Many of mis Masonic brethren here will attend the funeral services, which are to be held in Omaha Eridger at 1 nm Omaha Friday at 1 p. m.

A sad death took place yesterday morning at 146 Ridge street, Myrtle Haynes, aged 19, being the victim of pneumonia. She was to have been married on New Year's day to John Williamson, but nine weeks ago was taken ill, and from that time was hovering between life and death until 11 o'clock yesterday morning, when her death oc-curred. curred.

The Red Men tendered their sachem, J. G. Tipton, a surprise party at the hall last evening in honor of his birthday. A large number of the ladies of the Pocabontas depres were present and the rocatonias de-passed in dancing and high five. At the close of the festivities John G. Reigle stepped forward and presented him with a beautiful Knights of Pythias charm as a personal gift.

J. S. West, the manager of the "Eight Bells" company, that played at Dohany's opera house Tuesday night, tried to go down a flight of stairs that led—in his mind-from a hight of stairs that led—in his mind—from the platform to the audience room. He very naturally missed his footing and fell to the floor, a distance of about six feet, landing squarely on his nose, that unfortunate mem-ber being broken in two places. Ho was taken to the buck of the stage and Dr. T. B. Lacev dressed the wound. Lacey dressed the wound.

Robert F. McNamarra, Cigarmaker, Found FELL FROM A MOVING FREIGHT TRAIN and End of a Man Who Was in Search of Employment-Story Developed at the Milwaukee freight train Tuesday night near the Chautauqua grounds and killed.

He was picked up by the crew of train No. 65 and brought to this city about noon and an inquest was held over the remains by Coroner Seybert at the undertaking rooms of W. C. Estep. Officer J. M. Murphy of the police force stated in his testimony before the jury that he saw McNamara at the Pacific house Monday afternoon under the influence of liquor and asked him some questions, ascertaining that he was a cigarmaker out of a job and that he intended to beat his way over the Milwaukee that night to Perry, where he had the promise of some work. He was accompanied by a man named Minor, who was also going to Perry with him. During the afternoon he was seen at a number of saloons and nothing further was heard from him until his body was picked up by the side of the track, where it had fallen. The body was found by some track walkers, who sent a telephone message to the station at Underwood notifying the depot authorities of the accident, so that the men on the next train could keep a lookout for it. McNamara had evidently been thrown from the train when it was in rapid motion and had fallen fitcen or tweuty feet down a steep embankment to the hard earth below. The indications were that he had lived for some little time after he struck, but he had been dead a long time when picked up, and his body was frozen stiff. His injuries consisted of a broken left arm and numerous bruises about the limbs, and his scalp was torn off from the skull. W. A. Curry, W. B. Stannard and W. G. Dow, the trainmen who picked up the re-mains, and L. Smith, Henry Scott and James Johnson who found the body first, testified before the jury and the facts set forth by them were substantially as above stated. John P. Burke, financial secretary of the men on the next train could keep a lookout them were substantially as above stated. John P. Burke, financial secretary of the local Cigarmakers' union, also testified that McNamara had come to him on Typeday accompanied by Minor and asked high if he knew where they could get work. He told them of an opening at Perry. and they at once said they would start for dat place. At the conclusion of this testimony it was decided to send a telegram to Perry to find out whether the man Minor has turned up there. It is the belief of the jury that if he can be found he can throw some light on the can be found he can throw some light on the affair. The taking of testimony will proba-bly be resumed this morning.

Want Economical Administration. A bill is being arawn up and will be pre sented to the legislature this winter by Representative Ware, providing for a radical change in the administration of city governments. A move of this kind has been quietly talked of for several months past, and a short time ago the Board of Trade, at one of its sub rosa meetings, took the matter in nand and appointed a committee to draw up the bill in proper shape. Just what provisions the bill contains its framers will not say, ex-cepting that it will have a tendency to knock down the salaries of city officials all along the line. "Here in Council Bluffs," said a prominent Board of Trade man yesterday, 'we need something of this kind very much. The administration that was elected on a retrench ment and reform platform has proved to b one of the most expensive in certain respect that the city has ever had, and the particu-lar items of expense that are calling forth this wall from us taxpayers are of the kind that the city in general reaped little if any benefit from. We propose to see if we can't change affairs around so as to cut off a few of the superfluous heads certain departments of the city government now have, and the bill we are preparing is a step in the right direction. Of course, the committee to which the bill is referred in the legislature may sit down on our plan or may revise it beyond all recognition before it is finally passed, but we intend to see what can be done toward effecting a change." Leading drugstore and news stand, Davis.

