

OMAHA HAS TAKEN ITS FAVOR

A Fair Therapist Feted at the Omaha Athletic Club.

MELANGE OF LOCAL MATTERS

Nym Crinkle Gives a Bright Glimpse Into the Life of a Noted Dramatist Editor.

Among those who have borne the burden and heat of the day must be mentioned Mrs. J. Cotton, Mr. Williams and Mr. ...

Among the members of the "Superbia" company, who were here last week, was one who is possessed of varied accomplishments.

Miss Holland is an expert fencer and a well-known actor, and she is the first in the city to have been so honored.

"I took up fencing as a part of my training for the stage, and became so fascinated with it that I continued to study it until I had become an expert."

"I am glad to hear that fencing is becoming popular among Omaha young men, and I should advise them to take it up."

Miss Holland's fencing costume looks like a yachting suit with the skirt shortened two or three inches to afford the necessary movement.

Among the piano teachers in the city are such artists as Martin Cahn, whose delicacy and brilliancy of touch have long been in evidence.

In a letter to THE BEE, Nym Crinkle (A. C. Wheeler) writes in his peculiarly scintillating style of his recent visit to Omaha.

It is indeed gratifying to hear of musicians every week, even if obliged to decline invitations to give recitals.

A way back in the '70s there existed the Arion Club, which was a musical society.

Who can forget the boys of the old Oleo Club? Franklin S. Smith, now of Chicago, was one of the founders.

It is less than six years since the first grand musical festival was given in Omaha, and that was the first of a series.

With the fourth season of the club change was made, the organization being changed from a male chorus to a mixed chorus.

The necessity of such an organization as this in Omaha is a fact and the good which can be accomplished by it cannot be estimated.

Most encouraging reports come to us from all sides about the phenomenal success of the Omaha Baritone Society.

The Trinity Cathedral choir has already begun to practice Easter music. Mrs. J. W. Cotton is well supported in her arduous work of directing the choir.

"U and I" the New York Standard, the city's greatest laughing success returns to Boyd's new theater for two nights commencing tonight.

For the coming week, opening today with matinee, the Farnam Street theater presents the comedy "The Bachelor."

While the "Superbia" company were in the city, Miss Holland (Wallis), Miss Migdy (Sally) and Miss ...

Alexander Salvini is probably the only actor now before the public who was born in a palace.

Charles Hoyt is going to try the double stage at his Madison square theater, as an advertisement for his new play, "A Temperance Town."

M. B. Leavitt's spectacular pantomime and comedy combination, "The Spoken Word," is presented at Boyd's new theater Friday, Saturday and Sunday, February 12, 13, 14.

The land of the midnight sun, that land of romance and mystery, the Arctic regions, will be the scene of the next dramatic production.
