An autograph album is being made, containing autographs of a large number of the most prominent soldiers in all parts of the country and will be disposed of by T. A. Bell, who has been spending the past few days in the city, just serving out a sentence for drunkenness, told a story of his sufferings to Rev. A. Overton last Sunday while the latter was holding religious services in the jail, and made such an impression on the clergyman that he offered to pay A. Bell's fine and let him go home to his wife and children, who, he said, were dying of starvation in a Nebraska town. A. Bell also claimed that he had been drugged and sandwiched, and said that the reason was in such a deplorable condition when found by the police. He left for Nebraska yesterday afternoon.

Work of House Mints. Over ripe oranges are a drug on the market just now, and as a result some one conceived the idea of reducing the surplus at a late Monday night. Most of the work was done within a radius of a few blocks from the Boomer school building. Half a dozen able bodied specimens were launched against the front of the school house and the janitor found their remains awaiting his attention when he awoke. It took him several hours to remove all traces of them. The residence of S. Farnsworth, three doors away, was also liberally beset, and W. J. Jamison's house, at the corner of Tenth and Eighth streets, and that of M. P. Ellis were among the sufferers. Mr. Jamison states that shortly before midnight he heard a noise of something being thrown against his house, and got up to see what it was. He arrived at the front door just in time to see two men running away. He did not know the nature of the missiles and so made no effort to catch them. There is a clue to the perpetrators of the deed, and some arrests will probably follow today.

Sudden Death. Mrs. William Gray, with her husband at Manawa, was found dead in bed yesterday morning. She has always enjoyed good health, but for the last few days had made complaint of intervals of pain near her heart. It was not thought to be anything serious, however, and when Mr. Gray awoke and found his wife lying dead by his side it was a terrible shock. From indications she had been dead for several hours. The deceased was 66 years of age, and had lived in this vicinity for a number of years. She visited her daughter, Mrs. Sykes, of this city, a day or two ago, and at that time was apparently in the best of health. At 10 o'clock Monday night she retired feeling as well as usual, but death came before morning.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS. Title to a Valuable Piece of Land Settled by the Courts.

OWNER FINDS HIMSELF MUCH GAINER. While Litigation Pended the Property Grew in Size and Value—History of a Singular Suit.

An important decision was made by the supreme court Monday in the case of Robert P. Young against Bishop Cosgrove. The suit was commenced in the district court of Pottawattamie county four years ago, D. C. Bishop and C. M. Hart appearing for the plaintiff.

In 1853 the property upon which the Merriam block is now situated was platted as lots 1, 2, 3 and 4, block 15, Bayliss addition. The following year it was replatted and another lot was added on the south as lot 5. The Catholic church, by Bishop Cosgrove, bought the first four lots and Young bought the last one. A dispute arose over the boundary line which resulted in the commencement of a suit by Young to get possession of his property, which was claimed by the church. After a trial before Judge Deemer the case was decided in Young's favor, and the case was appealed to the supreme court, where it has been pending for the past two years.

The decision of the supreme court affirms Judge Deemer's decision and gives the disputed property to Young.

One queer feature of the case is that Young finds his possession increased by the long siege which he has passed through in the courts before he could rightfully have the residue of the property. He purchased of Bayliss in 1854 was a little strip of land fronting nineteen feet on Pearl street and running to a point on Main. He now finds that he has a lot fronting sixty-nine feet on Pearl street and forty-nine on Main, all on account of a legal technicality. When the property was first sold its value was merely nominal, but now it is worth not less than $12,000, being situated in almost the business center of the city.

Swanson Music Co., Masonic temple. They're After Him. A few months ago the residence of J. T. Hart, at the corner of Sixth and Eighth streets, was entered by burglars in broad daylight and a large quantity of household articles were taken. The burglar was captured by some of the neighbors as he was leaving the house, all of the Hart family being away from the city at the time. Yesterday a smaller case was reported to the police. One of the neighbors saw a man about the house, and thinking his actions suspicious telephoned the police. Ed Martin was sent to the place and found him at the house of the neighbor getting a drink. He took him under his wing and brought him to the police station, where he was searched and found with $1 in cash, a silver watch and gold bracelet in his possession, all of which he is supposed to have taken from the residence of J. T. Hart. He had entered the house by breaking in the back door. He gave the name of Frank Martin, and will be held to answer to the charge of burglary.

Supreme Court Decisions. Information was received in this city yesterday of two decisions which were made by the supreme court affecting citizens of our city. The first was that of F. H. Guanelia against Pottawattamie county. The suit was commenced several years ago, in which the plaintiff claimed were due him for services performed by him in state cases while he was city marshal of Council Bluffs. The county supervisor refused to pay the amount claimed and the case was tried in the district court, resulting in a decision in favor of Guanelia. The court appealed, and the supreme court now reverses the decision of the lower court.

