

DESERVED BY HER FRIENDS.

Omaha Lost the Convention Through the Action of Some Western Delegates.

THEY IGNORED THEIR INSTRUCTIONS.

Clarkson of Iowa, McBride of Utah and Hammill of Colorado Prove Recreant—Omaha Men Satisfied.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Omaha's special committee of citizens, who have made a good fight for the location of the republican national nominating convention, nearly all left Washington on the Pennsylvania railroad at 4:30 this afternoon. Judge Thurston got back to New York; Mr. Rosewater will remain a day or two longer here on business, and two or three others will scatter to the winds. About sixteen delegates to the committee went directly to Omaha.

Minneapolis secured the prize because she went into the committee with the most votes from the start, and had what appeared to the east to be a geographical advantage. On the first ballot Omaha had the support of Kansas, Wyoming and Texas, but after the first ballot, Chairman Clarkson left the choice of his state and did not again vote for Omaha. Idaho finally came to Omaha. Strange as it may be, Judge McBride of Utah voted for Minneapolis against the wishes of his territory, which were for Omaha. Senator Carey of Wyoming stood out at all times, and rendered other material assistance.

Surprised at Clarkson.

This action of Mr. Clarkson in not supporting Omaha, after he had been instructed by his state to do so, was a source of surprise to the Nebraskans. It also amazed them to see Mr. Hammill of Colorado vote for another city than Omaha, when every republican of his state is in favor of Omaha. It is not at all probable that Clarkson repented of his action, for Mr. Hammill tells us that he has no regard for them. Mr. McBride of Utah will also have a good time securing another trust from his people, after violating the one he represented before the convention here.

Omaha made a gallant fight for the convention in the section beyond the Mississippi. She used such good arguments for the benefit of Minneapolis, Omaha's committee regrets that it could not get the convention from local interests, but is greatly pleased that it helped to set the precedent for its section. For the first time in many years hence operate to the advantage of its first choice. It helped maintain a principle, and it is generally conceded that never again will the convention go to the east.

Purely Business Reasons.

Business considerations were seriously weighed and a potential loss in the location of the national nominating convention, Colonel Conger, a member of the committee from Cincinnati, expressed his regret that for fully six months he had been receiving letters from his customers in Minneapolis and St. Paul, reminding him that the convention would be held in that city. He had been bound to stand by Cincinnati.

Minneapolis' Position.

Timothy Burr, who is a member of the Republican national caucus and resides in Minnesota at the national committee meeting—fighting for Minneapolis—in talking today about the matter, said that he located the convention at Minneapolis said: "There was not the least twinge of Blaineism or Harrisonism or any other personal issue in the contest. The reason the first place it was believed that the convention would do the northwest more good, politically, than any other section. And second, because the west and northwest stood together. No candidate will be shown favor or advantage over another in Minneapolis, if, for any other reason, because it would ruin us for our favors in the future. We want the convention largely for our own good, and our own benefit. It would give our city and country, and of course unless we do fairly and well by the convention, and give a good number of persons interested in the convention, it will do us no good in any way."

Preparing for 1892.

Call for a National Convention by the Republican Committee. WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 24.—The national republican committee met this morning and issued the following call: To the republican electors of the United States: In accordance with usage and the intention of the constitution, we hereby call a national republican convention to be held at Minneapolis, Minn., on Tuesday, the 7th day of June, at 10 o'clock, for the purpose of nominating candidates for president and vice president to be supported at the next national election. We also call for the transaction of other and further business as may be brought before it. The republican electors

LABOR CANDIDATES TO BE ENCOURAGED.

They Also Take Up an Active Plea to Beat the Gladstonians.

BIRMINGHAM, England, Nov. 24.—Delegates to the conference of the National Union of Conservative Associations met here today. A resolution looking toward the disestablishment of the church in Wales and redressing the inequalities in the representation of England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland in parliament was adopted.

In Favor of Woman Suffrage.

