No One to Blame. The coroner's jury continued its in quest yesterday morning over the body of W. H. Brightman, the motorman who was killed Saturday afternoon. After hearing the testimony of several new witnesses, and jury returned a verdict finding that the deceased came to his death accidentially, by falling from a motor train. No blame was attached either to the company or to any of its employes.

The remains will be taken to Creston this morning for burial. The motor company has furnished a special train to convey the friends of the dead man and the remains to the Burlington depot. The company is also bearing the entire expense of the funeral. The family of the deceased is in destitute circumstances, and yesterday afternoon the Odd Fellows at a special meeting called for the purpose of making arrangements for the burial took up a collection among themselves to assist the woman and ber five children. The collec tion amounted to about $18.

MISS KATE JAMES IN SERIOUS TROUBLE.

Suddenly Disappeared in England's Metropolis-Some Uncomplimentary Rumors-Her Crreer in This City Years Ago.

A telegram from London, England, reproduced in the Indicator, a musical weekly of Chicago, brings news of the disappearance of Miss Katherine Van Arnheim, who has been prime donna at the Convent Garden theater in London for some time past. Miss Van Arnheim is well known in this city as Miss Kate James, a daughter of Judge W. C. James. She lived here during the earner years of her life, and made quite a reputation as a singer. She went abroad and took an extended course of instruction, after which she mar-ried and settled down in Chicago, where she adopted the stage name given above. Sne was left quite a sum of money by a wealthy relative, which fact was chronicled in the papers far and wide at the time. While she was in Chicago she invented a face wash which she sold, and, at last accounts, was making even more money teaching the laules of the Windy City how to secure nice complexions than by her music. Her disappearance, according to the telegram, coused a large sized flutter of extelegram, coised a large sized futter of ex-citement in various quarters of Lon-don society. It is stated that she borrowed sums of money from a number of aristocrats whom she happened to be introduced to, and that when she left Lon-don these loans were still unpaid. The theory, as stated by the telegram, is that she departed in order to avoid her opportune creditors.

creditors. An effort was made to find Judge James, the father of the missing lady, vesterday afternoon, but he was not at his residence on Third avenue, and could not be found. Some of the friends of Miss Arnheim profess to think that the telegram is a fake, but whether it was intended for the purpose of njuring or advertising its victim they are at

Building Prospects for Next Yea : The prospects now are that during the next twelve months there will be one of the busiest seasons, so far as build. ing is concerned, that Council Bluffs ever known. Architect Voss of Omaha was in the city a day or two ago. looking over the ground in the southern part of the city, where the Anheuser-Busch Brew ng company has purchased a large tract of land, and will proceed at once to the erection of a large brewery. The land in question is located at the corner of Third street and Eleventh avenue. The plans for the plant have already been drawn, and it is stated that, the buildings when completed will cost not less than $75,000. The work of laying the foundation will most likely be commenced in the course of the next week

Dan Carrigg expects to commence work upon his new $15,000 warehouse at the corner of Main street and Thirteenth avenue today. The building will be three stories high, with a basement equivalent to another story, and will contain all modern improvements.

The Van Brunt Agricultural Implement

House has already been noticed in The Bee, and work on this will also be commenced in a short time. It will be four stories high and will cover a space 60x90 feet, just south of the present location of the Van Brunt wholesale house on Fourth street. The Shugard warehouse, and that to be built by E. Wickham have also been mentioned, one of the above buildings are campaign thunder, as the campaign is now over and thunder is out of style. A large amount of building was promised before election on condition of the repeal of the prohibitory law, but just how much the promises will a nount to remains to be seen. That the above buildings will be built, however, is certain. The combined cost of the whole will be not far from $80,0,000.

Just look at that group next the railing—their backs to the ring and gazing languidly at the boxes. Notice their little bob tailed dress coats, their chicken breasts, the big flowers in their button holes, their expressionless faces and their general air of inanimation and idiocy. They walk as though it required an effort; they never smile; they shake hands as though it hurt them, and there is an air of feeble insolence about them that is disgusting. DR. HALL'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Divine by a Lunatic. New York, Nov. 29.-As Dr. John Hall pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, was passing from the church to the parsonage adjoining, just after the close of the morning service, today, a man named John G. Rath, a German, 45 years old stepped from behind a wagon on the opposite side of the avenue and fired three snots in quick succession at the reverend gentleman as he was ascending the steps of his rest gence. The first shot struck the stone stoop of the doctor's house, the second perforated one of the glass panels of the front door, and

