Fourth Judicial District Democrats Name a Straight Party Ticket.

NO REPUBLICAN NEED APPLY THERE.

Non-Partisanship Discussed Long and Loud and Buried Under an Adverse Majority-One Independent Was Endorsed.

"And the calves got out." as Major Furay would regretfully say.

The democratic judicial convention was held yesterday afternoon and that is the way many of the leading democrats, including several of their lawyers, feel over the result. A vigorous fight was made to maintain the non-partisan idea and its advocates fearlessly asserted that disaster would surely follow if the bars were thrown down as proposed, but the opposition was too strong and a straight partisan ticket was nominated with a single exception, where the candidate is an exdemocrat who, but a short time ago, sought and secured a nomination on the independent ticket.

The nominees are judges Eleazer Wakeley, George W. Donne, A. N. Ferguson, Frank Irvine, George W. Shields and Messrs, T. B. Minahan and Anthony E. Langdon. The first four are the present democratic incumbents on the district bench, the fifth the present county judge, the sixth an aspirant and nominee for the same position on the independent ticket, and the seventh the present city attorney of Papillion, Sarpy county.

The Fourth judicial distict includes the counties of Burt, Douglas, Sarpy and Washington, and the convention consisted of 123 delegates, apportioned as follows: Burt, 4; Douglas, 103; Sarpy, 7; Washington, 8. There were 115 delegates present when the convention finally got down to business at 2:30 o'clock, after industrious wire pullers had delayed matters for over half an hour. Started the Machine.

The convention was called to order by Mar-tin Langdon and Mayor J. W. Paddock was named as temporary chairman. He stated that the object of the convention was the nomination of straightforward, clean, pure, honest men for the district bench and hoped to see a continuation of the good results that have peretofore attained under the spirit of non-partisanship that has prevailed in this

The convention indulged in an audible smale when, owing to a misunderstanding, Mr. R. W. Patrick and Mayor Paddock walked down the aisle side by side to assume the chairmanship, but Patrick discov ered his mistake as he reached the platform. He was immediately sent forward again, however, as he was in the next breath ously selected as secretary of the

When the question of credentials came up, Washington county showed up with only five delegates, as they had understood five were all they were entitled to, but on motion of Charles H. Brown the delegation was instructed to cast the full eight votes to which the county was credited in the call. W. S. Shoemaker said he was verbally instructed by Judge Duffle to have W. F. Wappich sit as his proxy, but T. J. Mahoney at once arose and flashed the written cre dentials of W. G. Albright as Judge Duffie's proxy, and Shoemaker subsided. The counties were instructed to cast their full vote, and as there were no protests all delegates present were allowed to sit. Mr. Howard of Sarpy county moved that the convention proceed to the nomination of

'seven democratic candidates" for judges of this district. W. S. Shoemaker moved as an amendment to chose four democratic candidates and then adjourn until next day after the

Mr. Mahoney said that was equivalent to ing that the democrats didn't know what they wanted, and he opposed the amend-Judge Reed talked for some time in favor of a non-partisan judiciary, and was fre-quently headed off, when the point was raised that the temporary organization was still in effect. Non-Partisanship Failed.

The organization was made permanent with a shout and the chair declared that they must begin de novo.

Must begin de novo.

Reed again got the floor. "I'll make a motion" he begin. "Second it" sang out somebody and the convention roared. It was some time before order was restored, and the speaker began again. "Four years ago," but he got no further. A chorus of "Oh's filled the house, and after reasting the would-be wits Reed cleared the track and continued his post mortem on the judicial elections of four and two years ago, and finally moved that the seven judges now on the district bench be nominated by acclama-tion for re-election. F. A. Brogan offered as a substitute that the convention proceed to nominate by ballot seven judges for the district bench, and only those candidates should be eligible who were attached to the principles of the democratic Moriarty amended by moving to name by acclamation the four democrats now on the district bench. Howard of Sarpy objected and raised the point of order that two of the democrats, Irvine and Ferguson, were nominated by another party.

Brogan insisted on seven straight democrats, and urged that the party could give up if it wanted to, but could not stultify itself by endorsing the nominees of other parties.

by endorsing the nominees of other parties. He charged the alliance with nominating five republicans and two democrats simply because it hadn't any material in its own party. He wanted seven straight democrats nominated or a non-partisan convention called to name a ticket.

Reed speke again for the seven present incumbents or seven straight democrats.

Shoemaker wanted to get four out of the way first and then spoke long and lond in favor of a non-partisan judiciary. He said the democrats made the district non-partisan, and they mustn't be the ones to break it, and then lamented because the democrats nad no then lamented because the democrats had no paper in the county notwithstanding their big majority. He said Tun Ben had opposed a non-partisan judiciary for the state. Inas-much as the republicans of the state had declared against a non-partisan judiciary he would favor Eugerton if it was necessary to defeat Post, just in order to punish the republicans. This sentiment was roundly hissed, and the assistant city attorney dropped into his seat and looked lonesome.

Words, Words, Words.

Mr. Donovan said there seemed to be an attempt to mince matters. If they were going to nominate seven democrats they should put all on a par and not discriminate in favor of the four now on the banch, and if they were going to nominate a non-parti-man bench they should nominate at least one independent.

E. H. Brown was in favor of nominating the four democrats on the bench, and a non partisan judiciary unless the republicans should dare declare against it. Morearty spoke again for a non-partisan judiciary and called for his amendment. It was snowed under overwhelmingly, Brogan's substitute then came on, with the partisans howling loudly for it in advance.

Shoemaker demanded a roll call on the vote, and before it could be taken moved to amend by striking out the clause requiring candidates to be democrats. His amendment went a glimmering as toon as the house was Brogan's motion was then put and apparently carried, but a division was called for.

