Four horses attached to a heavy farm wagon dashed up Pearl street yesterday forenoon at a breakneck speed. At the corner of Fifth avenue they ran into S. T. McAtee's delivery horse and wagon, which were standing in front of the store and upset the wagon, spilling butter and eggs promiscuously over the pavement. The runaways were soon stopped, and the de livery wagon was turned right side up by some bystanders. It was badly demoralized, and the horse was considerably injured by his contact with the big vehicle.

Men Who Have Made Fruits and Flowers Successful in Iowa Talk to Each Other of the Work.

The Western Horticultural association held its second session yesterday at the court house. In the morning the annual election of officers took place, resulting as follows: President, L. O. Williams of Council Bluffs; vice president, William Bomberger of Harian; secretary and treasarer, George Van Houten of Lenox. The delegation from Corning presented an invitation from the people of that place to hold the next meeting there a year from now. The invitation was accepted unanimously. In the afternoon papers were read as follows: "Insects," by W. M. Bomberger of Harlan and H. A. Terry of Crescent City; 'Plums," by O. W. Rich of Atlantic and John Wragg of Waukee; "Cherries," by J. R. Rice of Council Bluffs and J. W. Murphy of Glenwood; "Grapes," by W. M. Bomberger of Harlan and Ed Irvin of Avoca. An extra of Harian and Ed Irvin of Avoca. An extra attraction was a magic lantern exhibition by L. Braner, in which the different sorts of fungus growths were shown. A request was read from the ladies of the Women's Chris-tian association asking that the fruits now on exhibit in the Merriam block be given to them for their exposition in the Masonic temple which opens today. RUINED A GIRL.

Awful Experience of a Maiden with Human Wolves.

Last evening warrants were issued for the arrest of Nellie Croy, Willard James and -Wells upon the charge of conspiracy and criminal assault. The complainant was C. L. Frisby, who lives near the corffer of Twelfth avenue street, and the victim of the crime was Luiu, his 16-year-old daughter. The warrants were issued by Justice Hammer. Nellie Crow was found in the Stella Long bagnio on Pierce street, James was found at William Martin's barn, for whom he drives back, but Wells heard the news in time to skip to Omaha, and was not found at all.

The story told by Mr. Frisby, who has worked for the past nine years for the Decre-Wells company, is a sad one. The daughter has learned the dressmaking trade, and has worked for the past four mouths with Miss Bettch, in the Merriam Two weeks ago she block. home in the early evening, after telling her parents that she was soing to the room of her employer, in the Merriam block in answer to an invitation to a high five party. She did not return until after 6 o'clock the next morning. The excuse that she staid with her friends all night was readily accepted, but subsequent events roused her father's suspicion and vesterday she confessed the truth and told a terrible story. She was joined by the Crov girl, with whom she was acquainted, and when in the vicinity of the Third street school James and Wells appeared with a nack. After trying in vain to induce her to get into it she was seized by the two men and with the assistance of the Croy girl was forced in the vehicle. The door was shut and the girls were driven around the city, Wells and James occupying seats with the girls after they had secured a driver. The girls were compelled to drink what Miss Frisby avers was drugged liquor, and from that time until morning she claims to have had but a faint knowledge of what transpired. She recollects that the back stopped in front of the Omaha saloon on Broadway and she was led out and into the wine rooms in the rear. She has a dim recollec-tion of being taken from there to some cheap hotel or lodging house wherea greater part of the night was spent in company with the men. Part of the time the Croy woman was so boisterous from the effects of her deep po-tations that James and Wells were obliged to put her and her companion in the back and The Croy girl is only 19 years old, and has only begon a life of open shame since the events of the night two weeks ago. Her parents live near Red Oak. She denies the charge of complicity in the outrage. She was locked up in the county jail in default of $200 bail. James' bond was fixed at $500. and he secured his liberty by his employer filling the bond. The case will be heard in Justice Hammer's court on Monday.

INTERESTING WORK OF THE OPEN SESSION.

History of the Organization Reviewed by D. B. Carey-National Master Brigham of Ohio on the Platform.

FREMONT, Neb., Dec. 9. - Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-The Nebraska State grange held forenoon and evening sessions today, with an open meeting this afternoon. The former two were devoted strictly to routine work, which was participated in by a large number of additional delegates who arrived today. The chief interest centered in the open meeting, which began at 1:30 o'clock.

This was a sort of citizens' welcome and reception to the state grange. It was called to order by Secretary Hanson of the Board of Trade and J. J. Hawthorne presided. D. B. Carey of this city delivered the address of welcome, extending the hospitalities of the city in appropriate words, and referring at some learth to the history of the grange movement, its objects and what it has accomplished. State Master Hall responded to the welcome, saying Hall responded to the welcome, saying among other things that the grange is nere in the interests of good laws sought by it strictly upon a nonpartisian basis. National Muster Brigham of Ohio made a stirring speech in which he clearly expounded the doctrines of the grange and reviewed its growth and work. The address was an able effort and was listened to by a large audience. He said it was clearly the large audience. He said it was clearly the duty of the farmer to watch over the destinies of agriculture.

Tonight the principal work was that of conferring the fifth and sixth degrees upon candidates. A large number of resolutions on various subjects have been submitted and referred to the sifting committee. The following committees have been ap-

Chicago Authorities Determined to Close George Hankins' Snap Track. CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 3 .- A war of exterminaion by the public authorities has at last been inaugurated against the institution known as the Garfield Park track. The place is, according to the general belief, largely owned by George Hankins, one of the widest known gamblers in the west. The West Side Park commissioners, whose authority is derived direct from the state of Illinois, decided to close up the place and last night adopted a resolution instructing the park police to prohibit racing within the specified limits, which include the site of the alleged race track.
