

OSTHOFF NAMED THE BOARDS.

Fifth Ward Election Officials Selected by the Democratic Candidate.

HIS COUNCIL TALK WAS ALL BUNCOMBE.

Mr. Osthoff's Partner Tells How, When and Where the Democratic Election Officials for his Ward Were Selected.

At the council meeting held Tuesday night Henry Osthoff publicly stated that he had nothing to do with the naming of the judges and clerks of election for the Fifth ward.

Mr. Osthoff was not satisfied with making the bare statement that his words were true, but four times did he call on the council and the lobby to witness that never had he suggested or named a man to serve in that ward.

Those who were present listened to Mr. Osthoff's words, but some of the parties doubted. They knew that he was building fences and thought that possibly he was doing some moultly vaporizing for the purpose of catching votes. Tuesday night Mr. Osthoff's words went for the truth, but this morning there came developments that indicated that he was talking, simply for effect and to the lobby. Yesterday Mr. Osthoff's word was absolutely and emphatically denied and by a member of his own political party.

Tuesday night there were two political meetings held for Erling's hall on Sixteenth street, between Paul and Nicholas streets. The independents had intended holding a public meeting to discuss the outlook, while the Fifth ward republicans expected to hold a private session.

The attendance was light, so that neither of the meetings were held, though fifteen or twenty republicans gathered about the store and swapped campaign stories.

E. C. Erling, the owner of the building and a staunch democrat, one of the leaders of the faithful in the Fifth ward, was present. During the discussion the subject of judges and clerks of election was talked to and con.

The independents argued that the mayor had intentionally slighted their party and had failed to allow them representation.

The republicans argued that the independents and their stated that the mayor had been partial, as he had given the democrats more than their share of the judges and clerks.

They were of the opinion that the mayor had not been alone in the scheme, but had been assisted by interested parties.

Mr. Erling did not want to give away any family secrets, but could tell some things that would throw light upon the subject. He had not heard Mr. Osthoff's statement that he (Osthoff) knew nothing about the selection of the judges and clerks.

The conversation lagged and for a time it was thought that Mr. Erling would keep his secret in his own bosom. He did not, however, for he thought that the manner in which he and Mr. Osthoff had manipulated the election board was too good a joke to keep.

His statement was a straight forward one and was made with all reserve and was heard by George H. Hess, A. A. McClanahan, Charles H. Bachman, William Mullhall, Alton Root, Dennis Kollerier and several others. He said that one week ago, last Tuesday night he met Henry Osthoff. They talked election matters for a few moments and then the subject of judges and clerks of election was discussed. Mr. Osthoff vouched the information that good men should be appointed. The two men then took out their pencils and wrote down the names of men to be appointed. Mr. Osthoff selected the most of the names and volunteered to see that the appointments were confirmed.

Mr. Erling had not seen the list since that night, but knew it had been handed to Mayor Cushing, with a request that he look with favor upon the list.

The parties who heard Mr. Erling's statement were dumfounded, as many of them had been assured by Mr. Osthoff that he had taken no hand in the matter, but they questioned Mr. Erling. They wanted to know about the political proclivities of the men selected by Mr. Osthoff. Mr. Erling could not be positive about that, but he knew that it was the intention of himself and Mr. Osthoff to select men who were republicans.

Mr. Erling wanted to put on a few republicans, but wanted to be positive that such were Osthoff republicans.

That the statements might carry more weight, a number of the parties who heard Mr. Erling's recital of how he and Mr. Osthoff passed an afternoon together, had made affidavits which are now on file and which might be interesting reading when taken in consideration with Mr. Osthoff's campaign speeches delivered at Tuesday night's council meeting.

WOULD VOTE THE PAUPERS.

Poor Master Mahoney's Scheme to Swell the Registration Lists.

J. J. Mahoney, superintendent of the county hospital, has commenced work on a plan he has for making voters of the inmates of the county poor house.

This was a common incident of Seventh ward politics a few years ago until the abuse of the system was called to the attention of Mr. Mahoney was prevented from casting the votes of the county charges. The matter was allowed to rest for election, but last fall Mr. Mahoney tried again to get the male inmates of the poor house on the voters list for the seventh ward.

It is reported that the same plan fell in connection with the attempted registration of the hospital inmates. The registrars objected to the applicants on the ground that the inmates was a menace to the health of the community. Mr. Mahoney took the matter to City Attorney Poppleton and returned, armed with an opinion from the district attorney, that the inmates of the hospital were not a menace to the health of the community and that they could be prevented from voting because he was a pauper. The opinion did not refer to the question of residence and Attorney Cochran who was a member of the registration board in that district, succeeded in securing the rejection of the pauper applicants for registration.

