THE DAILY BEE E. ROSEWATER, EDITOR

4

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

10	TERMS	OF 1	T'B?	CR	1P	ΓI	03	٩.
Pall	y Bee (with)	mt S	anda	4) 1	me	Y	ea	۴.		٩,
12411	y and sundi	17.01	112 1 1	2998.9	10.00	10.0
EIX N	onths							66	£94	13
Thre	e Months.	12.00		1.464	10.00		ι.	17
Fund	lay lice, One	e Yez	F			80	1.4	11
Entu	rdny Bee, (me Y	ear.		11.7			16.0	ere i hty Ren the OFFICES.

Ómaha, The Bee Building. South Omaha, corner N and 20th Streets. Conneil Builds. 12 Pearl Street. Chlearo Offlee, 3.7 (hamber of Commerce. New York, Rooms 1', 14 and 13, Tribune Building Washington, 313 Fourteenth Street.

CORRESPONDENCE. All communications relating to news and politorial matter should be addressed to the Editorial Department.

BUSINESS LETTERS.

All business letters and remittances should be addressed to The Ree Publishing Company, Omaha. Drafts checks and postoffice orders to be made payable to the order of the com-ners.

The Bee Publishing Company, Proprietors THE BEE EUILDING.

SWORN STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION.

ate of Nebraska County of Douglas. Sec. B. Tzschuck, secretary of The BEE ublishing company, does solemnly swear int the actual circulation of THE DAILY BEE or the week ending January 23, 1892, was as Ge Monday, Jan. 18 Tuesday, Jan. 10 Wednesday, Jan. 20, Thorsday, Jan. 21, Friday, Jan. 22 Saturday, Jan. 23 23.54

10.12

24,112 Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 23d day of January. A. D. 1892. SEAL. N. P. FEIL. Notary Public.

NEBRASKA'S contribution to Uncle Sam's war equipment is the Patrick torpedo with a hair-trigger attachment.

ARBITRATION cannot excuse an insult though it may determine the amount of incemnity requisite to the victims of the insult.

THE Missouri and Kentucky colonels are holding themselves ready and our gallant Nebraska brigadiers are beginning to burnish their armor, but-

THREE engines were wrecked at the Tenth street depot yesterday, but unfortunately the wooden shed called a Union depot escaped without a scratch.

ON TO Chili, cries General Colby, but the Nebraska militia did not enlist for a South American campaign. It is altogether too warm down there in winter time.

ONE of the questions that is puzzling the democratic mind is, Will Mr. Cleveland withdraw? That will depend very much upon whether Mr. Cleveland wants to withdraw.

IN THE intense excitement that now prevails around the national capital the fact has almost been overlooked that there is a vacancy to be filled on the United States supreme bench.

GORMAN and Gibson, Hiscock and Hill, Perkins and Peffer, Coke and Chilton are the alliterative pairs in the United States senate from Maryland, New York, Kansas and Texas respectivoly.

ONE of the adjuncts of reciprocity with the central and South American republics is to be the pan-American silver

THE QUESTION OF ARBITRATION. Can the United States government, with a due regard for its honor and dignity, agree to submit to arbitration any one of its demands on Chili? These demands are for the withdrawal of the offensive letter of the ex-minister of foreign affairs, Senor-Matta, an apology for the outrage on American seamen wearing the uniform of the navy, and indemnity. Two things are primarily to be considered. One is that our government is committed to the principle of arbitration between the nations of this hemisphere. It was the United States that proposed in the pan-American conference to establish this principle between the countries there represented. This would seem to impose a moral obligation upon this country to accept arbitration in any case that would not involve a compromise of national honor and dignity. The other thing is that Chill declined, through its representatives in the pan-American conference, to accept arbitration as unconditional and obligatory, the Chilian delegates formally declaring that they were "unwilling to entertain the illusion that any conflict which may directly affect the dignity and honor of a nation shall ever be submitted to the decision of a third party." This, while not excluding Chill from the privilege of proposing arbitration, would seem to deprive her of all claim to a favorable consideration on the part of the United States of such a proposal.

