pion bloviators of the earth, and as yet have done but little actual work in the ring, still, they are drawing crowds on both sides of the pond. Mitchell is undoubtedly one of the most scientific heavy weights in the world, and the man who can toy idly with him yet remains to be built. His fight with John L. Sullivan at Chantilly, France, though, cuts no figure with old judges of ring affairs, as it was simply a series of sprint races. He is a shrewd, calculating young man, smart enough to make lots of money as a fighter without fighting. Slavin is really a good man, too, as he has clearly demonstrated since his arrival from the antipodes, but the mass of stuff the press of the country has been running for the past to eat the great and only John L. gives al would be "in it" with Sullivan under Queens bury rules, only as all the rest of the wind-bags have been since that memorable day at Mississippi City about nine years ago. John L. remains yet today the only verifable pugilistic phenomenon the ring has ever produced. However, we'll all go out and see Chawley and Paddy just in order to take their size from a local standpoint. Dick Howell, the big Englocal standpoint. Dick Howell, the big Eng-lish bicycle rider, will spar three rounds with Slavin, and Jim Hightower with Mitchell, while Slavin and Mitchell will wind up. CHADRON, Neb., Jan. 4. - To the Sporting Editor of THE BEE: The account of my con-test with Hollywood in THE BEE was fine. They swear by THE BEE up in the Black Hills country. Please mail me several copies Hillis country. Please mail me several copies of the 17th. Well, Sandy, I have lots of backing up in this country by good respectable men, and if any 118 or 120 pound man can whip me they can ratira permanently, for all the Black Hills will go broke on me. have had a forfeit posted to fight Ed Myer of Streator, Ill., for some time. They will hang up a $800 purse for us, but it seems he is afraid. I will now fight Hogan or Van Heest. I wish you would mention this in THE BEE. Gallagher and I have invested a little money up here in Chadron and have opened the finest gymnasium in these parts. I think we will do well, as we have seventy-five members now, and they are increasing every day. I watch all sport in your paper, and thank you very much for your favors to me. DAN DALY.

Since the above was received Daly has been matched for a ten round contest with the Denver Kid, which comes off at Chadron some night next week.

Later information shows that Danny Daly has succeeded at last in making a match with Ed Meyer of Streator, III. The articles were signed Wednesday by Daiy, and together with $100 forfeit were forwarded to Meyer. The fight is set for February 16, at Deadwood and it is quite probable that a large delega-tion of Daly's Omaha friends will go up to see the mill. Alf. Kennedy, the backer of both Billy and Ed Meyer, gives it out cold that he and Billy will be at Deadwood with all the money Daly's triends will feel like cover-ing on the side. They will be all likelihood been playing fast and loose with Pittsburg. But Washington claimed him at Indiauspolis, and he will have to play there or retire Eimer Smith has been signed by Pittsburg and will probably succeed Lally in the out-field. He is a good enough man for any team. A hitter from away back, sprinter, and a fielder up with the best. More than all, he is a gentleman.

There are a few ball players who do not be-lieve in the Darwinian theory. In fact four or five young men who were very bright-to their own thinking-when they refused fat contracts several weeks ago, are now almost willing to bet they are descendants of jack -Ren Mulford.

Jack Rowe has retired and is now what the naughty minstrel boys would call "chief of chambermalds" in a Buffalo livery stable. He owns the place. Thus another of the "big four" has dropped out of the game. His last season's experience in the Western association was the straw that broke the dromedary's back.

Billy Traffley, says the Times-Star, is thinking of migrating to the Pacific coast and adds, that while Willie wore the red h was the champion pie eater of Ohio. In Kramer's chop house one night, after a par ticularly hard game in the afternoon, on OD B wager, Billy devoured fourteen regulation pies-apple, custard, current, mince and plumb

And now it is said that old Abner Dalrymple is a bold bad man, as well as a great bail player. He executed a mysterious disappearance from Milwaukee recently, bu has finally been unearthed way out in Ta coma, along with a petticoated compation who was sashshaying around as Mrs. Dal-rymple. The genuine Mrs. D., however, was the party who did the uncarthing, and the quasi wife, it is said, had her jaw dislocated by a swipe of the genuine article's good right tin. Then Abner implored forgiveness, a reconciliation was effected, and he returned east with the original on his claims for chertshment and love.