The second decision was in the case of J. L. Stewart against the city of Council Bluffs. Stewart claimed damages from the city by reason of a change in the grade of Fourth street in front of his property. In the district court a decision was rendered in favor of the city, and this decision is also reversed.

All Saints' Guild Entertainment. A pleasant social was given in the Royal Arcanum parlors last evening under the auspices of the All Saints' Guild of the Episcopal church. A large audience was present. The first part of the evening was taken up with a musical programme, consisting of vocal selections by Mrs. M. M. Ellis, Mrs. Derrick and Mr. Perennes, a violin solo by Miss Claire Chamberlain, a vocal duet by Mrs. M. M. Ellis and Miss Jessica Jackson, and a selection by the Council Bluffs Madolin club. All the numbers were well executed and highly enjoyed. The rest of the evening was spent in dancing to the strains of an orchestra. The affair was very enjoyable throughout.

Only an Accessory. LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Oct. 27.—Rev. Dr. Page, a Presbyterian minister of this place, who has been acting as spiritual adviser of James Benson, who is under sentence to be hanged November 5 for the murder of Mrs. John Mettman last spring, believes the condemned man to be only an accessory after the fact. Benson has made a confession to the minister of the part he took in the crime and Dr. Page has appealed to both President Harrison and Attorney General Miller, who are personal friends of his, to grant a stay of execution until Benson's alleged confession can be investigated.

MILITIA AT THE WORLD'S FAIR. Meeting at Chicago of Military Men From Various States.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 27.—A large number of military men from all parts of the United States arrived here today to discuss representation at the World's fair of military bodies in the United States. Many prominent men are present.

At the meeting this afternoon Captain J. H. Munnies of Vermont offered a resolution that the convention settle the matter of militia representation during 1892, then to go ahead and settle the matter of 1893. This was well received and Chairman Adams decided to call upon the delegates present in alphabetical order of rotation. General Ordway of the District of Columbia proposed that the militia organizations intending to be at the fair in 1893 be incorporated into the regular United States army, to submit just as the soldiers do, and the War department to assume command.

Delegates of the various states stated what their states could be expected to do. Colonel W. B. Bend of Minnesota got down to real work by offering the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is expedient to have a military display at the dedication of the exposition in 1892 and that the several states be requested to send a contingent of an average of the National guard at that time. Also that as officer and subordinate in Chicago are to be furnished to lead three of the exposition company, the several states should pay the expense of transportation of the contingent.

Before action was taken on the resolution the convention adjourned until tomorrow.

The chairman appointed the following important committees:—Finance—General W. J. Stanford, Colonel J. H. Munnies and Colonel H. C. Torrence. On subjects of discussion—Generals Charles Fitzsimmons, Samuel Dalton, W. H. Taylor, N. B. Rucelle and Captain W. Benham.

OKLAHOMA SCORCHED. Great Damage by Prairie Fires—A Village Destroyed.

GUTHRIE, Okl., Oct. 27.—Prairie fires have been sweeping over a large part of Oklahoma during the past few days and have done a great amount of damage. South and southwest of this city the fires started last Friday night and are still burning. A large number of farmers had their hay and fodder burned and three or four lost their barns and outbuildings. It was only by hard work that many farmers saved their homes.

A farmer named Yeall, who is reported to have been badly burned while fighting the flames from his home, all his hay and fodder going up in smoke. Another farmer, J. A. Bachas, thirty tons of hay burned. From that neighborhood the fires swept on east into the low country, where many of the new settlers were coming in to try their lives. A number of them lost their houses and contents, and several had all their means and implements taken to the water. The fire will obtain headway in the timber there, and if it does great loss of property and life may occur.

A fire broke out near Paradise prairie, northeast of Guthrie, Saturday night, and swept down the Cimarron valley, doing a great amount of damage. A number of houses were burned. Cimarron City was in the path of the flames and but three houses were left standing. The people of the village had a hard fight with the flames and a number of them were severely burned. Hundreds of tons of hay and over 1,000 bushels of corn were destroyed in this vicinity. A number of farmers lost their homes.

The mail carrier between Mulhall and Perkins was caught in the fire and badly burned. Another fire swept over Guthrie, did some damage last night and tonight the reflections of several fires can be seen. The growth of grass is very rapid in all parts of the territory and unless great care is exercised thousands of dollars' worth of property and many lives will certainly be lost.
