WILL TEST THE ORDINANCE

Lincoln Citizens Propose to Regulate Street Railway Traffic.

OBJECT TO TICKET MANIPULATIONS

They Prefer a Strict Construction of the Law, but the Company Desires it Otherwise-Other Local News Notes of Interest.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 29.-[Special to THE Ber. |-An old ordinance in the municipal code of Lincoln provides that street car companies shall sell six tickets for 25 cents, and that the conductors on the street cars shall keep tickets for sale at abat price. When the street railway companies exchanged the slow-going horse car for the electric motor they issued an order to their conductors not to sell tickets. At the same time packages containing twenty-four tickets have been left at convenient places in the city for sale at $1 per package, George H. Bush of this city has always maintained, however, that under a strict construction of the ordinance he could compel a street car conductor to sell him six tickets for 25 cents. He tried it on the 3ist of last July and was foreibly ejected by Conductor Stenberg. He swore out a complaint against Stenberg and that official was arrested and fined. About a month later E. P. Lefever tried the same thing and he was similarly ejected by Conductor Rice, who was also arrested and fined for assault. for assault. At this late date it has been de-cided to test the validity of the ordinance in the supreme court. In order to facilitate matters the cases are submitted on stipula-

Substantial Sympathy.

Commissioner Ludden today received the following letter from Erastus Smith of Ravenna, Ncb.: "Inclosed is a draft for $10 for Russian relief. We owe it to enlightened humanity and in gratitude for assistance in our national peril, and to more permanently secure their sympathy, to introduce to them a cheaper food and to us an extended market."

Completed Their Work. The engineers who have been engaged for several weeks in surveying two new routes through the city for the Rock Island have completed their labors and returned to St. completed their labors and returned to St. Louis. They surveyed one route through the eastern portion of the city and the other through the western. The board of directors will decide which of the routes is the most practicatle, and until the decision is reached the citizens of Lincoln will be kept in a state of uncertainty as to the location of the new densit.

Sued the Cracker Trust.

Keuben S. Risser has commenced a suit for damages in the amount of $4,950 against the American Biscuit and Manufacturing company. Risser alleges in his petition that he was on August 13, 1891, an employe of the defendant and that on that day, while in the discharge of his regular duties which con-sisted of unloading goods from a freight elevator, the same dropped a distance of twenty-four feet. His injuries kept him in bed for six weeks and have left him a cripple for life. Hence the damage suit.

Sued for Their Commission. The Normal University Building associa-tion of this city is made the defendant in a suit commenced in district court by the real estate firm of Anderson & Wells. In their petition they assert that under a contract with the defendant they sold for it 750 lots adjoining the Normal university, for which they were to receive in commissions the sum of $3,325. Subsequently the defendant com-pany refused to deed the property to the pur-chaser provided by the plaintiffs and refused to pay them the commission, the amount agreed upon.

Wants to Spend the Chief's Money. Chief of Police Dinges has been called into court again, this time by Elizabeth Forsythe, who wants damages to the extent of $5,000. Elizabeth was the young woman arrested at an early hour last Sunday morning for al-leged complicity with the safe blowing gentlemen who had made a nocturnal raid upon the meat markets on South Fifteenth street a few hours previously. She was detained at police headquarters several days much against her inclinations. When it was dis-covered that she could in no way be connected with the operations of the safe blowers she was dismissed. Her feelings were very much hurt and she asks damage the judge declined.

The Waite-Baker contest case has been set by stipulation for February 4.

Interesting Question Raised. Mrs. Anna Poska, a Q street property fixed upon her preperty by the Rock Island appraisers and Judge Lansing has issued an order commanding the railroad company pay the amount into court at once. Right here an interesting question has been raised. The Rock Island officials have not yet determined whether they want the property for right of way purposes or not. The property was condemned by appraisers duly appointed by the court upon the request of the repre-sentatives of the railroad. The parties in terested will make a test case to see whether private property can be thus condemned and appraised. The railroad company, it is asserted, now deny that the appraisers were appointed at the request of its agents or representatives. The amount involved is n accused of safe blowing last Sunday morning were released, the evidence gainst them not being strong enough to earrant their further detention.

Dennis Hammond, the gambler, is again in custody. He gave himself up last night and will stand another trial for vagrancy next Tuesday.