Skipped with the Cash. Several weeks ago Mrs. Nathalie Pollard came to this city on her way across the contiment on a lecturing tour. When she reached this place she was taken ill, and ever since that time she has made this city her headquarters, together with her advance manager, A. Y. Bowen. Her illness caused her to abandon the lecture platform for the shandon the lecture platform for the time. Yesterday she reported to the police that Bowen had skipped the country, taking with him something over $100 that she had given him to pay her bills.

$100 that she had given him to pay her bills. He was traced as far as Omaha, but there the clew was lost and nothing further bas been learned of him. Mrs. Pollard was seen about the matter yesterday, but was decidedly noncommittal. She admitted that the young man had dis-appeared, and that her money was also mis-sing, but she centilated her ideas at con-siderable leagth as to the prying newspaper siderable leagth as to the prying newspaper reporters who hunted her up. Further par-ticulars than those above stated could not be learned from her.

New York January 26. Opera in the Future. McCarty D McLaughl

But the impressario of the future will not confine himself to Italy or to Ger-Nelson T I many, writes Edmund C. Stanton in the North American Review. The Slavic O'Connell J countries and Hungary have already produced operas of sterling merit and startling originality. And what a splendid operatic mine has yet to be ex-Paterson T Pederson I Pfeiffer G I Porter H C Prior L ploited for our benefit in Russia, which can boast of not only a national but of Ramsey L ( Risdon H L Roberts W Rucker J au international operatic repertory, including works by composers of all coun-tries, not excepting Wagner, and which has symphonic and operatic composers Schwach ( Sellers W Shadduck ike Rubinstein and Tschaikowsky. Turning to Bohemia, there is Dvorak, whose cantatas alone are known to us, liverm Spellaine Stout Mr but who has written several interesting operas for the Bohemian stage; while England has produced of late yerrs sev-eral grand operas by her native com-posers, some of which have been adopted Tate Rev J G Tuthill L D in the German operatic repertory. France, too, has many modern writers of Wallis W M Walker P Wheelock B A Williams M C opera, whose works have not yet been heard here, but which have found bril-liant interpretation, for the most part in Wieder C Wyland H C Brussels. Why, then, should the oper-Zenker E A atic repertorp of New York be confined to the works of Italian and French composers of a quarter of a century or more go, worn out, and only revived to en-husiasm with the assistance of excepional singers, demanding exceptional prices and necessitating the curtailment of expenses in every other direction, thus prohibiting the production of opera as an art wore? The operatic repertory o the future must of necessity be cosmo-politan and international in character. During the last season of grand opera in German the directors of the Metropolitan made a beginning in this direction, and only the constant and pressing demand on the part of the public for the Wagnerian repertory compelled a postponement in carrying out the plans to completion. Such a repertory will embrace all na-tionalities and all schools, more especially the modern. We are essentially a cosmopolitan people, and should not, if we wish to develop further in musical and operatic taste, confine ourselves slavishly to the production of the operas of any one school or country. In what language this international reper-tory is to be sung is yet a matter of earn est thought and discussion. Pockets Inside Out.

J. Y. Hendricks of Shenandoah had an exerience Tuesday night that has caused a tense cloud of disgust to settle down over his soul. He whiled away the evening at a Main treet saloon, shaking dice, shooting craps, and indulging in all the wild-eyed amusements that a man just from the country would be likely to indulge in, until he had

would be hading to indulge in, until he had all the money he started in with and all of his companions' excepting 20 cents. One of the men with whom he had been niaying, re-marked that he hadn't a cent to pay for a room in a hotel, and Hendricks, who had taken something of a liking to him since he had sampled his money, offered to let him spond the night in half of his bed at the Kiel house. The victim of advarsity inter-sent a special message to congress on Monday relating to the points at issue between the United States and Chili, and the dispatches published here yesterday and today describing the attitude of the American public toward the matter have caused no little popular excitement here. The Baltimore incident, the president's ultimatum and message, and the dangerous tension of the relations between the two governments have been topics of conversation in all circles. They dominate the newspaper columns to the virtual exclusion of all other questions. The younger and hotter headed portion of the public continues to indulge in much war talk. Rather than have their government taik. Rather than have their government acknowledge its fault of apologize for its ut-terances, these young patriots declare that they would prefer to see a resort to arms. Such talk as this, it is believed, reflects the opinion of a large element of the common people. Naval Officers Stirred Up.

