BALDWIN'S MURDERER CAUGHT

You g Arthur Sloan Captured While Working on a Farm in Iowa.

SHERIFF HARRIMAN DOES A NEAT JOB.

He Surprises His Man and Places Him Under Arrest Before He Has a Chance to Make Resistance.

BLAIR, Neb., Nov. 18 - [Special Telegram to THE BEE. -Sheriff Harriman quietly slipped away from Blair Friday evening and came home this morning at 9:35 with Arthur Sloan, the Fontancile murderer. He found him husking corn for a farmer named Baien, three miles west of Slater, Ia., in Boone county.

Harriman, with a deputy from Des Moines, went direct to the farm and secreted themselves in the farmer's house. After Sioan did his chores he came in to wash and eat supper, and the officers collared him before he had a chance to restst.

The revolver that he did the shooting with was found in the barn and was brought with the prisoner. Sloan back admits doing the shooting, but says he was mad and did not know that he had killed any one, as he had not heard. He says he did the shooting in self-defense. Sloan says he staid within a half mile of the house at Fontanelle all the day that the shooting occurred and the next day staid near Fremont. When caught at Slater, he exclaimed to the sheriff

"Boys, I wish I was dead." Sloan has a tough looking aspect at present, as he has allowed his whiskers to grow and to a certain extent they make a good mask. Harriman says he has been on Sloan's track some time. There was a reward offered for Sloan's arrest of $700. Harriman has expended considerable of his own money tracing him up.

Sheriff Harriman saw Sloan safely lodged in jail and then left for his home. Shortly after the sheriff had left the town the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley telegraph operators got a tip over the wire from Nickerson that the farmers and residents at Fontanelle were organizing and intended to storm the jail, take Sloan out and bang him. There was a similar report from Herman, ten miles north. As soon as the report became current about town Deputy Sheriff Mencke appointed a couple of deputies to guard the fail. About 10:30 a score of men from Herman came quietly into town and put up their teams. When interrogated as to the object of their visit the visitors declined to say what they had come for, but were seen wandering around town for some time. The jail is a square stone structure with long barred windows. An entrance could easily be effected if a determined effort should be made.

Sloan is the young man who, on October 1 while quarreling with his step-father, B. J. Baldwin, shot him dead at the breakfast table on his farm near Fontanelle, Washington county. It was generally supposed that the murderer fied to the Black Hills,

RURYINGTON SHEDS BURNED. Fire at Wymore Damages Railroad

Property Considerably. WYMORE, Neb., Nov. 18 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. ]-About 2 o'clock this afternoon the large B. & M. coal sheds south of town caught fire. Two streams were immediately turned on the flames, but they had gained too much headway, and the sheds, together with a tool house near them, were burned. Several cars, which were standing on the tracks near by, soon caught fire and were being rapidly consumed. These were run back as soon as possible, and but three stock cars were a total loss and a car of lum ber and one of shingles were much damaged There was a strong wind blowing from the southwest which blew the sparks over the main part of town and several outbuild ings and heaps of rubbish caught fire, but were closely watched and put out. It is almost a miracle that the whole of the business part was not burned. As soon as the fire in the cars had been extinguished and the wallof the coal shed had fallen, the streams were turned on the mass of burning coal, and that in time was put out. The company's loss is about $4,000. Spontaneous combustion is supposed to have been the cause of the fire.

Exciting Much Interest. FULLERTON, Neb., Nov. 18 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-The second day of the district court has been consumed in securing a jury in the Vesey murder case. The panel was filled late this evening. This case, growing out of the sudden death of Franklin Vesey, a well-to-do farmer of Nance county, about August 1, and the subsequent arrest and holding of the widow and her cousin to the district court, has created great interest. It was generally reported that Vesey and his wife had not, since their marriage, less than a year ago, lived pleasantly and the fact of finding poison about the premises led the officers to believe that Frank had been Public opinion was to a great extent un favorable to the women upon their prelimi-nary examination, but has since quieted down, and the case will be hotly contested, both sides being well represented. There are over 100 witnesses in attendance.

MYSTERIOUS STRANGERS.