Viscount Fielding, conservative candidate for the Rugby division of Warwickshire, offered, and the conference adopted, the following resolution: That this conference is of the opinion that when the question of representation of the people is referred to parliament, serious consideration should be given to the claims of women to be admitted to the franchise when otherwise excluded by conventional law.

Arranging for the Convention.

An important step taken by the committee during the former session was the reference to the executive committee, with full power to act, of all matters connected with the preparation of the national convention. The executive committee decided to assume active direction of the matter itself and arranged for the hall, printing, the program, the number and location of delegates, ushers and doorknockers for the convention. It will also take charge of the preparation and publication of a stenographic report of the proceedings of the convention.

Utah's Troubles.

Resolved, That in the committee elected by the convention of delegates at Salt Lake City Utah, and the national republican convention, territorial central committee of Utah. Resolved, That we recommend to all the republican electors of Utah, that they support the national government and policy are in harmony with the national government, and that they support their local differences and unite to rescue their territory from the danger and dishonor of future democratic control.

Webster to the president for the position of secretary of war, which is to become vacant by the resignation of Secretary of War Proctor, who is to resign on the 1st of December. The United States senate at the opening of the session, The president received the delegation cordially, but did not indicate whether he had reached a decision.

Lord Salisbury and party coming from the conservative club's banquet were received with great enthusiasm on entering the hall. Bouquets were presented to the premier and his party. After thanking the audience for the warm reception Lord Salisbury spoke on the political topics of the day.

Will Fight at Every Step.

I am not going to emulate the Gladstonian policy of trying to pass the home rule bill on the sly. In the improbable event that Mr. Gladstone will be victorious, we shall fight at every step to the house of commons and with the certainty that the battle will not be fruitless. Some persons said that the home

RIO SHELLS AS A GENTLE REMINDER.

For Fear the Dictator Would Forget the Navy Fired on the Town—One of Balmeada's Ministers Shot.

[Copyrighted 1891 by James Gordon Bennett.] RIO JANEIRO, Brazil (via Galveston, Tex.), Nov. 24.—[By Mexican Cable to the New York Herald—Special to The Bee.]—The city is still enthusiastic over the resignation of Dictator da Fonseca, and the succession to the presidency of Floriano Peixoto. Fonseca has no other alternative than to quit his office. He is very ill. He was allowed by his own fleet and troops just twenty-four hours in which to make up his mind. To quicken his decision the squadron fired on the city and partially destroyed a church in Calle Canadellaria. At 10 a. m. Fonseca had decided what to do. He promptly resigned and as I called you Peixoto stepped into his shoes.

Insurgents Will Disband.

Buenos Ayres, Argentine (via Galveston, Tex.), Nov. 24.—[By Mexican Cable to the New York Herald—Special to The Bee.]—The insurgents in the state of Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, under the command of General Osorio, were marching toward the south, with the intention of invading the adjoining state of Santa Catharina and thence upon Rio Janeiro, when the news of Fonseca's abdication reached Osorio. He had just arrived on the frontier of the two states. The river squadron, notwithstanding the orders from the revolvers, has maintained its neutrality.

The Red Above the Green.

After remarking that he believed the Irish archbishops were defying the pope, he dedicated the nation of the British in Ireland to their hands, and said: It will be only by rebellion that the Irish people can be free. It is not by the sword that the Irish people can be free. It is not by the sword that the Irish people can be free. It is not by the sword that the Irish people can be free.

REFUSED A CONTINUANCE.

Dr. Graves Will Have to Stand Trial for the Murder of Mrs. Barnaby.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 24.—The second division of the jury was called to the courtroom this morning when Judge Kising took his seat upon the bench to render his decision on the motion of Dr. T. Thacher Graves for a continuance of ninety days in the case where he is charged with poisoning Mrs. Josephine Barnaby of Providence. The court, in rendering its decision, reviewed the testimony of the witnesses and the conclusion said: "So I must come to the conclusion that upon the question of law and upon the question of fact the grounds of the motion have not been taken, and the motion must be denied."