Of course, the question of the withdrawal of the Matta letter and the demand for an apology cannot be submitted to arbitration. No third party could be permitted to decide whether or not this government was insulted by the communication of the Chilian ex-minister of foreign affairs and whether or not this government is entitled to an apology for the outrage upon its citizens. These are matters which it is the absolute privilege of the injured government to determine for itself. Is the matter of the attack on the sailors of the Baltimore at Valparaiso a proper subject for arbitration? They wore the uniform of the United States navy, and in the opinion of the president they were assaulted, not for anything they had done, but "for what the United States government had done, or was charged with having done, by its civil officers and naval commanders." In was therefore in effect an attack on the government. Is it not obvious, from this point of view, that the dignity and honor of the government are involved in this affair, and that consequently, according to the Chilian view of two years ago, it is not a matter to be submitted to the decision of a third party. The United States could perhaps afford to be magnanimous, for the sake of a wholesome example, and allow it to take that course, but manifestly Chili has no right or claim to expect such consideration. There is really but one question in connection with this complication for which arbitration may properly be urged, and that is the question of indemnity. A third party may be necessary to a fair and just determination of the pecuniary damage, but the government of the United States could not without self-humiliation that would lower it in the respect of the world submit to arbitration a question in which injury to its dignity or honor is involved. will commend itself to all who are familar with the horrors of steerage passage

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE: WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 27, 1892.

RECENT correspondence between the State and Treasury departments has brought out the fact that a large number of assisted immigrants have been coming to the United States from Great Britain. It appears that the British government has been in the habit of commuting the comparatively insignificant pensions paid to veterans of the British army, providing they would agree to emigrate and sign a contract not to again apply for relief in the British empire. These men have been in the habit of coming to the United States, and many of them have become a public charge. The acting secretary of the treasury, in a letter to the secretary of state, says that it appears to be the established practice of the British War office, particularly in case of invalids and disabled pensioners, to commute their pensions and pay them a lump sum, on the condition that they shall thereafter reside in some other country. usually the United States, and that the lump sum is not paid in Great Britain. but is forwarded to the British consul at New York or other port of arrival, to be paid to the party on landing, and when it is presumably certain that he will no longer be a burden upon the revenues of Great Britain. Two cases of this kind recently came to the knowledge of the immigration officials, and it is the intention of the Treasury department to deal summarily with all such immigrants hereafter, and treat them as assisted immigrants within the provisions of our statutes. SENATOR WASHBURN of Minnesota struck a hornets' pest when he introduced the anti-option bill. There is a general uprising all along the line from Minneapolis to Duiuth, and remonstrances are pouring in upon the senator from all quarters. One of the most vigorous protests comes from a leading grain dealer in Minneapolis, who makes the following assertion: Without an open market in which grain can be sold freely and in nurestricted quantities it is my belief that the handling of grain from the producer would be so impaired and interfered with and the risk so great that the parties dealing directly with the producer in self-protection would be com pelled to make so wide a margin of difference between the present prices at terminal markets and the price paid in the country that the producer would suffer, as against the present system of doing business, to an extent of not less than 5 cents per bushel on the crop of wheat growp. I say this from our own experience in the business and from our knowledge of what we personally would be compelled to do if we could not daily sell for some fature time the grain purchased in the country, which we are absolutely unable to move forward from the lack of transportation facilities this season. To illustrate: We buy today in the country 70,000 bushels of wheat: we only get cars to move 20,000 bushels, leaving 50,000 bushels remaining on our hands unsold and unprotected, subject to a decline in values, or we must sell it for such a future time as will enable us to get it into market for delivery. Now, it would be an injury and legitimate business would suffer in case of an abolition of an open market for the sale of grain for future delivery to an extent so great that the injury that may possibly arise from unlimited speculation would be insignificant in comparison.

