IN MURDERER NEAL'S CELL.

Governor Thayer Holds a Conference with Allan Jones' Slayer.

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.

What the Governor Said After His Talk With the Condemmed Man-People Who Want to Console Neal.

Governor Thayer was in Omaha yesterday looking into the evidence and alleged evi dence in the Ed Neal case.

The governor was closeted for more than an hour with Mr. Charles Ogden and Joe Clark, the fallen woman who has been her energies save the condemned man from the gallows. Mr. Ogden has been retained by the woman as an attorney in the case and she met the governor yesterday morning to lay before him the alleged evidence that she claims to have that Neal is innocent.

It was rumored that Joe Clark had told the governor that she was Ed Neal's sister, but this story was scouted by others. The govthis story was sconled by others. The governor was very much worried over the matter but would say but little excepting to the attorneys and the woman. He said to one gentleman, "In nearly all the cases of this kind that I have had to deal with there has been no question as to the guilt of the condemned men, but in this case"—and then he stopped suddenly and after hesitating a few seconds said, "I suppose there can be but little doubt about this case." Neal's attorneys feel quite confident that the governor will commute the sentence. He visited Neal in his cell at 2 o'clock and had a long conversation with him.

To a BEE reporter the governor said: "My duty in this case is of course an unpleasant one. I do not care to say anything for publication. I have seen the condemned man and am engaged in looking over the evidence. shall not get through looking into the facts in the case for a couple of days yet."
"It is rumored that you are inclined to commute the sentence. Is there anything

'I have never indicated to any one what my opinions were with regard to the case. All statements to that effect are utterly without foundation. When I have thoroughly investigated the case and have satisfied myself with regard to the facts, I will decide whether or not to interfere with the decree of the court. It will be several days yet be-fore I shall be able to investigate the case to my entire satisfaction."

Yesterday afternoon Rev. H. A. Crane of the Seward street Methodist church called on Jailor Horrigan and requested an opportunity of praying with Noal.

Miss H. Raech also called at the jail. She informed Horrigan that she was engaged in prison work and wanted to see Ed Neal. She was informed that it would be impossible to gain admission to his ceil. The refusal was met with tears and as the little woman started to go she left a testament, with the request that it be sent up to the murderer's

A GRAND JURY.

One Cannot Be Called Until Next Year.

It is now evident that there will be no grand jury called during the present term of the district court. Thursday afternoon Judge Estelle and County Attorney Mahoney held a consultation and decided that the power to call a grand jury during term time a sheolutely taken away from the court. If Such a body convenes, it cannot be before the February term.

Judge Estelle is of the opinion if the find-Ings of the various investigating committees are true that there is plenty of work for such a jury to perform,
In the furniture case the judge states that

In the furniture case the judge states that if it is true that Billingsley, the agent for the Ketcham Furniture company, actually offered Councilman Specut a bribe if he would vote to award the city half furniture contract to his company, the subject is proper to be considered by the judge of the police, and then if the man is found guilty the case can take its regular course and come before the disjuit court. In the other cases reference to trict court. In the other cases, referring to the Tbirteenth street grade and the alleged charges that certain councilmen accepted money to influence their votes, those matters could only be considered by a grand jury. Court Notes.

Judge Davis is laboring with the case of William B. Hamilton against the Home Fire Insurance company. Hamilton alleges that during the year 1889 he insured his house with the above named company, giving premium notes in payment. Failing to pay the notes when due, the company brought suit. In the meantime the house burned and Hamilton, paying his notes, demanded the sum for which his property was insured, $1,000. The company sets up as a defense that the notes were past due and unpaid at the time of the fire and consequently the policy of insurance was not in force.

An interesting case, W. E. Phillips against the Cook Anchor and Cable company of Kanans and J. B. Farran, is on trial before Judge Forguson. The plaintiff alleges that in the year 1888 the Cook Anchor and Cable company sold Farran a patent right, for which he was to pay the sum of $500. Drafts for the was to pay the sum of $300. Drafts for the amount were accepted by Farran and before coming due were sold to Phillips. When the paper was due Farran refused to pay, claiming that he had been swindled. Farran tells a different tale. He alleges that Phillips and the Cook Anchor and Cable commany are swindlers, that they constitute commany are swindlers. company are swindlers; that they constitute a gang of swindlers, organized to fleece the farmers. He admits that he was induced to purchase a job lot of patent right articles which were to have been shipped to him at Hastings. The goods never showed up, but six months after he talked with the glibtongued agent he received a notice that an Omaha lawyer held $300 of paper against him. He now declares that he never signed any drafts or notes, only an agreement to act as the agent for the sale of the articles, that the contract he signed was changed into as the agent for the sale of the articles, that the contract he signed was changed into negotiable paper and that Phillips is a part of the Cook Anchor and Cable company.

The jury today returned a verdict in the case of Joseph Bairer and others against John H. Green. The case grew out of the disputed title to the Grandview stone quarry tract of land in the southern portion of the sity. The verdict was for the plantiff sity. The verdict was for the plaintiff.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Interesting to Everybody.