Mrs. Mollie King, who seems determined to walk in the broad path, was released from

A Kansas City man now in Lincoln claims to be able to unrayel the mystery of Councilman Rice's disappearance. He asserts that a man answering the missing alderman's description was picked up at Kansas City in an insensible condition and that he died shortly afterwards. The story has yet to be corroborated.

A call was issued today for the annual meeting of the Lincoln Board of Trade. It will be held at the council chamber next

FUNERAL OF JOHN F. BOYD.

Imposing Procession That Escorted the Ex-Sheriff to His Grave Yesterday. The funeral of ex-Sheriff John F. Boyd took place yesterday from his late home, 1202 Park avenue. The services were conducted by Rev. C. W. Savidge and commenced shortly after 1 o'clock. The services were very impressive, but were heard only by those of the immense throng who could get into the house.

The floral tributes were very claborate. On the casket in which lay the remains was a beautiful pillow of lities. Around the room were all sorts of floral decorations of pillows and beds of flowers. There was an anchor and open cross bearing the name "J. F. Boyd" in the centor; another pillow contained the tribute of the Union stock yards boys; another the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks another the Samoset club; another the Fishing club, representing the gates air with a white dove resenting the gates ajar with a white dove

Thousands of people were around the house and in the street to pay their last respects to the deceased. After the services the remains were placed on a walk in the yard of the premises where they were reviewed by the

Then the procession was made up. It was headed by the Omaha Guards with Captain Bamford in command. Next came the Samoset club with seventy-five members in charge of Colonol Floyd as captain; E. B. The hearse was next with the following pall bearers: John A. McShane, for the family; C. S. Potter, for the Elks; Charles Ogden, for the Samoset; W. F. Manning, for the Masons; J. D. Sawbill, for the Grand Army, and John Keene for the stock yards.

The Elbs had charge of the services and The Eiks had charge of the services and walked on either side of the remains in the procession. They were in command of Dick Smith, who acted as marshal.

After forming the procession went down Populeton avenue to Twenty-eighth street, thence to Leavenworth to Sixteenth and north on Sixteenth to Webster, where ranks were broken. Some took carriages and went to the cemetery, Forest Lawn, where the remains were interred. The cortege was very long and was witnessed by throngs of people on Sixteenth street as the procession passed. on Sixteenth street as the procession passed. At a meeting of the Samoset association, held in its rooms in the Hoyd theater, the club took action on the death of Mr. Boyd. A. S. Ritchie, Charles Ogden and James P. ness are lost to us forever.
"The mere rehearsal of his many virtues can be of little avail to alter or confirm public judgment of his character. Of still less moment must be any words that I can speak in the presence of his time-honored friends. The surpassing quality of his heart was goodness. In proportion to his means he gave unto the poor, he gave unto the cause which he espoused as no other gave.

"Standing in this place now forever vacant of a face that cheered it, I know of no way in which we can more fittingly hallow the memory of our dead brother than to here make a solemn resolve that we will more fully enrich and beautify our own lives with this sweet grace of goodness which was the chief ornament of his soul and lesson of his

DUN'S REVIEW OF THE WEEK

Business Increase Noticed, but Prices Generally Rule Lower.

REPORTS FROM THE CENTERS OF TRADE

Some Improvement Noticed and Collection Easy-Large Excess of Exports Over Imports-Fallures for the Week-Clearing House Statement.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: It is undeninble that there exists a considerable feeling of disappointment. More business but at lower prices seems to be the rule. That the volume of trade is gradually increasing, even in branches which have been dullest there seems to be no doubt. But in an unusual number of cases increased sales appear to be the result of some yielding in prices, so that the average decline in prices of all commodities during the past week has been more than half of 1 per cent. There is more business done in iron, but the increase in the weekly output since the unprecedented report of December 1 has weakened the price. Bar iron is duli at Philadelphia and weak at Chicago, and the market for plates is demoralized by large production, while some struc-tural mills are short of work. Copper is lower at 10.8 cents, with moderate expers and a great output. Tin is 1/8 cent lower at 19.6, but lead is stronger at 4.2 cents. Coal is unsettled.

Reports from Various Cities. Reports from other cities generally indicate gradual increase in the volume of trade. At Boston there is not much change and trade is rather disappointing, but there are more orders for boots and shoes, and the jobbing trade in dry goods is good with large jobbing trade in dry goods is good with large western orders.

