Arrangements Almost Completed for Sending Relief to Russia.

TO THE SEABOARD ABSOLUTELY FREE.

Railroad Officials More Than Willing to Do Their Share of the Good Work of Contributing to the Starying Foreigners.

LINCOLN, Neo., Jan. 15 .- Special to THE BEE, |-There is a luil in public business at the state house this week, but Governor Thayer and Commissioner Ludden are still actively engaged in the relief work for the benefit of the Russian peasantry, making arrangements for transportation of the dona tions from Nebraska points to the seaboard. The cars will be gathered by the B. & M. and Union Pacific roads and hauled to Omaha, From there they will be made up into two trains of thirty cars each and taken to Chicago over the Burlington route. From Chicago to the seaboard the Pennsylvania road will take one train and the New York Central the other. The transportation from the initial shipping point to the seaboard will be absolutely free.

In this connection Governor Thaver rebeived several letters of interest. One of these was from Chaunesv M. Depew, presi-dent of the New York Central, in which he anid that he had presented the matter of free transportation to a meeting of the Trunk Line executive committee. George Blanchard, chairman of the Central Tra association will have full charge of all arrangements for shipping, etc.

James McCrea, vice president of the Pennsylvania line, writes: "We will take great pleasure in forwarding, free of charge, from Chicago to New York thirty cars of corn which the people of Nebraska are sending, the understanding being that the other thirty cars will go east via the New York Central."
George C. Smith, assistant general manager of the Missouri Pacific, assures Governor Thayer that his company will cheerfully co-operate in the way of free transportation. Clay County's Generosity.

Clay county has already contributed one car load of corn for the Russian donation and today a letter was received by Secretary of State Allen from L. J. Titus of Harvard stating that the Russian farmers of Clay county would contribute another car load providing free transportation could be secured. Clay is the county, which, according to a letter published in an Omaha paper cally this week, was too poor to feed her own people to say nothing of feeding the hungry of another country.

Clerk Harrigton of Deel county reports a car load ready for shipment. J. M. Baker of DeWitt sends a $5.00 bill to Commissioner Ludden for the relief funds.

Gossip at the State House.

State Superintendent Goudy is confined to his rooms at the Lindell by signness. The auditor's department is doing a land office business this week with the county treasurers of the state. From ten to twenty a day are dropping in to make their annual settlements with the state, Secretary Johnson of the Board of Transportation, was in Omaha today on business connected with that department. Auditor Benton and Secretary of State

Allen today attached their signatures to 385 school bonds voted by the city of Omaha last November. Each bond is for $1,000 and they are to run twenty years at 5 per cent interest. Lost Two of His Toes, Might Have Been Serious.

A Missouri Pacific switch engine and a Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley pas-senger train collided at the crossing of the two roads in this city last right. Both engine and train were moving slowly or the accident might have been more serious. As it was, D. J. McMahon, a traveling man, was cut and bruised about the left cheek. He was standing near the door of the passenger coach ready to step off when the train pulled up at the platform. The collision threw him violently against the door. No other passengers were injured but all were thoroughly shaken up.

Lincoln's Water Supply.

A public meeting was held at the court house this evening to discuss the old prob-lem of the city's water supply. It has become a settled conviction with many citizen that Lincoln needs a more extensive wate works system. Opinion on the question as to how the system should be extended dif-fers. Some favor a new plant. At the meeting this evening Councilman Burns, chairman of the water works committee, pre-sented his views at length. He favored the construction of a water plant that would be city for a long time to come. He believed that a start on the new system should be made this season, and he backed up his state-ments with an imposing array of facts and

Getting Ready for the Fair.

Secretary Furnas of the State Board of Agriculture arrived in the city tonight and will in the morning open an office in the Lincoln hotel for the purpose of receiving entries for the state corn exhibit, which will be held in Grant Memorial hall, in this city. Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. In addition to the corn show a new and attractive fea-ture will be added in the way of a sugar palace from Grand Island. Seth P. Mobley will have the enterprise in hand, and will also make an excellent corn exhibit.

