THE CONDITION OF TRADE,

The . Wholesale Trade of Omaha Continues Most Satisfactory.

LOCAL COLLECTIONS NOT VERY GOOD.

The Movement of Grain Interfered With to Some Extent by the Scarcity of Cars for shipping.

The condition of the jobbing trade of Omaha continues to be very satisfactory and the volume of goods moving is large, in some lines amounting to a positive rush. White this is in the main due to the improved conditions prevailing in the country, as a result of abundant crops, there is also another important factor to be taken into consideration. During the dull times in Nebraska last year, consequent upon the less of crops, Omaha jobbers pushed out into new tarritory and opened up fresh fields for trade. This year the jobters are reaping the fruits of this extension of territory. The success of their efforts will naturally encourage them to still greater exertions another year and additional territory will be conquered by their enterprise. The jobbing trade of Omaha is growing; it is already large, but at the same time it is small to what it will be in a few years, if the present rate of growth is main-improved conditions prevailing In the west are being felt even in New York. The Builetin in sthat city remarks that the local markets begin to show very distinct symptoms of the reviving effect of the large crops on the trade of the interior. Following the check upon the demand for certain kinds of merchandisa arising from protracted mild weather, there is a marked increase of buying and a consequent stiffening of prices. Sellers have no longer any need to bolster up the markets by confdent talk which hardly agrees with too well known facts; for the buyers themselves have become too jubilant over the prospect to conceal their assurance of a good season's trade, ceal their assurance of a good season's trade, and they are buying accordingly. From this date forward, it will be safe to calculate upon a prosperous winter's business.

The same journal in commenting upon the general outlook remarks that it has long been apparent that Europe would find some difficulty in sparing from its banking reserves the great sums required for the purchase of breadstuffs this year. But the banking reserves are not the only reliance for such an emergency. From private hoards enormous sums can be drawn in France or Germany at almost any time, as has been often proved by subscriptions to popular longs. The millions who will require bread to eat will have to pay their money for it, and to some extent will have to take that money from their prewill have to take that money from their pre-vious savings. It does not necessarily follow, therefore, as some have argued, that the severe pressure in foreign money markets occasioned by balances due this country will force holders to part with great amonats of American securities. It may happen that such a presure will come, but as yet no very positive indications support that expectation. Considerable gold has been that expectation. Considerable gold has been sent to this country already, and yet the foreign money markets are less stringent, and seem less likely to become stringent, than a month or two ago. It is also to be considered that the demand for American securities is just now peculiarly favored in foreign countries by the large crops here. The great American crops give business to the railroads, swell their carnings, and afford a fair promise of improvement in their dividends, and naturally in the market prices of their stocks and bonds. On the other hand, the apprehension bonds. On the other hand, the apprehension of war is certainly very general, an it affects all classes, from the financiers, bankers and investors, to the working people who migrate in large numbers, giving as one reason their desire to escape military service next year The feeling naturally grows in Europe that the securities of almost any European nation are liable to be severely depressed on the out-break of war. The very same cause would certainly increase the business of American railroads, but it is impossible to forcast how far foreign holders would be compelled to send back American securities.

The retail trade of Omaha is still dragging in some lines while there has been a decided improvement in others. Local collections branch of business shows a marked improve ment, and until all idle workmen are given employment. The improvement in the mar ufacturing industries has given work to a good many men already and, if it keeps up, must before long cause a change for the bet ter in the retail trade.

The local grain market has not been as active as could be desired on account of the difficulty of obtaining cars for the ship-ment of grain. The dealers have all been buyers, but have hesitated about selling, as there is no certainty of their being able to get cars to deliver grain within the specified time. At the same time the transactions have been quite large for a new mar-ket and perhaps as large as could be expected even under more favorable conditions. The grain men of the city are very much encour-aged over the outlook for securing more favorable rates from the railroads, and in case their hopes are realized this market will make big strides forward.

The local produce markets have been rather quiet for some days. The holiday last week brought in a glut of poultry which ly just cleared up. Prices on other of produce have been about steady, but the demand has not been heavy.

OMAHA LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OMAHA. Dec. 5.

Receipts were an even 100 cars of cattle, 2,298 head; 73 cars of horse, 5,000 head; 1 car of sheep, 90 head, and 2 cars of horses, 30 head. The week's receipts foot up 12,544 head of cattle, 53,725 head of hogs and 325 head of sheep, against 8,344 head of cattle, 45,704 head of hogs and 3981 head of sheep last week.

