Mysterious Disappearance of Pr.tty Miss T.t a Baxs m.

SOME VERY UNCOMPLIMENTARY RUMORS

She Was Quite Old Enough to Know Better, But Her Uncle Could Do Nothing with

Some excitement has been caused by the disappearance of Miss Titia Blaxsim, a niece of George Blaxnim, who has lived with him for the past seventeen years. She left bome last Monday, saying she would be gone only a short time, but night came and she did not return. Her friends anxiously began search for her, and the search has gone on ever since, but although traces have been found of her which lead them to believe that she is still in the city, her exact whereabouts cannot be learned. cannot be learned.

The young lady in question is 22 years of age, and was adopted by Mr. Blaxsim when she was 5 years old, her parents dying in Davenport at that time. She has lived here ever since, but her field disposition and her inclination to wander away from home have lad her into difficulties, before. About six led her into difficulties before. About six onths ago it is claimed that she went to South Omaha in company with Charles Con ley, an ex-member of the fire department, with whom she had associated somewhat, and Mr. Biaxsim was compelled to put in considerable time finding her and inducing her to return with him. Conley has a wife with whom he has had some trouble, and it is claimed be promised Miss Blaxsim that he would get a divorce from his wife and marry her. Blaxsim thinks it is Conley who has enticed his niece away from bome, although Conle-denies it. The two had some words Wed night which came near ending seriously. A night or two after the girl's departure, Mr. Blaxsim made a search for her at a house on Mill street, which he had been informed was a rendevouz for her and her lover. The house does not bear a very good reputation with the police, and Mr. Blaxsim was accompanied by an officer when he visited it. When the officer rapped at the back door a commotion was heard inside, and an instant later a half dressed man rushed almost into the arms of Mr. Blaxsim, who stood at the front door. He immediatel: rushed in again, however, and when the offi cer raided the house the couple, if they had been there at all, had disappeared. Since then no effort has been made to find her. Mr. Blaxsim states that he has no further use for his meee. "She has had all the ad-vantages any girl could want," he said vesterday, "and now she turns out to be un-worthy of them. She shall never enter my house again. I should like to have her send someone, however, to get her clothing, which she left at the house when she took her de-

Social circles on Pierce street were ren dered somewhat lively at a late hour Thursday night by the advent of a number of gay pirds from Omaha and this city. The house of Lizzle Ott was first visited, the young men composing the party throwing the furniture out of the house into the street. No ob-stacio was met with until the house of Ella Lee next door was reached. Here the invaders struck a suag in the shape of Cliff Hugh, a burly fellow who had been spending the evening there. that the remains of the fray were found yesterday morning to consist mainly of poels of blood scattered at intervals about the premises. A somewhat similar program was followed out at Ida Gordon's house not far away. Where the blood came from was the question that agitated the police yesterday morning, and a special de-tective was directed to look the matter up. He failed to find any of the parties who were willing to own up that the blood belonged to them, so he was unable to make much of a report at police headquarters. He succeeded iu arresting Lee Foreman, however, whom he charged with being an inmate of a house of prestitution. The trial will come up this morning. It is thought that further acrests will follow today.

THE DEPREDATION CLAIMS.

The experience of THE BEE CLAIMS BUREAU has brought out the fact that many of its subscribers do not understand that the Indian depredations act passed by the last congress annulled all previous contracts for collecting claims under it. This is a fact that they should know for their own protection. When the act was signed all contracts with agents were made void by its terms. The holders of claims were then free to make such bargains with their agents as they pleased, or could refuse to make any bargain at all.

The framers of the act found it necessary to take this step for the protection of the claimants. At the time when there seemed little chance that such an act would be passed hundreds of claimants had contracted with agents to pay outrageous fees in case the money could be collected. Cases are known in which the claimants had contracted to give up to the agents over one-half the amount collected. Cases in which one-third was promised were not at all uncommon. To allow these contracts to stand would make the law not an act of justice, but an act of extortion for the benefit of the claim agents. contracts, good, bad and indifferent, limiting the percentage to be charged by agents to 15 per cent, with an extra 5 per cent allowance for special cases. The claim agents naturally objected to this, asserting that it was beyond the powers of congress, but the best opinion of both houses was that contracts made to collect claims under a law that did not exist could be annulled in the

On the 4th of March, therefore, the claim ants who had signed contracts were as free from obligations to agents as those who had not. If they were satisfied with their agents and wished to sign a new contract within the limit of compensation fixed by the law, it was their right, but none of them were under any legal obligation to do so. The more unscrupulous of the agents naturally represented to their clients that they were bound to renew their contracts, with merely the substitution of the terms named by law the substitution of the terms named by law for the outrageous commissions at first demanded. Cases have been brought to the attention of The Bre in which this policy had been tollowed successfully by unscruptulous agents. They had in a word bullied the claimants into hiring them when, if the claimants had understood that they were free of obligation, they would have were free of obligation, they would have chosen other representatives. As others are being worked upon in the same way, the facts of the case are set forth for their pro-If they are satisfied with the men they first chose they are right in re-engaging them. If they are not satisfied, they are free to engage anbody they choose.