SENATOR CHANDLER'S bill requiring the owners of steamships to provide enlarged space for emigrants and surround them with greater comforts than are now accorded to steerage passengers lines provide commodious quarters for steerage passengers, but the majority of them simply endeavor to stow away

1,000 to 2,000 human beings in space that scarcely affords breathing room for half that number. One of the most commendable provisions of the senator's bill is the requirement that every steamship or vessel that carries passengers shall have adequate provisions for list in the case of a grocery store includes many articles." The banners containing the inscription ach heing put up in all the retail stores of the aily by the producers' associaion. It shows loyalty. It proves the genulneness of the desire to build up home manufacturing." It's the right kind of a spirit. It is exactly what the Journal has been trying to impress on the minds of Sioux City people. Our people are loyal to home interests-no people more loyal-but too much stress caunot be laid upon this sort of demonstration. It builds up manufacturing. It encourages the men who have their money invested. It makes all the difference in the world if you feel that you have the sincere, solid backing the community, that every man doing all he can to sustain you and that at least your presence in business is not forgotten. High sounding resolutions on paper are very nice and elaborate organization may serve good purposes, but after all fine words butter no parsnips. How many comparatively small manufacturing plants, employing from five to twenty-five men, are there here in Sloux City that if thoughtfully encour aged by possible local patronage would double and treble the number of their employes within a year! A greater number than you fancy if you have not inquired into it. Let it go out to too world that we are the kind of people who to a man stand by those who invest their money and employ labor here, that such are absolutely sure of our patronage, and that when manufacturers make their home here they get the home market-do this, and is there anything that would be more potent in inducing legitimate enterprises to come to us! Other cities are agi tating this policy, and why not we!

Hard to Tell What's Happened. Fremont Flafl.

Some of the papers of the state have been claiming that young Mr. Hitchcock has embraced democracy. Haraly! While it is very true that Miss Democracy in this state is small, effeminate and spare waisted, as compared with her political sisters, any effort of the spindle-shanked Hitchcock to embrace her would result much as in the case of the 125-pound lover with his 300-pound girl; he would be required to embrace an arc and make a chalk mark and yet, while embracing her at piecemeal, the outiving districts would freeze out. Oh. no! Hitchle could not embrace democracy but she could easily embrace him. And probably that is "the way the land lies."

Room for More. Chicago Herald.

The peace-at-any-price party, formerly composed of Frances E. Willard, James G. Blaine, the Grace brothers of New York, Nitrate King North of London, and the New York Board of Trade and Transportation, has received a recruit. The Single Tax club of Chicago has joined it. It now represents prohibition, womanly horror of bloodshed. political duplicity, the love of the owners of nitrate beds for their dividends, the cowardice of New York commerce and the moonlight theories of Henry George. There is yet room for the greenbackers and the Keeley club.

> The Deadly Stove. Philadelphia Record.

A railroad wrock near Chicago on Friday last was followed by the cars taking fire from the sloves; and but for the efforts of the nninjured passengers several persons might have met with borrible deaths. The very frequency of such occurrences seems but to make railroad corporations more determined to continue a system of heating their cars which does not rise above the level of the methods on a canal boat.

> America's Ancient City. Detroit Free Press.

With electric and cable cars, steam threshers, steam plows and the prospective utilization of mechanical motive power on the ceneral highways, what a tumble the market for horses and mules must ultimately take. Yet Detroit loyally clings to equine transit and cannot be blamed if horse dealers have to the interment. A local physician had been called in when Hill was stricken with the grip, and no one was admitted to the sick chamber. When Hill's death was announced, chamber. When Hill's death was announced, but little time elapsed before the body was

The rumor that Hill is still alive has been intensified by the report that he has been within the past few days on Fourteenth street. New York, in company with a woman whose name has been closely connected with his defaication. As Hill's life was insured for $20,000 a few days before he was said to have died, the company's agent in this city was proparing to pay the claim. Now he has announced that this will not be done until satisfactory proof of death is given

The result of the allegations is that it has een decided to open the grave and ascertain whether it contain's Hill's body or a dummy It is expected that this will be done today The local lodge of the Royal Arcanum is doubly interested in this, as they allege that Hill committed suicide. If the coffin really holds Hill's body, they may demand an in vestigation to be made to ascertain if he killed himself.

Bank Examiner Stone concluded his in yestigation into Hill's acts yesterday. Ho found that Hill had stolen $50,000 from the Jamesburg bank. The stockholders are to be held liable for $15,000 over the amount realized from Hill's available assets. A vote taken by the stockholders on the question of bank continuance resulted in a tie.

Coal Production of Illinois.