SHOT WHILE ESCAPING.

One of Balmeada's Ministers Killed by a Pistol in the Antles.

[Copyrighted 1891 by James Gordon Bennett.] VALPARAISO, Chile (via Galveston, Tex.), Nov. 24.—[By Mexican Cable to the New York Herald—Special to The Bee.]—Francisco O. Concha, one of Balmeada's ministers of justice, was shot today by the government pickets in the Cordilleras pass, while he was endeavoring to escape into the Argentine Republic. Senior Concha applied to United States Minister Egan two weeks ago for an asylum in the American legation. His application was refused on the ground that the list of the refugees in the legation had been furnished to our government and Chile, and the minister did not feel justified in adding to the number of refugees under the American flag. Thereupon the unfortunate man made the attempt to escape from Chile, with the above result.

POUPLY MURDERED.

Assassins Bow the Top of an Old Man's Head off. REVERE, Ill., Nov. 24.—The body of David J. Atterbury was found late yesterday afternoon on the road near his home, five miles east of Moawana. The top of his head had been blown off with a shot gun. He was a well known farmer, about 70 years old, who had been in the neighborhood for many years. He was not quarreled with any one, and had no enemies. He was a widower with two grown children. The neighbors say he was preparing to marry a widow of the neighborhood and this had caused trouble in both families.

CHURCH AND STATE ARE NOT DIVORCED.

At Least the Former Cannot Criticize the Latter Ad Lib.—Death of Owen Meredith From Heart Failure.

[Copyrighted 1891 by James Gordon Bennett.] PARIS, Nov. 24.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to The Bee.]—A highly characteristic and able magistrate, Mgr. Gouthou-Souard, archbishop of Aix, came before the court of appeals in Paris on the charge of having written an insulting letter to M. Fallieres, minister of justice and public worship. The proceedings are characteristic, because they prove that, unfortunately, the religious struggle between the church and state, which was hitherto confined to the republicans, has not yet come to an end. A republican government, however, ought to know that such a conflict does not accord with the sentiment of France.

Indiana's Congressman Withdraws in Favor of Mills for Speaker.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 24.—Bynum of Indiana has come out in a card withdrawing from the speakership race. He says he does not know how the Indiana delegation will vote but says he will vote for Mills and urges all other members to do so because Mills represents their reform more prominently than any other congressman. In his card Bynum says: "I never pressed my candidacy and consented only to the use of my name until it became evident that the contest was narrowed down to between Mills and Crisp. In Indiana there are some men who represent all other reform more than Mills, and I am sure that they will vote for Mills. I am for myself, I shall heartily support Mills. While many of the candidates are strong reformers, none so prominently represent reform as Mills. He is known to the people as a prominent figure in the house on this question, and his defeat would in a great measure be accepted as an abandonment of the issue. The tariff is the issue upon which we must win in 1892 and there should be no concessions of wavering or halting in the critical period. Unless the party stands firmly and aggressively in favor of this issue, the farmers of the northwest, who gave us such sweeping victories in 1890, will be discouraged and may abandon hope of success through the organization of our party."

Mines to be Worked for the San Francisco Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 24.—Colonel Lucas and E. W. Worster, who have just returned from Nixa Island, Alaska, report that on the northwestern portion of this island, the principal one in the Shumagin group, about 90 miles west of Sitka, valuable coal mines are located. During the past year the mines were worked and extensive workings have been done. The mines are well developed, and are now satisfied that they have a good thing. Besides supplying the local demand, measures are on foot to place this coal in a large way on the San Francisco market. It is virtually inexhaustible in extent, and it is asserted that cargo lots can be delivered in San Francisco at $1 per ton. An analysis shows it to be somewhat superior to the coal of the South coast, and its calorific value, as are all Pacific coast coals, it carries a large percentage of moisture.
