"Black Pearl" Manages to Get a Beautiful Licking in San Francisco.

"BOSTON BENNY" DOES THE LITTLE JOB.

Hot Fight of Twenty-Five Rounds Enjoyed by the California Athlette Club-The Pearl Weakened at the End.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 30. - Harris Martin, "The Black Pearl," of Minneapotis, and Ed Phinney, better known as "Benny," of Boston, colored middleweights, fought to a finish at the California athletic cluotonight for a purse of $1,500. The men slugged at close quarters in the first three rounds, the Pearl securing two knock downs in the first, one proving nearly a knock out. Benny retailated, however, by knocking the Pearl down in the second round. Benny missed numberless. openings which the Pearl carclessly left in his rushes, but because of his superior height and reaches and his good hitting power, he seemed disposed to make a slow fight. The Pearl on the other hand tried to maish Benny with his right, but the end of the thirteenth round found honors about even. At the close of the twenty-second round Benny sent the Pearl to the ropes, dazed, with the left in the mouth, and punished him in the succeeding round until the Pearl was groggy and reel-

SPEAKERSHIP CONCEST.

Candidates for the Honor Now in Weshington at Work.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 30 .- From consultations now taking place rmong represent atives, interesting developments in the speakership contest may result any day between this and Saturday. All five of the avowed candidates are now in Washington. Hatch of Missouri and his principal workers arrived today, and have taken headquarters at Willard's.

Crisp and Mills are each very sanguine of winning and each express the belief that the contest will be short, sharp and decisive. Springer, McMillan and Hatch express them-selves as of the opinion that the vote will be f considerable duration.

Representative Hatch and party did not arrive until late this afternoon, as the train on which they traveled was detained by a wreck. Governor Francis and a large delegation from Missouri are expected here Wednesday to aid Mr. Hatch. The headquarters of the various candidates were crowded with their friends until late in the evening. There were no new developments so far as is known, and the battle is still between the five avewed cap-didates. There is as yet no talk of any withdrawals from the race. Each candidate, according to the statements of his friends, is in the contest to stay to the end.

There was some little talk tonight, but a very little indeed, of a probable dark horse in the event of a protracted struggle.

At Mr. Crisp's headquarters his friends said they had received assurances from sev-veral new arrivals that they would vote for their candidate. This, they say, is a material gain for Mr. Crisp since yesterday.

Mr. Mills received a telegram today from Representative Caminetti of California saying that his vote will be cast for Mr. Mills. It is expected that there will be about 230 democrats who will go into the caucus on Saturday. The candidates themselves are not expected to vote, which will reduce the number actually participating in the ballots to 225. One hundred and thirteen votes will therefore be necessary to secure the nomina

Railroad Laborers Narrowly Avoid a Collision in South Dakota.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Nov. 30 .- [Special Telegram to THE HEE. |-There is a war on between the B. & M. and the Fre-Elkhorn & Missouri Valley railroads over the right of way through a narrow pass at the head of Nevada through a narrow pass at the head of Nevada gulch in Baid Mountain mining district where both roads are now grading for spurs and extensions of their systems. The Burlington purchased the right of way from owners of the mining claims. Phe Elkhorn was unable to agree upon a price with them, and Friday and Saturday rushed in a large force, of graders intending to get possession of the ground, build a grade acress it on Sunday and pay what damages a jury might award after the matter has been determined in the courts, the company having begun proceedings to condemn. The Burlington discovered the intentions of its rival and had a gang of mea at work to bold the pass at daylight Sunday morning.

The Elkhorn men were also on hand, the grade of the latter being only three fect above that of the former. A number of wordy outles took place during the day and so warlike in aspect did affairs become that the sheriff took a posse from Deadwood and went up at 8 o'clock at night to preserve the peace. Both forces worked all night, armed deputy sheriffs standing about to prevent collision. This morning the Burlington served an injunction on the Elkhorn and the latter has been compelled to withdraw from the ground until the case is heard on Satur day next.

FREE DELIVERY SYSTEM.