The Bee Claims Bureau was established solely for the protection of the public. It was established on account of the complaints of its subscribers who thought they were being unjustly treated, and those, still more numerous, who applied to it to find a reliable agent. It will collect the claims at only such charges as will pay the expenses of the cureau. It is expected that it will rarely nappen that the limit set by the law will be needed to pay the expense of collection Many of the claims can doubtless be collected for 5 per cent of their face. The bureau is at the service of the subscribers and public at large. These who take advantage of its offer will save money by it. Those who do not place their claims in its charge will save money, too, for it has put a check on the rapacity of the agents who would otherwise feel free to take the last penny the law al-lows. It is the privilege of a great newspaper to benefit ali.

THE INDIAN CLAIMS.

THE BEE BUREAU OF CLAIMS, in dealing with the claims arising under the Indian depredations act, has been successful in protecting a large number of subscribers and others from extortion and loss. From complaints that have come to it, however, it appears that many of the claimants do not understand their position under the act. At a time when there appeared to be little chance that congress would take up the claims or make any appropriation to pay them, they signed contracts with the Washington agents promising from one-quarter to one-half the amount to the agent in case the money should be collected. In view of this extortion con-gress inserted a prevision in the act annuling all contracts and limiting the agent's commission to 15 or 20 per cent.

The claimants all probably understand that the agent's commission has been limited by the law, but many of them, according to their own statements, do not understand that they are free to do as they please about employing the agent they had first chosen. They con-sider that they are still bound to employ the agent with whom they signed the exorbitact contracts, whether they are satisfied with him or not. It was the intention of congress to protect them at all points and they were left on the passage of the act free to do as they pleased and employ whom they pleased. Section 9 of the act stated: "That all sales, transfers or assignments of any such claims heretofore of hereafter made, except such as have occurred in the due administration of decedents' es tates, and all contracts heretofore made for claimants' attorneys are hereby declared void. There could be no mistake about the meaning of this. All claimants had to make new the act, and they were at liberty to employ any one they pleased. If they were pleased with the zeal and mets of their first agent they might make their new contract with him. If they were dissatised they might choose any other agest that they pleased.

Those who have not signed new contracts

since the passage of the act may profit by this to secure much better terms than they could otherwise get from the agents. The fact that The Bus Bineau is doing the work for the bare expense involved has had a good effect in moderating the charges of all agents. to those who know how to protect them-selves. For those who distrust their ability to cope with the claim agents on their own ground The Bee Burnau is always open.

THE BEE BUREAU

THE BEE BUREAU OF CLAIMS IN Washington has done a good work for the residents of this section in attending to the claims arising under the Indian depredations act. It has saved those who have taken advantage of its offer from the unconscionable charges of the regular claim agents, and has benefited the others by forcing the agents to demand only moderate fees in order to get business. The long delay over the passage of the act had given the claim agents time to make contracts that would give them the lion's share of the appropriation. Many of the claimants had been induced to sign contracts guarantecing the agent from one-third to over 30 per cent of the claims in case they were allowed The depredations act annulled these extortionate contracts and set the limit of agents fees at 15 per cent, to be increased in certain cases to 20 per cent on the order of the court But so many complaints were made of the action of the agents, and so many inquires for a reliable agent were sent to this office, that it was decided to establish a bureau under the direct charge of Taz Baz to pro-tect its subscribers and give them the benefits of the law at the lowest possible charges. The bureau has more than justified its establishment. It has attended to the claims of a large number of the sufferers by the in dian raids in the west. It is doing the work at 5 to 12 per cent, taking in many instance nly the actual cost of pushing the claim. A smoot of those who lost their property h rough the Indian raids are persons of small means who could not go to Washington themselves, the establishment of the bareau where they can be certain of exact and just

The persons who have suffered losses from the Indians since June 1. 186), will downs to remember, however, that the time within which claims can be presented is limited, they are not put in within the appointe time they are forever parred. Moreover the ourt of claims goes on the plan, "first come first served," and it behooves sufferers to place their ciai is before the proper authoriies at an early date.
The contracts made before the passage of treatment has reached those who need the act bave, as stated, been annulied by con-gress. It is therefore necessary for claiman's to make new contracts or arrangements with their agents, and they are left free to engage new agents if they are not satisfied with those they had engaged before. This will enable them to make much more favor-able terms for themselves than were had while the passage of the act was still in

The bureau has received the indersement of all the congressmen and officials who have anything to do with the subject of claims. A letter from Representative Herman of Oregon, chairman of the committee on Indian depredations, has already been published in behalf of the bureau, and similar expressions have come from others. If any subscriber requires such services and is in doubt where to apply, he will find the address of THE BEE Bureau of Ctaims in the advertising columns

A MEEDED BUREAU.

