On the Paris Pourse. PARIS, Dec. 20 .- Business on the bourse the past week was restricted but the tendency of prices was towards firmnets. Three per cent rentes advanced 15 centimes on the week: Credit Foncier shares, 214 francs; Rio Tintos, 11 francs and Banque de Paris shares, 15f. A quarrel is proceeding between the official brokers of the bourse and the "coulissiers" or dealers on the open market. The former are trying to curtail the business of the "coulissiers" and want bankers to transact business solely through them. The coulissiers now constitute the most powerful factor on the bourse, doing business cheaper and quicker than the official brokers and they threaten to boycott firms submitting to the demands of the official brokers. The conlissions are all so strong that they must win, but in the meantime the squabble interferes with dealings.

CHRISTMAS IN A SHEEP CAMP.

Grace MacGowan Co ke in Frank Leslie's Weekly "Twas the 24th of December, and Corb

McHenry rose up in the midst of the sheep camp and, figuratively speaking, cursed his day. Indeed, he may have done so literally, for all I remember; what I know is that he pronounced some formula to the effect that a man might as well be dead as spend his Christmas in a sheep camp.

I couldn't help laughing at him, he seemed in such deadly earnest about it, though the thought of the wife and babies down at the ranch house on the Rio Pecos went to my heart, and the sight of the Old Man's hopeless eyes moved my sympathies a great deal more than Corb's loud lamentations.

Corb was our Adonis; a big, straight young fellow, with hair like curly cornsilk, a way that took with all the women, and a roving fancy, and I knew he was sighing to think of the feminino worlds he might have conquered during the Christmas festivities; but the Old Man-it was easy to guess that his fuithful heart was very sore for somebody in particulae.

We three had been drifting sheep for some six weeks down toward the Devil river. The spot we were now on had plenty of sotol, but no water anywhere Sheep will live very well, you near. know without water, and get fat if they have sotol; so our Mexican hauled us i barrel when he could, and we used it to gold? drink and to cook with, and the man who washed his face too much was con-sidered unpatriotic. It is, no doubt, very shocking to relate, but we were all extremely patriotic, and, the water supply chancing to be just then very low, there hadn't been a face washed in camp for a week. The work of a sheep camp is killing hard, and it is dirty. Travelthen, as if struck by a sudden thought, ing as we must, no man carries more clothing than he carries on him, and offering her hand and saying: "I forgot; sotol, catclaw and mesquite thorn soon make rags of them. Corb was always I believe I didn't see you when we first came. handsome-dirty or clean, whole or men in camp, was rather transparent and very gratuitous; but it did for the Old Man. He subsided by the camp-fire and toasted bits of bread and strips ragged. His good looks lay in his lines and proportions, and were ineffaceable; but the poor Old Man-never a beauty at his best-grew simply bideous. He had, with his clear, honest, light gray eyes, a stiff black beard which, unshaven for two weeks, transword to anybody. formed him into a ferocious brigand.

We had been hard at it slashing sotol all day, and were sitting, unusually cheek boded ill for the old Man. I saw the thought rise in her pretty, angry face, that if she could brave a long, hard ride in an unpropitious season and the ridicule of those with her, by persisting that she liked it and was taking it for pleasure it was as little as he could do to welcome her gladly. Why should she go hanging after a recreant suitor, here, where the best in that line goes a-begging? She turned sharply and interested herself violently in the . a up and its equipments. Fortunately, the crowd announced that they had brought grub with them, or I don't know how they would have supped. Amalio had not yet returned from his last trip for supplies, and we were pretty nearly reduced to eating sotol with the sheep.