The shooter cooliy put the pistol, a five-chambered revolver of the pattern known as "The Young America," in his pocket, while Mr. A. R. Dick, a member of Dr. Hall's church, and the sexton jumped upon him and held him until the arrival of an officer. He made no resistance whatever, and was led away to the station house and locked up. Snortly afterward Dr. Hall went to the police station and preferred a complaint against the prisoner. Rath is a heavy, well built man, with whiskers and mustache, well dressed and has the appearance of a well-to-do business man. He gave his business as that of a real estate

A great crowd was present when the shoot-ing occurred and for a while the most in-tense excitement prevailed. About fifty people followed the officer to the station and saw that the prisoner was safely landed behind the bars. It was an eminently respectable crowd, composed mostly of caurch-going people, many of whom were members of Dr. Hall's church; hence there was no riot, at tempt at rescue nor threats of lynching.

The prisoner was evidently not in his right mind. He muttered about a conspiracy which he imagined existed against him Papers found on his person showed the bias of his imaginings. There were two of these documents, one in manuscrio and the other printed, but both were substantially the same. The printed paper wa more circumstantial in the history of the alleged conspiracy to drive the writer to suicide or crime. It stated that agents, in the hands of wealthy and influential people, were doing all in their power to prevent him from rising in business; were watching all his steps and making it impossible for him to obtain justice. His tormentors, too, he said, mixed his food with obnoxion, stuff, thereby causing him intense distress. The conspir ncy, the statement says, was mangurated in 1889, and has no equal in human history. The statement goes on in this sort of style at great length, all of which shows that the author was a man of unbalanced mind. The document intimates that Dr. Hall, Dr. Potter and Judge Hilton were the chief conspirators. Mrs. A. T. Stewart was intimated as a good friend of his. The prisoner stated after his arrest that Dr. Hall was chief among those con-spiring to do him bodily and mental harm.

This was given in explanation of his actions. Inquiry at the address given discovered a cheap restaurant and lodging house. Andrew Greener is the proprietor. It is located in the tenement house quarter of the city, and is patronized by a transient class of very poor people, mostly foreigners. The land-lord said that Rath had occupied a room there for about four months; had been in this county twenty years and nad acquired a fair knowledge of the English language. Greener also said that Rath had language. Greener also said that Rath had lately been employed in an incubating establishment in Brooklyn. He had noticed certain peculiarities in Rath's conduct which seemed to indicate that he was mentally unbalanced. He often paced his room at night and talked incoherently. Still he had not thought he was a dangerous man. not thought he was a dangerous man.

Dr. Hall was seen at his home shortly after the shooting. He manifested no apparent nervousness in consequence of hi narrow escape, but he declined positively to converse upon the topic. He admitted that he had known Rath for some time and had received letters from him, but ne declined to say what was the nature of the matter written to him, or whether it was replied to. It is not known whether any threats have been thus conveyed or not.

The prisoner was very reticent and though outwardly calm seemed to be laboring under suppressed excitement. He paced nervously up and down his cell and paid little attention to his surroundings. The police declined to permit the reporters to talk with the prisoner. He will be arraigned in the Yorkville police court tomorrow morning.

Set Aside the Deed. For five days the case of Mary E. Miller, Lizzio Rogerson, John Morris, Maggie Stangelman and Mike Morris against William and Mary Hoy has been on trial before Judge Doane. The suit was brought to gain possession of property of the value of $20,000 n and near Florence. The facts are about these: November 6, 1890, John Manning, an old man of considerable means, died. Shortly after his death a deed conveying all of his property to the Hoys was filed for record. The plaintiffs to the suit, grandchildren of the old man, brought suit, alleging that the grantor was not in his right mind when he conveyed the property and that to secure the transfer the defendants brought great influ-ence to bear upon their grandfather. Yesterday the case was submitted and five minutes later the jury returned a verdict that the deed was fraudulent and that John Manning was insaneat the time that he executed the Snobbery Par Excellence. The most expensive (and snobbish) dinner ever given in New York was ordered for 100 guests by the Bradley-Martins who are about to return for the season. It was just before they left New For each guest there was a special tureen of terrapin, a dozen canvas-back ducks, a southdown sheep, 100 assorted orchids and a gallon mould of Nesselrode pudding. Everything else was supplied with the same lavishness, a case of champagne being placed beside each chair and three waiters, all speaking different languages, attending every individual present. Since the date of this dinner the Bradley-Martins have of course had time to learn a good deal and it is probable they will do nothing as avish (and as exquisitely ridiculous) this year.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