O'Connell insisted on a roll call, as there were many present who were not delegates A Washington county delegate said he was the only one of his delegation present and as he couldn't heller for eight he demanded a roll call to give his eight votes a chance to count for something.

A delegate from Valley precinct accused the lawyers of proposing to run the convention or keep the delegates in session all night.

Defining Democracy.

Thas precipitated a little uneasiness, and County Attorney Mahoney hopped onto Mr. Brogan with both feet. He said that it was a democratic convention assembled under a democratic call, yet notwithstanding these facts Mr. Brogan virtually said that he couldn't trust the convention without a declaration of faith. The Valley unfortunate admitted that they were afraid of weak minded unfortu-nates, and Mr. Brogan insisted that it was time to define where the party stood, as there was an evident tendency on the part of some of the delegates to stray into the republican fold.
O'Connell said Brogan had evidently experienced a great change of heart since the last convention, when he was warmly advocating the cause of a republican nominee.

Mr. Brown interrupted a controversy that was becoming very warm, by demanding a call of the roll The roll call went, and was featureless save for a little tilt in the divided Sarpy county delegation over the vote for absent delegates. The opposition to the motion delegates. The opposition to the motion cheered each vote that dropped to them, and gave way to great jubilation when the motion was defeated by a vote of 64 to 51.

There was nothing to do then but to proceed to nominate and this they did, after it had been decided on motion of Martin Langdon to make the first ballot informal, J. J. Mahoney nominated Judge G. W. Shields, Euclid Martin named Judge Doane J. J. Euclid Martin named Judge Doane, J. J.
O'Connell named Judge Ferguson, Martin
Langdon named Judge Irvine, Edgar Howard named A. E. Langdon, W. S. Shoemaker named Judge Wakeley, C. H. Brown named Judge Hopewell, Washington country named L. W. Osborne, J. J. Mahoney named Judge Davis, J. J. McWilliams named R. W. Patrick, P. W. Birkhauser named T. B. Minshan, J. J. Points named Judge Estelle, and George Bertrand named J. T. Moriarty. That losed the list of nominations.

Nominated at Once.

The roll call of counties, precincts and wards resulted as follows: Ferguson 115, Wakeley 113, Done 106, Shields 103, Davis 99, Minahan 73, Langdan 61, Patrick 44, Moriarty 24, Osborne 23, Davis 20, Estelle 17, Hangwell 9, Kennedy 1 17. Hopewell 9, Kennedy 1. As the seven first named had each received a majority of the 115 votes cast, it was noved that they be declared elected, and the notion prevailed without a dissenting voice. A judicial committee composed of five members from Douglas and one from each of the three other counties in the district was appointed as follows by the chair: Douglas, R. Donovau, W. S. Shoemaker, G. W. Bertrand, Euclid Martin and J. J. Breen;

Washington, Frank Harriman; Burt, H. H. Bowes; Sarpy, Edgar Howard.

The committee was authorized and instructed to fill any vacancies that might ccur in the ticket. The chairman and secretary were in-structed to certify the proceedings of the convention to the proper officials in order to have the names of the nominees placed on the printed tickets, and the business of the convention was concluded.

Republican State Committee. The following gentlemen have been appointed as members of the executive committee of the state republican central committee: Thomas Swobe, Omaha, Douglas county; Peter I. The chairman will request the central committee to add the following names to the ex-ecutive committee: John C. Watson, Ne-braska City, Otoe county; Thomas Majors, Peru, Nemaha county: John R. Hayes, Nor-folk, Madison county; James A. Cline, Min-

It has also been informally agreed that two additional secretaries will be elected, and the names of U. B. Balcombe of Omaha and J. R. Southerland of Tekamah have been agreed

THE FIGHT FOR PURE FOOD.

Success of the Efforts to Scotch Bad Baking Powders.

The aggressive war waged by the Royal Baking Powder company upon the hosts of adulterated and impure baking powder sold throughout the country, is having a desirable effect. The scandalous attacks upon the Royal company by the manufacturers of the impure goods (which are made doubtless both from a spirit of revenge and in the hope of breaking the effect of damagin ex-positres) show that they are hit, while the official reports which have from various public author-ully corroborating the statements made come by the Royal company, have awakened a wholesome public sentiment in favor of re-pressive laws, which means mischief to the desitimate traffic. The Royal Baking Powder company set ut some time ago to expose the character and to break up the sale of adulter-ated baking powders. Having found from an examination of many specimens that there was a large number of actually injurious powders in the market, they brought the matter before the public and denounced the makers by name in the press and to the health authorities. The affair was taken up by physicians, Boards of Health, and Legisla-tures throughout the country, chemists were employed to test the various powders in the market and the government itself directed analysis to be made before it would purchase the supplies needed for army, navy and Indian uses.

The result justified the charges made by the Royal company. Not only were the ma-jority of the baking powders in the market ound to be largely adulterated, but many of them were ascertained to contain alum and other poisionous ingredients to such an extent as to render them positively unsafe for se in human food. In making the charges the Royal Baking Powder company did not hesitate to enter into competition with every other baking powder in the country, and it is a public satisfaction that in the official tests by the government and state chemists and by Boards of Hesitate chemists and by Boards of Health, the Royal Baking Powder has een declared to be the superior of all others i strength, purity and wholesomeness, and absolutely free from all inferior or detrimen-

From recent official reports it is evident that the alumn and otherwise impure goods have again come upon the market in dangerous quantities and their old enemy, the Royal, is again upon the warpath. In con-tinuing its warfare against these goods the Royal is meeting with its old time opposition and abuse. The public, however, will appreciate, as heretofore, both the object of the abuse and the action of the Royal company, and award full justice to the company that so featlessly stands up for its protection from such adventurers.
