Jake Price Acquitted of the Charge of Murder.

VERDICT ORDERED BY THE PROSECUTION.

Brown Bros. in Court-Some Libel Suits Settled-Will Dismiss the Jury-District and Federal Court Notes.

The courts have passed upon Jake Price's case and he is now a free man. He can go where he pleases and there is no person who dare make him a fraid by charging him that . he committed murder.

As has been stated, Price, a colored man, was charged with the murder of a colored woman, Fanny Tate, During the early days of last July the body of the Tate woman was found in an outhouse near Fifth and Pierce streets. When discovered it was Pierce streets. When discovered it was evident that a murder had been committed, there were marks upon the corpse that plainly indicated violence. At the inquest testimony was adduced that placed Price in a very compromising position. He had been seen in the Tate residence dur-He had been seen in the Tate residence dur-ing the evening, and at a later hour had been seen to accompany the woman in the direc-tion of the shed. He was arrested and heid to answer to the charge of murder in the first degree. Tuesday of the present week the case was put on trial before Judge Es-telle, and Wednesday night the state closed the introduction of its testimony. Yesterday morning the prosecuting attorney stated that with the evidence that he had ne did not feel like asking for a verdict of guilty. He said that Price was either guilty of murder or nothing. He was not satisfied with the evidence and asked the court to instruct the pury to return a verdict of "not guilty." Mr. Eller, who was defending, stated that be could take no exceptions to the instructions, and the verdict as asked was returned.

What the Judges Are Doing.

Judge Irvine is hearing the case of Mullen ngainst the World Publishing company, Mullen is asking for judgment in the sum of $25,000 to heal his lacerated feelings. A year or more ago he was the owner of a store and saloon at Albright. One dark hight the premises caught fire and burned to the ground. In its report the paper sued, charged that Mueller was responsible for the origin of the fire.

The case of Britta Syanson against the city is on trial in Judge Ferguson's court. The plaintiff is the owner of a lot on South Eighteenth stret, between Leavenworth and Mason. When the grade of Eighteenth street was changed the appraisers found that the plaintiff was not entitled to damages. Not satisfied with the finding she appealed to the district

Judge Davis and twelve jurors are hearing American National bank of Kansas City against the Kansas City Varnish company, Robert E. Benton, Nellie F. Benton, O. H. Brown, William Peet and D. G. Hovey. The action is brought to recover $10,000 due on a promissory note executed by the varnish promissory note executed by the varnish company and endorsed by the other defendants

Brown Bros. in Court.

The affairs of the Brown Brothers, the grain firm that failed a few days ago, have got into the courts. The firm was sued some time ago by E. P. Bacon & Co, and a garnishee notice was served on P. Brockman, the head of a St. Louis commission house that it was alleged furnished Brown Bros. with their money. Brockman failed to answer to the notice of gernishment and explain whether or not be has any money in his hands that belonged to the firm. Yesterday the case was called before Judge Irvine. Brockman's name was called three times and as he did not respond an order was issued commanding him to appear in court December 21 and show cause why he should not be fined for contempt.

THAT ENJOINED CONTRACT.

Mayor Cushing Wouldn't Have Signed It-Mr. Hayken's Position.

Most of the residents of Omaha kne that the Central Labor union, through Julius Meyer, chairman of the emergency committee, has enjoined the mayor and the other city officers from entering into a contract with the Ketcham Furniture company of Toledo, O., to furnish the new city hall with its furniture. They learned this fact when they read THE BEE vesterday.

yesterday. In speaking of the injunction yester-day, Mayor Cushing said that he regarded the injunction as a useless waste of wind. If it had not been issued he could not have signed the contract, as it was very evident that there were no funds available to pay for the furniture. The only way the council could have justified the letting of the contract would have been to have taken the money out of the city hall fund and discon-tinued work upon the building. This the tinued work upon the building. This the mayor said would nave been an unwise move. The contract, he thought, could not have been entered into could not have been entered into until after the bonds that were voted at the last election had been sold. "Of course," he continued, "we could have executed the contract and anticipated the sale of bonds, but that I would not have done, as there is no assurance that the bonds can be sold. I suppose some of the recole were afraid, but the alarm was uncalled for, as the contract would have gone to the next mayor and council for approval."

Mr. Hayken Will Fight.

Mr. Hayken, resident agent for the Ketcham company, was found in his office in the act of mailing a copy of THE BEE to the home house at Tolego, O. He stopped in the midst of his labors to remark that there was no use of trying to build a fence around Omaha. "Will you fight the injunction?" Was asked

"Most certainly," he replied. "we cannot afford to lie down. We do not care for the money that there is in the contract, but we have got to go into the fight to sustain the reputation of the house, if for no other ment, were brought to this city last evening

Today we will begin on our first floor our regular annual sale of winter suits for men. The thousands who have taken advantage of these sales as they have occurred yearly almost to the very day, will read this announcement with interest. They know what it means. They'll all be here. The simple announcement that the sale was to begin would bring 'em. To the newcomer since our memorable sale of a year ago, as well as to the few old-timers who have'nt taken pains to investigate former sales, we will say this: Every year since we began business we have held a special suit sale at about this time of the year. Each succeeding sale has seen the crowds grow larger, until last year we were hardly able to wait upon the goodnatured mob around the special tables. We have always offered extraordinary values at these sales; this one will be no exception. If you've never attended one of these sales this be will a good one to begin on.

Gives you your choice of about three hundred strictly all wool fancy plaid cassimere suits, and two hundred and fifty very desirable fancy striped cheviot suits. These suits are lined with a fine twilled lining, well trimmed throughout, and were made by tailors who knew their business. The regular price is just eight-fifty.

Is the price of a splendid all wool cassimere suit, without any exception the best value we have ever offered at a moderate price. The goods were made in a mill where they have never been introduced to cotton. The pattern is a neat plaid; the linings, trimmings and making are all substantial, and the man who has laid aside twelve dollars for a suit of clothes will get twelve dollars worth of suit for seven-ninety in cash.

Gives you your choice of three styles of suits worth thirteen-fifty to fifteen dollars. They come in fine cassimere and fancy striped and plaid cheviots. They are cut, lined, trimmed and made by workmen who can "hold their job." They've got the style to them. They've got the wear in them. They've got the shape that you'd get with fifteen dollars anywhere but here.

But it is very strange that no open declaration of the kind was ever made until the council on last Monday evening, by a unanimous vote decided to instruct the police force to look after the elec-tric light service and report all cases where lamps gave no light and to make deductions accordingly. If the Electric Light company really means as it says that it intends to make a reduction where service has not been rendered, why did it not do so months and years ago, instead of waiting until the council was forced to call a halt on the system of paying out the public money for service that

It was reported that Mr. Orr was to be succeeded by a Chicago man, and among the strangers seen on the streets was J. H. Crossley, a mem-ber of the Chicago force of the weighing as-sociation. Mr. Crossley was for a time connected with a packing concern at Kansas City, and went thence to Chicago. It is intimated he will assume the Omaha auditor-ship at once. The reason for Orr's displacement is not reported.