Report of the Superintendent of That Department of the Postoffice.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 30.-W. J. Pollock, the superintendent of the free delivery system of the Postoffice department, has made to First Assistant Postmaster General Whitfield his report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1891. It shows that the number of free delivery offices in operation at the close of the year was 519, an increase sixty-five over the preceding year. The cost of this service was $9,072,060, which is $22,424 less than the appropriation for that purpose. The number of carriers employed on June 30 was 10,130, which is an increase of 1,064 during the year. The local postage for the year amounts to $11,174,754. The number of pieces of mail handled was 3,606,354,820.

Considerable attention is given in the report to the subject of overtime claims of let ter cariers, under the act of March 24, 1888, limiting the number of hours carriers be employed per day. So many important questions relating to the construction of this act have arisen in attempt-ing to adjust overtime claims that It has been deemed best, in the interest of the service, and also as an act of justice to the carriers, to await a construction of the law by a court having competent jurisdiction. The report then goes on to say: "In view, however, of the tendency of the law to create these overtime claims and the certainty judging from past experience, that they will arise as long as the existing system continues, and with the further unfortunate experience that the government offers a premium on loitering and Inefficiency, afford ing no incentive for active and efficient work, it is respectfully suggested a modification of the existing law be made that shall provide a just recompense to faithful and de-serving carriers now in the service. It would tend to enlist some of our ablest and best young men and stimulate the carriers to earnest effort in this branch of the public

GOVERNMENT CONTROL.

Problem of Transportation and Communication Discussed at Length. About 100 men attended the regular weekly meeting of the Current Topic club ast night in the Young Men's Chritian association lecture room. Dr. Duryea presided. The subject for discussion was the practicability of government control of all lines of transportation and com munication, including railroads, telegraph telephone and express systems of public ser

The discussion was opened by Mr. W. W. Slabaugh. He took the affirmative side of the question, and presented some very cogent arguments in favor of government ownership f these public conveniences.

Mr. V. O. Strickler also spoke upon the affirmative side of the question, and presented some good points. Mr. S. H. Rush, Mr. Shehan and Dr. Chase were the leading speakers upon the negative side of the question. They threw out some stunning problems to be solved by the advocates of the government ownership of railways and telegraph lines. Dr. Chase wanted to know how the government would get hold of the railways and what if would do with them after it had gained absolute control. He thought if the govern ment should be as slow in extending needed ines of railroad as it was in erecting public buildings, taking the Omaha postoffice as an example, that the people would soon become disgusted with government ownership of

Dr. Towne made a point for the affirmative by suggesting that the people of Omaha would be likely to see a new postoffice building completed at about the same time as the new union depot. This was greeted by ap-plause from the affirmative side of the house Mr. Thomas, Mr. Zimmerman and others spoke and then Dr. Duryea summed up and polished off the arguments in a very interesting talk of five minutes. He suggested many difficulties that lay in the way of government control of transports tion and communication systems, and then suggested that the subject be neld open for another week's discussion.

This was agreed upon, and the committee on program selected Mr. W. H. Reynolds for the affirmative and Dr. Chase for the nega-tive, to lead in the discussion next Monday cized-Other Proceedings. BERLIN, Nov. 30 .- The debate on the budget continued in the reichstag tolay. Herr Puine, a leading member of the center party, urged the government to modify the workmen's pension bill which, he said, has been unfavorably received. Herr Puine added that, although he believed in strict economy in the finances, yet he supported the estimates for the army. He maintained that customs dues must be apheld. He did not believe that a reduction in the corn duties would bring lower prices to the con-sumer. In conclusion Herr Puine declared that the center party would support the government on any question which involved the dignity and prestige of the empire.

Herr Kosielski attacked the government forces on their Germanizing policy in Poland He declared that this policy was a sign of weakness. Chancellor von Caprivi replied to Her Kosielski. He declared that Posen owed everything to the Hohenzollerus. He denied the charge that the government was neglecting Poland's commercial interests.