They Create a Sensation in the Hawaiian Islands. HONOLULU, Nov. 11.-Honolulu has been treated during the past few days to a genuine sensation in the arrest and detention of the owners of the British yacht Beagle, who were charged with smuggling 30,000 English sovereigns into this port. About September 1 a yacht containg Messrs. Bloom and Douglas, the owners, and a young man named Joseph Bryne, arrived in the harbor. The party rented a fine residence and entertained royally. The yacht was placed in the dry dock and thor-oughly repaired. The party spent money freely, all payments by them being made in British sovereigns. On the arrival of the steamship Australia from the colonies came a detective and a story of robbery of a bank at Sydney of over 30,000 English sovereigns. The detectives left a photograph in the possession of Mar-shal Wilson which tallied with the appearance of the parties here, and left on the Australia for San Francisco for the purpose, as he said, of cabting to Sydney for further instructions, as there is no extradition treaty between Australia and the Hawaiian islands for that crime. Arrangements were perfected between the officials pere and the deective that the party would be detained they attempted to leave before the Australia returned to San Francisco.

It was the intention of Bloom and Douglas to spend a few months on the Island, but a change of mind caused them to prepare to The yacht was in good condition for a cruise, having aboard provisions for three nonths and carrying a crew of seven men

A large safe had been purchased and placed on board and everything made ready to sail. As soon as clearance papers were given, a charge of smuggling was preferred against the men, and they were placed under arrest At their trial the crown requested their letention until the steamer arrived. The ar rival of the steamer failed to bring the de ective or the desired testimony, which was

On Saturday the safe and cabins of the yacht were searched, but the sovereigns had disappeared and none were found. Being unable to maintain the charge of smug-gling the crown dismissed the case against the owners, and they sailed away on Mon-day. Their destination is said to be Japan, is intimated that they will touch at San Francisco.

WEATHER FORECAST.

OFFICE OF WEATHER BUREAU, OMAHA, Nov. 18.

A severe storm is moving eastward across Manitoba and its influence is felt throughout the northwest and as far south as Kansas and Colorado. The high southerly winds are due to this storm. The barometer has fallen decidedly throughout the Misseuri valley, but so far no precipitation has attended the storm. The barometer remains high and the temperature low over the eastern part of the country, but in the west and northwest temperature has risen and is now again above the freezing point. Rapid City had a maxi mum temperature of 54 degrees yesterday. For Omaha and vicinity-Warmer, fair to cloudy weather, brisk south to west wind

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—The wave of high pressure has moved from the Missia-sippi valley over the Alleghanies, and has lost a little of its intensity. It continues to control the weather over most sections, but will move into the Atlantic, leaving the weather to be conditioned by the cyclonic area over Manitoba. The cold wave has been one of the severest for November in a decade. Comparison with previous like occurrences for the same season show the lowest temperatures with this wave as follows: Omaha and Atlanta, 1°: Springfield, Mo., New Orleans and Mobile, 2°: at Jackconville equal to the minimum record in the same decade in 1876, and at Montgomery that

MARRIED IN JAIL.

Unusual and Interesting Ceremony in the Kansas City Lockup.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 18 .- An unusual and interesting ceremony was that which made J. Hubbard Marr and Miss Willie Baker man and wife this afternoon. Marr was arrested yesterday charged with the betraval of Miss Baker at McPherson, Kan., and was lodged in jail in Kansas City, Kan. Marr intimated his willingness to atone for the crime by marrying the girl, who con-sented. The prosecuting attorney, how-ever, would not allow the usual ceremony to be performed, and the sheriff being under the latter's orders would not permit a minister or a justice of the peace to enter the jail. Marr's attorney then performed a common law marriage, the bride and groom clasping hands through the bars of the prison cell and several other prisoners acting as witnesses. Later a marriage by proxy was performed before a jus-tice of the peace, one of Marr's friends act-ing as the groom. It is claimed that the marriage is perfectly legal and that Mrs. Marr cannot be made to testify against her Marr cannot be made to testify against her husband in the case against Marr for be-

MINING MEN IN MEETING.

Opening of the First National Mining Congress at Denver, Colo.

SENATOR STEWART OF NEVADA ON SILVER.

