During the year just closed South Omaha fully maintained her position as the third largest live stock market of the country. Receipts for the year were:

Cattle..... Torses 170,849

The year of 1890 was one of drouth and almost general crop failure resulting in heavy and indiscriminate marketing of all kinds of stock on account of the scarcity of feed. This process of rushing everything possible to market left the country with comparatively little live stock on band during the early part of 1891, so that while the past year's crops were enormous the number of cattle and hogs marketed or ready to be marketed was mater ally reduced. On the other hand the ship inlly reduced. On the other hand the sh ments of cattle to the country to be fatten last year reached the enormous total of 100,000 head, an increase of more than 50 per cent compared with 1800 and 35 per cent more than for the year 1889, the largest previous year. The falling off in receipts—was wholly due to Nebraska. There has been a very marked increase in the amount of stock received from the surrounding states and territories, em bracking Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, South Da-kota, Minnesota, Colorado, Utah and New Mexico. Of the total receipts of cattle Nebraska furnished but 54 per cent, while 46 per cent came from outside and competitive territory. Nebraska furnished 82 per cent of the hogs received, but 18 per cent coming from competitive territory, 90 per cent of the cattle and all of the hogs sold on this market either to local packers or The local slaughterers bought 5 per cent of the cattle and 84 per cent of the

The stock yards proper at the present time cover an area of thirthy-seven and a half acres, while forty-three acres more are graded and drained, ready for the construction of pens. It is the intention of the company this year to erect peas on twelve acres of this ground, eight for eattle yards and four for hog pens. This will increase the yards age capacity for cattle by about 5,000 head, and for hogs 6,000 head.

During the past year three blocks of pens, pearing the past year three blocks of pens,

Workmen are at present engaged in rearranging four acres of cattle pens southeast of the Experience and the statement of the experience of cattle pens southeast of the experience of acres of cattle pens southeast of the Ex-change building, and erecting hog sheds in their place, an improvement necessitated by the growth of the business. The total property of the stock yards company is about 255 acres, so that the South Omaha yards will never lack for room for expansion, as has been the case at Chicago. During the past year an eight-foot brick sewer was constructed between the Ham-mong and Swift houses at a cost of some mond and Swift houses at a cost of some $5,500. It is among the probabilities that this sewer will be extended through the yards in the near future. At the recent meeting of the board of directors, $100,000 was appropriated for im-provements during the coming year. In ad-dition to the seventeen miles of railroad track now in operation, three additional miles will be constructed at once. An order has also been placed for another locomotive, which will make six in all, owned and operated by the company, and working day and night. The material has been ordered for a new scale house to be erected in the new division on the hill northwest of the horse barn. This scale with probably be open and ready for business by the first of February. Should the business demand it another scale will be set up in the division, which is to be erected east of the Exchange building. These six cast of the Exchange building. These six scales will be able to do the outliness for the coming year at least, and others will be erected as soon as the traffic requires them. Several new loading and unloading chutes will be built at once, and a corn crib with a canacity of 30,000 bushels will be erected immediately south of the present chute house. The Stock Yard company gives constant employment to about 250 men and the annual pay roll is in the neighborhood or $150,000.

Hog prices have shown considerable fluc-tuation during the year. Advances of over $1.00 per 100 pounds have taken place inside of six weeks and a still greater decline has taken place in less time.

The monthly average weight of the hogs as shown in the following table is a very good index to the condition of the country in regard to the corn crop at least. For instance, during the year 1800, when the corn crop was a partial failure, the average weight of the hogs fell from 273 pounds in January to 228 pounds in October, and dur-January to 228 pounds in October, and dar-ing December the average was 243 pounds. This has been a year of plenty. During Jan-uary, 1891, the average weight was only 249 pounds. It fell off in April to 218 pounds. the lowest average for over five years. Then the good crop began to have its influence, and the average during last month was 265 pounds. This table shows the monthly average weight of the hogs sold on this market for the past five years:

Curtain Finally Drawn on Mrs. Elizabeth Reeves' Well Spent Life.

Mrs. Elizabeth Reeves, mother of Mrs. Alfred D. Jones, and one of the pioneer settlers of Omaha died at her son-in-law's residence, 2018 Wirt street, at noon yesterday at the age of 93.