CATTLE—The cattle market continues to improve. The week's receipts show an increase of about 4,000 head compared with last week, and the quality of the offerings shows considerable improvement. The demand was active all around, the efferings changing hands rapidly at prices steady to a slade stronger than yesterday and 15c to 25c better than last week. Fair to good natives soid from $4.00 to $4.25 and one bunch of fat 1,452-pound beeves brought $5.00. Western cattle were in moderate supply and soid from $4.00 to $3.75. Business was fairly active and the bulk of the trading was over by noon.

Butcher stock was in good supply and a good share of the offerings were very respectable stuff. The market was about like Friday in that the better grades were in active demand and stronger, while medium and common cows were slow and generally a shade easier. Common to choice cows and heifers soid from $1.55 to $4.25, the bulk of the fair to good stock selling from $2.00 to $2.40. The sup 2 ply of bulls, oxen and stags was rather light owing to the meager supply. Regular dealers had but a small number on hand and were consequently the most active buyers. Frices are from 20 to 40c, higher than a week or two aco, but hardly enough trading is done to establish quotations. Good to choice well bred stock is readily saleable at from $2.40 to $2.65. common and stockers rather uncertain sale at from $1.75 to $0.25.00. Representative sales:

Hogs—Receipts were only moderate for a Saturday, only 72 cars, making an increase for the week compared with last of about 8,000 head. The quality of the offerings was very good, as good, in fact, as any day this week. Buyers started out bidding about a nickel higher, but selfers were asking more, and as the local and shipping demand was good, the market finally settled down to a good, big 5c advance, at which trading was brisk and receipts quickly changed hands. The best heavy packing and shipping bogs so d mostly at $5.60 to $5.65, common heavy and mixed packers at $1.595, common heavy and mixed packers at $1.595, common heavy and constant the wide range of $1.0003.55, largely, however, at $1.5002.555, largely, however, at $1.5002.555, largely, however, at $1.5002.555, largely, the general market could not be quoted more than a good 5c higher. Sales were largely at $1.500.05 against $1.503, against $1.40%, yesterday, and $1.55 last Saturday.

The week closes with prices about 15c lower.

ay. The week closes with prices about 15c lower than just Saturday, but 10015c higher than Thursday, the low day of the week, when the bulk of the hogs sold at $3.3003.5c. Represent-

Shippers and feeders...... 465 Total 2,424 6,366 Chicago Live Strek Market

Chicago Live St. ck Market.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 5.—[Special Telegram to The Reg.]—There was rather more than the usual Saturday inquiry for cattle. All classes of buyers wanted a few, and as the total supply was confined to about 1.00 head it did not take salesmen iong to unload. In values there was no appreciable change. They were firmly supported, not only for good shipping sorts which were scarce, but for butchers' and canners' stock as we i. Cows.helfers and builts are quoted at from $1.00 to $4.50 according to quality and dressed beef and shipping steers at from $1.00 to $6.25. To command more than $6.00 the quality would have to be very superior. Stockers and feeders were quoted at from $1.75 to $5.50. At the beginning of the week prices showed a tendency to go up and did go up, advancing from 10c to 15c during Monday and Tuesday, before the close of Thursday's market that advance was all lost but on Friday values again strengthened, the week finally closing with values a trille his her than they were a week ago.

Considering the low prices at which poultry values a trille hi_her than they were a week ngo.

Considering the low prices at which poultry and game have been offered the demand for cattie was surprisingly good, and the degree of firmness the market has developed is certainly encouraging to soliers. Of the 67.50 cattle received, all but about 7,000 were natives. They went out of soliers' hands at from $1.00 to $2.00 largely at from $1.00 to $2.00 for cows and buils and $3.75 to $5.00 for sters.

With fresh receipts of only 18,000 head of hogs and with but little stale stock in the yards, prices continued to show an advancing tendency. Under a sharp deman; the market at once went from $3.00 to $3.25 for common to prime lightweights and from $1.70 to $3.90 for heavy, where it remained strong to the close.

at once went from $4.20 to $4.25 for common to prime lightweights and from $1.70 to $4.90 for heavy, where it remained strong to the close. This is an advance on Friday's quotations of 10c and an advance on Friday's quotations of 10c and an advance on Friday's quotations of 10c and an advance on Friday's quotations of the five day and prices declined from 25c to 49c per 100 lbs. For the last three days of this week sgregate 193.270 head and prices declined from 25c to 49c per 100 lbs. For the last three days the total was 30.000 less and there has been a recovery to the extent of 20c, present quotations showing a loss for the week of about 10c in light and 20c in heavy weights.