SPRINGPIELO, III., Jan. 26 .- The tenth an nual report of coal production in Illinois pre pared by the state bureau of labor statistic has just been issued for the year ending July 1, 1891. The output for the year, 15,660,698 tons, is greater than that of any proceeding year by 321,860 tons of tump cosl, the appar ent increase being much more owing to th fact that the statistics cover all other grades The average valuation is substantially the same as for 1890, the difference being a decline of 1.09 cents per ton.

Bell Telephone Case Extension.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 26 .- Justice Cott in the United States court has granted the ap plication of the defendants, giving them to October I to put in testimony in the case of the government vs. the Bell Telephone com-Dany.

SAID TO BE FUNNY.

Boston Herald: "I'm so sorry," said Mrs. Parvenu, b'dding good night to her guests after the reception, "that the storm kept all our best people away."

Washington Star: Obesity may be no social disqualification, but it is undoubtedly bac form.

New York Herald: "I have just learned ference between a vase, a vahs and vanze." "How do you distinguish them?" "Anything that costs less than 59 cents is a vase, between 50 cents and $7 is a vals, over $7 is a vanze."

Indianapolis Journal: "What do you know about American institutions, anyway?" "American institutions?" retorted the an-archist orator. "I'm one of 'em."

A LITERARY MISHAP.

Washington Star. In a turbid yein of humor he injected wit on

And (to follow out the figure) tried a hypoder inic lay. Alas, for the experiment: through some un-

He hasn't yet recovered from its anæsthetie

New Yors Sun: Diggs—"If the coat fits you put it on." must be an Americanism. Figgs—Why? Diggs—It certainly wouldn't have any ap-plication to an English-made coat.

New York Herald: The Court-You wish to withdraw your offensive statement: that the Sharpe, Esq.-I do, your honor. The Court-On what grounds? Sharpe, Esq.-I deem it incompetent Immaterial.

Somerville Journal: "And now there's the devil to pay!" exclaimed the newspaper man-neer late Saturity afternoon. And out of the cash drawer he took $2.50.

Yonkers Statesman: Mrs. Crimsonbeak-What is a paste diamond, John? Mr. Crimsonbeak-Why, a preste diamond, my dear, is one that they "stick" people with Louisville Courier-Journat: Dr. Keeley appears to be in bad o for with the other doctor, since he gave away the asafertida secret.

Cloak Review: He-You insist on my get-ting my life insured before we are engaged? She-Yes, even before you ask papa. interfere in the prosecution of her suit, her

Savannah News: French duels with the Oriental Countries Will Have Magnificent Exhibits at the Exposition. ITALY WILL ALSO BE ON HAND

Rules Already Formulated for the Agricultural Department-A Young Woman After Part of the Late Actor Florence's Estate.

> CILICAGO BUREAU OF THE BEE. Curcago, Ita., Jan. 26,

From Turkey, Egypt, Algiers, Tunis, Mo rocco and Bulgaria the exposition managers expect to receive a series of interesting exhibits. Dr. Cyrus Adler, special World's fair commissioner to the countries mentioned, has returned to Chicago after an absence of fifteen months. Each of these countries, Commissioner Adler said, would, either through its government, or private agencies, have special buildings of characteristic architecture on the grounds. When Mr. Adler was sent to the Orient his instructions were to work up exhibits. This he has done, and in the special building to be provided, he says, there will be, among other things, artisans engaged in the manufacture of the different classes of products known in the countries they represent. The plan is to have the display made in villages, and in some as high as fifty six workmen will be employed in illustration of the manufacture of native goods. The king of Italy has at last officially rec ognized the fair. A cablegram has been re-ceived from Vice President Bryan in which he said that the king had accorded an audience to Mr. Higginbotham and himself, and after receiving them with cordiality decided to appoint au official commission to the expo sition. It is believed that this will be lowed by an appropriation from Italy, ai-though that country has for years refused to participate in international expositions, delining on the score of economy. Chief Buchanan of the department of agriculture has issued rules for the guidance of intending exhibitors at the World's fair in that department. These rules have been approved by all the necessary authorities. Articles intended for exhibition will be ad mitted to the agricultural building on and after November 1, 1893. All exhibits except those of a perishable character must be osition on or before April 20, 1893. Vege tables and other perishable products will be admitted during their season and may be re-placed with fresh specimens, when found necessary, by obtaining a special permit from the chief of the department.

A number of florists who make chrysanthemums their specialty met at exposition headquarters and talked about sbandoning the annual crysanthemum shows all over the country and holding a national show in Chi-cago in 1893. The horticulture building at the fair was thought to be the most desirable place for the exposition.

Claims to Be Florence's Daughter.

A San Francisco dispatch received here says: Miss Florence Halt will soon bring suit in the supreme court of this city to obtain her share of an estate left by the late William J. Florence, who died last November. The estate is reputed to be worth betwee $250,000 and $300,000, all of which he left his wife. The late Mrs. Hall reared Miss Hall with her own three girls and one boy. She told Miss Florence several years ago that she was not her mother, but that her father was W. J. Florence, the actor. Miss Hall was born in this city twenty-three years ago W. J. Florence was here about that time. Mrs. Hall told her foster child that she would not say then who her muther was but as sured her that Florence was her father, and even went so far as to show checks which she claimed the actor had sent her for the sup-port of Florence. Mrs. Hall, during the lat-ter years of her life, kept a lodging house on Post street, between Kearney and Grant avenue, and Miss Florence lived with her as her daughter and went to school. She as sisted Mrs. Hall in conducting the lodging house and left San Francisco about three years ago and opened a lodging house in Butte, Mont. She subsequently went to Chi-cago, where she has resided ever since. Owing to the fact that she has several rela tives in this city whom she does not wish to

ALL ARE COMING TO THE FAIR | spring scales, toid the council committee on judiciary that be know it to be a fact that judiciary that be know it to be a fact that there was a trust among the scale men and that the Fairbanks, Howe and Buffalo companies were its members. The Hussey Manufacturing company of Pittsburg began suit in the United States circuit court against the McCormick barvest-ing machine company of this city alleging in fringement of the patent of the complainant's mowing machine. An interesting fight in litigation will probably be the result as the complainant company has fought William Deering & Co, on the same issue in the east ern courts and upheld the patent in that suit Mrs. Minnie Steinbrecher, wife of Charles Steinbrecher, the millionaire real estate owner and quarryman of No. 296 Northwest-ern avenue, thought Mrs. Ida Haid, a pretty widow, hait alienated the affections of her husband, so she called and took a shot at her with a revolver preliminary to divorce proceedings which she says she will begin. Mrs. Haid was not hit and Mrs. Steinbrecher was not arrested.

Doctors say the hydrant water is filled with microbes of typhoid, of winter cholera and of pneumonia, and unless it improves or the people quit its use in a raw state at once, a terrible epidemic will be upon the city. County Agent C. O. Williamson has un-earthed a system of petty peculations in connection with the distribution of the charities of his office by means of which the coal atended for the poor who are unable to even purchase fuel has been diverted to the bene

It of threves. Johnny Van Heest, the wicked little featherweight, knocked out Jack Williams, who had an advantage of twenty pounds in weight, in a private ciub room on State street The fight was reduct from start to finish and in the fifth round Williams was unable to hear the call of time.

Western People in Chicago.

The following western people are in the city At the Sherman-J. H. Powers, Cornell, Neb.; F. C. Ayer, Omaha. WILL BUILD TO OMAHA.

Atchison's Interest to Be Guarded by a

Through Line From Chicago. CHICAGO, III., Jan. 26.-J. F. Tucker, for a number of years connected with the Chicago, Mitwaukee & St. Paul road as assistant coneral manager, has been elected vice president and general manager of the Chicago, Ft. Madison & Dos Moines. It is proposed to push the line to Das Molnes and thence by as direct a route as possible to Omaha. The execution of this scheme will greatly enhance the importance of the Atchison system by giving it a through line between Chi cago and Omaba. Novertheless, it is asserted that the Atchison is not financially interested to the extent of one dollar in the new corpor-A director of the Ft. Madison road said today the line would probably be completed to the Missouri river before the end of the year.

BEET SUGAR PRODUCERS.

