STONEHILL'S.

Fire Sale from the Adams Express Company Tomorrow at Stonehill's.

THERE'S A RIBBON IN THE CANDLE

A Candle Sets Fire to $1,100,00 Worth of

Beautiful Ribbons-Great Dress

Goods Sale at Stonehill's Tomorrow, Friday morning we received word from Mr. Reeves of the Adams Express Co. to come over to his office immediately. On arriving there Mr. Reeves informed us that he had a lot of our goods damaged by fire. In switching the express car in Chicago the express agent left a lighted lamp in the car. and when the switch engine struck the car it turned over the lamp and set fire to a large case of goods, which we were unfortunate enough to own.

These goods were a case of ribbons that we had bought for our fine retail trade. In fact they were the finest ribbons that our buyer could find in New York. Mr. Reeves informed us that they were good for the loss, and that we should sell the ribbons for what they would bring and charge the bal-ance up to the Adams Express Co. The ribbons will all be placed on sale tomorrow, all in one lot, and will be sold There was not a yard of ribbon in this shipment worth under $1 a yard, and some of it was worth $3. It is from six uches to twelve inches wide. You will find them in the rear of our store. back as far as you can go and you will see them.

This without doubt is one of the greatest bargains ever offered in the ribbon line. Just come in and look at them.

They are wonderful to behold,
DRESS GOODS.

We received Saturday morning a big shipment of dress goods, and with what we have had on hand, which came in during last week, we are going to begin We want to close out our remnants of dress goods first of all, and they will all go for 1 price tomorrow. Now for the new goods.

Henriettas at 124c a yard. They are 40 inches wide. They come in all colors. At 25c we are going to show you the most beautiful line of plaids that you ever wish to see, and they are worth up to 75c a yard. Also at 25c an elegant line of stripes and plain henrietta. At 59c we shall offer 50 pieces of novelty dress goods. These are, without exception, the most beautiful goods ever shown for the price in this city. They are worth fully $1.00 a yard, and would be a bargain at that price.

At 86c we shall show 50 pieces of novelty dress goods in plain silk warp henriettas. These goods are none of them worth under $1.25 a yard and up to $2.00 a vard.

Besides what we advertise in dress goods, we offer all our flannels at one-half price, and shall make a reduction on every yard of dress goods we have in the house. We have accumulated about 500 remnants of all kind of wash goods, worth from 8c a yard to 35c. Monday morning, from 9 to 11 o'clock only, we shall sell them at 3\frac{1}{2}c a yard. They will not be on sale before that time or after. Just for two hours.

We shall also hold a big sale of wash goods. Cast your eye on our bargain wash goods counter Monday. STONEHILLS.

Home Patronage Illustrated. Many Omaha firms and business nouses already are feeling the benefit of home patronage as advocated in the columns of THE BEE. The well known firm of Russell, Pratt & Co, 319 South loth street, manufacturers and dealers in gas and electric fixtures, report an increase in business during the past six months of nearly 100 per cent. It was a long and carefully considered question with this firm whether an exclusive gas and electric fixture business would prove successful or not as it had never been indertaken west of Chicago. Believing the people of Omaha and vicinity would appreciate such an enterprise they con-cluded to make the attempt. Their stock is large and comprises everything that is new and artistic in their line, as can be seen at their well stocked show rooms, 319-321 South 15th street. In addition to their retail business they are enjoying a large share of the wholesale trade tributary to this point. Few firms have so enviable a reputation for reliability as do Russell, Pratt & Co., and they justly merit it, as they will not allow an article to leave their store nor a piece of work to be called complete unless perfect in every detail and as represented. This busi ness has grown with Omaha's growth and is a worthy exponent of what cordetermination to succeed, will do. They are fully up to the times in designs and styles and carry the largest stock of gas and electric fixtures west of New York. We give below a partial list of parties for whom they have supplied with gas and electric fixtures during the last six months of 1891. Residences: John F. Coad, J. M. Woolworth, A. S. Potter, J. B. A Violet Luncheon. You may say what you will, but it is nothing short of an art to make a table look enticing without overdoing the decorations. Balzac, while not discoursing upon the ornamentation of a dinner table, for Balzac was not given to that style of writing, says that odd classifications of color are repug-nent to decency and gentle breeding. And the statement has grown to be almost an axiom, in society circles at least. Now and then during things are done with the color world adheres religiously to the thought which the great Frenchman uttered.

Miss Nash evidently agrees with the greatest novelist France has ever produced for on Thursday she gave a luncheon which the greatest novelist France has ever produced for on Thursday she gave a luncheon which the produced for on the greatest novelist France has ever produced for on Thursday she gave a luncheon which the greatest novelist for evidence has not been extended. in point of quiet elegance has not been ex-celled in this city.

The table was exquisite, a poem if such & word can be applied to such a mosaic thing as a dinner table. Broad ribbons of white and violet crossed the board from corner t corner, broken at the center by a huge box-knot. Bunches of white and purple violets were placed at each cover tied with violet ribbons while at either end candelabra stood shedding a subdued light through violet shades. There were dainty bon bon dishes filled with candied violets in keeping with this pretty idea. The menu was delicious and showed that Miss Nash had profited by her trip abroad in the manner of service and its preparation. The guests were Miss Stella Hamilton, Miss McCormick, Miss English, Miss Yost, Miss Grace Wallace of Salt Lake, Miss Beckwith, Miss Wallace, Miss May Wallace, Miss Jessie Millard, Miss Brown and Miss Sherwood.

Jerusalem and Russia. Colones James Fairman, the artist and art lecturer, delivered another very interesting and thoughtful address last night in the Young Men's Christian association lecture hall. His subject was "Jerusalem," but he the central theme, and covered a wide range of very interesting reminiscence and of philosophic speculation as to the future of Palestine. Colonel Fairman thought that it would be well for the world at large and for the people of Russia and Turkey if Russia should take possession of most of the territory now controlled by Turkey. He believed that Russia would be modernized in government and in commercial life by gaining a good foothold in southern territory, where he people would be thrown into more intimate relations with western and more progressive