He Claims That Congress Should Restore it to a Parity with Gold-Dedication of the Colorado Mining Exchange.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 18 .- The dedication of the Colorado Mining exchange building and the opening of the first National Mining congress were celebrated here today. At 10 o'clock this morning there was a street parade, in which miners and all interested in mining took part. The miners were attired in working costume with candles in their hats and presented an unique spectacle. There were also floats bearing mining machinery in motion and a great many tableaux indicative of the many important features of mining were displayed.

The dedication speeches were delivered by Charles E. Taylor, president of the Mining exchange, Hon. Platt Rogers, mayor of Denver, Hon. Charles Abbey of Portland, Me., Hon. H. A. W. Tabor, H. W. Kirchner, architect of the building, and B. Clark. Wneeler of Aspen. All of the speakers advocated free and unlimited coinage of

In the afternoon the Mining congress was opened at the People's theatre, with ex-Governor Tabor in the chair. Delegates from thirty-three states and territories reported, and it was understood that Hon. Niles Searles, fermerly chief justice of California, would be elected permanent chairman. The recommendation has not yet been reported.

Senator Stewart on Money. The greater part of the afternoon session was occupied by Senator Stewart of Nevada, who delivered a long address upon the silver question. He took the ground that silver had been demonetized through the influence of Wall street and urged the congress to adopt resolutions that would compel the na-tional house of representatives to pass laws restoring silver to a parity with gold. Resolutions favoring the coinage of the American product only, the senator said, would not obtain twenty votes in the assembly. He entered into a long dissertation upon the value of silver as a circulating medium, and concluded by referring to the California gold movement as the foundation of the western country. It had brought into existence states and terri tories which had never been dreamed of. The miner had raised the gold and silver which furnished the besis of credit and made the preservation of the union possible. Pioneers of the west opened a new empire and were accordingly popular. Times had changed. Politicians appealed to their constituents against the silver movement, say-ing the agitation proceeded from speculators who desired to sell their product for more than its market value. This blow proceeded from the men who struck down silver and aimed a blow at the prosperity of the nation. They said gold was better than silver, but where 100,000 people used the latter comparatively few used the former. The government, which was sustained by gold and silver raised in this section, has made a gain from the silver that has gone into the treasury. Miners only asked the market price, while the government bought at current rates and sold it at currency value.

To talk about maintaining the parity of the two metals is absurd. Do they believe they will rehabilitate silver and restore its original parity? If it is to be credit money it is too expensive to print promises to pay upon. Silver is now discarded, the gold ring has repudiated it, and they have reduced the issue of commer cial paper to the narrow limits of gold alone There was about $400,000,000 in paper twenty cars ago. One-half of this is sufficient now if twenty years ago the amount was innue quate. As a consequence farmers growing poorer, and the history of bank failures showed their circulation was not enough to keep the backs in reserve funds Why should there be hard times with twenty years of peace? Why should times be worse than any other time in the century! Want monetized gold in India and maintained it in

Secretary Sherman, after a visit to England and a conference with the gold bugs, returned home and surreptitiously incorpo ated in a bill the clause rejecting silver. this had been done to gold it would not be worth twenty-five cents on the dollar. If it could not be used for money it would have no commercial value. But silver was universally circulated. It could not be destroyed, but i could be depreciated. There was no surplus bullion in the world previous to 1810. The entire product was used for commercial purposes. previous Great Britain was constantly selling silver short. The interest payments of that pation were $50.000.000. were derived from the sale of silver. When silver went up last year England sold twice as much as the requirements of the nation demanded, and they would do this so long as silver remained a commodity.

Mining and Civilization.

Civilization has kept pace with the growth of mines, and no nation in the world has been able to keep going after the exhaustion of the mines. This nation has been especially favored, but the greed of the miser had stopped the wheels of progress. Thincreased the purchasing power of a dollar. He protested against the long dollar, [Cheers.] The country was being robbed. The railroads were bonded to the extent of $5,000,000,000, which was heavier than $10. 000,000,000 eighteen years ago. The farmer paid this assessment, the producer was taxed to the utmost and the consumer was asked to pay 30 per cent more than he she The middleman was growing rich and the producer was growing poorer.