The State Board of Agriculture will hold its annual business meeting at University chapel, Tuesday afternoon, January 19. At this meeting officers will be elected, premium list made up, and other arrangements for the next annual exhibit made.

VENICE VISITED.

Mrs. Frazar Takes Her Tourists Through the Beautiful City.

The party of Omaha ladies and gentlemen who had such a pleasant itinerary Thursday evening "personally conducted" by Mrs. M. D. Frazar over historic Europe gathered together again last evening, with some additions, by the banks of the Arno to look over Italy's crown of intellectual cities—Florence.

Mrs. Frazar said when she presented the first view of that noted city that it had been rightly named the beautiful. The massive black and white carved marble entrance to the cathedrai was shown, also several bits of interiors. Pictures of landscape, statues, palaces and gardens were thrown upon the canvas and interesting stories connected with

After seeing everything worthy of note in boautiful Florence the journey was continued to Venice. As a birdseye view of that famous city was thrown upon the canvas Mrs. Frazar said that it was the one city in all the world. St. Mark's square, the pugeons being fed, and the church were quickly passed with a brief explanation.

The doge's palace, the entrance of which The doge's palace, the entrance of which contains the four largest specimens of Fifteenth century sculpture work in existence, was shown, and some interesting scraps of history related in connection with that ancient building. A picture of the statues of Mars and Neptune standing at the head of the giant staircase came next, and was followed by a view

the great council chamber.
The Bridge of Sighs, which connects the palace with the prison, came in for a large share of attention, and the speaker related several anecdotes of poor unfortunates who took their last look upon the earth while crossing that noted bridge. Mrs. Frazar told about the dungeons under water and gave a graphic description of them.

A photograph of the Royal lace factory followed and the speaker stated that lace could be bought there for from 50 cents to $500 a yard. Over 200 girls are employed in the factory and receive on an average is cents per day for their tiresome labor. After the lace factory came a picture of the public gardens which were built by Napoleon and the statement was made that all the earth used in the filling was brought om the mainland.

A trip along the grand canal was taken and palaces innumerable and all with a history shown. Next to what is now the Grand hotel stands the palace where Desde nona lived and where she was wooed and won by her dusky soldier Moor. Both the elegant hotel sud the famous palace were shown. After visiting the Arsenal, which is the main support of the Venetians, the party continued their journey to Lake Como. While sailing down this beautiful sheet of water the summer palace of the king of Beigium was passed, also one of the elegant white marble residences of the Rothschilds. There Mrs. Frazar left them and the interested voyagers over Europe emerged from St Mary's avenue church onto an Omaha side walk and home.

Western Traffic Association Affairs Did Not

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 .- Mr. Jay Gould was seen at the Windsor hotel and asked what truth there was in the report that he had retired from the Western Traffic association Mr. Gould replied tersely: "There is no truth in it. You must not believe all you hear." Mr. C. P. Huntington of the Southern Pacific railroad said, in reference to the story that Gould had tendered his resignation of a place in the Western Ttaffic association, that he was not present at the meeting when the question of cut rates came up, but he understood Mr. Gould was greatly irritated over what he deemed an injustice and had served the usual ninety days notice of withdrawal. Mr. Huntington said he did not believe the association would be disbanded as has been stated. He thought Mr. Gould was a man of great common sense and he was confident that the matter would be compromised.

He was not aware that the Southern Pacific had done anything wrong in the way of cutting rates. An appeal, nowever, had been made to the board of presidents, and until they passed upon the matter he could not say what course the Southern Pacific would pursue. Mr. Huntington admitted that if the case was decided adversely to his company the guilty party in his employ would have to go.