They Form an Association and Will Meet in Omaha Next Year.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 26.-The American Beet Sugar Producers association was formed here yesterday with Henry L. Oxnard of San Francisco, president, Thomas R. Cutler, vice president, James R. Coffin, secretary. Every beet sugar manufacturing in the United States was repre sented. The object of the association is to encourage the development of the beet sugar industry in the United States. New beet sugar corporations will be invited to join as they may be formed. The meeting ad journed to meet in Omaha January 25, 1893.

Ah There, Commissioner Dumont!

OMAHA, Jan. 26 .- To the Editor of THE BEE: Our new mayor can convert every citizen of Omaha to republicanism and Bemisism by making it possible to navigate without ploughing through mud.

Mud has it uses and its places, but should be kept within proper limits. It should not be used to decorate men's trousers and ladies' skirts, nor should it be permitted to hide from view our fine pavements, which have been our boast, for which we paid so roundly and which we so constantly pray to be allowed to use. It is a burning shame that such a state of affairs should be allowed to exist, compelling all pedestrians to do violence to their religious principles. Cleanliness is next to godliness—can we not more nearly attain to the realization of dollar. Its size is not yet determined. but it will probably have to be as large as the American pancake.

WHETHER it be called the Chicago, Fort Madison & Des Moines or the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe is immaterial to people in Nebraska, so long as it gives us a Santa Fe railway connection with Chicago, and ultimately a Santa Fe line between Superior and Omaha.

SINCE Roger Q. Mills was defeated for speaker, Colonel Jones of the St. Louis Republic has been rampantly and uproariously mad. He has seen nothing to admire anywhere and it is consequently no surprise to find him snorting over the president's message just as if it were a personal affront to himself.

MILWAUKEE only spent $5,000 in her effort to get the democratic national convention. Milwaukee is certainly to be congratulated. She got off very cheap in view of the attractions at Washington and the heavy draught on Milwaukee's favorite beverage by the thirsty members of the national committee.

IT WOULD be something like retributive justice if the negroes should carry Louisiana in the coming election. There is a possibility of such a result, too, with the lottery question dividing both republicans and democrats. If the negroes throw their strength against the lottery they will come very near annulling the new constitution formed and enacted ospecially for their disenfranchisement.

HIGH license has struck Mississippi and threatens to vacate two-thirds of the saloons in that state. The new law just enacted fixes the license for small towns in the country districts at $700 and the minimum in towns of over 2,000 inhabitants is $1,500. The law is very stringent in all its details, but the most novel attachment to the Mississippi high license law is a provision that no saloonkeeper shall be permitted to sit on a jury, and being a liquor dealer is justifiable cause for challenge.

THE next annual meeting of the American Beet Sugar Producers association will be held in Omaha, January 25, 1893. This organization was formed in San Francisco on Monday last and is composed of the representatives of all the beet sugar manufacturing companies in the United States. When the convention meets in Omaha next year there should be a large increase of membership caused by the establishment of numerous new factories. In this connection it may be well once more to remind the indifferent people hereabouts that Omaha is the geographical center of what will be the greatest sugar beet growing region in the world within twenty-five years. Whether she shall also be the commercial center of the beet sugar industry depends upon the of establishing closer relations with this anterprise of her people.

ENGLISH INFLUENCE RESPONSIBLE If not clearly apparent now it will doubtless be ascertained later on that English influence is very largely responsible for the perverse course of the Chilian government regarding the demands of the United States. That influence is very strong in the southern republic. English capital is very largely interested in the nitrate beds which Chili became possesed of through her war with Peru, and from which the government derives a considerable part of its revenues. In other departments of Chilian commerce, also, English capital has been extensively invested, and indeed this foreign capital probably plays the largest part in the financial and business affairs of the republic. The representatives of English bankers, manufacturers and merchants are therefore enabled to exert a great influence, hostility toward the United States that no Chilian government would venture to consider any proposal for closer commercial relations between the two govern-ican competition, the profitable advantion, of course with England, as a "neu passions and allay the irritation caused by the disturbance of friendly relations.

and when this takes place the Chilfan people may not only learn to respect the United States more than ever before, but may see the value and importance country.

tral nation," in view as arbitrator.

not only with those in trade, through whom they can reach the people, but as well with members of the government. No other alien element in Chili is as influential as the English.