The organization of the new court of law claims at Denver last month and the an nouncement that the court will hold its final session in that city on the 17th of November tive promise that he long-vexed titles in the western territories and state will soon be in B fair way to settlement. The disputed titles under the Mexican and Spanish grants have proved especially troublesome in Arizona and New Mexico. They have delayed settlement and investment in some of the fairest lands of the southwest, and have proved annoying in the districts farther to the north. After much agitation and complaint congress wa induced at the last session to provide a court for the consideration of this pusiness, and it will soon begin to work.

The organization of this court gives THE BEE BUREAU OF CLAIMS a chance to extend its usefulness. It will take claims under this law and prosecute them for persons who do not know whom to engage for the service. The business entrusted to the bureau in Washington is being prosected with energy.

The Indian depredations patent, land mining and other claims before the courts and departments are being pushed as rapidly as possible, with no delays on accurt of the large amount of business which has been sent to the bureau. The large amount of ntrusted to its care is a standing proof of the esteem and confidence in which The Bis i held by the public which it serves. It is like wise a demonstration, if one was required of the need of such an organization The revelations in regard to the Loomts agency which have been published recently go even further in the same direction. a man sought for by the police for nearly a year on a warrant for embezzlement can set up as a claim agent, flood the western country with circulars and receive assignments for several million dollar's worth of claims it appears that there is little protection for the claimant who sends to an unknown repre sentative. The men who assigned their claim to Loomis would have had small chance of their seeing any of their money if that schemer had been given time to collect their claims. When such risks are run and men who are not able to go to Washington and know no one there must hire their attorneys at haphazard, the need for a bureau to pro tect the people and do their work at reason ible rates is apparent,

The approval with which THE BEE enter prise is received by journalists and publi-men is as gratifying as the response of the public.

PROSECUTING HER SUIT.

Mrs. James G. Elvine, ir., Determined to Have a Divorce. DEADWOOD, S. D., Dec. 4. - Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-A motion was filed here today by Mrs. Mary Nevius Blaine praying for temporary alimony and attorneys' fees. Mrs. Blaine, in her petition, states that she is in a crippled condition, both physically and financially, and she asks the court that the defendant, James G. Blaine, ir., be required to pay to her the sum of $1,000 as temporary alimony for expenses of the suit and the further sum of $500 for attorneys' fees. The hearing of the motion was set for Decem The complaint and summons in the case of Mary N. Blaine against James G. Blame, jr. was also filed today. The complaint alleges that James G. Blaine, jr., willfully abandoned the plaintiff without cause, leaving in her custody a d-year-old child which she has since taken care of and supported without help from the defendant. On these grounds she demands a dissolution of the bonds of matrimony, the sole custody of her child and that he be required to pay a reasonable sum for the expenses of the action for the divorce and counsel fees and required to pay such sum for alimony as the court may decide for the future support of herself and child. Mrs. Biaine is now at Sloux Falls and is expected in this city next week.

"I had a heavy, dull ache over my eyes ecompanied at times by very severe pains in he back of my head. My eyes grewdim and t was impossible for me to look steadily at an object for any length of t me without MY EYES PAINING AND BURNING.

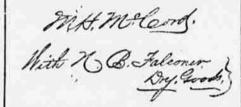

My hea i felt e ogged up and I would have the strangest buzzlng and ringing noises in my ears, while I was constantly troubled with dizzlness and nervous feeling.

This state of affairs kept growing worse when, to cap the climax, hast spring I caught the grippe and this increased my suffering and disease two fold and left me in the most delicate health. The disease had seriously affected my stomach, and my appetite and digestion were very poor. My stomach was so weak in fact that I could only eat the lightest food, and not even that without suffering a feeling of uneasiness and sense of depression afterwards. I also suffered much from pains afterwards. I also suffered much from pains in my stomach and through the back and lost ruch flesh and strength WHAT WAS FINALLY DONE.

"I was he this deplorable condition when my attention was directed to Drs. Copeland and Mansheld as physicians and surgeons who were skilled in their profession and having wide success in their practice. I sought them for relief and I can trothfully say I found it. The distressing pains over my eyes and in the back of my head went almost immediately upon taking the first treatment, and have gone to stay, I think, My eyes have cleared up and gained strength: my dizziness and nerlone to stay, I think any eyes have and gained strength; my dizziness and ner-yousn as have disappeared, and the ringing and buzzing noises in my ears ceased. My and buzzing noises in my greatly improved, and buzzing noises in my ears ceased. My tomach and appetite have greatly improved and I cat well and sleep well also now. In short, I am in every way on the road to health, and although I have had many dectors, Drs. Copeland and Mansfield are the only ones that have given me any real relief."