At Hartford the dry goods trade improves some, while hardware and groceries are quiet.

At Philadelphia iron is quiet and coal demoralized, but dry goods more active and the grocery trade larger than last year.

At Baitimore the jobbing trade is quiet, but manufacturing brisk.

Pittshurg reports finished iron weaker, and many flint glass works closed by dult trade.

At Cieveland trade is, on the whole, equal to last year's, with large sales of iron ore and to last year's, with large sales of iron ore and rolled products in good demand and firm, and collections improving. At Cincinnati the carriage trade finds better prospects.

At Detroit better business is noted with

At Chicago trade in general merchandise is equal to last year's and receipts have increased in most products, but doubled in wheat, flour and corn; collections are satisfactory, money plenty and prospects bright, At St. Louis the retail trade is strong, and wholesale average and grain receipts large. At Milwaukee trade prospects are good, but there is very little speculation. At St. Paul the jobbing trade and collections are better.

At Minneapolis trade is good for the season and collections satisfactory. At Kansas City an increased trade is noted. At Denver trade is fair. At Memphis and Nashville trade is quiet. At New Orleans cotton is lower with heavy receipts, sugar steady and rice is

At Savanuah trade is fairly good. In the Dry Goods Trade.

In dry goods there seems to be rather less activity as to cotton goods, and in knit goods some duliness. Clothiers are conservative and waiting for indications of the popular fancy, and hence the men's wear woolen trade is perpiexing. There is a better feeling in the wool market, however, at New York as at Boston, and the continuing sales prove that manufacturing has by no means week, the indications still point to a very large crop.

Corn is half a cent higher, with heavy receipts at the west, and pork products a little stronger. But wheat is a quarter of a cent and oats three-fourths of a cent lower than a week ago. Wheat receipts have been quite large, while the exports for the last week or two have somewhat declined. Oil is nearly a cent lower and coffee a quarter of a cent stronger.

The money markets throughout the country are unusually well supplied, but in part because the demand is only moderate. Collections are generally improving, or decidedly

The course of foreign trade makes the absence of gold imports somewhat noteworthy; exports from New York for four weeks of January have been $11,193,000, or 42.9 per cent larger than for the same weeks last year, while in imports there has been a slight decrease, which would point to an excess of exports over imports amounting to about $32,000,000 for the month against $20,000,000 last January.

The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number 207, as compared with a total of 328 for last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 320.

WALL STREET FOR A WEEK. Subsidence of the War Scare Lends Strength to the Market. NEW YORK, Jan. 29,-Bradstreet's weekly Wall street review says: The subsidence of the Chilian war scare, followed by tenders of a pacific nature from that country, seems to have put an end to the hesitation which had been created in speculation, and permitted the reassertion of the builish tendencies which, in spite of the unsettling manifestations of the last three weeks, have nevertheless been apparent in the action of the share market. One of the most noteworthy evidences of this fact was the fairly large buying for foreign account which followed the news that the Chilian government had made a satisfactory answer to the demands of the United States. At the same time it was exceedingly plain that during the depression stocks had, to a large extent, passed into atrong hands and the powerful financial and speculative interests continue to be convinced that the ultimate tendency

New York Deposits. Last week the deposits of the New York banks, for the first time on record, touched $500,000,000, while the absence of any large $5.0,000,000, while the absence of any large demand of either a commercial or speculative character has forced moneyed corporations and large capitalists to turn their attention to the stock and bond market, in order to find employment for their surplus funds. At present the bond market is bare of the class of securities which is attractive to such class of securities which is attractive to such class of securities which is attractive to such purchasers, and there seems to be reasonable foundation for the current reports that in some instances the heavy buying of a dividend paying stock may be attributed to such interests. The plethora of money constitutes, in fact, a controlling factor in the situation. The clearing up of the short interests naturally facilitated the rapid advance of the market which commenced on Wednesday; last at the same time the stronger parties, who had acquired commenced on Wednesday; last at the same time the stronger parties, who had acquired stocks on the decline, were not slow to display their inclination and ability to assist the market. In this connection the action of the group of stocks with which Mr. Gould's name is usually connected is both significant and interesting. All idea of further friction in the Western Traffic association has disappeared. Under these circumstances the rapid advance of Manhattan and the strength of other members of the same group is considered specially significant.