A local paper says the Western Traffic as sociation will in all probability break up within the next six months. A representative of one of the largest railroads in the association said after the meeting that in his opinion another meeting would never be heid. It is stated that the meetings at Wind-sor, supposed to be harmonious, were quite the reverse. On Monday, after some routine work had been done away with and several questions of appeal decided, Mr. Gould, who had so far been taking an anactive part in the proceedings remarked quietly that if some action was not taken in the cases of three roads which had been guilty of rate cutting, the Misrouri Pacific would be with-drawn from the association. The original offender in the charge of cutting was the South render in the charge of cutting was the Southern Pacific. The sugar rate was cut from $1.85 per 100 pounds to $1.65. The Atchison accepted this rate and passed the freight over its line. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy cut the rate on wool and this made a

There was no response from any of the guilty ones nor from Presiding Officer Miller. Thereupon Mr. Gould rose, picked up his hat and walked out of the room. After Mr. Gould retired the subject of the arraignment of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy in one case, the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe in another was ignored or passed over without action. It was said that they did not deny that they were guilty. Vice-President S. H. H. Clarke remained throughout Monday's session and watched the proceedings closel without comment. On Tuesday no actio was taken on the rate cutting cases and yes terday Vice-President Clarke served notice on the association that the Missouri Pacific railroad would withdraw in ninety days After throwing his bomb be straightway withdrew. The other members were start led and so much taken back that after only a few minutes talk a motion to adjourn was put and carried.

A prominent western railroad man who attended the meeting said to a reporter "No, I don't think we will ever meet again, As I take it, Mr. Gould has been fair. He simply demanded just treatment, but the trouble was this time that men involved in the rate cutting occupied too high places and the roads which they represent do not propose to discharge them.

or the roads which they represent do not propose to discharge them.

"The discharge of Vice-President Stubbs, of the Southern Pacific, and Thomas Miller, general freight agent of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, I understand, was demanded. Guilty roads apparently are not disposed to take their own medicine. Mr. Gould wanted them to live up to the agreement, the same as he had done.

'The outlook for the Western Traffic asso ciation was promising, but it now looks bad. Mr. Gould will have to take the subject of withdrawal before the board of directors of the Missouri Pacific, but of course his de cision will be ratified. I think that he will now endeavor to put his old scheme of a railroad clearung house through. He may have had a move of this kind on foot all along for all I know. The retirement of the Missouri Pacific from the Western Traffic association does not of itself mean the breaking up of the association, but the addi-tion of two other roads will make it actual disbandonment. Of course Mr. Sage will probably add the Iowa Central to the Mis-souri Pacific, and Mr. Gould's influence will add some other roads, thus leaving the asso ciation without a quorum. In any case the withdrawal of the Missouri Pacific road, it carried out, would leave so large a gap in the territory covered by the association that its break up would be only a matter of time."

DUN'S REVIEW FOR THE WEEK

Reports from Business Centura Show a Good Trade and Flattering Prospects.

NCREASED EXPORTS OF BREADSTUFFS

Money Easy and Dealers Well Supplied-Cold Weather Helps Trade in Many Sections-Wall Street for the Week-Clearing House Statements.

New Youx, Jan. 15,-R. G. Dan & Co's weekly review of trade says: It was suggested two weeks ago that the exports in December were likely to be extraordinarily large. The preliminary reports fust issued indicate that the rye exports in that month were probably the largest ever known, for while no increase appears in cottons and exports of provisions, cattle and oil were slightly less than a year ago, a gain of $20,-100,000 appears in breadstuffs, making the net increase in principal Items $17,540,854, or nearly 25 per cent, indicating that the aggregate exports for the month will probably exceed $116,000,000 against about $95,000,000 last year, when the amount was greater than it had ever been in any month. The exports of flour increased 50 per cent and exports of wheat are 15,600,000 bushels against 4,800,000 last year, while exports of cotton are 43,000,000 pounds greater in quantity, though no increase appears in value owing to the low prices. These enormous exports overshadow all other features in the commercial situation. They insure large sup-plies of money, if ever needed, but at present the markets are everywhere well supplied, except at southern points, and better supplied there than a week ago. The treasury disbursements have been large and there is no reason to look for a lack of supply of money. Another fact of large importance is that the output was not diminished in December as is usual, owing to the stoppage of furnaces during the holidays, but was 188,083 tons weekly, against 188,183 on December 1. The market is fairly active, though the enormous output gives buyers an advantage, and Alabama and Virginia are offered at low prices.

