It is said that the sign "Smallpox Hos-ital" ordered by the council at the last session to be painted over the portals of the city pest house was regarded as a necessary scheme to keep the tramps out of the place. It is an elegant brick building with slate roof, provided with stoves and everything necessary for the comfort of tramps as weil as patients, and afforded fine quarters for the wanderers. The fence was necessary to keep the four-legged cattle out of the place Objections were filed yesterday in the superior court by all the parties to the suit of E. E. Savers against R. H. Savers, to the report that was made by John L. Peters, the receiver. It is alleged in the objections that the receiver connived with his bondsman, William Plumer, to cheat both the plaintiffs and the defendants, and had failed to give them the full credits to which they were entitled, and that in gathering the erop he allowed a large part of it to be de-stroyed or wasted. They demand that the receiver be ordered to turn over to them the morey and the property due them, and that damages be awarded them for the wrongful detention of the same. vicinity of the Boston store in the middle the Boston store. They at once surmised the policemen in the moonlight at almost th they should leave the street.

One of the fellows ran for some distance down Fourth street. Wells firing his revoleffect, but just as the last chamber of the revolver was emptied the burglar went to cross the parking in front of one of the resi dences and fell to the ground. Wells drew his club, but the man surrendered at once and begged him not to use it.

Leuch in the meantime had not been idle. He followed the second burglar down the alley, firing three shots from his revolver. and at last bagged his game. The patrol wagon was summoned and both men were taken to the city jail, where they were slated with burglary. As soon as they were captured a thorough search was made through their pockets for any weapon they might have. One was found with a large revolver in his pocket, while the other had thrown his away as soon as the chase commenced. It was picked up later in the mott. When he reached the station it was discovered that he had sprained his wrist badly by his fall and had also nurt one of his ankles. In his possession were found a com-plete set of drills and a drill machine which for ingenuity and general effectiveness beat for ingenuity and general effectiveness beat anything that had ever been cornered by the marshal's men. It consisted of a clamp which was intended to fasten to the doorknob of a safe and when placed in position it kept the drill perfectly straight, so that a hole could be made in an iron door in a very short time. An experiment was made by Marshal time. An experiment was made by Marshal Templeton on his own office safe, and the machine was found to work like a charm. A heavy sledge hammer, a crowbar, brace and a number of more drills were found lying near the window of the Boston store where the pair had been at work. They had succeeded in getting the iron window shutter and the cellar door pried open, and in a few more seconds would have been piliaging the interior of the store bad they not been interrupted by the arrival of the officers. There was not a cent of money in the safe, but there was about $100 in the eash drawer which the burglars would have been very apt to get if they had gotten inside.

Want Better Facilities.

The question of securing better train facilities over the Rock Island road, which was briefly referred to in yesterday's report of the council proceedings, is exciting considerable public interest. A train running from Davenport to this city was discontinued some time ago, but lately has been put on again, the western terminus, however, being Atlantic instead of Council Bluffs, as formerly. Just what the reason for discriminating against Council Bluffs in this way is cannot controlled the c be learned from the management of the road and a conference is to be held soon with a view to trying to induce the superintendent of the road to extend it to this city. It's Sure to Come. The special committee which was appointed ome time ago by the city council to look up the advisability of erecting a new city hall or remodeling the present building so as to make it adequate to the city's needs, has before it two sets of plans, both of which are being (x unined with a great deal of interest by outsiders as well as by the members of the committee. Since it has been definitely decided not to submit to the people the question of voting bonds for the erection of a new hall the councilmen are becoming more and more in favor of patching up the old building, and the probability now is that some definite action will be taken in this directions

"The proposition which was made a month or so ago," said a member of the council yesterday, "to rent quarters for the city offices until we feel like putting up a permanent city hall would certainly cost nearly $5,000 the first year, and it is not likely that any man would rent offices and make the changes that would have to be made for less than a five years' lease. So it will be consid erably cheaper in the long run to repair and enlarge our present quarters. The plans provide for plenty of vault room, which is one of the great inducements for agitating the question at all. It is almost certain that one or the other of these sets of plans will be adopted by the council soon.'

The gerrymander came in for a scorching. Michiganizing was denominated the "gerrymander of the Michigander." The Australian ballot law was approved as a great reform, and the speaker advocated as the next step a law to require candidates and political committees to publish a full report of every cent expended for campaign pur-poses. The holding of passes by public officials was strongly denounced. Socialism and nationalism were each touched on.

The speaker favored government owner-ship of the telegraph, telephone and railroads, but not government operation of the latter, which, he thought, should be leased in geographical, noncompetitive systems, under are now. He advocated municipal ownership of gas, water works, electric light plants and
