REJECTED ALL BIDS FOR OFFICE ROOMS

Delegates Selected to Attend the Convention of Mayors to Be Held at Des Moines February 4 and 5-Other Interesting Local Notes.

The city council held its regular monthly meeting last evening with the mayor and all the aldermen excepting Wood present. On motion all propositions from owners of buildings for the rent of rooms for city offices were rejected.

The mayor, city attorney, engineer and two members of the city council, to be selected by the mayor, were appointed delegates to attend the convention of mayors, to be held at Des Moines on the 4th and 5th.

The judiciary committee reported on the bids for paving, recommending that they all be rejected. This caused a kick from Pace, who did not think the contractors were being given a fair deal by being compelled to bid on the same work repeatedly and then have their bids rejected by wholesale. Brown said there were legal objections to the bids, so he had been informed by the city attorney, although he did not know what the objections were. City Engineer Fostevin said that so far as he knew the main difficulty was that the city was not ready to pave, the grading and curbing not yet being done on the streets in question. After some discussion the report was referred back to the judiciary committee with instructions to report more fully at the next Alderman Casper moved to reconsider the action of the council at the last meeting, allowing J. W. Paul to do the grading of North Twentieth street from Avenue G to the alley south at his own expense, he having falled to show the release from the contractor as required by the resolution. Wind thought Casper was raising a large row about a very small matter, and suggested that Mr. Paul be given a little more time in which to tend to the business. Graves, Pace and Smith thought so too, and the motion to reconsider was finally lost.

A petition was presented by Alderman Smith, bearing the signatures of all the property owners on Second avenue between Pifteenth and Sixteenth streets and asking that a sidewalk be laid on both sides of the evenue. It was referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

A number of petitions for refund or revis ion of taxes were referred. Alderman Van Brunt stated that he had seen same complaints in The Bre on account of the darkness at the corner of Peari street and Broadway, and he would like to have the matter referred to the committee on lights, in order that it might be decided whether the demands of the property owners in the vicinity should he acceded to or not. It was referred. not. It was referred. Alderman Pace stated that as the council had decided not to rent offices, he thought it a good idea to have plans drawn by an archi-tect for improvements on the city building. He said plans had aiready been drawn by C E. Bell, and they were submitted to the council for examination. The first floor contained offices for the cierk, auditor, treasurer and engineer, with a vault for each one excepting the engineer, while on the second floor was a council chamber 46x25 feet, with a railing separating the council from the audience. On this floor were also offices for the mayor and city attorney and a jury room. The dimensions of the building as proposed are 60x58 feet and two stories high, while the cost is estimated at about $5,000. The mat-

About this time there was a vigorous and premediated kick on the part of the property owners in the western part of the city, on account of the neglect with which they had been treated. A large hole on Thirty-fourth street between Broadway and avenue A was the primary cause of the wail, and while they were about it they found fault with the sidewalk, which they claimed was liable to cause the fracture of the limbs and necks of those who had to walk on it. They also kicked because they had no fire or police protection, and no water works. J. J. who was one of the chief complain ants, said he would spend every dollar he had in suing the city unless he and his fel-The petition was referred to the committee on streets and allevs.

senator Schmidt's Measure Will Pass the Present Legislature Without a Doubt.
DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 1.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- Democrats in both the senate and house have held separate caucuses and in each discussed the saloon question. The result is that all democratic legislators now support what is known as the Schmidt bill. Senator Schmidt is author of the bill and it is practically the same bill that he introduced two years ago and is the one that was made the basis of the democratic platform last fail. The committee on suppression of intemperance in the senate will report the bill favorably some day this week and it is expected that it will be made a special order for Friday. It is quite evident that the bill will pass the senate. To get it through the house will require the vote of Campbell, the people's party representative, whose record is that of a prohibitionist, and five republican votes, or six republican votes without Campbell.

It is claimed by some anti-prohibitionists that these will be forthcoming, but no names are given. It is said a joint republican caucus will be held on the subject and an effort made to hold all republicans to the caucus decision. There is fear that this cannot be done, sufficient to cause uneasiness in prohibition ranks.

