate. The gentlemen should not be surprised at this. THE BEE is a newspaper.

AN OMAHA pearl button factory will reconcile most people herabouts to the heavy duty imposed upon imported pearl buttons by the McKinley bill.

GOVERNOR THAYER was pleased with the resolutions reflecting upon his manliness somewhat seriously passed by the Grand Island convention of democrats.

TOLEDO is a long way from Omaha, but Omaha money which should be paid out in wages to Omaha laboring men will go to Toledo because Omaha courtmen have the insufficient hardihood to ignore public sentiment when properly manipulated by a skillful salesman.

THE Methodist Episcopal annual conference, which closes tomorrow or Tuesday, has brought to Omaha and to the homes of her citizens some seventy-five or more Methodist clergymen.

SPEAKING of that remarkable compound of self-conceit and impudence which men have learned to recognize as "gall," reminds THE BEE that there are self-feeding factories of the article inside the inactive livers of a dead duck and a lickspittle at Fremont, and a glutinous, pampered corporation stool pideon who tries to edit a newspaper at Lincoln.

REPUBLICANS who believe the railroads have earned absolute rest, and re- tirement from republican politics should not remain quietly at home while the railroads pass their friends to the convention. It is the duty of the opponents of railroad ring rule in state politics to be at Lincoln in time for the opening of the state convention at 10 o'clock Thursday morning; earlier if possible.

DOUGLAS county will cast 63 of the 82 votes in the judicial district convention. These figures must look very discouraging to the Washington county lawyer whom the independents picked out as a good man for district judge, and who was encouraged by their action to attempt the defeat before the republican convention of so able and upright a judge as M. R. Hopewell of Burt county.

ORGANIZING THE CONVENTION. When the republicans meet in Lincoln next Thursday at 10 o'clock a. m. the first business which will require their attention will naturally be the organization of the convention. Hitherto this has been frequently made the test of the strength of various issues presented. Sometimes it is used to show the relative number of votes for the several candidates and at other times it becomes the evidence of the manipulation of the convention in a particular interest.

It is sincerely hoped by THE BEE on behalf of the republican party that the railroads will not attempt to secure the organization or in any other way to manipulate the deliberations of the convention. A generous competition among candidates for advantages of position it would be more in keeping with the principles of the party to have a man named for chairman who would scorn to use the position for the advancement of any particular interest or for the benefit of one candidate against another.

THE MANUFACTURERS MEETING. Acting upon the suggestion of THE BEE and in furtherance of the campaign on behalf of Omaha industries, the manufacturers of the city will meet tomorrow afternoon to organize an association and discuss the situation. Special efforts have been put forth to secure a large and representative attendance and a useful co-operative organization ought to grow out of the meeting.

THE METHODIST PREACHER. Among protestant denominations none is more aggressive and successful than the great Methodist Episcopal church. The Wesleyan communion in all its branches represents about 40,000,000 souls. These are not all members of the church but their religious beliefs are moulded and directed by the followers of John Wesley.

NATIONAL RETROGRESSION. When a country is able to show a growth of population of but little more than 1 per cent a year, it is fairly to be said of it that it is retrograding. This is the condition of Canada as shown by the recent census.

THE UNSEEMLY HASTE. The nomination of Cobb for supreme judge by the republicans will undoubtedly have the effect to excite a large body of democrats to vote for Edgerton because of the former's notorious method of unseating Boyd. They do not object so much to the decision as to the manner in which it was rendered.

THE MOST ACCEPTABLE. If the republican party in Nebraska desires the election of a supreme judge of its own choosing, the choice must be a man whose past record is in harmony with public sentiment. Any other course will lead to certain defeat.

THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS. The best of both worlds is a man who is a good man and a good lawyer. He is a man who is a good man and a good lawyer. He is a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

minion government wants a larger measure of commercial independence. This may be granted, but how much good it would do Canada while she remains a dependency of Great Britain is wholly problematical. The obvious fact is that Canada is at an enormous disadvantage in competition with the United States and must continue to be so long as she maintains her present colonial relations.

A LESSON ON HOME PATRONAGE. A few years ago when Omaha was half its present size, one large cigar factory employed 125 hands, paying them from $10 to $15 each per week. This was one of several establishments engaged in manufacturing cigars.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

the announcement that one or more souls had "experienced the blessing." The old-fashioned revivals, the old-fashioned camp-meetings are no more. The great church has grown largely out of the primitive practices in which its strength was originally centered.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

United States treasury are equivalent to gold because convertible into that coin. It is no more essential that there should be a volume of currency equal to the amount of money subject to draft in the banks or the total volume of business transacted than that a retail firm doing a business of $500,000 per year should have always available $500,000 worth of goods in their store, or that a life insurance company should keep always in convertible securities enough resources to pay its entire liabilities, counting the face of each policy a liability.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

BITTING HUMAN FOES. People never want to get married as earnestly as they desire to get divorced. The love people have for each other is part courtesy that dies as soon as it is gratified. The farmer who takes to the stump is always the farmer who has the stump on his farm. Too many people imagine that learning to eat with the fork is the sum of good manners.

THE FASHION IN JEWELRY. Souvenir scarf pins have hit the popular fancy. Ringed gold and platinum wire bracelets are sought for. Sleeve buttons for ladies consist of moonstone hearts in silver frames.

PASSING JESTS. At $500 a shower, Idahoans are paying a pretty stiff price for their waterfalls. Melbourne got the long haul.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

THE BEE'S VIEW. The Bee's view is that the republican party should not be so much interested in the nomination of a supreme judge as in the nomination of a man who is a good man and a good lawyer.