There is strong reason to believe that this element has held out the promise to the Chilians that in the event of a war with the United States Chili could depend upon the assistance of England. ways been the more generous of the two The misstatements of the case of the since 1861. United States by the Valparaiso corre-DR. CLARKE GAPEN belongs to the spondent of the London Times, the school of physicians who know how to misrepresentations regarding the conget free advertising without infringing duct of the American minister upon the inhibitions of the professional from the same source, and the code of ethics. persistent effort to put the Chilian goverament in the most favorable light be-

SILICON plaster and liquid slating are fore the public of England furnished closely related. This explains why the conclusive evidence of how the sympanatural slating ordered for the Kellom thy of the English element in Chili school was completely outgeneraled by stood. Its motive was wholly mercenary. the counterfeit. ft did not desire war. It believed that the United States government As soon as Chili heard that Brigadier would not go to war to enforce General Colby and the first brigade of its demands, and that at the last Nebraska National guards were ready moment would accept an arbitration of for war she surrendered at discretion. the difficulty. What this element wanted was to create such a feeling of popular

THE county commissioners can adopt no better rule than one which shall provide for the publication in detail of every claim allowed by that body.

A SEARCHING investigation of the Kellom school contract from the foundation to the tin roof would probably reveal some interesting facts.

BIRKHAUSER of Omaha, has the Botkin brand of back bone. He may die, Substance vs. Shadow. Philadelphia Record. Milwaukee had the most froth, but Chi-

No Use for the Stuff. New York Telegram. Chicago's liability to water famines is not Sionx City Journal. It is said that in many Des Moines retail stores there is constituously displayed this inscription: "We sell the following Des Moines made goods. Ask for them." The look for another job. Some of the transatlantic steamship The Thugs of the Southland.

Giobe-Democrat.

The Chilians, like all other semi-barbarous people, are treacherous, brutal and quarrelsome. They are the bullies and swaggerers of South America. They are ignorant and vain, and their successes in conflicts with their neighbors have impressed them with the belief that they can whip the United States.

Train the Guns on the Enemy. York Times.

affording light and air to the passen-Republicans have enough on hand to keep them busy without quarreling among themger decks and to each of the cabins, compartments and spaces occupied by selves. If they do up the independents and democrats they may congratulate themselves. We hope the editorials in our leading papers will be directed at the enomy.

A Point to Be Remembered. Grand Island Independent.

Republican candidates should not be elected simply because they are republicans, but for the reason that they are bonest, energetic, capable and fit men. Nominating conventions should keep this fact in sight.

> Save the Men. Washington Star

Nobody can blame the dear girls for petitioning the president not to advise war with Chili. Even in these peaceful times there are not men enough to supply the feminine demand.

BURIED A WAX FIGURE.

Charge That an Embezzler Supposed to Be Dead Still Lives.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 26 .- A meeting of stockholders of the Jamesburg bank, whose cashier, T. Wilson Hill, has been de clared an embezzler for a large amount by Bank Examiner Stone, broke up in the greatest disorder upon receipt of information alleged to be reliable, that Hill is not dead. and that a wax figure was placed in the coffin which was believed to contain his Some credence was placed in the body. story when the fact was recalled that no one but Hill's immediate family were present at small sword are seldom illustrated with cut except in the papers next morning

Chleago Times: The grip has invaded Mex-ico and there is a possibility that Garza may be caught by something at fast.

Augusta Chronicle: "The Giri Who Took My Eye" is the title of an article. Her name must have been 'Cinda.

HOW DEAR TO THE HEART. Boston Jester.

How dear to the heart are the jokes of our childhood, when sau recollection presents them to

The musty old jokes that we learned in the eradle. And every grim joke that our infancy knew. he family jokes, and the jokes in the paper. The jokes that the men at the store used to

The almanac jokes, and the jokes of the And all the old jokes that we all knew so

Those heary old chestnuts, those grizzly old ose moss-covered chestnuts that people still teil. Thos

There's that joke on the feet of the girls in Chicago. And those multiform jokes on the mother-in-law: There's that joke prehistoric and antedflu-

On the bean that delights the Bestonian

On the bean that delights the Bostonian maw;
There's the joke on the man who calls up for the keyhole:
The joke on the plumber's unlimited ersh;
The annual joke on the coy Easter bornet;
The joke preprinceval on boarding-house hash;
Those moldy old chestnuts, those wormseaten chestnuts,
That best are described by a vigorous ----,