Favorable Reports from Business Centers. Copper is flat and in the there is little change, but lead is weak at $4.20, and the market for coal very dull on account of the very heavy output.

The wool propuction last year is estimated considerably larger than that of the year be-fore, but the stocks on hand are somewhat larger, indicating that the consumption in 1891 has been about the same as in 1890. The market shows no important change, and just at this season none is to be expected. Bad weather checks business at Boston. At Hartford wool is less active.

At Philadelphia no change appears in the important branches of trade.

At Baltimore exports of breadstuffs for the last six months of 1891 were in value $155, 989,193, a gain of more than $100,000,000 over the previous year.

Pittsburg reports no change in the iron market, though prices for finished iron are growing stronger.

At Cincinnati tobacco is in active demand and free orders are noticed for boots and

At Cleveland trade is larger than a year ago, though in some lines inactive, and the tide seems to have turned in pig iron ore. At Chicago sales of dry goods, clothing and shoes are larger than a year ago. Some in-crease is seen in barley, 25 per cent in cattle, a third in flour, core, oats and hides, while receipts of wheat and dressed beef are double last year's, but a decrease appears in cured meats, lard and cheese, and the wool eccipts are only half as large as a year ago. Trade Helped by Colder Weather.

Trade in St. Louis is helped by colder weather, and also at Milwaukee and St. At Minneapolis the flour output is 178,000 barrels for the week, against 110,000 a year

At Duluth sales in 1891 amounted to $20. ON,000.

At Nashville trade is quiet and money easier and at Little Rock and Montgomery trade is dult, while at New Orleans cotton shows some improvement and sugar is steady, with money in more active demand.

Depression of business in the south, on account of the low price of cotton, still con-Breadstuffs have been much weaker since the publication of the government reports, and wheat has fallen 1% cents, corn 1% cents and oats three-fourths of a cent. Exports and receipts continue large, though the colder and less favorable weather to some colder and less favorable weather to some extent restricts the movement. Coffee is unchanged and oil has advanced 3 cents. Cotton fell to 7.70 cents during the week, the lowest price for forty-three years, but has since recovered to 7.76 cents, though receipts and stocks are remarkably large. The depression at the south is not relieved by talk at the cotton convention, and probably cannot be in any way except by free sales of cotton, which is now held for higher prices.

Bearish Traders Show Activity in Attacking Prices-The Market Fairly Active. New Your, Jan. 15. -Bradstreet's weekly Wall street review says: The chief speculative feature of the past week was the increased influence of the professional street element, which, as usual, on any lull in the development of the market inclines to the bear side in its operations. The market has accordingly been fairly active, but the volume of the transactions is somewhat shrunken in comparison with the trading of the two preceding where and the general tendency of prices has been toward a slightly lower lever. Europe continues to manifest indifference toward the American markets, and its participation, thought unimportant, has been mainly in the direction of selling. This has not been in the direction of selling. This has not been without influence in abacking the further development of public interest in speculation, and the bearish traders have shown considerable activity in attacking prices. Some liquidation has accordingly resulted, though the chief declines have been confined to par-ticular stocks like Northern Pacific preferred, which seem to possess inherent causes for weakness. One of the principal levers used by the bears was the alleged dissatisfaction of Mr. Gould with the action of the Western Traffic association advisory board in refusing to mete out to some of the competing roads the same prompt punishment to which the Missouri Pacific was colleged to submit in the Leeds case. Influences of this nature would have little effect on speculative sentiment were it not that the recent rise has temporarily ex-hausted the buying power and left the market in what is termed an overbought condi-tion. Under such circumstances the absence of European support is severely felt, but it would seem that the bull leaders themselves concede the necessity of a reaction in prices, which would not only create a short interest, but afford a basis for a fur-ther advance. The underlying sentiment continues to be favorable to a higher range of prices, though it is conceded that uncertain conditions and possible declines may rule for some little time to come.