HIs de Cougr gational. Our society is keeping up, although we have difficulties to surmount. The average attendance of visitors at our moetings is about twenty, and we hope to accomplish some good work among those who are not members of our society or church. At the writing of this report we cannot give an ac-count of the business meeting held at the home of one of our members, and at which the report of our delegates to the state con-

Three Shots Fired at the Eminent vention was read. We are praying that the spirit of indifference apparently existing in our society may be removed.

Not long since Miss Edna Hampton, chairman of our missionary committee and a very earnest Christian, left the city for her boule in the western part of the state. The social given Tuesday evening was well attended and enjoyed by all.

Our society was pleased to know that we had secured the banner, through having the largest average attendance during the past month. The percentage was 85.

Anniversary Last Night.

The Young People's Seciety of Christian Endeavor of the Christian church celebrated the fourth anniversary of the organization f the society last night. The program consisted of Scripture reading by the pastor, Rev. J. T. Cramblett, the singing of Gospel by mns and the delivery of short addresses by W. W. Slabaugh, N. H. Jones, E. F. Pickering and other leading workers, Mr. W. W. Slabaugh was the first presi-dent of the society. The organization had about thirty members at first and has increased to almost eighty. It is one of the most aggressive Endeavor societies in Omaha and is moving right forward in Christian work. Mr. E. F. Pickering is president and F. E. Durbin is secretary. The society is one of the most potent factors in the First Christian charge. in the First Christian church.

The attendance at our meetings is increas-Ing and we hope to do good work this winter. One week ago there were thirty-five strangers at our meeting and the average atendance of strangers is about twenty-five. Our society will give a medley social on Tuesday evening, December 1, in the church pariors. This is not only for the members of our own society, but we most cordially invite members of other societies and their friends. We will promise you a good time and hope to have a large attendance.

SEQUEL TO A KILLING.

Pursued and Pursuers Collide in the Dark With Serious Results. Marshal, Tex., Nov. 29.—Particulars were received today of the killing of W. R. Harvey in Harrison county last night. Harvey was shot and instantly killed at his gate by Leather Matthews. A posse at once started in pursuit of Leather and John Matthews. In the dark Eli Roseburrough and Harry Saunders ran into the two Matthews going at full speed. All were thrown down and Saunders' skull was cut open, killing him almost lastantly. One of Roseburrough's ankles was sprained. Leather Matthews was badly hurt about the head, one eye almost knocked out and one ler broken. John Matthews' left leg was badly broken. One leg of John Matthews' horse was broken in two places. Rose-burrough's horse was badly injured.

The Matthews were jailed and are doing well tonight. They claim the killing was done because Harvey had seduced their sis-Harvey was 28 years old and was ma ried

That Smead Contract. OMAHA, Nov. 27 .- To the Elitor of THE BEE: In an editorial in Wednesday evening's BEE, you have graciously accorded space in your column to "any member of the Board of Education to explain why he is anxious to place a $1,200 heating apparatus in a cheap four-room building, where only half the room is required, and where he expects the plant will be useless in three years, on account of the building being too small." As no member of the board believes that to be a statement of facts, there is nothing to answer. However, if you will accord me thespace. I will say that the building referred to is not a temporary one, but is inended to be as permanent as any frame building can be made, and in case the building is too small in three years, an addition of two or lour rooms can be built that will not detract from the symmetry of the building. Why should not the board then place in ventilaton that can be devised! Too many of our school buildings are without adequate means of ventilation, and yet our neating apparatus has cost from $200 to $400 pc Evey member of the Board of Education is willing and anxious to accept whatever sys-tem is best for the welfare and health of the school. We do not claim that there is any perfect system of heating and ventilation, but the evidence of the experience of such cities as Toronto, Toledo, Columbus, Alleghany, Kansas, City, Denver, and many others cannot be ignored, and the member of the Board of Education, who after careful investigation fails to advocate the best system of heating and ventilating our school buildings has not done his whole duty. I would not for a moment argue with an intelligent man the problem of heating permanent school buildings with stoves. Respectfully,
