THE SPECULATIVE MARKETS.

Business Quite Light in All the Pits on the Board.

NEWS IN WHEAT GENERALLY BEARISH.

Rumors of an Immense Shortage in Russia's Crop Causes Something of a Rally—No Meeting Today.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 25.—Business was light in all of the pits on the Board of Trade today. Traders were inclined to even up their deals in view of the fact that tomorrow will be a holiday. The news affecting the price of wheat was generally bearish; cables were weak and lower; the accumulations in Great Britain showed a heavy increase during the past week in spite of a decrease in the shipments from Russia and England. Receipts at the leading points in this country were heavy, and the export clearances at the seaboard were only moderate. December opened at from 92¼c to 92¼c, against 92¼c at the close yesterday, and remained quiet and steady for a time, then, under a fair demand from shorts to realize profits, the market grew firm, and advanced to 92¾c. A report was then received that New York foreigners were freezers there, local longs were also found to be unloading and Ream, Cudahy, Kent and other bears were said to be putting out lines. These offerings broke the price to 92c. During the last hour, however, there was a rally to 92¾c, on the strength of a dispatch from New York, saying that a cablegram was published to the effect that Russia will have to import about 60,000,000 bu. of wheat to supply the wants of the nation, and that the minister of the interior had been dismissed by the czar for concealing the gravity of the situation so long and allowing so much wheat to be exported. While this report was not confirmed, it made traders nervous, and the close was nearly at the top, 92¾c.

The strength in November corn continued. There was very little to be had and the price was advanced from 69c to 70c, with very limited transactions. A reaction followed to 70c, and then another bulge, which carried the price to 70c, at which it closed. There were rumors that some of the largest shorts had effected private settlements at 72c, but the market did not show it. Year corn started at 47¾c, sold to 48¼c, broke to 46¾c, rallied to and closed at 47¼c. May was steady at from 42¾c to 43¼c.

Oats were quiet and steady throughout the session.

Hog products were inclined to weakness during the forenoon, but firmed up some during the last hour and closed with insignificant changes from yesterday's last figures. The early weakness was due to large receipts of hogs and firmness in grain.

The board will close tomorrow, Thanksgiving day.

Traders' Talk.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 25.—Counselman & Day to Cockrell Bros: Wheat was dull all day, opening weak on lower cables but recovering on sensational rumors regarding the extent of the Russian famine. Bradstreets' report showed but 2,815,000 bu. increase on both coasts whereas 3,500,000 bu. were expected. The present condition of the market is that shipping houses have the most confidence in prices while speculators as a rule are oversold. The situation to us looks uninviting for short sales. Corn was active, excited and higher on demand from shorts, and November sold at 75c. Late futures averaged firmer but closed unchanged. The short interest in November, December and year corn is still sufficient to warrant expectations of a future advance. Oats were very dull and only fluctuated ½c except for November, which sold up and closed ½c higher. Provisions were quiet and steady. The shipping demand was liberal, but there seems to be still a large amount of scattered holding of December pork and the fear of a break if this is held for liquidation until delivery causes buyers to hold off and the market is lifeless.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 25.—F. G. Lozan & Co., to Bryan Commission Co.: Wheat opened irregular. There is no special feature to it. Stocks increase and the demand is light for export. Until there is some improvement in the demand or largely decreased receipts we look for no upward movement in prices. We have had a good decline, and reactions on all weak spots will follow. Liquidation in the December option is now going on, and we expect to see the trade confined to May ere many days are over. We recommend getting out of the December option while it is active. The excitement in November corn continues. The provision market was influenced by the activity of grain, trade being light. Liquidation of December pork has been very small, local shorts taking about all that has been put on the market. Tomorrow being Thanksgiving day, we have no session.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 25.—Swartz, Dupee & McCormick to F. G. Swartz & Co.: The wheat market today was of a holiday character and business confined largely to the evening up of deals among room traders. Outside trade was small. Foreign advices are generally quite bearish. The amount put afloat the past week, considered to Europe, beats the record. The New York Staats Zeitung publishes a statement that the czar will discharge the minister of finance for deception regarding the extent of the shortage in the Russian crop, which it is believed will necessitate the import of 100,000,000 bushels to make good their deficiency. This report, however, has no confirmation, but served to cause a little firmness in prices at the close. There were rumors current during the day of a private settlement of a large outstanding short interest in November corn. Prices, however, were so well maintained up to the close that it would indicate that the report was premature. Oats were firm but dull. There was not much new in provisions. We may be too bearish, but can see nothing in the situation to buy on.