Dan Shannon writes that an effort is mak ing to prevent him from securing an engage-ment owing to the unfortunate Omaha busi ness last season. This should not be, as Shannon was less to blame for that fiasco than the officials of the defunct Omaha cluo, Shannon acted as any other player or manage would have acted under similar circumstances. Shannon says he has quite recov red from the ailment which handicappe him last season, and is now prepared to give any city in the proposed eastern and west-ern leagues a winning team for little money This is no idle boast, in view of Shannon' very successful career as a minor league man ager.-Sporting Life. The editor of the Sporting Life doesn't know what he is talking about, and there is not an honest and honorable manager in the country who would have acted like Shannor did. Mr. Richter probably does not know that Shannon was offered $1,000 cash by the Western association to take his team to Den-ver on the 12th of July, in addition to the promise of a very material raise in his sal-ary by the new management, despite the fact that he was already receiving about twice what he was worth. Shandon is absolutely unworthy of any sort of recognition by any of the Western association people, and what is more he will never receive any. He was the prime cause of the whole bust up. The Central, Eastern or Western associa tion on the lookout for men could get a valis-full of contracts right in Cincinnati and the same story is told in almost every city wherein ball players do dwell, says Ren Mulford. "Wild Bill" Widner is willing and anxious to go into the box once more and now that he is married he does nothing worse as phalt streets. than smoke cigarettes. Bob Gilks is a good all around man. When he was here Pal Powers declared that Gilks was the only man in the Rochester outfit last year who played good, honest, ball. Marr is another man on the market. Jin Keenan appears to be left out of the big cir cuit. There is no better man to handle th delivery of a young "skittish" pitcher, and if he should join forces with Jack Keenan, the battery of "K. and K." might make a hit. The North Pacific league keeps up its organization to the end and its reserve lis ius good, and that will take Jake Stenzel Theo. Marley and Kerr live in one of the best nunting countries near Omaha, and they say McGrow has been coming there for the past eleven years. Marley says that McGrew is the best jack snipe shot he ever saw, but when it comes to shooting geese the live decovs must duck their heads when Mac pulls np a gun. Dett and John, as the boys are known, say that they enjoyed their visit immensely, and concluded to leave the city tere. Marley is known now in his neighbor

Go around to the Omaha Wheel club's club house some evening when you have leisure time and have Gus Epeneter show you the plans for the new 10,000 club house. Last Tuesday's meeting was a "corker"-committees galore were appointed and busi-ness of interest to the clubmen was trans-acted with a genuine oid-time snap and vim. The great six-day race, which has jus finished at the Collseum, was a splendia chase-one of the best speed contests which Omaha people have ever witnessed. The professionals evidently meant business. Fifteen thousand spectators witnessed a series of amateur races in Melbourne, Aus-tralia, November 21, 1891. People in the antipodes evidently appreciate the amateur. The cash prize system prevails throughout the continent. Malty and Canary, the two great trick bi

Proposed Plan for the Holding of a "Fraternal Masonio Congress."

OBJECTS OF THE CONFERENCE OUTLINED

Election and Installation of the Officers Various Secret Organizations in the City and State-Lodge Room, Notes.

The grand lodge of Kentucky, at its recent annual session, approved the suggestion of Brother J. Ross Robertson, grand master of Masons in the province of Ontario, for the holding of a "Fraternal Masonic congress." Not only was a general approval given to the scheme, but a date was fixed for the proposed meeting, a place designated (Chicago), and delegates were chosen to represent the grand lodge of Kentucky in such a meeting. Evidenty this grand body believes strongly in the desirability of holding the congress, as it has entered into correspondence with sister grand lodges on the subject, calling their at-tention to the action taken by Kentucky and the propriety of calting such a convention The proposed congress, if held, will not be the first convention of the craft called to promote the general officiency and usefulness of the Masonic institution. A memorial con-vention looking to a confederacy or closer United States was held in Lexington, Ky., in 1853, and by adjournment in Washington, D. C., in 1855. Another representative gathering for similar purposes was held at Baitimore at a later date. A plan was pre-pared at Washington for confederate union and government, but it was not sanctioned by the older and stronger grand lodges and so came to naught. It was proposed in sub-stance to put the grand lodges of the country under guardianship-to make rules and restrictions and mark out courses of procedure for grand lodges, thus detracting from the dignity and authority of these bodies. It was felt that to accept the plan proposed would be to depart from the fixed principles of Masonic government and make an unworthy sacrifice of grand lodge sovereignty And so the conventions held nearly score years ago accomplished little or nothing of what was desired by their projectors.

The public installation held by the Masonic chapter of Fairbury was a very interesting and enjoyable affair. There was a large attendance and the beautiful and impressive ceremonies were much admired. G. L. Pritchett acted as installing officer. Coliner's orchestra was in attendance and a number of vocal numbers were charmingly rendered by Miss Mabel Haddock, Mr. W. O. Hambel, Miss Minnie Gribben and Mr. J. M. Hawkins. E. H. Hinshaw, in behalf of the Masons, presented J. J. Raymaker with a set of law books. Refreshments were served and dancing then followed until midnight. Marion chapter, R. A. M., of Oxford, ban-

Some one has started the story that there will be a competitive drill by Knights Templar commanderies at the triennial conclave at Denver, and that magnificent prizes will be given the winners. It is not believed anything of the sort will occur, for the gen eral sontiment age ____ Knights Templars is now against it. _____ exhibition arill for charity, like the one had at St. Louis is thought to be all light, but drills for prizes have always been productive of harm, by the ill feeling created between commanderies. If arrangements for such a drill are being made, the grand grand encampment will be asked to prohibit it.