Messrs. West and Sabel, presenting at the Farnam Street theater next week. with their excellent New York company, the society comedy drama, "The Old, Old Story," desire to announce to the public that Mr. Daniel Frohman has seen fit to publish a card (in New York) to the effect that Messrs. West and Sabel are endeavoring to mislead the public into the belief that their company is a yeeum theater road company.

This statement on the part of Mr. Frohman is false, Messrs, West and Sabel would not consider it beneficial to be so misrepresented their company in "The Old, Old Story" being far stronger than any road company ever presented by Mr.

What Messrs. West and Sabel do announce, and wish known by the pub-lic, are the facts that "The Old, Old Story" was played at the Lyceum theater in New York. The comedy was en-thusiastically received by the press and public and was a great success, [Was pronounced by the press as "belonging to the same class as The Charity Ball" and 'Men and Women' and one of the most interesting things ever done at the Lyceum theater." The play and com-pany stand on their morits, and have been enthusiastically received wherever presented, and pronounced everywhere one of this season's strongest attractions.

MADE GOOD BIDS FOR GRAIN.

Daily Calls on 'Change Inaugurated by the Board of Trade.

MOVERS PLEASED WITH THE PROSPECT.

Prices Offered on a Missouri River Basis are Better Than Competitive Markets-A Question of Inspection.

At last Omaha has a grain market where the farmer may come and sell his grain and deal direct with the buyer on a sharp conspetitive basis and at figures which exceed those offered in any other market in the United States.

The market was opened at 11 o'clock yesterday morning and the call went off in a spirited manner with sharp bidding. Prices were comparatively higher than those in any other market, and hidders stood ready to buy all that was of-fered. Owing to the fact that it was not generally known that the market would open today the attendance was confined to the grain men in the Board of Trade building. Secretary Nason rapped the meeting to order and outlined the situation briefly, speaking of the importance of making a start in opening up a market, L. D. Fowler was then called for and spoke briefly of the immerse resources surrounding Omaha and of his abiding faith in the success of a grain market established here. He alluded to his experience in the grain busi-ness and based his ideas of the success of Omaha as agrain center on the result of his observations in this section. He urged the grain men to throw off all old fogy ideas and make a start.

H. C. Miller mounted the platform to make the call for the day. He suggested that all bids be made on the Mississippi river basis which is a few cents lower than the city's price. That is, all bids should be made with the understanding that the grain was to be delivered at the Mississippi river at the price agreed upon, the shipper to pay the freight to that point.

to that point.
Mr. Miller also stated that the grain dealers he represented were not yet willing to accept the Omaha inspection. What grain they had received on the Omaha inspection had proved satisfactory and if the standard remained the same it would be entirely satisfactory to them, but they were not sure that this would be the case. The Kansas City inspect on he said, was a dead failure and it was impossibie to seil any grain on that inspection and it would be necessary for the Omaha inspection to be proven reliable before it would be accepted.
The call then proceeded and the bidding was lively. There were no takers but it was clearly demonstrated that the Omaha price is to be a good stiff one as compared with Chicago and St. Louis. All business was on a cash basis for delivery ranging from five to ten days at the Mississippi river. Quotations were as follows:

WHEAT—Turkey red, No. 3, 8134c; No. 2, 2013 (2014) No. 3, 2014 (2014) No. 2, 2014

Mr. Frank Daniels' comedy company, now at the new Boyd, are at present busily engaged during daylight in rehearsing a new lay called "The Attorney," intention to play once or twice a week later in the season. The company is also rehears ing two pretty little curtain raisers, "An Object of Interest" and "The Foot of the Family," which he will use alternately with the new play. Mr. Daniels went to Europe the past summer, partly for pleasure and in the hope that he might possibly pick up something in the shape of a new play. Finally he came across Monkhouse, the popular Lonhe came across Monkhouse, the popular London comedian, who owned a comedy that he had produced in England more than a thousand times. Monkhouse is at present the principal comedian in "La Cigale," but notwithstanding he gave a performance of his comedy expressly for Mr. Daniels. Daniels was delighted and bought the play outright. He is now at work Americanizing it and will produce it next season. produce it next season.

Everywhere this laughable story has been told the audiences speak only in its praise. Sale of scats is now pro-gressing. Only this morning the box office was opened and the rush for scats fore-shadows crowded houses at the Farnam all next week.

The beautiful Carmencita, who has made such an impression in the east by her won-derful dancing, will be at Boyd's theater on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next, and will be supported by a company of Spanish students. It is said that in Carmencita's "sanjago" the eye can scarcely follow her movements. She sways and leaps and bends suddenly, and tosses and glides and whirls and turns and crouches and rises again, and in whatever position she assumes there is perfect rythm in each inexpressibly graceful ine and billow of limb and garment. Carmencita carries with her an able company of singers, and during her performance, Von Suppe's one-act operetta, "The Lovely Gaiatea" will be given, and also Offenbach's one act comic opera, "Love by Lantern Light," The sale of seats for Carmencita will open at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.
