FOUGHT HARD FOR FREEDOM

Postmaster Clarkson and His Assistants Have a Struggle with a Thief.

ED DUTTON'S STAMP TRANSACTIONS.

He Stole from the Union Pacific and Sold to the Governmentyow He Was Finally Captured.

There was a scene of wild excitement and physical combat at the Omaha postoffice yesterday afternoon. Postmaster Clarkson and Assistant Postmaster Woodard have not had such a test of their physical strength for years, and the four young men who rushed from the mailing room to assist the postmaster and his first assistant did not get their nerves quieted for an hour after the

It all happened in this way: For several weeks Mr. Woodard had been convinced that somebody was selling stolen stamped envelopes to the postoffice. It is the custom all over the United States for postmasters to pay cash for stamped envelopes that have been sported and that have been sold by the Postoffice department, provided that the stamps have not been used or soiled. Every few days someone brings in a few envelopes of this kind and they are redeemed by the clerk at the stamp window.

This Caused Saspicion. But recently there have come in large quantities of these stamped envelopes, with the name of the Union Pacific shops nead-quarters printed upon them. These envel-opes were invariably addressed in a neat hand and had evidently never been matled. The man who brought them always said they were spoiled through being directed erroneously and he wanted the cash for Major Clarkson instructed the clerk at the stamp window to notify him the next time anyone brought in a batch of envelopes of that character.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the clerk at the stamp window hurried into the post-master's room and said:

"That fellow is here. He has just brought in 500 Union Pacific envelopes."
"Tell him to come in here. I want to see him," said the postmaster.

Walked Into the Net.

Mr. Woodard went into the hall with the clerk and invited the young man who sold the stamps to step into the postmastor's pri-vate office. He walked in hesitatingly. He had to pass through Mr. Woodard's room be-fore reaching the postmaster's sanctum. Mr. Woodard remained in his own room near the door that leads into the hall, for he felt sure that the fellow was a thief and that he would make a break for liberty before talking with the postmaster very long.
"Will you please give me your name?" the postmaster asked the young man. "My name's Watson," said the young "And where do you work?" asked the postmaster.

And then the fun began. When the word "work" fell upon the stranger's cars he whirled on his heel and darted out of the postmaster's room and made straight for the door that stood between him and the open hall.

"Stop, stop" shouted Mr. Woodard and he grappled with the fugitive. He was no match, physically, for the man, who wanted to breathe the free air of German day liberty on the outside. The fugitive was just about to make his escape from Mr. Woodard when Major Clarkson sprang upon him.

Hard Bird to Cage.

He was even too much for both the post-master and his assistant, and the way he salled about the room kicking over chairs and desks soon attracted the attention of the mail room force. Four young men rushed in and by the combined strength of the entire six the fellow was forced to the floor and held until a police officer arrived. He was handcuffed and taken to the police station, where he was recognized as one Ed. Dutton, a somewhat notorious tough.

He has been arrested several times for petty stealing and was formerly in the employ of the Union Pacific until he was de-He has sold over 3,000 stamped envelopes at the postoffice, all stelen from the offices of the Union Pacific Railroad company.

It is believed that he has had an accomplice in the work, as it is hardly possible that he could have carried on the stealing so systematically alone without being discovered at the other end of his operations.

Charged With Petty Larcency.

After Dutten was locked up at police head-quarters a couple of Union Pacific officials called and were allowed to see the prisoner. The result was that two complaints charging him with petty larcency were filed.

Dutton of course admits that he was trying to have the stamped envelopes redeemed but declines to state how he obtained possession of the plunder. It is thought by some of the railway officials that Dutton was not alone in the scheme and that a confession would implicate some young men now employed at the Union Pacific heaquarters. A friend induced me to try Salvation for my rheumatic foot, I used it and the rheumatism is entirely gone. John Ander-son, Baltimore, Md.

Justice Courts.

OMARA, Neb., Oct. 6 .- To the Editor of THE BEE: Perhaps while the people of Omaha are watching the uncovering of the veiled profit in the city council chamber, and considering the matter of filling numerous offices, state, county and city, within the next two months, there is danger of overlooking certain important offices to which the attention of the public has not been specially directed by the press or by any other agency, namely, the six offices of justice of the peace in the city of Omana.

