State Officials Point Out a Way for a Speedy Settlement.

NEBRASKA'S ANNUAL POULTRY SHOW.

Annual Exhibit of Fancy Fowls Begun With Many Fine Birds—General News from the State Capital.

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 8.—[Special to THE BEE.]—The difficulties in which the grain inspection department is inextricably involved render it extremely improbable that any practical results will accrue...

This spoke a prominent member of the State Board of Transportation to THE BEE representative this afternoon. When asked to point a way out of the difficulty he continued:

"I believe the best thing that could be done under the circumstances would be to arrive at some understanding by which the whole grain inspection department would be under the direction of one chief inspector. This chief inspector should have his headquarters at Omaha...

A meeting of a number of representative citizens met last evening in Millsaps and Cuddington's office to advise means to properly advertise and advance the interests of South Omaha.

Mr. E. H. Howland suggested that it would be a good idea to have something printed on the basis of the letter paper used by the merchants setting forth what the needs of the city are. This "South Omaha needs a glue factory" South Omaha needs a tannery, etc.

TROOPS ORDERED OUT.

Trouble Feared With the Indians at Cheyenne Agency.

MILES CITY, Mont., Dec. 8.—Orders have been received from headquarters in St. Paul for the troops at Fort Keogh to go to Cheyenne agency for the purpose of enforcing the orders of the agent, and to have notified him that they intend to make an attack. Considerable alarm is felt, and it is feared that the Indians will be provoked to plunder and murder.

WOMEN WHO WORK FOR LOVE.

Eighth Annual Meeting of the Omaha Women's Christian Association.

REPORTS ON THE PAST YEAR'S LABOR.

Suggestions from the President and Secretary—About the Homes for Old and Young Women—Money in and Out.

There is probably no religious or charitable organization in Omaha doing more for the poor and distressed than the Women's Christian association. This organization maintains the Old Woman's Home, and the Young Woman's Home, two very worthy institutions.

The eighth annual business meeting of the organization was held yesterday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, and was attended by about thirty of the earnest workers and officers of the association.

Mrs. P. L. Perine, president of the association, read a scripture lesson and offered prayer. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Miss Collier, and Mrs. Welsh sang a solo.

Where the Old Ladies Live. Then followed the report of the Burt street or Old Woman's home work by the secretary of that department, Mrs. McCague. She told of the manner in which funds had been raised to paint and paper the home, and said that the committee had found the people of Omaha very willing to aid the noble work of assisting the unfortunate by liberal donations of things needed for repairing the house and providing for the maintenance of the same.

HELPING YOUNG WOMEN.

The next report read was that of the Young Woman's Home, submitted by Mrs. A. P. Hopkins and Mrs. J. H. Christian. The report said that the year just closing had been one of much success and of heavy financial burdens. The Young Woman's home registered during the year as guests 153 young ladies about forty of whom were permanent members of the family.

Money Received and Sent. The statement of the treasurer showed that the following funds had been collected and expended:
