> It was thought at first that the place was othing more than a fourth-rate drinking house and the police paid but little attention to it, but recent developments go to snow that the den is still more dangerous than a saloon—it maintains an opium joint: a room in the front of the second story of the building, where those who have a desire can "hit" the pipe and enjoy its deadly but temporarily exhibitating effects without fear of being molested. This branch of the den is said to be under the personal charge of George Sutter, a character well known to the police. A man who has held various positions of trust in the police and marshal's department and who has been one of Sheriff O'Nelil's deputies is authority for the statement that the joint really exists and that it is not only patronized by women of the town but by many so-called respectable women whose many so-called respectable women whose names if published would startle the community. He states that he visited the place one night not long ago in company with a certain member of the police force who holds down a beat on the day shift. He was shown by Sutter a complete "layout," among which were six or eight pipes. According to his story the policeman smoked himself to sleav and repoliceman smoked himself to sleep and re-mained under the influence of the orug, ir the den, all night. THE CLARINDA ASYLUM.

Superintendent Lewellen Greatly Encouraged by the Prospects.

Dr. P. W. Lewellen, superintendent of the owa hospital for the insane in Clarinda, was in the city yesterday, enroute home from Lincoln, Neb., where, last week, he attended the quarterly meeting of the Medical society of the Missouri Valley, of which organization he is a prominent member. While in the Bluffs Superintendent Leweilen gave The Bee some interesting information concerning his asylum, it being all the more valuable to the people of western Iowa on account of the in-stitution's infancy, its marvelous growth, and its great strides to the front among charitable institutions of a similar character in

The asylum opened for patients December 13, 1888, at which time there were received from the hospital in Independence ninety incurable and state patients, all males. Then charge of 225 patients of the same class was received from the mammoth institution in Mount Pieasant which is the oidest and most prominent in the state. Mount Pleasant consignment was also made up of incurable and pauper male patients, so that Superintendent Lewellen found himself starting out in the management of his infaninstitution with a care that was far greeter than he had anticipated. But he was not discouraged by this, and with the aid of willing and able assistants he succeeded within a month in having the hospital in such splendid working order that all visitors were welcome to

Ever since the opening of the Clarinda hospital its district as provided by law has consisted of all the counties in southwestern lows, including the county of Polk, containing Des Moines. The district being so large it was not long before the six small wards which comprised the only section of the hospital, were crowded to overflowing with patients. The superintendent sought relief from the legislature, but the demands of the other two institutions of the state were so much greater that Dr. Lewellen was forced to give up the idea of enlarging the male department and look to the building of a female wing in order to relieve the distressed condition of Independence and Mount Pleasant. Two years ago the general assembly propriated to this institution $108,400. of this appropriation the female department had to be built and furnished and all other contemplated improvements, such as follow the opening of institutions of this character, made. Work was immediately commence made. Work was immediately commenced on the female department, and so rapidly has it been pushed that by January 1, 1892, several wards will be ready for oc-cupancy and not later than April 1 of next year the entire wing will be open for the re-ception of female patients who are to be brought from the other two institutions of the state, which are both so overcrowded.

The superintendent says the appropriation set aside for furnishing the new wing was originally cut in two, and the result is that what remained was used the result is that what remained was used in the erection of the wing, so that before it can be furnished an additional appropriation must be asked for. When this wing is occupied the number of patients to be cared for will exceed 600. The original plans of the asylum call for two more sections—one to be added to the maie, and the other to the female department of the hospital. The superintendent hopes that the next legislature will make him a liberal appropriation so that if nothhim a liberal appropriation so that if noth-ing more is done he can at least com-mence carrying out the plans and thus take steps toward the final completion of the institution. To commence this work, and at the same time not neglect the asylum's yearly needs and the other improvements, Dr. Lewellen says that at least $200,000 will be needed, and $250,000 would not be too much.

The superintendent says that the outbuildings of the hospital are in poor condition buildings of the hospital are in poor condition and only temporary, pending the appropria-tion of more money from the state for substantial structures such as are sorely needed. The institution has not as yet a chapel nor an amusement hall, nor are there suitable quarters for the employes of the institution. The laundry must be en-larged to double its present capacity in order to do the work when the formule order to do the work when the female wing is occupied, and barns and store buildings are badly needed. The live stock has no shelter now other than that given it by straw-top sheds, and much of the farm product is rotting away and going to waste every year owing to the lack of a bet-ter place to store it than caves dug into the

While the Clarinda hospital is in a magnificent condition in every respect, considering the length of time it has been open, the su-perintendent says he sees many ways for improvement, of which advantage must be taken by the state at the earliest convenient date. Hs thinks that when the needs of the Clarinda hospital are laid before the approaching legislature it will see the necessity of immediate action and make an unusually liberal appropriation.

[CONTINUED FROM FIRST PAGE.] Senator Peffer said he had no means of knowing who would be his new colleague in the senate, but he could tell of a number of gentlemen who would be mentioned for the vacancy. Among them were George R. Peck, George T. Anthony, ex-Governor Osborn, ex-Governor Crawford, Mr. Burton and others. All of them were, he said, very popular men, and any one of them would make a good senator.

KINSAS SORROWS.

Senator Plumb Was Admired by Kansans of Every Political Faith. TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 20 .- The news of the death of Senator Plumb was a great shock to his friends in Kansas. No one knew that he had been ailing, and the vigorous campaign he made last fall in the interests of his party seemed to be convincing proof that his robust constitution was in the best of con-

When the campaign opened last fall the republican party in Kansas was in sore straits. The fall before it had lost everything to the farmers alliance-a seat in the United States senate, six out of seven seats in the house, all but governor and lieutenant governor on the state ticket, and most of the county offices. The farmers practically controiled the state when the last campaign opened. Senator Plumb, while having no direct personal interest at stake in the election, went into the campaign with a vigor and enthusiasm characteristic of whatever he undertook. He stumped the state from one end to the other, being obliged to undergo all the fatigues of a country campaign. His work is generally redited as having been the prime cause of he overwhelming defeat of the alliance and the republican victory.

When the senator left Kansas for Washington he was certainly in the best of spirits, and seemed to be in the best of health. The announcement of his death was, therefore, a great shock. It is no exaggeration to say that Mr. Plumb was the most popular man in Kansas. He was the idol of his own party and was highly regarded by his political opponents. As a man, he had the respect and admiration of all Kansans without regard to political beliefs.

Governor Humphrey Interviewed. The Kansas law provides that in the event of the neath of a senator the vacancy shall be filled by the governor's appointment until the next meeting of the legislature. The next legislature does not meet until a year from now.

Governor Humphrey was seen by a representative of the Associated press this afternoon. He had already been notified of Scuator Plumb's death by a private dispatch. He was greatly shocked at the news, so much so, he said, shocked at the news, so much so, he said, that he had given no thought as to the senator's successor. He would, of course, make an appointment to fill the vacancy, but he had not considered any individual. The vacancy might be flied at a special meeting of the legislature, but in view of the facts that the present legislature is under control of the farmers alliance, and that the executive is republican such a course is out of consideration. The name of ex-Senator Ingails is al ready prominently mentioned by the poli-ticians, he having been the nominee of the party caucus at the time Senator Peffer was elected. In fact no other name has received any mention at all.

The fact that the term of the appointee expires when the next legislature ovenes will make the next election Kansas particularly interesting, for the legislature elected then will have the naming of a senator. The farmers alliance, while having suffered defeat at the last election, is n no wise discouraged, and they have main tained their organization and appear as vigorous as over. They will now doubtless double their energy in the attempt to give Senator Peffer a colleague of his own polit-

His Visit to Philadelphia. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 20,-isenator Plumb visited Dr. William Pepper of this city on Friday last for the purpose of obtain ing the opinion of that well known physician as to his condition. Senator Plumb had written to Dr. Pepper that he was troubled with dizziness, and Friday's consultation was the result of the correspondence that

Dr. Pepper tonight said, with reference to his examination of the senator: "I found Senator Plumb suffering from serious injury to the brain, due to overwork. The root of the right optic nerve was affected in such a manner that one-balf of each eye was en-tirely blind. There was no reason to hope for any immediate improve-ment, and on the other hand there was no reason to expect immediate serious results. The senator's condition was due almost entirely to overwork during the last campaign. benator Plumb remained here Friday night and left for Washington Saturday afternoon. ASKS FOR AN ACCOUNTING.

Contest Over the Will of Louis C Hammersley to b. Revived. New York, Dec. 20.-John Mason brought an action against the duchess of Marlborough, Georgia Williams, Jacob B. Lockman and others to set aside an agreement, by reason of which the contest over the will of Louis C. Hammersley was withdrawn before the agreement in the court of appeals. On the complaint which was filed today by John Mason through his attorney, Frankiin Brown, he states that the terms of settle ment were that the contestants should bring no action against the duchess concerning the estate during ner lifetime, but the agree-ment was not to affect any action against the will after her death. Out of the moneys she should receive as interest and income from unincumbered real estate the contestants were to receive $101.667, the payment of which was to be secured by a policy of $102,-000 on her life.

The plaintiff says that he declined to sign this agreement until assured that all the contestants should receive a like amount of money. He says that he has since learned that James K. Mason declined to sign the agreement, but his approval was subsequently secured by a payment to him of $50,000. The appeal was then withdrawn. He wants the agreement set aside, the will contest argued in the court of appeals, and an accounting of all moneys the duchess has eceived since the ag reement was made.
