Organized Cranks Whose Mission is to Rid the World of Wealthy People-Worse Than India's Thugs.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 .- The detective force of the police department and the detective force of the press of the city were yesterday as busy as bees in a tar bucket-each and all scurrying after an identification of the mad wretch who blew himself into pieces at Russell Sage's office Friday last. One of many clues focussed at the morgue where the detached part of the bomb-thrower, with its tumpled hair and paild face and staring eyes, is now on exhibition for the purpose of recognition Organized to Kill.

Identification was believed to have been effected, and along with the identification there comes a story. It is remarkable, be it true or not. It goes to show the existence of an organized band of capitalist exterminators. It makes the bomb thrower one of the band. The identification was made by and the story comes from one Captain Harry Horne, who identified the head at the morgue times and with whom he had frequently conversed. Captain Horne, who was originally interested in Wild West shows, is now a lecturer in Worth's museum, and it was there he first met the bomb thrower in the latter part of September. "He came to me with a letter of introduc tion from some person whose name I don't remember," said Horne to Inspector Byrnes, "and made an engagement to meet me the following afternoon. I met him and he asked me to with him to lecture on monopolies in me to with him to lecture on monopolies in railroad and shipping interests, which he wanted put under government control, offer-ing me $100 for every lecture delivered. One of the features of the lecture was the propo-sition that all railroads carry passengers at the same rate as freight, by which arrange-ment men could travel across the continent for a few dollars whereas it now costs $60 or $50

$50. "He said that all the prominent railroad men, Gould, Sage, Depew and other mag-nates, would be invited to attend the lectures and be convinced of the errors of their ways. In case they did not accept the invitations a letter would be sent to them and if they per-sisted in refusing then bombs would be used.

"He said he was a member of a strong organization to revolutionize matters in the interest of the poor people. It was a religious organization and would be the largest in the country in two years. God was with it and It was bound to succeed. If any one of the monopolists refused to do what was right toward the people he would be killed by some mber of the organization to be chosen by

"He introduced me to several people, one of whom, a short, dark complexioned man with a black mustache and short beard, with a biack mustaene and show beard, "I finally became afraid of the two men and avoided them as much as possible. One day about six weeks ago I saw dynamiter No. I standing in front of the museum. I slipped in a side door, and a few minutes later a doorkeeper brought a card on the back of which was written:

'That was the last time I saw of him until I see his body in the morgue today." Inspector Byrnes sent Detective Hanley with Captain Horne to the Morris hotel, at 11 West street, and saw Benjamin Morris, the son of the proprietor. He said that Southworth had stopped at the hotei for four or five weeks, but left there two weeks ago to go to South America, where he claimed to havemining interests.

Captain Horne described dynamiter No. 2 who has been introduced to him by the dead dynamite fiend and Morris immediately said that it was undoubtedly Southworth. He also identif ed the inscription on the back of the card Captain Horne received on October 21, as Southworth's writing. Morris was taken to the morgue by Hanley, but he failed to identify the dead man as any one he had ever seen before,

At 7 o'clock last night inspector Byrnes sent a telegram to Chief of Police Crowiey of San Francisco asking if any such man had been arrested in the past two years for mak-Ing incendiary speeches. Inspector Byrnes also said that the dead dynamiter had been identified at the morgue last evening by reputable persons, whose names he did not give, as a man whose peculiar actions caused much comment in the Metropolitan hotel bar room Thursday morning. He entered the hotel about 10 o'clock, had two drinks and then rushed out. He soon came back and inquired about a toothpick he had left there. The bartender said that he had seen no toothpick and the stranger laughed bois-ter ously and again rushed out of the hotel. On Friday morning at 11 o'clock he entered the Metropolitan hotel bar and had a gin cocktail and went out. He then acted rationally. He had his deadly valise with him He must have gone directly from the hotel to the Arcade, where he tried to put the principles of his talked of organization into ractice about an hour later.

Arrest of Dynamiter Southworth.

Interest in the attempt to kill Russel Sage with dynamite on Friday last was increased today by the arrest of William Southworth, the man who sought to interest Harry Horne, the dime museum lecturer, in an organization for the general betterment of mankind by the overthrowing of monopolies. It was said yesterday that Southworth had gone to Central America, but he was found by inspector Byrnes' men near the city and taken to police headquarters.

Southworth is undoubtedly a crank and confessed to Inspector Byrnes that he had been an inmate of a lunatic asylum. He was taken to the morgue and shown the head of the dynamite, but said he had never seen it tu life. In that particular, he contradicted the story of Horne, who said the dead man latroduced Southworth to him at the museum two months ago

One David B. Shaw called at police headquarters during the day and identified South-worth as a man whom he had met on Octo-ber 9, on which date there appeared in a morning paper the following advertisement: Wanted-A young man who has travelied considerably, to act as an advance agent for a lecturer. Address Morris hotel, 11 West

Shaw went to the place designated and met Southworth, who unfolded a scheme for the organization of a secret society with branches in the larger cities. He, South-worth, was to be the head of the society. The organization was to be near or the society, cal nature and could promulgate the idea of getting the voles of the people to take away all telegraphs, railroads and other monopolies from todividuals and place them in the hands from individuals and pince them in the hands of the general government. However, they asked Shaw if he could advance him $300 to begin operations with. In this conversation he referred repeatedly to Gould, Sage and other capitalists. They had controlled things too long, he said. He thought people cught to be able to go to San Francisco for $1, and thought three or four meetings of his society to get the people inmeetings of his society to get the people in-terested in the scheme would bring this about. He claimed to own property in San

N w Mill (or Sumner. SUMNER, Neb., Dec. 6 .- [Special to THE

BEE.]-Summer is to have a cereal mill. Representatives of a syndicate from Denver, Colo., are here, and, having looked over the country, are well pleased with the location and have made a proposition to crect a mill of such capacity as shall manufacture 1,000 bushels of corn per day into hominy, corn flakes, starch and other corn products. The citizens are very enthusiastic over the mat-ter. A subscription list has been started and the proposition will undoubtedly be accepted.

Work is to be commanced at once. There is also a good opening for a flouring mill at this point. Much wheat is raised here and there is no mill within twenty-five miles in any direction. The people will give a good bonus to such a mill located here.