Poor, blunder-ing, old black moth, fluttering fear at star. For I had no doubt Miss Belle merely wanted to see him to assure herself that she could justly hang his scalp among the many other trophies of that nature she was taking home to Galveston from the plains, and I sharply teld Corb to go about his proper business-entertaining the visitors-and, though it went against my conscience, for the supply was fearfully low (and suppose something delayed Amalio!), I wet one end of a towel and conveyed it to the Old Man, and sauntered back to the merry picnicking group at the fire, reflecting on the folly of all mankind in general, and young folks in particular. What madness made the Old Man set almost Christmas morning. his fancy on a girl like that?" A belle, a beauty, a petted, spoiled child of tortune, who would only look at him. lication for patent. If it is found that the invention is new and natentable the client is advised to proceed with the fliing of an application for patent, and will then be requested to remit $15 and will then be requested to remit $15 to cover the first government fee and $5 in payment of cost of drawing, when one is necessary. As soon as possible after the receipt of this remittance the specification of the invention will be carefully prepared and forwarded to the inventor, together with forms for application for patient reach for forms for application for patent ready for execution. Upon return of the latter the case will be promptly fied at the patent office and notice will be sent when action is had there-on, and also of the nature of such action. The examining corps of the patent office is divided into thirty-two divisions, among which the applications are divided according to the official classification. The condition of the work in the various divisions varies from one to five months in arrears.

The Bureau Charges.

Consistent with the spirit with which this bureau was formed, it is not intended to conduct any branch of the business on a money making basis, but it is proposed to do the work as near the actual cost as will pro-tect the business from loss. Although counsel are retained at heavy expense to the bureau. yet it is the wish to charge in ordinary cases only the minimum fee of $25. However, in cases requiring extra care, time and labor the fee will be proportionately increased, but clients will always be advised in advance should such increase of fee be found neces-sary. In directing inquiries either to our Omaha or Washington office please mention the fact that you read these instructions in THE BEE.

Design Patents.

A patent for a design is granted to any person who has invented or procured any new and original design for the printing of woolen, silk, cotton or other fabrics; any new and original impression, ornament, pattern, print or picture to be printed, painted, cast or otherwise placed on or worked into any article of manufacture; or any new, useful and original shape or configuration of any article of manafacture, the same not having been known or used by others before his invention or production thereof, or pat-ented or described in any printed publication. Patents for designs are granted for the term of three and one-half years, the government fee being $10; or for seven years, the fee being $15; or for fourteen years, the fee being $30. The charge of the bureau in ouch energies to manufacture such cases is usually $15.

Reissues.

A patent can be reissued whenever the same is hoperative or invalid by reason of a defective or insufficient specification, or by reason of the patentee's claiming more than reason of the patentee's claiming more than be had a right to claim as new, providing the error has arisen by actident, mistake or in-advertence, and willout fraudulent intent. The government fee for a reissue is $10. The cost of drawing is $5, and the bureau chargo is usually $55. Great care must be exercised burelence a reator. in reissuing a patent, because very often what little validity there may be in a defective patent is entirely lost by procuring a reissue which is totally invalid.

Rejected Cases.

There are in the patent office a great many cases which stand rejected, but which should be allowed. This condition of the case may be due either to incompetency on the part of the attorney emuloyed or his inability, be-cause of residence elsewhere than in Washington, to make the examiner see the inven-tion in its true light; and then, again, as often occurs, cases are rejected on improper or insufficient grounds. When so requested we will have our counsel examine into any such case free of charge and advise as to the prospects for success by further prosocution. The client will also be then informed of the probable cost of completion

Caveats.

By means of a caveat an inventor secures record evidence recarding his invention for the purpose of enabling him to complete or further experiment therewith. The life of a oned age it becomes the duty of every re-liable and trust vorthy attorney in patent matters to advise his clients to beware of the many sharks who set out with the apparent intention of defrauding inventors immediately after the issue of their patents, When a patent appears in the Patent Office Gazette patentees are beset with innumer able offers, solicitations, requests, etc., some pretending to want to purchase their patents, while others offer to take an interest therein while others offer to take an interest therein under promise of procuring foreign patents. The sole object of these people is to obtain money from inventors, and they never make the slightest endeavor to carry out their groundless or worthless promises Models.

As herainbefore mentioned, models are not required in the patent office except in intri-cate or complicated cases. But at the same time when an invention can be better explained by a model it is well to send the same to us. A model should always be of a size not larger than one square foot, and in sending the same by express the charges should be prepaid and the box addressed to THE BEE-EXAMINER BUREAU OF CLAIMS.
