

THEY COULDN'T AGREE

Adjournment of the Democratic Caucus Without Making a Choice.

SIXTEEN TIMES THE FAITHFUL VOTED.

Georgia and Texas Lead the Field by a Long Distance.

FRIENDS OF THE LEADERS SANGUINE.

Iowa's and Part of Illinois' Delegation Go to Mills.

FAITH OF THE REPUBLICAN MINORITY.

Ex-Speaker Reed Renominated and Other Ex-Members of the House—How the Democrats Voted in Their Caucus.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5.—The most remarkable contest in the opinion of old and experienced congressmen, for the speakership of the house of representatives that has taken place for many years, has reached its last day and the final struggle is now on in the democratic caucus.

The hall of the house began to fill up after 1 o'clock, though more than half the members present did not possess the voting privilege. The several candidates had taken up headquarters in the committee rooms across the corridor from the hall. The Illinois delegation held an informal meeting this morning and once again decided to stand by Springer.

Nearly all the delegations of states with candidates for the speakership held secret caucuses at the capitol shortly after noon to prepare for the last final struggle. Only in the meeting of the Illinois delegation was any general interest manifested, as hopes were still entertained by all the other candidates that Springer's forces would go down to pieces on the first ballot. The meeting of the delegation, however, failed to give them any great grounds for this hope. It was simply agreed that General Newberry should present Springer's name to the caucus and no action was taken beyond the Illinois congressmen to Springer under the unit rule.

The failure of the Illinois friends of Mills to openly desert Springer was due to the action of the Michigan delegation. Whittom of Michigan waited upon Messrs. Forman, Fithian and Wike of the Illinois delegation and announced that the Michigan delegation had decided to give its entire support to Springer upon the first ballot, but that if any Illinois men deserted to Mills upon the first ballot, the Michigan delegation would vote solidly for Crisp and endeavor to effect his election. This same announcement was made to Hayes and the other Springer men of the Iowa delegation, who were understood to be ready to go to Mills upon the first ballot.

The caucus was called to order at 2 p. m. by Congressman Holman.

The first trouble in the caucus came with a question as to how the voting should proceed—by secret or open ballot. The question was referred to the committee on rules, consisting of one member named by each candidate. The committee recommended an open ballot, which report was submitted to the caucus and adopted.

The roll call showed the presence of all the democratic members except seven. As stated by Chairman Holman, 217 representatives were present, a majority of whom would be 114.

Table with columns: Name, Votes, and other details for the caucus results.

After the sixteenth ballot was taken a motion to adjourn until 10 o'clock Monday morning was put and carried.

Holman of Indiana voted for Springer, and O'Neill of Massachusetts voted for his colleague, Stevens, on the first ballot.

There was a break in the Illinois delegation on the first ballot, Fithian, Forman and Lano voting for Mills.

Iowa's delegation also voted solidly for Mills instead of Springer.

The first break in Hatch's column was on the second ballot, when W. C. Williams of Kansas, who transferred his vote to Crisp.

SMALL BUT HOPEFUL. Republican Members Renominated Reed for Speaker.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5.—The republican members of the house met this evening in the room of the committee on judiciary. There was a small attendance, but it was an enthusiastic one when ex-Speaker Reed entered the chamber. His colleagues greeted him with every manifestation of admiration and heartiness.

When a quorum was present the caucus was called to order by Mr. Henderson of Illinois, Mr. Daize of Pennsylvania acting as secretary.

Nominations for the speakership were immediately made, and Mr. Burrows of Michigan, in presenting the name of Mr. Reed, said in substance: "Although the republican majority of the house of representatives was reversed by the election of 1890, it is gratifying to know that the republican party of the country shows no signs of retreating from the advanced position which it took and maintained during the last congress, and I venture to predict that the time is near at hand when the work of the Fifty-first congress will meet the endorsement and approval of the American people. That congress reformed the tariff in the interest of protection to American industries and labor. It increased the currency by the full volume of our silver without the coinage of the depreciated dollar. It gave free measure to the survivors of the war for the union of the country. It prosecuted the work of rehabilitating the navy and strengthening the coast defenses. It entered upon the work of building up the merchant marine. It passed a measure which had been enacted into a law, would have given every voter of the republic the opportunity of casting his ballot and having that ballot honestly counted. I hazard nothing in saying that the legislation of the Fifty-first congress has been excelled by no congress since the close of the war. There was no instrument more potent in accomplishing these great results than the speaker of the house. Brushing away senseless precedents of a hundred years by which a factious minority resisted, and sometimes controlled, the legislation of congress, with matchless ability and courage he paved the way for the triumph in the history of the great republic which has been achieved by his great personal services and of his fidelity to the republican party. I place in nomination the name of Thomas B. Reed for the speakership of the Fifty-second congress."