Among the Railroads.

The most noteworthy movement of the week was in Lackawanna, which stock, though subject to manipulation, seems to have been in receipt of effective support in the form of large outside buving orders of the kind already referred to. Reading, likewise, displayed strength on the arrangements by which it secures control of the Poughkeepsie bridge, the other coal stocks being correspondingly affected.

In the granger group, the lead was taken by Burlington and St. Paul, the improvement in the former case being stimulated by reports that the December esrnings showed another remarkable gain.

Of the Gould stocks, the most noteworthy feature was Manhattan. A decision by the court of appeals, which is exceedingly fa-Among the Railroads.

vorable to the company, in connection with the suits for real estate damages furnished cause for this movement. At the same time Missouri Pacific and the other securities, under the same influence, were exceedingly strong and well supported. The Vanderbilt trunk lines, having been steady during the depression, naturally showed less disposition to rally, and were, without exception, strong, while rumors were current that a more de-cided improvement in the mwas probable. Among the specialties, Louisville, New Al-bany & Chicago was conspicuous, the move-ment being attributed to the fact that arrangements have been goncluded by which the road will furnish the outlet for the entire Richmond Terminal System, the connection being furnished by the Louisville Southern road, which has lately passed into the hands of interests allied both with the Richmond Terminal and the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago.

The city council went back to its first love and held last night's meeting in the Board of Trade rooms.

Nothing was considered, however, but ordinances upon their several readings. The ordinance providing for the inspection of steam boilers and for the appointment of a boiler inspector was read twice and referred.

The new ordinance provides that the ap pointee shall receive a salary of $1,500 per year and shall devote his entire time and atention to the auties of the office.

Then followed an ordinance assigning pace in the new city hall. This rdinance provides that the rooms nall be parceled out as follows: he city treasurer will occupy the southwest parter of the space on the first floor; the ty clerk will have the southeast quarter of e first floor; the chief of the Fire departent will occupy the rooms in the northeast orner, and in the northwest corner the imptroller will be at home. On the second oor the council chamber and the committee ocms will take up one half of the space, with the rooms fronting on Farnam street, last of the court the commissioner of health will have an office, with the Board of Health soms on the north of the court. On the till be located the mayor's suite of rooms, the city attorney will be in the northwest orner, and the assistant city attorney on te west side, opposite the court. The other soms on the north side will be occupied by see Fire and Police commission. The Park commission is assigned to the rooms on the cost of the court. On the fourth floor, in the coms south and west of the court, the coms of Public Works will find quarters, with the city of the court, the court of Public Works will find quarters. ith the city engineer occupying all of the soms on the east side of the court will be coupled by the building inspector, the gas not electric light inspectors. The fifth and electric light inspectors. The fifth our will be occupied by the public library and the Board of Education, the former occupying the rooms on the south and west and the latter the rooms on the north and st side of the building.

Some Ordinances on Passage. That disposed of the ordinances that were up for the first and secend reading. Starting off with the passage of ordinances there was one providing for the issue of $175,000 of city hall bonds, the proceeds to be used in the completion of the building.

After that the council took up the ordinances intended to reduce salaries. They all passed, as did one repealing an old ordinance which created a lot of paving districts.

Mr. Chaffee stated that the paving district ordinance was for the purpose of wiping out a large number of old districts and starting in new. That disposed of the ordinances that were

Mr. Lowry insisted that the ordinance covered some districts that were in court. He thought that the order of the court pro-He thought that the order of the court pro-hibited the council from interfering with the boundaries of the districts.

President Davis replied that such was not the case; that the districts to which the order of the court referred had been omitted from

Knocking Them Out.

Then commenced the work of reform and heads fell like ripe grain before the reaper's knives. The plumbing inspector was the first to go. The ordinance that laid him on Brst to go. The orginance that laid him on the shelf provides that the plumbing department shall be under the supervision of the superintendent of buildings, who shall employ one superintendent of plumbing at $125 per month, which shall cover all expenses for transportation. The superintendent of building is also authorized to employ three plumbing inspectors who will receive $4 per while actually engaged. Mr. Tuttle urged that the passage of such an ordinance would not result in any great saving. It would reduce the superintend-ent's salary $25 per month, but at the same time it would add $1 per day to the salary of each of the inspectors. The talk failed to have any effect. Another ordinance authorizing the Board of Health to employ two meat inspectors went through, while Mr. Lowry informed the council that the council had never adopted any rules for the government of the Board of Health. President Davis stated that such rules were being prepared and City Attorney Connell said that they would be presented to the council at the next meeting.