Mr. Mahoney has been more successful this year. He first secured the appointment of three democrats on the board of registration for the seventh district of the seventh ward, one of whom is a clerk at the county hospital. This made it plain sailing for his scheme and on Thursday he registered a half dozen inmates of the county hospital on the voters list and will, it is stated, offer the rest of them, but will in all, at the sitting of the board on Friday.

There are some republican attorneys in the seventh, however, who will oppose this attempt. They claim that the same course, in any number of states, have decided that inmates of hospitals and poor farms cannot acquire residence qualifications at such places no matter how long they may have been there and can only vote in wards and districts where they resided before removal to the institutions named. In case Mr. Mahoney attempts to register any more of the county charges or vote those already registered he will meet with the legal opposition of the republicans who propose to have a fair election according to law.

Her Head Was Level. Say, Jenny, you'll have me! No, Tom, why not, Jenny? Cause you carry bottles in your pocket, Tom. Why, Jenny, this is only a bottle of Tom's Own Cough Syrup. O-o-o-o! Tom, O-o-o-o! Jenny, Tab-leaux.

Her Daughter Flown. Mrs. Yeout of South Omaha reported to the police yesterday afternoon that her 16-year-old daughter Flora, who sometimes goes by the name of Whitney, had left home suddenly and it was feared that the girl had left for Red Oak, Ia. A description was left with the police and instructions to arrest her on sight.

A FIGHT FOR LIFE

Should We Drive Slow Poison From Our Breakfast Table?

ALUM and AMMONIA in our bread. A nuisance that troubled England fifty years ago is now rapidly spreading in this country, that is putting alum in the bread we eat. This question is causing a great deal of discussion at the present moment, as it is revealed that alum is being used as a substitute for cream of tartar in baking powders. A story is told that a very large percentage of the baking powders sold on the market contain either alum or ammonia, and many of them contain both these pernicious drugs. Much timely alarm is felt at the wholesale use of alum in bread, biscuit and pastry. To you, the consumer, it is a question of weakness, frame, and bread eaten morning, noon and evening, is the most harmful. It is the small quantities taken at every meal that are the mischief. Alum is cheap, costing but 2 or 3 cents a pound, while cream of tartar costs 50c, and the high price of cream of tartar has led chemists to use alum in its place. If the reader would know something of the corrosive qualities of alum let him touch a piece of his tongue then reflect how it acts on the tender delicate coats of the stomach.

Following is a list compiled by the Scientific American of the alum and ammonia baking powders that have already been tested. ATLANTIC & PACIFIC. ROYAL. COOK'S FAVORITE. SCOTCH. CROWN BRAND. SILVER SPOON. CRYSTAL. SILVER STAR. DAISY. SNOWDRIFT. DAVIS O. R. SOVEREIGN. BRY TEASE. STATE. GEM. STANFORD. KENTON. BENTON. FRANKSON'S. WASHINGTON. PERFECTION. WINDSOR. PERFLESS. ZIPP'S GRAPE. ANNOUNCEMENTS. Sol Smith Russell, the sunniest and most genial gentleman on the stage, returns to Omaha with an engagement at the Grand Opera House for a three night's engagement at Boyd's new theater. This time he will present his latest and greatest play, entitled "Peaceful Valley." In it Mr. Kidder has again shown one of the many attempts of the stage to get away from the furs and feathers of unreal mock heroes, and come back to the simple, earnest, practical, and real life in its best aspects. In these plays of all sorts of misastatic vapor settling thick and sticky upon literature and the stage, it is like a little breeze from the forest of heaven and fir high up in the clear pure air of the mountain side, to sit for an evening in the beautiful and exhilarating atmosphere of Boyd's new theater. Valued by Mr. Sol Smith Russell plays it. His Rosea Howe is a unique characterization upon the stage, and yet a character that the world will recognize at sight. The company supporting Sol Smith Russell is the best that has ever appeared with him.

William H. Crane, the celebrated comedian, that whom none greater rivals the American boards, opens two nights engagement at Boyd's new theater on Wednesday evening next in his great comedy, "The Senator." The play was written for Mr. Crane by D. D. Lyoid and Sidney Rosefeld, and has been so successful that he played it in New York City for more than one year.

Always a host in himself, Nat Goodwin will appear next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at Boyd's new theater, in two of the cleverest plays ever presented in this city, "A Cold Day," and "The House of the Living Dead."

A large force of men were engaged at Cudahy's yesterday loading the long train of sixty-four cars which will leave for San Francisco this evening laden with the food products of the output of their plant.

Yesterday was another heavy day at the yards. There were over 4,000 cattle, 6,000 hogs, and 1,000 sheep. The quality was fair and prices steady, from 10c to the highest 12c Kansas City. The demand was good.

S. H. Schubert, a wealthy stockman of Wyoming, was at the yards yesterday looking for feeders. Mr. Schubert was formerly one of the best patrons of the Kansas City stock yards.