The nomination was agreed to by acclamation and Mr. Reed made a brief speech in recognition of the honor. The republican party, he said, was suffering from a temporary setback only for this congress and would resume its place in the affections of the people.

The minor officers who served during the last congress were renominated without opposition and the caucus adjourned.

RECENT ARMY ORDERS. Changes of Interest in the Regular Service Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The following army orders were issued today:

An army retiring board is appointed to meet from time to time at the call of the president thereof at Vancouver, British Columbia, for the examination of such officers as may be ordered before it. Detail for the board: Brigadier General August V. Knaut, Lieutenant Colonel Hugh R. Thomas, Major Thomas Ward, assistant adjutant general, Captain Marcus E. Taylor, assistant surgeon, First Lieutenant Thomas N. Raynor, assistant Quartermaster, Middleton, surgeon, Department of the Columbia, will detail a recorder for the board. Leave of absence for two months, to take effect January 1, 1892, is granted to Captain Ridge agency, S. D., is granted Captain C. G. Penny, Sixth Infantry. Second Lieutenant Charles S. Coffey, Fifth Infantry, now under instruction at Leavenworth, Kan., will, upon being relieved from duty under such instruction December 15, 1891, report to the commanding officer, company A, Fifth Infantry, at that post for duty and will remain attached to that company until further orders. Major James M. Middleton, surgeon, Fifth Infantry, will report in person to Brigadier General August V. Knaut, president of the board, at the headquarters of the board, Vancouver barracks, Wash., for examination by the board.

The following named officers having been found by a retiring board incompetent for active service on account of disability incident to the service are, by direction of the president, retired from active service this date: Major Passmore Middleton, surgeon, Captain Francis M. Gibson, Seventh Cavalry, Major James W. Seely, Quartermaster, will, upon being relieved from duty at the headquarters at Port Hudson, La., on public business connected with the quartermaster's department and upon the completion of the same, will report to his superior. The following changes in the stations and duties of officers of the corps of engineers are ordered: Captain Edward Maguire will be relieved from duty at Fort Snelling, Minn., and will be discharged. Reporting by letter to the secretary of the treasury for duty as engineer of the Fourth Cavalry, and relieving Captain Frederick A. Main of that duty. Captain Main, upon being relieved from duty at Philadelphia, Pa., will report to the secretary of the treasury for duty as engineer of the light-house board and relieving Captain Frederick A. Main of that duty. Captain Main, upon being relieved from duty at Philadelphia, Pa., will report to the secretary of the treasury for duty as engineer of the light-house board and relieving Captain Frederick A. Main of that duty.

WESTERN PENSIONERS. WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The following list of pensions granted is reported by THE BEE and Examiner Bureau of Claims:

Nebraska: Original—Rolandus Romine, David Groff, James Crook, Henry Faust, Jens Anderson, William H. Bettinger, Charles K. Hartman, Enoch G. Crumrine, James O. Robb, Original—William J. Evans, Original—John W. James, Edward J. Weatherly, James H. Blakesley, Charles H. Nichols, Harry Wandell, Bradley L. Primo, Joseph W. Calloway, Daniel S. Tietz, Robert C. Carpenter, Bradford H. Hollister, Additional—Alford M. Parson, Increase—James R. Gilmore, Original widows, etc.—Iowa: Original—Nye Hopkins, Andrew J. Patrick, George D. Young, Christian J. Gaudin, Elmer H. Gordon, Elmer H. Herick, Ralph A. Knight, Wilson Williams, Robert Henry, Stephen A. Albrow, James W. Thompson, George L. Everstone, John Browning, Lucius Bonham, George King, Robert McLaughlin, George W. Neasey, William W. Durant, Jr., Elias Dewey, Henry Russell, A. Lukemires, Isaac Pringle, Michael Cooney, Alex. Bartley, James H. Marshall and Mrs. A. McFarlane, Additional—Edmund Warden, Alva Burgin, Robert W. McIntyre, Joseph W. Calloway, Daniel S. Tietz, Euer Goodrich, Increase—John G. Power, Ezra Collins, Hiram Devald, John J. McCraney, Reissue—Ephraim M. Taylor, Original—John W. Taylor, Restoration and Reissue—James H. Reeves, Increase—Isaac L. Edmondson, W. W. W. etc.—Martha Ann, Mary C. Betty, mother. South Dakota: Original—Orval Burr, Gray Mathias Stein, James S. Prater, Jephtha H. Miller, Original—Charles N. Park, Frederick D. Palmer, Additional—Frederick Miller, George L. Vanderpool, John Sutherland, Increase—Corydon M. Turritt, Original—William H. Dubois, John H. White, Rufus Wyman.