Under the law made last winter the city is to have six justices elected, not by wards or districts, but by the whole city. It is a great mistake to regard these offices, as many do, and as the press seems to, in the manner indicated by the term "justice shops," which has become quite common. In this connection I wish to call attention to a few pertinent facts: 1. In this city a large volume of business is done in the courts of the justices of the 2. Although the cases adjudicated in these courts involve, in most cases, comparatively small amounts, yet to many of the litigants they are as important as the so-called important cases in the higher courts are to the wealthy litigants engaged in them.

8. The income from one of these offices will probably be sufficient to command the services of a man of recognized ability and honor and a very good amount of legal 4. Probably if these offices were held by such men, much of the litigation which would otherwise be carried up to burden the district court would be ended where it is commenced, and much trouble and irritation would be avoided. It is well known that not more than one or two of the present incumbents answer the above description. BEEN THERE.

CHANCES FOR THE HOUSE.

What a Reformed Gambier Says About His Profession.

The lecture that was to have been delivered last evening at the Young Men's Christian association hall by John Philip Quinn on "Fools of Fortune," or the impossibility : beating a gambler at his own game, was postponed on account of siim attendance until Thursday evening, when it will be delivered free, and it is desired to have every seat in the house filled. Mr. Quinn gathered the few present last night up around the stage and showed them the workings of an assortment of crooked gambling devices, of which he has enough to stock a mammoth gambling house. They were captured in some of the biggest gambling houses in Chicago and have seen "I can prove to any man" said the lecturer, that it is absolutely impossible for him to win unless the gambler so wils.

There is no such thing as a fair show in a gambling house, for it is a dead cinch for the gambler and just as certain robbery of the sucker. I know what I am talking about. I was a gambler for twenty-five years, and have won money by the thousands. I was have won money by the thousands. I was convicted in Terre Haute, Ind., in 1887, of robbing a man of $3,000, and with two others was sent to the penitentiary for three years. I was not guilty; and finally succeeded in having the real culprits brought to justice. Then, after having been a convict for four-teen months, I was pardoned by Governor Gray on the ground of innocence. During that time my wife and baby had died, and in November, 1888, I was released from prison in a straw hat and linen duster, without a dollar or a friend in the wide world. That llar or a friend in the wide world. That was my experience, and I have never gambled linco that time since that time.

"I am no sleight of hand performer, but just look here," and the reformed gambler showed the few deepty interested spectators some things that surprised them. There were implements the like of which had never been seen before inside the walls of the Young Men's Christian association building. Faro boxes, roulette wheels, dice boxes and loaded dice, swindling devices, marked cards and kindred articles rested easily beside the lecthe workings of the crooked faro box, with which he could "kill" cards and then put them back again so as not to "queer the cases." He made the red or black of the roulette wheel win or lose at will and read cards from the backs as fast as any one else could from the face. He also stacked a deck and after the spectators had cut them to their heart's content he pro-ceeded to deal a four-handed poker hand and coolly helped himself to four aces, while the others received four kings, four queens and four jacks respectively.

"Can you win!" he inquired. "It is just this way all the way through-downright robbery, nothing more. Come Thursday evening and see the rest of it, and bring your young friends. When I show them that they can't get the gambler's money they won't bet theirs on his game."

Science in Bread Making. At the recent annual meeting of the American Chemical society, held in Washington D. C., the question of the value of carbonate D. C., the question of the value of carbonate of ammonia as a leavening agent in bread, or as used in baking powders came up for discussion, in which Prof. Barker of the University of Pennsylvania, and president of the society; Dr. Richardson, late of the United States Department of Agriculture in Washington; Dr. William McMutrie, late professor of chemistry in the University of Illinois; Dr. E. H. Bartley, late chemist of the Brooklyn, N. Y. Board of Health, and professor of chemistry of the Long Island college, and others took part.