The office of sanitary commissioner was wiped out and the Board of Health will proceed to look after all matters of a sanitary

The next ordinance that passed was one abolishing the office of superintendent of the City hall.

Mr. Lowry thought it bad policy to discharge a man who had looked after the building since the day when its construction vas commenced. President Davis furnished the information that Superintendent of Buildings Tilly would look after all of the details and see that the building was completed in accordance with the plans of the architect. City Engineer Responsible. The next ordinance hit hard, for it dis-pensed with the offices of sewer and sidewalk inspectors, placing the departments in charge of the city engineer and the Board of Public Works.

Mr. Lowry filed another objection, but it did not count. He did not regard it as being a wise policy to put in a new man at $75 pe month to inspect sewers. He did not think such a man could do good work.

President Davis again furnished some information, stating that the city engineer would have to be responsible for all inspections and that the city's interests would be carefully guarded. carefully guarded.

What a blessed thing is memory past, and hides its unpleasantnesses! You recall your childhood days, do you not, and wish they would return? You remember the pleasant associations, while the unpleasant ones are forgotten. Perhaps to your mind comes the face of some friend. It was once a pale, sad face. It showed marks of pain, lines of care. It seemed to be looking into the hereafter, the unknown future. And then you recalled how it brightened, how it recovered its rosy hue, how it became a picture of happiness and joy. Do you remember these things? Many people do; and gladly tell how the health returned, how happiness came back, how the world seemed bright. They tell how they were once weak, nerveless, perhaps in pain, certainly unhappy. They tell of sleepless nights, restless days, untouched food, unstrung nerves. And then they tell how they oecame happy, healthy and strong once more. You have heard it often in the past, have you not? You have heard people describe how they were cured and kept in health? You certainly can remember what it is that has so helped people in America. If not listen to what Mrs. Annie Jenness Miller, who is known universally as the great dress reformer, says: "Six years ago, when suffering from mental care and overwork, I received the most pronounced benefit from the use of that great medicine, Warner's Safe Cure." Ah, now you remember. Now you recall how many people you have heard say this same thing. Now you recollect how much you have heard of this great Cure. Now you are ready to admit that, memory is usually pleasing, that the highest pleasure comes from perfect health, and that this great remedy has one more to produce and prolong health than any other discovery ever known in the entire history of the whole

Taking butter from milk was known in the earliest times. It was left for our time to make a milk of codliver oil. Milk, the emulsion of but-

After Years of Unsucosssful Search for a Cure, Martin Anderson Gets Relief from the Chinese Doctor-A Voluntary Testi

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 18, 1892.
To whom It May Concern:
This is to certify that I have been a constant sufferer for many years with catarrh, asthma and bronchial affections of the throat, and tried all the patent medicines and remedies I ever heard of, but with no success. I treated with doctors in various parts of the country, but none of them could do me any good further than giving me short temporary relief. I suffered night and day, and continued to grow worse not-withstanding all the medicine I had taken. I had almost given up my case as hopeiess when I was informed by a friend of Dr. C. Gee Wo, the Chinese doctor, and advised to go and see him in the hope of getting relief at least, if not a permanent cure for my trouble. I was slow in making up my mind to make such a radical change in my treatment, as I knew a trial with the Chinese docor would bring me, but I finally cen-luded to give him a trial, so I called at his office with that intention. I found the doctor a clever, entertaining gentleman, thoroughly posted on my condition, and it took only a very short time to convince me that he was the party I was so long in search of. He told me my case was curable, and that he could cure me, and prepared me a special treatment to suit my condition, and in two weeks I was so much better that I had the fullest confidence in the doctor's ability and committed my case to his treatment. I continued to grow better rapidly and am now entirely well. I owe my cure to Dr. C. Gee Wo, and am not ashamed to admit it. I advise all who want relief from their troubles to