The neval officers are reported to be much stirred up at the thought that they may be called upon to salute the stars and stripes. They go so far as to say, according to the re-ports published in today's papers, that they would see the Chilian fleet sink before they would salute the American flag. Whatever the government may say officially, in withdrawing the offensive note of Senor Matta of December 11, there are abundant indications that Senor Matta's abundant indications that Senor Matta's popularity will not in any way be decreased because of his authorship of that now famous dispatch. Instead, it looksvery much as though this was the most popular act of his admin-istration of the department of foreign affairs. While the cabinet has been deliber-ating upon the precise form of language in which to apologize to the United States for Senor Matta's discourteous and undiplomatic Senor Matta's discourteous and undiplomatic performance, preparations have been actively to honor Senor Matta with a grand and im-posing banquet. This will take place next Saturday and promises to be a brilliant af-fair. going on by a committee of leading citizen

HAVEN'T FOUND HIM YET.

Garza Still Manages to Elude His Pursuers. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 27.-General

Stanley, commanding the Department of Texas, does not believe the rangers will succeed in capturing Garza, not withstanding their present plan of operation is said to be based on accurate knowledge of Garza's whereabouts. Garza has been ostensibly located so often and escaped so many times that the general belief is that he will not be captured unless he is accidentally found in camp somewhere or voluntarily surrenders. General Stanley believes that Garza is accompacied by but two men-bis brother and an experienced scout; that they are continually on the alert and while occasionally visiting ranches of their friends, never sheap in a house nor in the same never sleep in a house nor in the same spot twice, while the federal troops are doing little else than guarding the river crossing little else than guarding the river crossing and highways and the rangers are scouting between points. The troops will be main-tained in the field and should cause require will be augmented by reinforements from posts in Indian Territory. General Stanley does not believe that Garza will again attempt to organize his forces on the lower Rio Granne, but thinks it probable that an outbreak may occur further up the river. With this in view orders were today issued to the officers

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 27.-The government is in possession of information that leads them to expect the capture of Garza within fifteen days. He will be brought to this capital.

Change in Ownership. Sr. Louis, Mo., Jan. 27.-The National

Stock Yards company at East St. Louis tohim spond the night in half of his bed at the Kiel house. The victim of adversity intro-duced himself as Frank Sheriden, and Hen-dricks was soon peacefully snooing the bours away while his room mate hay and thought. Pretty soon he got up and went downstairs, telling the night clerk he could not sleep and was going out for a walk. His actions were somewhat suspicious and the center of fashionable resort, but because McGraw N they are themselves imbued with the true artistic spirit of appreciation of what is high and true in musical and operatic art.

Seven Thousand Miles of Wheels.

If all the locomotives in the United States were coupled together they would make a train of solid iron and steel over 300 miles long, says the St. Louis Republic. Add the passenger cars and we would have 300 miles more of wood and iron; this would give us a gigantic passenger train 600 miles in length, couuting both engines and cars. Should we want a huge "mixed" train we might add the "box," "flat," and every other kind of freight car, and our train would then have a total length of over 7,000 miles! The passenger cars in this gigantic train would be capable of seating 1,500,000 people, and upon the freight cars could be loaded the weight of all the pyramids of Egypt, and all the state capitol buildings in the United States besides. Verily, great is the railroad system of America. It Worked.

At a matinee performance in one of the theaters, says the Tribune, a little man who sat in the parquet leaned forward and spoke in a foud whisper to the lady sitting on the seat directly in front of him:

"Fan," he said, "I wish you would take off that blooming hat of yours. 1 can't see a thing that's going on."

"Sir!" haughtily exclaimed the lady, turning round. "I beg your pardon," rejoined the tit-tle man in the same loud whisper, "I thought you were my sister. She has a hat exactly like that one you've got on." He leaned back in his seat and serenely resumed his attempt to stretch his neck so as to see over that hat. And it wasn't two minutes till she took it off with a jerk and laid it in her lap.

Longevity in Russia.

Longevity in Russia. Famine and nihilism notwithstanding, Russia seems to be the land in which human life reaches its greatest length. During the year 1891, 858 persons died in the land of the exar who were be-tween the ages of 109 and 105; 130 who had reached ages between 115 and 120 also succumbed, while three were re-ported to the authorities as having died after living to be 150 years or more of age. of age.