Luther R. Wright will be named upon the ticket as candidate for county judge at the election Tuesday.

MURDERED HIS SON. Missouri Father Who Wouldn't Be Forced to Drink. Springfield, Mo., Oct. 28.—News has reached town from Seymour, Webster county, that a fatal fight occurred near Hartsville Monday in which Sol Johnson shot his son "Bill." "Bill" Johnson, said to have been a noted young desperado of that section, was in a saloon when his father came in. "Bill" attempted to make his father take a drink. A quarrel ensued, which culminated in the father drawing a revolver and shooting his son in the breast, killing him almost instantly. The father had not yet been arrested.

Refugees in the American Legation Will Be Protected.

(Copyright 1897 by James O. Davis, Boston.) SANCTIAGO, Chili, (via Galveston, Tex.) Oct. 28.—By Mexican Cable to the Herald.—Special to The Bee.—Minister Egan has received a reply from the minister of foreign affairs of the provisional government, relative to Mr. Egan's dispatch on the question of providing safe conduct to the refugees now under the protection of the American legation. Señor Montt sends a safe conduct to refugees in the legation under protest. He recognizes the precedents quoted by Minister Egan in which the Chilean government claimed similar rights for refugees in Peru, and the latter were allowed to depart from that country, and acknowledged the claim of extra-territoriality. At the same time Señor Montt does not abandon altogether the position maintained by the junta that the rights of the legation must, in spite of the rights of asylum which are thereby conceded, eventually be tried before the tribunals.

I have reliable information that the junta is greatly stirred up over the recent dispatch from the United States government on the subject of the Chilean refugees. An old sailor from the Baltimore in the streets of Valparaiso on October 16. It is evident that the leaders are disposed to consider the matter in a serious light and in an amicable spirit. The subject is of such grave import that it requires earnest deliberation, however before any definite reply can be given.

A letter published in the newspapers yesterday has created a vast amount of heated discussion. It is signed by Augustus Edwards, the well known banker and Edward Matta, and vindicates Minister Egan from the continued and severe criticisms that have been passed upon his conduct of his office by various other adherents of the junta. The letter has caused a great deal of criticism.

It is a curious fact that although the presidential electors were chosen over a week ago candidates for the presidency has yet been definitely put forward. In fact, it is not known who the candidates will be given.

During the first three days of the British legation was among the buildings burned. The archives were destroyed and all data concerning the steamship company of Montevideo with a lot of gold which Balmaceda wished to be taken to London. Minister Kennedy, however, saved his personal property and jewelry.

It is reported that the radicals and clericals formed a coalition in regard to a presidential nominee.

BLACKMAILER BAGGED. He Tries to Extort Money From a Wealthy Lawyer.

New York, Oct. 28.—Inspector Byrnes and his detectives have been trying to locate a blackmailing for two weeks or more and late this afternoon they located the fellow behind the bars at police headquarters. His name is William H. Walsh and he has been in the employ of Taylor & Co., coffee brokers, at 95 Wall street, for some time past as a trusted, energetic, painstaking clerk.

Walsh is a young fellow, about 25 years of age, and is a member of the Young Men's Association of Buffalo. He is a young lawyer who has formed the corner stone for the schemes which Walsh has been promoting. He undertakes to extort money from the fellow behind the bars on the grounds her parentage was extremely doubtful and that the facts were known in Buffalo society the tongue of scandal.

In furtherance of his scheme, Walsh wrote several letters, but they were cleverly covered. A sum of $100 was paid to him by Mr. Byrnes and Walsh in regard to the monetary consideration of certain papers to Mr. Fox Walsh was captured and presented his innocence, but finally admitted having written the letters, but said it was at the instance of another person. Walsh is a handsome man 40 years of age and well connected.

Chapleau Resigns.

Trouble Among High Canadian Politicians.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 28.—There was a rumor yesterday stating confidently that Mr. Chapleau had resigned as an outcome of the dispatch evinced in the Enquirer's editorial. Despatches received by private individuals from Montreal and Quebec asserted positively that the secretary had resigned. Mr. Chapleau did not attend the cabinet council yesterday, being closeted at his own house with Colonel Outram, ex-speaker.

On being asked if it was true that he had resigned, he said: "I cannot say. I am engaged in some private business, but you can state that there is no feeling between us," and that was all he would say. Around the government buildings it was believed that he had resigned.

The great question now is, what will follow? Mr. Chapleau has a great following in our party with the premier, but down and out of the cabinet. All the same, as they say, he will not cross the floor and throw in his lot with the liberals. An old conservative said: "Anyway, the government is likely to be upset. If Mr. Chapleau's followers remain inactive without being actively hostile, what more is wanted? Their inactivity will lead to the loss of the contested seats in Quebec and the loss of a very few seats will cause the defeat of the government."