The consensus of opinion was overwhelm-ingly in favor of the employment of ammonia. It was stated as a fact that ammonia rendered the gluten of the flour more soluble than the original gluten, and that the bread in which this action was produced by car-bonate of ammonia must be more digestible and bence more healthful, and because of the extreme volatility of carbonate of ammonia and its complete expulsion from the bread in the process of baking, it is one of the most useful, most healthful and most valuable leavening agents known.

These conclusions are borne out by the made by Prof. J. W. Mallet of the University of Virginia, which show conclusively that bread made of baking powder in which 1 per cent of carbonate of ammonia is used, in conection with cream of tarter and soda, is not only of uniformly better color and texture, but a product more wholesome, because the ammonia serves to neutralize any organic or factic acids present in the flour.

VIOLATED THE AGREEMENT.

Walker Orders the Union Pacific to Resume Through Billing.

GOULD'S INTERESTS WELL GUARDED.

But the Difference Between the Eastern Connections Ante-Date the Organization of the Western Association.

CHICAGO, Iil., Oct. 6. - Chairman E. Walker of the board of commissioners of the Western Traffic association has promulgated a decision that is of considerable interest as bearing upon the famous traffic agreement between the Union Pacific and the Chicago & Northwestern roads. The division formarly in use upor freight delivered by the Union Pacific o its eastern connections, allowed to the lines east of the Missouri river, was 23.5 per cent of the through rate on shipments of general merchandise from Helena and other Montana points to Chicago. At the same time there was in use on shipments of bullion ore and copper matter a special division of ,6 per cent to the same lines, in accordance 19.6 per cent to the same lines, in accordance with a clause of the old tripartite agreement. After the traffic contract between the Union Pacific and Northwestern expired the division on merchandise from Montana points allowed to the latter road was reduced to 2 per cent. The competitors of the North-western were subsequently authorized to meet this competition. The old percentage of 19.6 per cent was continued on bullion ore and copper matter, but recently all the east-ern connections of the Union Pacific, includ-ing the Chicago & Northwestern, made the claim that the division of 22 per cent should control in this as well as on other traffic. Chairman Midgely of the Western Freight association concurred in this view and in June the Union Pacific issued a circular cancelling all through rates arrangements with connecting lines on bullion and ore and charging full local rates to the Missouri

The commissioners now decide that the atempted discontinuance of through billing by means of a notice to agents was unwarranted, and they peremptorily order the Union Pacific to resume the through billing of freight offered for shipment under the through tariff. The difference between the Union Pacific and its connection respecting divisions is a questien which ante-dates the organization of the Western Traffic association and for that reason the commissioners decline to pass upon it, not being satisfied that they have the authority to do so.

NOT FOR THE ERIE. The Chicago & Erie road has notified Chairman Goddard of the joint rate commit tee that it will not adopt the divisions ordered by that committee with the Indiana Illinois & Iowa road. Similar notice was given several days ago by the Michigan Central, Lake Shore and Pennsylvania lines, but they changed their minds today and put the order into effect. The last named companies are members of the Central Traffic associa-tion, while the Chicago & Erie is not. None of the western lines have shown any disposi-tion as yet to adopt the divisions and it is feared that their refusal to do so will cause troublesome complications in the Western Freight association.

WESTERN PASSENGER AFFAIRS. The Western Passenger association began its monthly session today. The matter of circuitous rates was reforred back to the or-iginal committee for further consideration. With respect to the establishment of a rate bureau, the committee which has charge of the matter reported satisfactory progress and was given more time. That committee was appointed to take up with outside lines the question of labor rates to the south.

SKELETON TICKETS.

They May Be Taken Off of the Market Shortly.

CITY, Mo., Oct. 6 .- The monthly meeting of the Transmissouri asso ciation will be held in Kansas City October 13. The first subject on the call is skeleton coupon tickets. The question has been up for several meetings and was referred to a committee, which will report at the coming session. The proposition is to make the lines issuing the skeleton tickets responsible to the connecting roads. The skeletor form is the one most used by unprincipled "scalp-ers," as by forgery the tickets can be changed in destination as well as origin.