DOM PEDRO DEAD. Last Emperor of Brazil Gatheted Into His Father's Tomb.

Copyright 1891 by James Gordon Bennett. PARIS, Dec. 5. 2 a. m.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to THE BEE.]—Dom Pedro II, ex-emperor of Brazil, died here late last night. He had been suffering from a complication of diseases and latterly had several severe attacks. Last evening his fever increased and Doctors Charcot and Bouchard, his attending physicians, say there was no hope. At 11 o'clock Dr. Charcot issued a bulletin stating the fever of his aged patient was very high. Toward midnight the ex-emperor breathed his last.

His daughter, Princess Isabella, who is the wife of Count de Flandre, grandson of the late Emperor Philip, has been expected to be expected that her father would die before morning, and she determined in that event to issue a proclamation to the people of Brazil and to demand her rights.

DOM PEDRO DEAD. Last Emperor of Brazil Gatheted Into His Father's Tomb.

Copyright 1891 by James Gordon Bennett. PARIS, Dec. 5. 2 a. m.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to THE BEE.]—Dom Pedro II, ex-emperor of Brazil, died here late last night. He had been suffering from a complication of diseases and latterly had several severe attacks. Last evening his fever increased and Doctors Charcot and Bouchard, his attending physicians, say there was no hope. At 11 o'clock Dr. Charcot issued a bulletin stating the fever of his aged patient was very high. Toward midnight the ex-emperor breathed his last.

His daughter, Princess Isabella, who is the wife of Count de Flandre, grandson of the late Emperor Philip, has been expected to be expected that her father would die before morning, and she determined in that event to issue a proclamation to the people of Brazil and to demand her rights.

DOM PEDRO DEAD. Last Emperor of Brazil Gatheted Into His Father's Tomb.

Copyright 1891 by James Gordon Bennett. PARIS, Dec. 5. 2 a. m.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to THE BEE.]—Dom Pedro II, ex-emperor of Brazil, died here late last night. He had been suffering from a complication of diseases and latterly had several severe attacks. Last evening his fever increased and Doctors Charcot and Bouchard, his attending physicians, say there was no hope. At 11 o'clock Dr. Charcot issued a bulletin stating the fever of his aged patient was very high. Toward midnight the ex-emperor breathed his last.

His daughter, Princess Isabella, who is the wife of Count de Flandre, grandson of the late Emperor Philip, has been expected to be expected that her father would die before morning, and she determined in that event to issue a proclamation to the people of Brazil and to demand her rights.

DOM PEDRO DEAD. Last Emperor of Brazil Gatheted Into His Father's Tomb.

Copyright 1891 by James Gordon Bennett. PARIS, Dec. 5. 2 a. m.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to THE BEE.]—Dom Pedro II, ex-emperor of Brazil, died here late last night. He had been suffering from a complication of diseases and latterly had several severe attacks. Last evening his fever increased and Doctors Charcot and Bouchard, his attending physicians, say there was no hope. At 11 o'clock Dr. Charcot issued a bulletin stating the fever of his aged patient was very high. Toward midnight the ex-emperor breathed his last.

His daughter, Princess Isabella, who is the wife of Count de Flandre, grandson of the late Emperor Philip, has been expected to be expected that her father would die before morning, and she determined in that event to issue a proclamation to the people of Brazil and to demand her rights.

DOM PEDRO DEAD. Last Emperor of Brazil Gatheted Into His Father's Tomb.