Herr Richter criticized the publication of imperial rescripts without a minister's coupimperial rescripts without a initister's coun-ter signature, and especially the one relating to public morals. The ministers, he said, were to blame for not performing their duty. Herr Richter declared that his party would never rest until all the taxes on the neces-saries of life were abolished. It ill becomes the government, he said, to talk of stopping bourse speculation while it permitted state lotteries and race course betting. Chancellor von Caprivi, in his reply, said that the constitution did not require minis-ters to countersign acts of the sovereign giv-ing expression to his wishes. The publication of such acts in the Reichszanzeiger was merely intended to record their terms. As to Herr Richter's attacks on Prince Bis-marck, he (Caprivi) made it a point never to read anything likely to after his feeling of veneration for his predecessor.

Cyrus Field's Fortune Too Small to Wipe Out Edward's Liabilities.

VERY LITTLE LEFT FOR CREDITORS.

Field, Lindley & Company's Failur. More Complete Than at First Reported-Efforts to Save Field's Good Name.!

New York, Nov. 30.-The World this morning prints: A family conference was held on Saturday and yesterday at the home of Cyrus W. Field, No. 123 East Twenty irst street. Those who took part in it were Cyrus W. Field, his brothers, David Dudley and Stephen J. Field; George DeForest Lord, of the firm of Lord, Day & Lord, Cyrus W. Field's counsel, and a representative of Drexel, Morgan & Co. J. Pierrepont Morgan was called in, because ever since he interposed to save Cyrus W. Field in the Manhattan elevated road deal, he has taken an active interest in Mr. Field's financial affairs.

The conference was held to decide what course should be taken by Cyrus W. Field regarding Edward M. Field. The situation. in brief, was found to be this: Edward M. Field's liabilities, arising from the peculiar conduct of his business, which is such as to give rise to intimations of detaleation and forgery, amount to millions. To satisfy the tuins of his creditors would require Cyrus W. Field's fortune and considerable more, The question which the conference had to decide was whether Cyrus W. Field should sacrifice his entire fortune, for the purpose, The family honor was at stake, pride shrank from the prospect of the public disgrace of a Field. It was urged that an unstained name should be saved. There had been enough talk. The breath of scandal had siready touched Edward M. Field's fair name. Could not all this be stopped, and a fortune once great be pledged for sweet onor's sake!

When the desperate situation had been ully discussed on all sides, it was finally deided, in view of the fact that even if Cyrus W. Field should sacrifice his entire fortune, e would not be able to meet the liabilities of his son, that he should not make the sacrifice.

Mr. Dillon was asked if he had heard that Cyrus W. Field might come to the rescue of his son. Mr. Dillon looked very grave as he

"I don't know what the amount of Mr Field's fortune is, but it would indeed be well could he use part of it to help his son in the present unhappy circumstances."
The condition of Cyrus W. Field, accordng to Dr. Fuller, his physician, showed no naterial change. Dr. Fuller said that Mr. material change. Or, Fuller said that Mr, Field required absolute rest and quiet. None of the numerous sympathizers who called during the day was permitted to visit the

There was no material change in the aspect of affairs in the office of the suspended firm this morning. Assignee Gould said he knew nothing of the truth or falsity of the pub-lished reports of alleged crooked transactions by Field. The statement that he had given inv such information to a reporter, as was stated, was untrue. He was trying to get a the facts, but as yet had learned but little. He had sought in vain for the assets, but was unable to get even enough to pay the clerks. There is no bank account whatever, and only a faint nope remains with him that there might be some call loans belonging to the firm upon which he might be able to realize something to defray the necessary expenses. A report was published that a warrant for the arrest of E. M. Fields had been placed in the hands of Inspector Byrnes and that he had detectives watching Field's house.

The inspector today positively denied that here was any truth in either of these state A number of innocent holders of Union Pacific stock disposed of by the firm held a meeting this morning and drafted a petition to the committee on securities of the exchange requesting them to rescind their action making the stock non-deliverable. The interests of the Union Pacific have been placed in the nands of A. H. Holmes. Holmes realized it would be impossible for the Union Pacific to regain possession of the bonds that had fallen into the hands of innovent holders. and requested the committee on securities to release such bonds from their order of Satur-day. Upon his request it was done and the stock can now be handled on the exchange.

there still remains a goodly number of bonds the ownership of which is likely to have to be settled in the courts.