The deceased had always enjoyed good health up to a week or so ago, and death was caused by the gradual breaking down of an unusually strong constitution. Mrs. Reeves was born in October, 1799, in Grayson county, Va. She had always been a very active woman, and endured the Lardships of the times in which she lived and for more than fifty years had been a practical female physician

The deceased came to Omaha in 1854 and since that time has made her home with Mr. Jones. Many times Mrs. Reeves has reserved that she would live until 1893, but the angel of death traveled more rapidly than she had reckened and her life went out only twelve hours before the bells rang in the new year. Deceased was a very kind and sympathetic woman, and leaves many friends, especially among the poorer classes, to mourn her death. It was the special life work of Mrs. Reeves to administer to the suffering poor, and her kindly face and helping hands were frequent visitors to their homes.

The funeral will be held at the late residence of the deceased, 2018 Wirt street, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The body will be interred in Prospect Hill cemetery.

Omaha has been greatly in need of a place where ladies may go and make seections of wines and liquors for table and medicinal uses. Such a place has been opened in Omaha at 1409 Douglas street, by Messrs. C. B. Connor & Co. They have put in the purest of wines, whiskies, brandles, cordials, etc. No adulterated liquors will be handled and all goods will be delivered in Omaha, Council Bluffs and South Omaha daily, free of charge. Persons unacquainted with this line of business cannot appreciate pure goods that few houses handle. Pure goods are more scarce than the adulterated. Every brand that is at all popular has an imitation, the imitation being put up in the same kind of bottle and case, with a label that so closely resembles the original that it is almost impossible for even the experienced eye to detect. Persons have been known to become sick after taking a wineglass fuil of some of these adulterated wines and in the face of the fact that the pure article costs only a triffe more than the imitation there seems no good reason why the purchaser should not insist upon having the pure un-adulterated article instead of whatever is handed Adulterated goods cost very little, but the retailer usually gets almost as much for them as does the retailer of the pure goods and one sale of the adulterated article brings in as much profit as a dozen sales of the pure.

C. B. Connor & Co. handle nothing but the purest, and ladies as well as gentlemen will find this firm always courteous and attentive to both purchasers and visitors. Give the pure goods a trial even if you do have to pay 15c or 25c per gallon more for them. You'll then find gallon more for them. You'll then find out the difference and thereafter wont buy your wines and liquors anywhere 1409 Douglas street will always handle pure and unadulterated goods.

Biggest in the World. The Omaha and Grant Smelting works, situated at the foot of Dodge street, is the largest smelting and refining plant in the world. The buildings cover thirty acres of ground and represent an outlay of $4,000,000. The works dispose of a large share of the ores mined in the avestern states, besides taking a large quantity from Mexico. Last year $100,000 was expended in put ting in a copper plant and in making repairs. Over 700 men are on the pay-roll and more than $10,000 per mouth are paid out in wages.

Her Ability Recognized. Mrs. Bishop Newman was very agreeably surprised yesterday by receiving a letter from New York city informing her that she had been elected a fellow of the American Geographical society of that city.

Mrs. Newman has traveled around the world with the bishop, and she is the only American lady who has ever traveled the en tire length of the valley of the Euphrates. She has taken great interest in taking notes during her extensive travels, and is there-fore admirably qualified to become a member of the American Geographical society.

Dr. McGrew, private diseases, 14th & Far The Line to Montana.

Many inquiries are being made about the extension of the Burlington system into Montana, but the officials give little definite information. It is learned from a contractor who has a section of the work in northern Wyoming that the branch into Buffalo will be ready for equipment and operation by June, while the main line will reach Sheridan by September 1.

Compare.

A careful comparison of Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring Extracts with the other flavoring extracts offered for sale, will convince any person that for strength, purity, delicate and natural flavor, Dr. Price's are far superior. Ladies of taste once having enjoyed the delicious flavor that is given to cakes, puddings, creams, etc., by Dr. Price's Vanilla or Lemon Extract, could not be induced to use any other.

We have completed our annual inventory, figured up our profits, (pocketed our losses), shook hands with ourselves on completing a very satisfactory year's business, thought over our mistakes, turned over a new leaf and resolved to make "92" a better year than "91." We find on going through our stock, as every house finds that pretends to do business, a number of "Odds and Ends"; you know what they are, broken lines, one suit of a kind, three or four of another, seven overcoats and "leven" pairs of socks and so on. While these goods are no better or worse than other goods in the store yet we regard them in the light of a nuisance, as ten to on ete man that likes them can't get fitted, and the man they'll fit don't like 'em. We'll do as we always do every year.