Copyright 1891 by James Gordon Bennett. PARIS, Dec. 5. 2 a. m.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to THE BEE.]—Dom Pedro II, ex-emperor of Brazil, died here late last night. He had been suffering from a complication of diseases and latterly had several severe attacks. Last evening his fever increased and Doctors Charcot and Bouchard, his attending physicians, say there was no hope. At 11 o'clock Dr. Charcot issued a bulletin stating the fever of his aged patient was very high. Toward midnight the ex-emperor breathed his last.

His daughter, Princess Isabella, who is the wife of Count de Flandre, grandson of the late Emperor Philip, has been expected to be expected that her father would die before morning, and she determined in that event to issue a proclamation to the people of Brazil and to demand her rights.

and Mrs. Palmer were married in Brooklyn, April 16, 1888, and lived together until July 1890. The exact date of their marriage was not known. No alimony was granted to Mrs. Palmer, although it is understood that a settlement was arranged satisfactory to her. There are two children, the youngest being given to the custody of Mr. Palmer.

RELIGIOUS CONGRESS. Meetings Projected During the Continuance of the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 5.—Rev. John Barrows, chairman of the general committee on religious congresses, the World's fair, has made his first report of progress to President Bonney of the World's congress auxiliary. The report shows the most remarkable interest in the proposed gatherings among leaders of religious thought all over the world, and promises a series of religious conferences during 1893 that will excel in magnitude and interest any similar meetings ever held.

In his report Dr. Barrows calls special attention to the commutation from all quarters, brought out by the proposal to hold a great ecumenical conference, at which representatives of all religions should be represented. On this Dr. Barrows says in part:

"I take especial pleasure in sending you the following report of our plans from the pen of his eminence, Cardinal Gibbons, under date of November 23: Judged by the tone of his preliminary address to the general committee of religious congresses in connection with the exposition of 1893, I deem this movement you are engaged in to be of the highest importance and of the greatest interest to the world. As your address sets forth, what they have to be said in connection with such a conference, what light religion has to throw on the labor problems, the educational questions and the peculiar conditions of our time, is not only of the highest interest to our country, but of the highest interest to the world. I rejoice accordingly to learn that the project for a religious congress at Chicago in 1893, your already well advanced, and the active co-operation of those in the front rank of human thought and progress, even in other lands than ours. If conducted with moderation and care, such a conference may result, by the blessing of Divine providence, in benefits more far reaching than the most sanguine should care to hope for. 'Similar' religious congresses have been held in various parts of the world, and promises of co-operation have been received from President Patton of Princeton college; Joseph Cook, the evangelist; Rev. Dr. O. R. Bell of Basle, Switzerland, the famous theologian; President Harner of the Chicago university; Rev. Lyman Abbott, Bishop Whipple of New York; Rev. Dr. Wendell Holmes, Frances Willard and a host of others equally well known in religious and philanthropic work. 'How, W. H. Easton wrote on receipt of the preliminary invitation to the congress: 'I look more to improved views and deeper convictions than to the adoption of formulated plans for the promotion of religious unity. Nevertheless, I cannot read without interest your committee's address, and I am frequently operated as conclusion, and in your plan I cordially admire the feature of a wide and genuine co-operation. The object is too good to be left to the hands of a few, but looking at it as a whole, I cordially wish well to your Christian and philanthropic efforts. In closing the chairman says: 'Your committee realizes that an important and difficult work has been assigned to it, but I am sure that you will not shrink from the energetic labor to bring together devout scholars from many lands, who have at heart the unity, peace and happiness of the world.'"

That Remark About Recruits Made Much of by the Enemies of the Empire's Great Ruler.

Copyright 1891 by James Gordon Bennett. PARIS, Dec. 5.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to THE BEE.]—New articles have been published in the London Standard concerning the mind and soul of the Kaiser, and several have been furnished this week. For instance: One, and not the least curious, is a volume of sermons which has just been published by William. It is entitled: "Die Stimme des Herrn, auf den Wasser" ("The Voice of the Lord on the Waters"), and gives us an insight into the more mystic points in William's character.

The sermons in themselves have no significance, but they resemble the anomalies one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt to repeat their favorite passages. The Kaiser does the same. He has taken as a text: "Let us admire not positively, but in the sermons, one hears in countless German villages. As those who may have chance to spend some of their Sundays in Vaterland are aware, it is usual there to preach two sermons on the Sabbath. The ministers are apt