This afternoon it was said that a careful estimate of the net loss which will probably result from the failure of Messrs, Field Lindley, Weischers & Co. is about $800,000 of which $400,000 will probably fall on the Union Pacific and the balance scattering. As an offset to this loss there is the investment which the firm had made in the Cuban sugar refinrries, which is estimated at $300,000. Whatever is realized from this asset will lessen the loss first mentioned. The announcement that the Union Pacific company is ready to take up the bonds from the present holders created a much better feeling in Wall street. Frank J. Sprague obtained from Judge Lawrence of the supreme court a temporary injunction restraining Field, Lindley, injunction restraining Field, Lindley, Weischers & Co. E. A. Hussy and others.

from disposing of certain stock of the Edison General Electric Light company, pending a suit for its recovery.

The action of the Stock exchange in stop ping the delivery of Union Pacific bonds was severely criticized in Wall street, and many seemed to think a bad precedent had been established. Mr. E.y. the scoretary, tried to make it plain to the kickers that the best thing had been done. By the action of the Stock exchange a speedy adjustment was effected, whereas if the bonds had gone on changing hands, lawsuits would have been the result and the bonds would have become so scantered that it would have been difficult to have found them.

It was rumored that Lindley would be disciplined or expelled from the exchange for selling the bonds on the floor, but the presi-dent says no such action could be taken without format complaint, and none had been Assignee Gould admits that there has been assigned could admits that there has been crooked transactions, but attributes it all to Mr. Field, and says he is confident that his partners knew nothing of it. He says that Mr. Lindley could have handled all these bonds on the Stock exchange without knowing their his-tory. Mr. Linuley, on account of the serious illness of his wife, who is now at the point of death, went directly to the Stock exchange weeks at a time. Mr. Gould says that he has found only $500 assets, and there may be $20,000 available, which will be used in paying the clorks their salaries. He depied having had a conference with Cyrus W. Fled with reference to belping his son, but thought he would naturally come to his aid.

R. E. Dietz claims that the defunct firm has $95,000 worth of stock belonging to his company. They asked the judge through their counsel that bail in the case be fixed at $100,000. Judge Pratt thought the amount excessive and decided that bail on their arrest should be $30,000 each. The order of the content of the case arrest was given to Sheriff Gorman of this city and will be executed tomorrow.

This week we arouse the alert bargain hunter and startle drowsy competition by inaugurating our season's HOUSE-CLEARING IN MID-SEASON. As the season advances every clothing dealer finds his lots broken, that is, all sizes, all cuts and all colors of a certain cloth are not in the lot. We may have your size in a sack suit but not in a cutaway in the same cloth or vice versa. Our very heavy season's trade has broken some of our lots a couple of months earlier than usual. Hence this

On the three floors where our separate departments are situated we have placed the "Odd Lots" on separate tables and marked them so as to clear off the tables this week. The goods can't possibly last out this week. Your selection should be made early. WE NEVER HAVE ADVERTISED A FAKE SALE. Our record is in your recollection, and our pride is to maintain that record.

Southwest Corner 18th and Douglas.

FIRST FLOOR-

On the front tables we have placed all the broken lots of Men's Suits. If you can find your size in the cloth and cut that suits you, you can save about one quarter of the former extremely low price of the suit.

On another table we place all our odd suit pants and broken lots. The prices were from $2.50 to $0. We make them about one fourth less. THIRD FLOOR-

MEN'S OVERCOATS.

The broken lots in our overcoat department have also been separated from he regular lots. The sizes run from 33 to 50 and all the different styles are there [except ulsters]. They are in moltons, kerseys and chinchillas THERE IS NO JUGGLING

With figures but a straight mark down from our former very low prices. There are among these about forty fur trimmed overcoats that the fur on them alone is worth the price we ask for the garment.

SECOND FLOOR-CHILDREN'S DEP'T.

The marking down has been done in the same manner on the broken lots and odd garments among our boys' and children's garments. There are only a few of each kind so they must be taken advantage of early.