A lack of adequate transportation facilities is given as a cause of the rapid failing off in the arrivals since Wednesday, though the bir break in prices was unquestionably the principal factor in checking the flood. Throughout the week the demand displayed great activity but the capacity of the local packers was simply inadequate to the absorption of such vast numbers as was tumbled into the yards during the first half of the week. Decreased supplies today and better prices are the probabilities for next week. The range of today's sales was from $1.50 to $5.93, culls selling at from $1.50 to $5.93, culls selling at from $1.50 to $5.90, culls selling at grand and steady; natives. $2.55(2), 25; Texas grassers, $1.15; rangers, $5.00(2), shipments, $0.00;

Quiet Business in Wheat Most of the Day at Chicago. PRICES AVERAGED ABOVE FRIDAY'S.

Number of Bullish Features in the Trading-Increase in the Available Supply Reported-

Stocks and Bonds.

CHICAGO, III., Dec. 5.-There was a quiet business in wheat most of the day, but a rather firm tone prevailed, prices averaging above yesterday's close. Both sides were able to draw some consolation from the news in circulation, and this fact helped to keep the market fairly steady. One of the bullish points was an article in a morning paper reviewing the condition of winter wheat. It was said to have been points was an article in a morning paper reviewing the condition of winter wheat. It was said to have been injured by drouth in November and further damaged by the late rains, followed by freezing weather. The movement in the morthwest was moderate and owing to the severe storms prevailing a continuance of small deliveries for the time being is looked for. The liberal clearances from both coasts for the week were also regarded as rather a strong factor, as they amounted to 5,63,000 bushels—a large excess over the amount sent out the week previous. On the other hand the figures in regard to stocks were unmistakably bearlsh.

Bradstreet's reported an increase in the available stocks in the United States and Canada during November of 11,000,000 bu, and 17,000,000 bu, more than a year ago. The world's available supply showed an increase of 25,00,00 bu. during November. The bears made the most of these figures, which undountedly kept the market from advancement, as the local sentiment seemed inclined to builtishness and, while cables reported dullness and weakness abroad, domestic markets showed considerable strength. Pardridge covered a good deal of wheat around 9:c, and Brosseau was also a good buyer, presumably to cover shorts. Most of the urivate whre houses, and the crowd generally, seemed disposed to buy and the selling was rather meager and cautious. May wheat opened at 96%, improved slowly to 97%, eased off a fraction, but during the last hour, in the face of casier late cables grew strong again, advancin to 97%, closing firm at 87%, against 97% at the close yesterday. Shorts covered freely on the increasing strength and there was some good investment bnying.

Corn was inclined to weakness. The clique which sold a good deal of December corn on yesterday's builge delivered a cood deal of it and this made the market weak today, as the parties who received at 41d not want it and put it on the market. The clique s showing a disposition to milk the trade; they seem disposed, for the present, to sell on the builge