BOARD OF TRADE NOTES.

H. C. Miller called attention to the quotations being sent out from Chicago on No. 2 corn and remarked that the country was being rushed by them. There is very little corn in Nebraska good enough to grade No. 2 at Chicago.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The stock market today was intensely dull throughout, as is usual on the day preceding a holiday, and the active stocks fluctuated over a narrow range. There was no feature of any kind to relieve the monotony. On the whole the tone was not firm owing to some pressure to sell in the local trading element, even the foreigners were disposed to buy, and some covering of shorts was done preparatory to an expected upward movement after the holiday. The early dealings were rendered more animated by the execution of orders accumulated during the period of interrupted telegraphic communication, but these were not important and failed to make any marked improvement on the list.

The opening was firm and almost all the leading shares scored fractional gains in the first hour, but the coal stocks were laggards and later developed considerable weakness which had the effect of encouraging the pressure upon the rest of the list. The grangers showed some animation, but only in the forenoon, after which their prices were left at the opening figures. The only features of the day were some industrials and New York, Ontario & Western. The buying on the last named was quite marked and resulting in unusual activity with a sharp advance from 19¾ per cent to 20¾ per cent. On the other hand, distillers were especially weak, and fell away from 58¾ to 57¾, in which decline Chicago gas was inclined to sympathize. Cordage preferred, however, rose from 88 to 89¾. All these changes, however, were modified in the late trading, however, and no stock on the whole market scored a material change, all the losses or gains being for fractional amounts only. The afternoon was intensely dull, and the market finally closed generally at a decline from last night's figures.

Government bonds have been dull but firm. State bonds have been dull and steady.

Financial Review.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Post says: Today's stock market, in anticipation of the holiday, was devoid of interest or significance. A small demonstration of coal stocks during the first few minutes and the execution of some London orders furnished only a brief interruption to the dullness. It is worthy of comment, that the intelligent part of Wall street's community is looking towards the market for the next two months with more hopefulness than it has manifested since the early autumn. There are reasonable grounds for such expectation. We are now approaching the time when a number of the leading railroad companies must act upon their dividends, and the probable action of the remaining dividends by the directors of the Rock Island, the Missouri Pacific, the New York Central, Lake Shore and other lines will have supreme opportunity in regulating the investors' attitude and the consequent course of prices.

OMAHA LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OMAHA, Nov. 25.

Fresh receipts today were: 71 cars of cattle, 1,788 head; 141 cars of hogs, 9,393 head; 1 car of sheep, 105 head. So far this week receipts foot up 4,374 cattle, 22,653 hogs and 2,814 sheep, against 16,994 cattle, 24,075 hogs and 1,522 sheep for the corresponding three days last week.

CATTLE—Receipts were again light today making three light days in succession and only about a third the number received during the first three days of last week. Offerings were made up largely of inferior stock, but the demand was better than for several days, and the market consequently in much better shape. Prices were firm on beef steers in good flesh, but rather weak on anything not fat. Some common light stock sold at $2.50, while there were some 1,270-pound steers good enough to bring $4.55. A good string of fair westerns sold for $4.10, but offerings were rather meager in this line. It was a good, active, steady market throughout.

Dealers in cows and heifers sold at steady to strong prices, but medium and common grades were hardly as good as yesterday. The range, however, was unchanged. Inferior to good cows selling from $1.35 to $3.30; bulls, stags and oxen from $1.00 to $2.25, and calves from $1.50 to $4.50.

The stocker and feeder trade was very dull, the outside demand being extremely light, while regular dealers were doing practically nothing. Good 1,100 to 1,200 lb feeders are quotable at $3.75 to $3.90; fair to good from $3.30 to $3.50; common and stockers from $1.75 to $3.25. Representative sales:

Hogs—Although today's receipts were liberal they hardly came up to general expectations. With the exception of the top hogs, which were better than yesterday, the general quality of the offerings was unchanged. Buyers have had no ground for complaint on either the quantity or the quality of the hogs so far this week. The opening was slow at about steady prices, and while trading was not overly active at any time during the day prices in the main were about the same as yesterday. Two prime heavy loads sold at $4.85, but heavy hogs sold largely at $4.80 to $4.70, with light and mixed loads at $4.50 to $4.60. Some common stuff sold as low as $4.40. Trains kept coming in all morning, so that a considerable amount of trading had to be done after dinner. The close was rather slow and uneven, but in the main prices were not quotably different from the early market. The bulk of the trading was at from $4.50 to $4.65 with the average cost $4.50½, a fraction better than yesterday. Representative sales:
