

THE DAILY BEE.

Published Every Morning. Terms of Subscription: Daily (without Sunday) One Year, $8.00; Daily and Sunday, One Year, $10.00; Six Months, $5.00; Three Months, $2.50; Single Copy, 5 Cents.

Advertisements: First insertion, 10 cents per line; second insertion, 7 cents; third and subsequent insertions, 5 cents.

Business Letters: All business letters and remittances should be addressed to The Bee Publishing Company, Omaha, Nebraska.

The Bee Publishing Company, Proprietors, The Bee Building.

Sworn Statement of Circulation: For the week ending November 21, 1891.

Table with 2 columns: Date and Circulation. Rows for Monday through Saturday, showing circulation figures.

Average: 24,173. Sworn to before me and published in accordance with the provisions of Act of October 3, 1879.

It is no longer the fashion to go to Chicago to shop or to give eastern goods the preference.

NATIONAL CONVENTIONS and senatorial matters will never make sensible people believe that the government should go into the warehouse and grain commission business on the subsidiary plan.

When the national committee asked Thomas L. Kimball, president of the Union Depot company, about the passenger accommodations of the city.

UNLESS there be some very great change in the situation, the 1892 republican national convention will do its work within forty-eight hours.

The man who draws on the punctuation marks in spelling his name was not elected regent of the university.

EDISON'S phonograph will be a source of great comfort and instruction to the blind, when adapted especially for that work.

THE Irish land purchase act which the government supposed would put an end to the agitation in Ireland has not only failed in that purpose but has seriously stirred up the English tenant farmers.

GIVE Dr. Fouseca credit for self denying patriotism. He might have held his power by shedding a little Brazilian blood.

MINNEAPOLIS made a still hunt and succeeded. She did not depend upon her newspapers to educate public sentiment or wait until the date of the committee meeting to do her effective fighting.

JUDGE POST'S majority over Edgerton as shown by the official canvass at Lincoln is 4,136.

THE Civil Service commission is an organization with a stiff backbone. There are no cartilaginous tissues and no joints.

GENTLEMEN of Omaha, do not forget that THE BEE has repeatedly urged action looking to improved railway facilities opening to our trade Duluth, South Dakota, Montana and New Mexico.

THE BEE has been very eager to see some action taken to make Omaha the commercial center of the growing beet sugar industry.

THE BEE does not wish to see the residents on these topics, but it cannot permit indifference to any of them without solemn and frequent protest.

DISMISSING

The recurrence of Thanksgiving day brings the usual reflections and suggestions, but this year the return of the distinctively American holiday finds the people of this country with better reasons than for a number of years for thankfulness and gratitude.

OF NEW YORK appears to have grown recklessly desperate, and under its present leadership it threatens to become more dangerous to the interests and welfare of the country than the democracy of any other state in the union.

THE MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION. The Manufacturers and Consumers association of Nebraska is the organization which has grown out of the agitation in behalf of home patronage during the past few months.

PROSPECTIVE CHEER. Be still, and be patient, and cease repining. The dear old Congressional Record will soon be coming regularly again.

AN OBJECT LESSON. Fonseca's fate ought to be a striking object lesson to would be dictators in South America. May it ever be so with tyrants.

OBSCURE COMPARISONS. It is an unpleasant, but indisputable fact that the Jefferson Davis monument fund in the south is increasing much faster than the Grant monument fund in New York.

SOOTHING RUMOR. Instead of shooting each other full of holes in the good old southern way two Birmingham, Ala., editors have met and fought it out with their fists.

SENSATIONALISM AND SALVATION. The Salvation army announces its purpose of giving a dinner to 600 notorious London thieves, and Bramwell Booth, who is general in his father's absence, has petitioned the queen to permit the use of her name in connection with the affair.

THE SMUGGING OF CHINA MEN. The conviction of an American citizen in the United States circuit court before Judge Swan on Saturday for smuggling China men into this country, is the first instance of its kind in this district.

MCKELGHAN, COME TO TIME. People who reside in the old Second congressional district should apply for 2 percent farm loans to Hon. W. A. McKelghan.

A THANKSGIVING ERROR. The observance of a day of thanksgiving was not unusual in Europe over three centuries ago, and such a day was observed in Leyden, Holland, October 3, 1575.

THAT THE BEE HOPES THE Wyoming tank line proposition will not be allowed to die of inaction, and that THE BEE thinks this present winter should stimulate all the energies of every business organization in the city to prepare for a year of unexampled prosperity.

THE BEE does not wish to see the residents on these topics, but it cannot permit indifference to any of them without solemn and frequent protest.

ON THE VERGE OF REBELLION.

Democrats May Be Permanently Divided Over the Speakership. Mills Questions Crisp's Principles. Situation Growing Warm at Washington—Rumors of Combinations Between Leading Candidates—Capital City Gossip.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—The following army orders were issued today: Leave of absence for two months, to take effect on being relieved from duty at Columbus Barracks, O., December 1, 1891, is granted Captain Charles A. Williams.

MESSRS. MILLS, CRISP and McMillan have their headquarters here at the Metropolitan hotel. The friends of Mr. Mills make the biggest claims, placing his forces as high as 114.

MR. CRISP is a good deal nettled at an interview which Mr. McMillan has given saying: "If the democrats in the fifty-second congress nominate Charles F. Crisp for speaker I will certainly declare myself in favor of a tariff for protection."

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

ON THE VERGE OF REBELLION.

Democrats May Be Permanently Divided Over the Speakership. Mills Questions Crisp's Principles. Situation Growing Warm at Washington—Rumors of Combinations Between Leading Candidates—Capital City Gossip.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—The following army orders were issued today: Leave of absence for two months, to take effect on being relieved from duty at Columbus Barracks, O., December 1, 1891, is granted Captain Charles A. Williams.

MESSRS. MILLS, CRISP and McMillan have their headquarters here at the Metropolitan hotel. The friends of Mr. Mills make the biggest claims, placing his forces as high as 114.

MR. CRISP is a good deal nettled at an interview which Mr. McMillan has given saying: "If the democrats in the fifty-second congress nominate Charles F. Crisp for speaker I will certainly declare myself in favor of a tariff for protection."

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

ON THE VERGE OF REBELLION.

Democrats May Be Permanently Divided Over the Speakership. Mills Questions Crisp's Principles. Situation Growing Warm at Washington—Rumors of Combinations Between Leading Candidates—Capital City Gossip.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—The following army orders were issued today: Leave of absence for two months, to take effect on being relieved from duty at Columbus Barracks, O., December 1, 1891, is granted Captain Charles A. Williams.

MESSRS. MILLS, CRISP and McMillan have their headquarters here at the Metropolitan hotel. The friends of Mr. Mills make the biggest claims, placing his forces as high as 114.

MR. CRISP is a good deal nettled at an interview which Mr. McMillan has given saying: "If the democrats in the fifty-second congress nominate Charles F. Crisp for speaker I will certainly declare myself in favor of a tariff for protection."

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

ON THE VERGE OF REBELLION.

Democrats May Be Permanently Divided Over the Speakership. Mills Questions Crisp's Principles. Situation Growing Warm at Washington—Rumors of Combinations Between Leading Candidates—Capital City Gossip.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—The following army orders were issued today: Leave of absence for two months, to take effect on being relieved from duty at Columbus Barracks, O., December 1, 1891, is granted Captain Charles A. Williams.

MESSRS. MILLS, CRISP and McMillan have their headquarters here at the Metropolitan hotel. The friends of Mr. Mills make the biggest claims, placing his forces as high as 114.

MR. CRISP is a good deal nettled at an interview which Mr. McMillan has given saying: "If the democrats in the fifty-second congress nominate Charles F. Crisp for speaker I will certainly declare myself in favor of a tariff for protection."

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

ON THE VERGE OF REBELLION.

Democrats May Be Permanently Divided Over the Speakership. Mills Questions Crisp's Principles. Situation Growing Warm at Washington—Rumors of Combinations Between Leading Candidates—Capital City Gossip.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—The following army orders were issued today: Leave of absence for two months, to take effect on being relieved from duty at Columbus Barracks, O., December 1, 1891, is granted Captain Charles A. Williams.

MESSRS. MILLS, CRISP and McMillan have their headquarters here at the Metropolitan hotel. The friends of Mr. Mills make the biggest claims, placing his forces as high as 114.

MR. CRISP is a good deal nettled at an interview which Mr. McMillan has given saying: "If the democrats in the fifty-second congress nominate Charles F. Crisp for speaker I will certainly declare myself in favor of a tariff for protection."

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

MR. CLARKSON MEETS RIGHT. The Civil Service commission and the Post-office department have both, on the records, expressed their disapproval of the most intentional violation of the civil service law in its appointments.

ON THE VERGE OF REBELLION.

Democrats May Be Permanently Divided Over the Speakership. Mills Questions Crisp's Principles. Situation Growing Warm at Washington—Rumors of Combinations Between Leading Candidates—Capital City Gossip.

<