Insists it Was a retony. City Attorney Adams is very indignant over the action taken by the assistant county attorney in securing the dismissal of Norton Bros., who were under arrest on the charge of grand larceny of $1,741.15 from City Clerk John J. Ryan. Mr. Adams deciares that the Nortons are guilty of felony in keeping the bonds when they are fully aware that they were secured through a mistake, and he believes that they could be sent to the penitentiary for it.

The report that Norton Bros. have sold the $1,741.15 worth of bonds secured by them through an error on the part of City Clerk Ryan is declared incorrect by that official. He says that the bonds ile securely in the vault of the Packers' National bank and the injunction secured by him against Norton Bros. precludes any possibility of the bonds being sold. He ridicules the idea of the bonds being sold at all, as everybody now knows that they were obtained by mistake and that they really represent nothing, as the property owners will never pay the amount called for, as they have already paid for the grading.

Stole His Own Clothes. Robert Brown, a waiter at the Chambers chop house, was arrested vesterday for steal ing his own underclothes, and was sentenced to ten days in the county jail. Brown owed a bar bill which he was slow in paying and a garnishee was issued. Brown claims that the garnishee was for his wages. The two the garnishee was for his wages. The two witnesses against him claimed that it was for his clothes. Having a more remunerative position offered him elsewhere, Brown packed up his effects and 'left with them. Inside of an hour he was arrested on the charge of larceny, as it was claimed that it was the goods that were garnisheed. Chambers appeared were garaisheed. Chambers appeared against him and he was convicted. Brown declares that Chambers' actions were prompted merely by spite work, as he wished the waiter to remain in his service. Figuring on a Big Job to Accommodate

of the Traffic.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE BEE, CHICAGO, ILL., Jan. 15. The executive committee of the World's fair directory has apparently just discovered that there are two halves of the problem of World's fair transportation, and that the getting of the crowds from Chicago to the fair grounds is the smaller half. The other and as it now appears to the directory, the larger half of the problem is how to get the crowds into Chicago. President Baker really seems to believe that the two Illinois Central tracks, carrying 30,000 persons per hour can, with the assistance of the cable roads and the lake route, do all the business satisfactorily. Rairoad men in the directory disagree with Mr. Baker on this as on many other points. They object to the settlement offered by Mr. Baker as giving the Illinois Central a monopoly and as being therefore unfair to the roads which they represent. It is stated by a prominer, rairoad official who is stated by a prominent railroad official who has, conjointly with other roads, made a thorough canvass of the World's fair transportation problem, that the twenty railroads of Chicago will spend an average of $500,000 each on increased station facilities, new rolling stock and other equipments necessary to handle World's fair traffic. This means a total expenditure of $10,000,000. Anticipating a Shortage.

An official financial statement of the resources and liabilities of the Exposition resources and liabilities of the Exposition company, just issued by the publicity and promotion department, shows that $6,000,000 more than is in sight will be needed before May, 1898, and the directors are figuring how they will get the necessary money in case congress faits to make the appropriation requested. It is thought in the latter contingency local is thought in the latter contingency local capitalists would probably loan it and take control of the fair with a first mortgage on the gross gate receipts. The field of absolute conjecture is entered, and with no rule to guide the judgment, a verdict is reached by pure, and frequently by most generous, guessing."

Banker E. S. Dreyer, in his investigations into the management of some of the Chicago eleemosynary institutions, has given a new meaning to the maxim that "charity covers a multitude of sins." Among other things a set of thrifty solicitors has been discovered who do a brokerage business among wealthy men in behalf of so-called charity organizations and retain 40 per cent for the trouble.

Doctors disagree. They have to. There are differences of opinion among the best; there will be so long as knowledge is incomplete. But there is one subject on which all physicians are completely in accord, and that is the value of cod-liver oil in consumption and scrofula, and many other conditions in which the loss of fat is involved. And cod-liver oil has its greatest usefulness in Scott's Emulsion.

There is an interesting book on the subject; sent free.