Because they made a long dollar, enough dollars could not be found to pay debts. Hence stagnation and hard times were common. Want of money would make every man a coward, and there was not a tramp in hat if you put $1,000 in his pocket Governor Routt then delivered the address f welcome, in which he paid a nice compli ment to Senator Stewart. After a speech by Hon. C. S. Thomas and appointment of committees, the convention

Southern States Asked to Pension Mrs. Jefferson Davis. RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 18 .- Mrs. Jefferson Davis and her daughter, Miss Winnie, left the city today for Memphis. The Richmond Dispatch tomorrow, in an editorial on Mrs. Davis, will say: "The southern states ought to vote a pension to Mrs. Davis, and Virginia should lead the movement. It is nothing but fair and proper that we should put her upon the same footing that the United States government places the widows of its presidents. The duty devolves upon the states that compothe confederacy, as the confederacy is a thing of the past. It can be no very costly precedent for us, inasmuch as there never will be another confederacy, therefore never another widow of a confederate president.

Mammoth Industrial Organization Founded with Unbmited Capital. ABERDEEN, S. D., Nov. 18 .- It is learned through the medium of Alonzo Wardell and George C. Cross, the heads of two very important divisions of alliance work in the northwest, that the business department of the alliance in twenty-two states of the union has united with business men of New York city and founded a company similar in its plan of operation to the celebrated Rochdale system in England and to the Zion co-opercalled the National Union company and has large means at its command. It is claimed the advantages to the all ince are twofold at It will have the business ability and experience of some of the strewdest men in the nation at its back, while there will apparently be plenty of capital to meet any emergency which may arise and to push the business as circumstances permit. In return the alliance will give the organization its patronalliance will give the organization its patron-

Rioting in Rio Janeiro Reported-English Advices Say Bloodshed is Imminent-South American News in Brief.

[Copyright 1891 by James Gordon Bennett.1 Buenos Ayres, Argentine (via Galveston, Tex.), Nov. 18 .- By Mexican Cable to the New York Herald-Special to THE BEE. |-San Luis, the capital of the province of the same name, and situated about 430 miles from this city, is reported to be in a ferment. Soldiers patrol the streets, and the governor's house has been converted into a military headquarters. The Uruguay gunboat Artiguas has gone up the river to guard the interests of Uruguay's territory.

Latest advices from Rio Grande de Sul. Brazil, say that additional towns in that state have gone over to the side of the provisioned junta. Among them are Santi-San Luis, Parana, and Cruzalta. The enlistment of infantry and cavalry among the people of Porto Alegre, the capital of Rio Grande do Sul, is actively carried on. Five vessels of the government fleet are reported to have given their adbesion to the junta, which has adopted as its flag a white and red globe.

With the exception of Rio Grande do Sul, all the states of Brazil are tranquil. There does not appear to be the least truth in reports of a revolt in Para.

BRAZILIAN REBELS UNITED.

They Reach an Agreement and Begin Warlike Preparations.

LONDON, Nov. 18 .- No confirmation has yet been received of the Exchange Telegraph company's Rio de Janeiro advices of yesterday, reporting that the naval and military officers stationed in Para had taken steps looking to the declaration of the independence of that state. The most important news received here today relates to affairs in the state of Rio Grande do Sul. This is given in a dispatch to the Times from Santiago de Chili. According to this the differences which have been interfering with perfect unity of action by the provisjunta, now in authority ional in that state, are disappearing and the members of the junta are now acting in harmony. They have made one of their number, Dr. Assiz Bruzil, minister of war, Active measures are being taken to improve the defences and increase the effective strength of the army. The mouth of the Rio Grande, the principal river of the state, has been obstructed by the sinking of two ships in the channel and the river is protected by heavy artillery. The junta is in full control of all military stores in the state and of the government factory for making munitions of war. Provincial banks and private persons are offering to furnish the junta with ample unds to carry forward the plans that may be decided upon for maintaining the independ ence of the state. The officers sent by the dictator to take the laces of those who cast their fortunes with the insurgents in Rio Grande do Sul have ar-rived at Montevideo and propose to proceed at once to their destination. They assert that several men-of-war are now on the way to Rio Grande, and others are being nade ready to follow. Bloody and Fatal Riot in Rio de Janeiro. NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The steamship Earn dale, Captain Carter, with coffee from Rio Janeiro, arrived at her pier in Brooklyn yes terday morning. She left before the serious trouble began in Brazil, but the officers bring some interesting news. The Earndale sailed from Rie on the morning of October 24, havng been in port about two weeks. During that time there were no United States war vessels in the harbor, but there were two British and one French cruisers. Of all the Brazillan men-of-war in the Rio navy varo

