THE OMAHA BEE. NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Early Experiences of Congressman J. C. Eurroughs of Michigan.

HOW THE SPEAKER'S HEAD WAS REDUCED.

Though He Was Called Down Exeredingly Hard by the Professor He Carried Victory with Him.

Congressman J. C. Burroughs of Michigan, who delivered an address Thursday evening before the republicans of this city, tells a good story at his own expense, which illustrates his capacity for sticking to a thing until he makes it win. In his boyhood days be was a student at Kingsville academy, O., and had a great reputation as a public speaker. He was universally conceded to be the best orator that the academy had ever turned out. The girls all hung upon his finely modutated tones with an almost fever-ish interest, while the boys were somewhat divided as to their opinion of him some of them wishing they might in some way catch some of his in some way catch some of his oratorical power, while the others were led on by mad lealousy until they felt like beating his brains out. At any rate they all liked to bear him speak and he knew it, so he lost no opportunity of adding fresh laurers to his already overburdened head.

One day a new teacher came to Kingsville acastemy. His name was Drake. He saw that young Burrosghs had become afflicted with a severe case of big-head by his series of triumphs, and he determined to lay his proud spirit low. The next time Burroughs delivered an oration he waited until the young man had mounted high into the air on delivered an oration he waited until the young man had mounted high into the air on the wings of fancy and was plucking great handsful of feathers from the tail of the bird of freedom, when he called him down. He began to point out to the speaker wherein he had made an oratorical blunder. Burroughs' training had not prepared him for any such treatment as this, and he commenced to argue the point with the teacher. As the discussion went on the temper of each began to warm up. Drake went on to the platform and commenced to emphasize his position by some gestures that were more decided than graceful. At last the two clinched, and master and pupil were wound up together in an indiscriminate mass on the floor. After a few minutes the master came out victorious and Burroughs was sent flyout victorious and Burroughs was sent fly-ing ignominiously from the room. Nothing daunted, he mounted the fence in front of the school house and there, with all the other pupils about him applauding their idel to the echo, he delivered the rest of his oration, while Drake had the school house and several rows of empty benches to congratulate him on the outcome of the conflict.

Betrayed Their Teacher. Mrs. Preece, who is teaching physical culture to the teachers in the city schools, called upon one of the teachers the other day during school hours. The visit was not unexpected, for the teacher had instructed her pupils that when Mrs. Preece entered the room they should sit up straight and behave their best. When Mrs. Preece came in the programme was carried out to the letter and she saw be fore her forty odd little pokers with their backs so straight they bowed out in front.

"Now, children, why did you take that position just as soon as you saw me?" she There was a silence of a few seconds, which was broken at last by a little piping your from the back seat that said, "because - told us to." - was rather crestfallen at this,

as she had counted on giving Mrs. Procee the idea that her pupils always sat up "Weil, do you know why she wanted you "Woll, do you know "hy she wanted you to sit up straight?" went on the teacher of physical culture. "Yes Ma'am." spoke up the same piping voice, "because she wanted you to think we was smart." And since that day Miss — has taken a firm resolve not to have her pupils put on any more airs for the edification of Chautauqua Motor Line. The city council will hold an adjourned meeting this evening, and one of the important things to come before it is the ordinaace granting the Council Bluffs Transit company the right to build and operate a motor line on any of the streets of this city. The company was organized several months ago with the main object of building a motor line between the city and the Chautauqua grounds, but they afterwards decided to seek the right of way all over the city, so that if they wanted to run opposition to the Council Bluffs & Omaha Bridge company they could

An ordinance granting them the right of An ordinance granting them the right of way was introduced at the last meeting of the council, but was promptly sat down upon by certain members who thought its pro-visions were too indefinite, especially in the matter of the obligations they placed upon themselves to operate the line. Since the last meeting the officers of the company have been at work on a new ordinance which it is been at work on a new ordinance which it is claimed does away with many of the objec-tions to the old, and this will be presented to the council this evening. Several members of the council were in favor of the old ordinance and most of the opposition came from Alderman Casper who has opposed the idea of allowing a motor company to lay its tracks in front of his house ever since it was McMalion Jury Disagreed. When the jury was empaneled for the tria of Jesse McMahon on the charge of embez slement, many who had watched the proceedings closely declared that it would never convict him. Yesterday's developments showed that they knew what they were talk-ing about, or at least made a good guess. The case was submitted to the jury at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. After being out a little loss than thirty hours the jury sent word to Judge Macy that they were unable to agree, be The judge went to the court house, the jury due was called in, and after assuring himself that held was called in, and after assuring himself that they could not arrive at a verdict be dis-charged them. One of the jurymen stated that when they took the first ballot the vote stood 8 to 4 for conviction and that those figures remained unchanged up to 8 o'clock last night, when it was agreed to disagree. The case now stands just where it did a week ago and will have to be tried again. It is not likely, however, that the new trial will take place before the next term of court. place before the next term of court.