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 5.—Conseiman & Day to Cockreil Bros.: Wheat opened steady and remained very duil for some time. There was a scarcity of new outside business and cables were discouraging to buyers. Private winter wheat crop advices also warrant the expectation of a builts report from United States Statistician Douge the 1th inst., and some speculative buying was done on that score. Altogether the market looks like lifting itself out of the recent depression and will no doubt find friends rapidly when May wheat gets to $1.00. Corn and outs were weak and strong by turns. Provisions were depressed under May sa es by packers against January purchases yesterday. The receipts of hogs were unexpectedly light, but it being Saturday the buying demand was small. Prices receded under the offerings mentioned. Toward the close the market railled in sympathy with grain and Traders' Talk. offerings mentioned. Toward the close the market railled in sympathy with grain and closed easy at a decline of 5c to 10c on pork. Indications point to a lighter ran of hogs and a better foreign demand next week.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 5.—Swartz, Dupee & McCornick to F. C. Swartz & Co.: Wheat was stronger today, principally in anticipation of bullish news next week. The world's wheat shipments Monday are expected to show a decrease of 4,0,0,0 bu, and a large decrease is also looked for in the amount on passage next Tuesday. Aside from this it is thought lodge's report, due on Thursday, will make a poorer showing on winter wheat in many localities than anticipated. Export clearances from New York for the week of 5,000,000, with a good cash demand here for low grades and large sales at Minneapolis for shipment, all rail, also contributed to the strength. Cables were lower. Engish farmers' deliveries show, on an average, a decline of about 3d. Free deliveries of cash corn on year contracts weakened the price. The small receipts and proportion of contract (about forty-six cars) and light estimates for Monday he ped toward a raily. The best fixures showed the early loss about recovered. Outsiders are tooking for a December manipulation. There are, however, no reliable signs of any. Provis ons have been dull, the 1ght receipts of hogs having a less buil effect than was expected. The opening was fractionally higher than yesterday's close, but with light trade and free offerings by packers the advance was more than lost. The market closed heavy.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 3.—F. G. Logan & Co., to J. Sands Commission company: In sympathy with cable advices wheat opened weak at 5fc, sold at 96% and closes at 5f4c. The outside news is bearish, but lighter receipts more than counterbalances this. The world's supply and European wants are again being discussed and the general tendency is toward higher prices. The government report for the time being is a check on the trade, no one knowing what may come. For the good of the farnor and in the interest of our export business, the sooner this monthly government gushing ceases the better. It has aiready all but ruined our export business, as long before our hardwards. And the second of the farmer and in the interest of our export business, the sooner this monthly government gushing ceases the better. It has aiready all but ruined our export business, the soo ordinary may be needed to pull twis out of the rut. For the present it seems to be merely a scalping market, about as safe to sell in as to buy. The old November corn clique is in position, to milk the market preity successfully, and, will probably do so. They naturally don't want too much company, and it is reasonably safe to assume that they won't have it after the tailers, on have grasped the hot end of the poker, a few times in trying to keep up with the procession. Feeders will be rather slow to buy year corn when it is learned they are liable to have it delivered right away, and their experience with the November deal will cause them to be rather cautious about seiling it short. The clique having the corn can seil on the railies, deliver it out and buy back on soft spots caused by these deliveries. There was a fair trade within narrow limits in both corn and outs. In provisions the market opened strong on smaller receipts of hors than expected, but the builte was utilized by holders to realize on estimates, and this weakened prices. The time will soon be when one can buy provisions for a good advance, but now hogs are a little too numerous.

Financial Review.

Financial Review.

New York, Dec. 5.—The Post says: Despite the duliness of this morning's market the tone was very firm among the professional element; in fact, the stubborn resistance of the granger stocks to all efforts at weakness has caused a noteworthy change in sent ment. The simple fact is that holders of such stocks as these are not at all disposed to let them go at concessions, the belief being widespread that chances favor the obtaining of much better prices by those who keep their stocks and awalt developments. This feeling is undoubtedly justified by financial conditions and is confirmed by the well understood fact that the really import not operators for lower prices are either entirely out of the market or else are moving with creat deliteration and caution. Builishly disposed traders availed themselves of the better feeling to bid up stocks and there were numerous encouraging gains, conspicuously in the coal shares, the Vanderbilts, Missouri Pacific and St. Paul.

mates she received flowers while Mrs. Mc-Clelland dressed a handsome dell for her. During the afternoon delightful refresh-ments were served, the birthday cake, con-taining ten candles, "one to grow by" as the Germans have it, being a distinct feature of the day. Jean Thurston was the happy recipient of the ring, which was concealed in the cake. After refreshments the little one danced, played games and enjoyed the afternoon immensely.

Assisting Mrs. McClelland were Mrs. Coff-man, Mrs. J. M. Thurston, Mrs. Brady, Miss Fanny Butterfield and Miss McClelland, who led in the games and furnished the music for the little people.

Social Doings in the Magie City.

The leading social event of a very quiet week in South Omaha society circles was the dancing party given by the Young People's club on Thursday evening. The party was as usual select and exclusive and the congenial spirits gathered passed a delightful evening. The floor was never smoother and the music seldom better, and as a result the evening will long be remembered as a mem-crable one in the history of the club. It passed so quickly that most of the members were rejuctant to leave after the close of the "Home, Sweet Home" waltz and they lin-gered to pass an hour or two in the seductive game of high five. Those present were Miss Viola Coffeen of Knoxville, Tenn.; Miss C. Tyleo of Council Bluffs. Misses Hambleton, McCoy, Tylee, Hausman, Arneld, Hirsch, Elliott, Woodard, Laur and Adams. Messrs. B. E. Wilcox, H.

This story is told of ex-Senator Edmunds: Soon after he hung out his shingle the senior Edmunds had some litigation with a neigh-bor, in which little money but considerable temper was involved, and he did not consult or retain his son, but secured a prominent at-torney. The defense, regarding his case as a lost cause, retained young Edmunds, who successfully prosecuted and won the case, decidedly to his father's chagri...