WHY HIS VETO WAS GIVEN. Governor Boyd Writes a Letter Regarding the Newberry Bill's Fate. HONESTY DEMANDED HIS DISAPPROVAL. Senator Warren Switzer Talks About the Grand Island Platform - "Some Mighty Interesting Reading" Given Out.

A reporter accused Senator Switzer yesterday on the subject of the Grand Island platform and ran onto something unexpected. When asked about the platform and particularly the criticism that has been made on the silver plank, the senator said he preferred to say nothing either way on the silver question just now, but thought it would have done Ohio democracy little good and probably much harm in besting contest on this subject, if the democrats of this new western state had repudiated the free silver idea altogether.

Then the senator said: "Since you have mentioned the subject I want to tell you that there is in that pocket about as much as I can handle, and I am inclined to give it to you for publication. The day before the convention I received by messenger from Governor Boyd this letter, and after reading it I asked and obtained his permission to use it in any way I saw fit. I showed it to several at Grand Island, some of whom were inclined to criticize his veto, and all, without exception, said that it was a very good letter and should be published, and you can have it."

"The truth is the people of Nebraska have never understood this veto of Governor Boyd, and for this or some other reason have not accorded him the support he is entitled to. The truth is, James E. Boyd is a man of good sense, and I have been called upon to have followed his own convictions against the temptations that were held out to him. You know that when I was in Lincoln when he was considering this bill, there was called a convention of the democratic editors, who met there and practically took him up on a mountain and said: 'Now Governor, you sign this bill and the world is yours.' In other words, they offered to make him king and ruler of the world if he would go against his own-bred convictions, simply that the party might be benefited. I say party benefited because none would say the bill was not righteous and that it was defensible in the extreme. But here is the letter:

OMAHA, Sept. 16.-Hon. Warren Switzer: My dear Sir: I have accepted the judgment of Mr. Ogden as correct and will not be present at the convention tomorrow. Should it become necessary so that I must go, you and other friends will in our platform give no blame for the non-passage of a reasonable silver bill, which is right, to those honorable members of the last legislature. There is a saying that 'self-excusing is self-accusing,' and it is not my purpose to make any excuses whatever for my official acts, but the truth in regard to the bill in question, as passed by the legislature has never been published in the newspapers, and comparatively few of the people know the real reasons why it was not passed.

I know that the alliance members did not want reasonable legislation. They wanted a grievance to go before the people and risk a power to be able to make a record. I did not want a remedy. It was well known to every alliance member that the bill was passed in favor of a reasonable reduction in the rates of freight from that which now prevails throughout the state. I strongly urged the same in my message as governor, and that would have signed the bill, even though some of the alliance and more radical than I in my judgment would have opposed it. I would have acted known as the 'Newberry bill' the placing of my name thereupon in approval of its passage was, according to the constitution, equivalent to a confession of private property and a repudiation of the reasonable bill.

My action was guided solely by the vast interests at stake. I was aware of the increasing number of anti-union men who were in the last assembly and the railway lines of the state, and I knew that the alliance members had an eloquent tongue to make that majority stand together as a powerful and self-acting unit. I was aware of the measure directed against the state treasury that moved by this force of passion and revenge, such a measure would be one of partial paralysis and would shut the roads and to the business interests of the state. You are aware of the fact that the alliance members were in a large measure, I personally urged a less extreme demand. I believed that in calmer moods many who voted for the bill would have been swayed by its provisions, agree that mistakes had been made and serious wrongs imposed. I was not satisfied.

But it was urged upon me that as a party measure my signature to the bill would ultimately destroy republican supremacy in this state. It was urged that the bill was unconstitutional, and whether or not, that a majority of the supreme court would so declare it, and the act of the legislature, as the act of the court, and the court being republicans, such a decision would be the crowning injustice and the self-acting of the alliance. How it was all arranged out with such a possibility certainly I have never been able to ascertain. I believe that the bill was passed in violation of my oath, as a member of the supreme court, and that the ratification of my office. This has never done and will not do. I believe that the alliance members thus to secure the supremacy of my party. Nor did I believe that party would be benefited if I had signed the bill, as I had secured success by such means it surely would not have wished to retain me longer in its ranks.

I have never gained either personal or political advantage by disapproving the bill. I never will, and I have no apologies to make for my official acts and no apologies to make for the bill. I do not want that the people of Nebraska should be misled by truth and no man is more capable of telling it to them than yourself, which I trust you will have an opportunity to do at the democratic state convention. Yours truly,

JAMES E. BOYD.

"What was the feeling at Grand Island in regard to Governor Boyd's veto, as near as you could judge?" was asked.

"I am satisfied from what I saw and heard that there were men there - and I think not many - who would have liked to see a vote of censure, but I am equally as convinced that many more of that kind would have been 'sat upon' by nine-tenths of the delegates at least, and an act of the opinion that such a resolution of endorsement of my action would have been carried by at least two-thirds, and possibly three-fourths or more."

"The truth is, as soon as the people of this state are made to understand the real reasons why Governor Boyd vetoed this bill, that no one understands it who would not offer over and over again to join in passing a bill repudiating present ratification of the platform, and a fair ballot and offered to amend the bill which could have been made legal, equitable and beneficial to the state, and I think that many of our leaders they ever and who brought victory to their cause and who today is a leader of leaders, who, like your true leader should have no man can read his letter, which I believe you are in an impartial light without admiration for his courage and gratification that we have, or at least had, a governor with manhood enough to act according to his convictions, thus demonstrating that democratic maxim, 'A public office is a public trust.'"

DR. PHIPPS' FAVORITE FRUIT FLAVORS. VANILLA } Of perfect purity. LEMON } Of great strength. ORANGE } Economy in their use. ROSE } Flavor as delicately and deliciously as the fresh fruit.

DR. PHIPPS' FAVORITE FRUIT FLAVORS.