the reports which have reached here of the ectivity in the Brazilian navy are very probably exaggerated.
"The only trouble I know of," said one o the Earndaie's officers, "occurred on the night of October 8. A great crowd of medi-cal students had gathered in one of the theaters where a rather popular souprette was the cause of a good deal of cheering and shouting. The police objected to the disor der and tried to put a stop to it. The result was a rush of the students against the police, who drew their swords and pistols and fough the crowd. Several of the students were killed and a number of the combatants on only two appeared to be in commission, so that both rides were badly injured. On the following night the police and stu dents again met in a row, resulting in the death of two of the latter and several minor casualties. A young Englishman who hap pened to be passing down the street was in

ONLY SLAPPED HIM.

Blow from a Butcher That May Cost a Human Life.

A picture solicitor, whose name could not be learned, went into C. A. Hume's chop house, at 717 North Sixteenth street, about midnight in an intoxicated condition and became involved in an altercation with Thomas F. McNamara, a butcher. The solicitor called him a liar, and the butcher stugged him. The solicitor unished his meal and then hurled a heavy coffee cup at McNamara, hitting him on the head and inflicting a scalp wound.

McNamara says that his assailant then started to run, but tripped and fell against the store. At any rate, when the police were called, the solicitor was found lying on the floor unconscious and covered with blood. He was removed to the station, and McNamara was locked up charged with assault.

The city physician was called to see the injured man and found him suffering from a depression of the skull. He was taken to the Methodist hospital, and at 3 o'clock had not regained consciousness. The doctor stated that he had sustained a very severe blow that had affected the brain. McNamara insisted that he only slapped the man with his open hand, and that he did not touch him after the cup was thrown.

HE MAY RETURN NOW.

What a Government Official Says-M. de Giers' Visit-Banquet to the New Minister-Parisian Chatter.

[Copyright, 1801, by James Gordon Bennett,1 Pants, Nov. 18 .- | New York Herald Cable Special to THE BEE. |-The strike in the mining districts still causes much anxiety. Believing that the best way of ascertaining the truth or falseness of the pessimistic ramors affoat was to interview the minister of public works, and knowing that he was thoroughly posted on the question I cailed upon M. Guyot today. He received me with great courtesy and assured me that there was nothing particularly alarming in the strikes, which had been ordered without any adequate reasons. M. Guyot assured me that the strikers had no serious grounds for ceasing work. The strike, he said, had been arranged by a majority with them. "Nevertheless," I remarked, "there is no disguising the fact that quite 32,000 of the 39,000 or 40,000 miners in the department of the Nord have struck work!" "That is true," replied the minister. "The strike is almost general; 33,000 men have stopped work,"

"Do you think that the strike will spread?" said I. "We do not know yet," auswered M.

Guyot. The minister of public works is optimistic as a rule, but the strike is none the less a serious fact. There have already been several encounters between the strikers and the men who refuse to go out. The malcontents doman I an increase of wages and the eight-hour clause (which in practice, means seven hours daily work), besides the reorganization of the workmen's pension fund. On applying for their last fortnight's pay the strikers declared that they could hold out for at least three weeks, or even longer, if, as they hope, they receive assistance from the English miners.

M. de Giers will not reach Paris till tomorrow. He will leave again on Sunday night. As I have already informed you, he will put up at the Russian embassy. On Friday he will be received by M. Carnot. On leaving the president he will confer with M. de Freycinet. The same evening M. Carnot will give a grand banquet in M. de Giers' honor. Friday will be an important day for France.