And those other old jokes, all too many to mention, That were here on the earth ere the coming of man; Those toothiess, decrepit, and shriveled old hestnuts:

chestnuts: All conturies old ere creation began. Those jokes cotaneous with old man Me-thuselah. Which Noah at night in the ark used to tellt se gringy old grinds that away back in Eden. The

O'er Adam and Eve threw their magical Those grave-scented cliestnuts, those petrified

Those corpsy old chestnuts that people still

Koyal Baking Powder Is Superior to Every Other

The United States Official Investigation

Of Baking Powders, recently made, under authority of Congress, by the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., furnishes the highest authoritative informa tion as to which powder is the best. 'The Official Report Shows the ROYAL to be a cream of tartar baking powder, superior to all others in leavening power (U. S. Dept. Agricult'e). Buildin 13, p. 599.

the ideal ! Surely there are laws enough, or-dinances enough, reasons enough. Cleanly, dinances enough, reasons enough. Cleauly, inviting thoroughfares will affect us all more secret. There striging facial resemblance between Miss directly, if not more vitally, than any other reform that might be instituted. If we have Florence and the late Mr. Florence, and there is no resemblance between her and the Hall o power to accomplish this let us surrender children.

ear to ear, severing the jugular and windpipe.

Chester declares that himself and a compan ion were attacked by Casin and two brothers named Grutchsen, and that the purpose of Eloped with a Chinaman.

Pang Yun, a wealthy Chinaman of Indianapolis, and Ida Norton, also of Indianapolis, and daughter of wealthy parents, were mar-ried in this city last night. Paug Yun has the distinction of being the richest Chinaman be Odds and Ends.

John Chatillon, of John Chatillon & Sons, New York, extensive manufacturers of tween New York and San Francisco.

match was a case of elopement.

the assailants was robbery.

Killed by a Deaf Mute. In a screet affray pear the Board of Trade, J. F. Chester, a deaf mute employed at a dime museum, cut the throat of John Casin from our charter and sink to the level of villages. But we have the power and the mayor rep-esents it. Will be do his duty? One hundred and forty thousand people are waiting—with bated breath—for his reply, D. E.

To Lynch Murderous Horse Thieves. KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 26.-Yesterday in Claiborne county, near Cumberland Gap, Deputy Thompson was shot and killed by horse thieves whom he was trying to capture. One of the horse thieves was wounded and the others were captured and brought to the iap, where it was reported early this morning a mob was about to lynch them.

Inundated a Town. BRISBANE, Queensland, Jan. 26.-Townville is inundated. A number of buildings have collapsed and railway traffic is stopped.

Coming On the Run---

For those $3.50 and $4 pants that we marked down from $4, $5, $6 and $6.50. We've got lots of them in all sizes and every desirable color, Worsteds, cassimeres, chevlots, fancy stripes, checks, plains, almost any kind you want go at $3.50 and $4 a pair of pants. You can have higher priced ones for $6 and up that have been marked down from a higher price specially for this sale, but you'll be satisfied with the $3.50 and $4 pants. Now don't put off getting a pair of these pants until they're all gone.

Browning, King&Co Others Yearings this 20. S. W. Cor. 15th and Douglas Sts.

ments, and thus English capital could continue to enjoy, undisturbed by Amertages it has secured in Chili. Having worked up this sentiment of hostility. this very English influence may now be active to secure a settlement by arbitrabut he will not resign. It is quite possible, however, that there may be a reaction in the public mind of Chili when it shall have taken a calm cago had the most body. and sober view of the present circumstances. If an adjustment should be reached without war time will cool the a thing to appall a democratic "national convention

Put Up the Signs.

such passengers, and with adequate means, appliances, machinery and power for ventilating the said cabine and compartments with their berths. A VERY curious feature of congressional comment upon the president's Chilian message is the fact that in nearly every case the southern democrats approve its sentiment and commend its statesmanship, while Jerry Simpson and a number of northern democrats like William A. Springer treat it indecorously and show their partisan animus in discussing its features. The southern democrat has al-