Following is a synopsis of the Schmidt bill as modified by the democratic caucus:
"A special election may be held on the question of granting or refusing license upon petition of one-fifth of the voters of any city or incorporated town or of the portion of a county outside of cities and incorporated towns, no other questions being voted on at the same election. The license fee cannot be less than $500 a year, payable quarterly in advance, and is to be granted by the district court upon proof of the district court upon proof of the good moral character of the applicant. Of this, $125 in case it is granted in a city or incorporated town goes into the general fund of the county and the balance into the gen eral fund of the municipality. When granted not in an incorporated town or city it will go into the general fund of the county. All licenses are to expire on the last day of December. Selling to minors, intoxicated persons or habitual drunkards is punished by a fine not exceeding $100 or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding twenty days. Loss of license follows the second conviction. Any person selling without license may be punished by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, and by imprisoment in the county not in an incorporated town or city it will go than $500, and by imprisoment in the county ail not less than thirty days nor more than 150 days. The bond is fixed at $2,000. Permits to sell for medical, mechanical and chemical purposes will be granted to registered pharmacists without fee and a penalty for violation is made a fine of not less than $10 uor more than $100 or by imprisonment in the county jail not longer than thirty days. Means a Through Line. MASON CITY, Ia., Feb. 1.-C. Hamilton Browne, one of the leading stockholders of the Mason City & Ft. Dodge railroad, says he has no doubt that his road will either be leased or sold to the Winona & Southwestern, but as yet neither has been done. This practically confirms the recent state ment that this section is to be traversed by a great transcontinental line controlled by the Lackawanna system. Sloux City and Denver are to be connected by the Pueblo & Duluth and the gap between Denver and Provo City will be filled in right away. This will make a complete line from New York to San Francisco. The Winona & Southwest ern will bring the line from New York to Mason City, the Mason City & Fort Dodge will take it to Sioux City, the Pueblo & Duluth to Denver, the Denver, Lakewood & Golden to Ogden and the San Francisco Short Line to the coast.

HOW TO TELL A STORY . Evil Can be Used, but it Should Be Contra sted with Good,

It seems to us that in good fiction evi must appear as a foil for good; that it must be set over against righteousness so as to make black black indeed and white purely white, says a writer in the, Chautauquan.

The story teller need have no express moral hobby to ride post haste; his tale will be all the better if told with the pure love of story telling; but we may be quite sure that his taste is unsound if he chooses a salacious story to tell and gives it the unction of personal rehearsal. Here, indeed, is where we would draw the line. Evil can be used by the artist with clean hands and to wholesome effect by contrasting it with a healthy, solid projection of good. The chief trouble with current realism is that it does not do this, but chooses to set hopeless evil and nerveless commonplace side by side without any triumphant moral heroism to dominate or neutralize it. The ethics of fiction shines in the character, the moral nature of the story, more than in the ostensible or even the actual, moral purpose of the author. It is the general effect that the work is likely to produce when read by the aggregate of readers which must be a large element of the test.

Kicked for Eighty-Four Years. Just how long a mule may outlive his usefulness, if kindly treated, has never been definitely ascertained, for few people appreciate a mule's personal qualities after he has ceased to be able to draw a wagon, and he is not often entertained in idleness, but Mr. Richard Mc-Carthy of River road, union township, N. J., has just purchased a mule, which certainly is not less than 84 years old, and he says he can run away from some of the fastest horses in Bergen county. Birds Doctor Themselves. Some interesting observations relating to the surgical treatment of wounds by birds were recently brought by M. Fatio before the Physical society of Geneva, says the Medical Record. quoted the case of the snipe, which he had often observed engaged in repairing damages. With its besk and feathers it makes a very creditable dressing, applying plasters to bleeding wounds and even securing a broken limb by means of a stout ligature. On one occasion he killed a snipe which had on the chest a large dressing composed of down taken from other parts of the body and securely fixed to the wound by the coagulated blood. Twice he had brought home snipes with interwoven feathers strapped on to the site of the fracture of one or other limb.

The most interesting example wa that of a snipe, both of whose legs he had undoubtedly broken by a misdir-ected shot. He recovered the animal only on the day following and he then found that the poor bird had contrived to apply dressings and a sort of splint to both limbs. In carrying out this operation some feathers had become entangled around the beak and, not being able to use its claws to get rid of them, it was almost dead from hunger when