The next subject of importance is the demoralization of Colorado rates by manipulation of tickets to and from points beyond. At the July meeting a committee was appointed the July meeting a committee was appointed to confer jointly with the other associations and report upon some plan to modify the difficulties. The question of adopting a basis for computing excess baggage rates will be considered. At the last meeting of the National association of general baggage agents a resolution was adopted that baggage weighing in excess of the free allowages ground be supported to a charge for 100 ance should be subject to a charge for 100 pounds of not less than 12 per cent of the lowest unlimited ticket rate or when no unlimited rate is quoted, a charge of 12 per cent of the highest first class limited rate should be made. It is probable that the resolution of the baggage agents will be adopted by the association.

This afternoon Carmencita and the Spanish students from the Royal Conservatorie of Madrid will give a special matinee at 2:30 o'clock for ladies and children at Boyd's new theater. In New York City the Carmencita matinees have become the events of the week, and on several occasions the beau-tiful dancer has figured as the principal attraction at swell society receptions. price for the matince performance this after-noon has been fixed at the remarkably low figure of 50 cents for all parts of the house. No one should fail of seeing the wonderful dancer.

The engagement of the New York company in Bronson Howard's play of "Shenandoah will begin at Boyd's new theater on tomorrow evening. If half the words of praise that have been bestowed on this piece are true it is one of the greatest of modern dramas put upon the stage in many years. The performances have invariably met the approval of the public, and the press has teemed with laudatory notices. It is Bronson Howard's best work, it is said, and that means that it is a sterling production. The sale of seats for the engagement of "Shenannoah" will open at the box office of Boyd's new theater at 9 o'clock this morning.

Mattie Vickers will follow "Shenandoah" at Boyd's naw theater, appearing in a re-written version of her latest success, "Edel-weiss." Her quality success, "Edelweits." Her quaint, original and ever popular specialties are placed in a frame work entirely new, and their naturalness is so spontaneous as to appear but the outburst of her refreshing and sunny nature.

RAILWAY MARL CLERKS MEET.

Perfection of the Organization of the Sixth Division Secured. The railway cleries of the Sixth division, about 100 being present, met in the court room at the federal building yesterday morning in adjourned session for the purpose of perfecting the organization, with C. A. Guthrie of Chicago, president of the association in the chair and J. H. Oxnan of Omaha, secre-

the chair and J. H. Oxnan of Omana, secretary in attendance.

The morning's session was only an informal one and nothing was done of an important nature. After announcing the object of the meeting President Guthrie delivered of the meeting President Guthrie delivered a brief address in which he mapped out an advisable course to pursue this afternoon. This was followed by a general discussion by the various delegates, when the meeting adjourned until 2 o'clock. Previous to adjournment, however, W. N. Nason, secretary of the Board of Trade, addressed the convention, complimenting the organization upon its aim and purpose, and offering the assistance of the Board of Trade in any manner desired. The meeting promises the manner desired. The meeting promises the fruition of the association's hopes, the com-pletion of a divisional organization to copletion of a divisional organization to cooperate with the national association with headquarters in this city.

At the afternoon session the organization was completed by the re-election of the temporary officers, C. A. Guthrie, president, and J. H. Axnan, secretary and treasurer, and the adoption of a constitution and by-laws.

This is the parent organization of the Sixth division's local associations one of which is division's local associations, one of which is at Chicago, one at Des Moines, one at Quincy, one at Burlington, one at Cheyenne and one at Omaha. The organization will reconvene at half-past 9 this morning, for the purpose of a social commingling and to listen to addresses by Senator Manderson and Major Clarkson, Firemen Halted En Route by a Care less Switching Crew. About 5:30 o'clock last evening smoke was seen pouring from the floor of a lumber storage building at the Cady & Grey lumber vards. An alarm was telephoned in to No. ! engine house and box 43 struck in. The fire was found to be in the wooden casing of a hot blast flue, laid underground between the drying kilns and the planing mill. Chief Galligan found it necessary to dig down and open the flue and flood it with water. The loss from fire will not amount to much, probably not more than $25.

As hose conpany No. 2 ran down the Douglas street hill under the bridge a B. & M. freight train was backing in and the crew refused to stop or cut the train so as to allow the fire apparatus to pass through. If the fire had been under headway the delay at the crossing would have been a costly one.