Anniversary of Sheridan's Ride. The members of the Union Veteran legior ill hold a camp fire this evening in the Hughes hall near the Ogden house, in celebration of the auniversary of the battle of Cedar Creek, Va., and General Sheridan's famous ride from Winchester. The occasion will also be in bonor of the dead veterans. An interesting programme has been pre-pared, interspersed with vocal and instrumental music.

An elegant supper will be provided for the occasion by the Ladies' auxiliary. The exercises will begin promptly at 8 o'clock p. m. Every comrade of the legion with his wife is expected to be present, besides those who have been specially invited. The hall will be beautifully decorated, and the vacant chairs of the dead comrades of the legion appropriately draped. Colonel D. B. Balley will officiate as master of ceremonies.

ENGLAND BECOMING ALARMED.

She Fears the United States Will Got too Great a Navy on the Lakes. CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 18 .- A special to a Sunday paper from Ottawa, Ont., says: Following close on the announcement that the United States government intended to abrogate the agreement entered FOR RENT-Three or more rooms furnished to abrogate the agreement entered into with Great Britain in 1817 and place a fleet of gunboats on the great take comes the report today at the request of the British government through Lord Salisbury for an immediate report on the defenses of the dominion. The military authorities here naturally attached some interest as to what the urgency could be that hurriedly called for this information.

The request of Lord Salisbury was communicated through Lord Stanley to Premier Abbott last week, and the minister of the militia promised to have the report ready to be forwarded to the British governmen

Fer several years past, to use the language of a prominent military officer here, the Brit-ish government has been hammering at Sir John McDonald to strengthen the defenses of Canada, that in the event of trouble the dominion might not be solely dependent upon Great Britain for protection. This request has not been carried out to the satisfaction of the British government fficer commanding the dominion forces Gen cral Herbert, was sent out to Canada to investigate the actual state of affairs, which duty his predeses-sors appears to have solely neglected. That the relations existing between General Herbert and the minister of militia, Sin Adolph Caron, are somewhat strained as a result is an open secret. There appears to be little doubt that it is the intention of the British government to send several regi-ments to Canada shortly. This has been in ontemplation for a long time.

Again, the fortifications at Halifax, still Again, the fortifications at Halifax, still under the control of the imperial authorities, are being strengthened to make that naval station impregnable. The same policy is to be carried out in British Columbia, but there is some hitch between the home and Canadian authorities as to the outlay it will involve. The naval dock-yards, as Esquimault on the Pacific coast, was jointly constructed by the cific coast, was jointly constructed by the British and dominion governments, but it has been reported to the home authorities that it is seriously defective in many particulars. Speaking on the question of defenses to day a prominent official of the government said that the moment the United States government abrogated the agreement which restricted the naval forces of Canada and the United States on the great lakes to four vesarmed with one eighteen-pound gun and in-creased the strength of their fleet in these waters, Great Britain would run up a fleet of her iron-clads to keep them out. It has been suggested that England has become alarmed at the strong annexation movement which appears to have seized ner subjects in Canada, and is going to take precautionary measures, if necessary, at the point of the bayonet to prevent its further development.

FOR MANY THOUSANDS. Failure of a Large Shipbuilding Firm in Massachusetts.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 1.- The great shipouilding firm of Harrison, Lorring & Co., proprietors of the City Point works, South Boston, assigned to ex-Alderman Charles Allen of Boston, and Hon. G. W. Quintard of New York. The liabilities are stated by Mr. Lorring to be $375,000 while the assets are nominally put at $800,000, which includes every dollar's worth of personal property owned by the ndividual members of the firm, although the amount is generally believed somewhat exaggerated. The firm is building the United States steel armored cruiser No. 11 United States steel armored cruiser No. 11 for the government at a contract price of $674,000, with $100,000 added as speed premium, and is constructing half a dozen steel tug boats, also for the government, the latter being nearly completed. It was expected up to Saturday moraling that Mr. Lorring would receive credit for work done on the new vessels now being constructed for the United States government and that that would enable him to ernment and that that would enable him to meet all payments due, but learning that the construction put upon the contract by the United States government officials was such that he could not realize for some weeks on the same, he consuited with some of his largest creditors and many of the banks which were carrying his paper. As some of his notes were coming due immediately, an assignment was considered imperative. The creditors meeting will be held October 24. Al-though the failure represented a large sum it caused no actual excitement in. State street, as the holdings of all the local banks were said to be small. Mr. Lorring was reported as sick tonight, but his sen said: "This is a square, honest failure, and we want the truth known. Our affairs are not so adjusted that severe individual losses can follow. On the contrary I think the indi-vidual loss will be combaratively small."

Messrs Russell and Putman and Hon.
Charles T. Gallagher have been retained as counsel by the assignoes. The works employed 500 men and these will on Monday be paid the full amount of wages due them. A meeting of creditors will be held some time next week, "then the firm will ask an extension, and it confidently asserts that if the extension is granted all its indebtedness will be paid in full. The assignment was quietly made and was known to but few people on the street. Mr. Harrison is 70 years old and has for forty years carried on business in South Boston.
