

ONLY ASKS TWO YEARS MORE

Supervising Architect Edbrooke Promises Omaha a New Federal Building for 1894.

FAVORS THE ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATION

He Thinks the Whole Building Should be Completed at Once Instead of in Two Sections—Will Push the Work Vigorously.

Long ago the poet said that "all things come round to him who will wait."

The people of Omaha have apparently placed implicit confidence in the statement of the poet so far as the securing of a new postoffice building has been concerned, but they will be pleased to hear a word of encouragement from Supervising Architect Edbrooke, who came on from Washington yesterday afternoon to see how the work here was progressing and to examine the basement foundation.

Mr. Edbrooke, accompanied by one of his assistants, Mr. Frank Goygala, looked at the excavated area on block 8 and after a little examination he came to the conclusion that a concrete sub-stratum under the foundation stones would be sufficient without piling, and that the excavation by the lower basement will be excavated to a depth of about six feet below where it now is, putting it down about twenty feet below the surface of the ground.

Work will begin at once upon the preparation of the foundation, Mr. C. J. King of Omaha has the contract for the stone work and will do the piling and the concrete.

Will Keep the Work Moving. "How soon after the stone work is completed do you expect to begin work upon the superstructure?" was asked of Mr. Edbrooke.

"I shall advertise for the iron work and the work upon the superstructure early in the month of March, and by the time the foundation is ready, so that the work can be kept moving right along."

"You are not intending to keep this building standing until the new one is ready after the usual fashion of constructing federal buildings?"

"Not if I live," said Mr. Edbrooke firmly. "I was formerly a resident of Chicago, and I may say that I am a Chicago architect, and I propose to put up government buildings in a business like way. There is no reason why spending four or five years in putting up a building like this. If I live I expect to have that building completed and see your post-office building in the hands of the business in about two years from now. One thing that has held so many public buildings back has been the delay in securing the appropriations."

"Do you think the bill for the additional $200,000 for this building will be passed at this session?"

"I am of the opinion that the bill for the additional appropriation will be passed. The committee talked to me as though the bill was looked upon as a foregone conclusion."

"What is your opinion as to the advisability of having the additional appropriation?"

"Ought to build all at once."

"I think it would be an economical measure to build the new building while we have it now planned, and the additional amount would simply enable us to build the new building at once, and we will have to put on some time, yet I think it would be better to put the building up all at the same time. The present appropriation will erect a building that will accommodate the postoffice and the other federal departments for the present and for some time to come, but I believe it would be better to finish the building now and by the time the city outgrows the capacity of the completed structure Omaha will be large enough to have several branch offices."

"We are rapidly coming to the days of branch postoffices and pneumatic tube connections for all the large cities. That plan has been found very successful and practical in Europe and we shall adopt it very soon in Chicago and other large cities. I hope to see the additional appropriation for your building here allowed so that we can complete the building in full size by the spring of 1894."

Edbrooke left last night for Kansas City.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Aug. 8, '90.—Dr. J. B. Moore: I feel it is one of a privilege, but a duty, to say a good word for your Catarrh Cure. After doctoring with several of the most celebrated physicians of the world, I was advised to try your Catarrh Cure, and am pleased to say I am entirely cured. Yours truly, W. A. Paving Contract Will be Required to Give a Decade Guaranty Hereafter.

The members of the Board of Public Works held a session yesterday for the purpose of deciding upon the paving specifications for the ensuing year. Although they did not complete their labors, they decided that whenever they enter into a paving contract each bid must be accompanied by a ten years guaranty.

Hereafter the guaranty has been extended over a period of five years, and after that time the repairs have been made by the city and paid for out of the paving fund. A ten per cent reserve was provided for the purpose of paying for the cost of the repairs, the same as now. At the expiration of that the reserve will be paid to the contractor and he will be required to give a bond for the cost of the pavement in repair during the second five years.

Chairman Birkhauser, in discussing the subject, stated that he did not think the new plan would materially increase the cost of the pavement, as only material that would last more than ten years would be included in the contract. He said that he thought that by requiring a ten-year guaranty the city would get the best of material, as contractors could not afford to use the poorer quality of material unless they were prepared that they had to keep the pavement in repair for ten years.

New Washington, Penn. People are not slow about taking hold of a new thing. If the article has merit, a few months ago David Myers of that place bought his first stock of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and he has since sold it all and ordered more. He says: "It has given the best of satisfaction. I have warranted every bottle, and have not had one come back. 50 cents and 41 bottles for sale by druggists."

RIELEY'S REVENUE

He Will Sue the City for Curbing His Personal Liberty.

Ex-City License Inspector Tom Rieley is about to sue the city for $25,000 damages. He alleges that he will also sue the city for that their lives and property are under the guardianship of a set of drunken sots.

Rieley says that he was, Wednesday, quietly walking the streets and attending to his own business when a chromo in brass buttons came rolling toward him. He saw the hands and hurled defiance at the moon and other heavenly bodies. By this he meant that he was seized, ignominiously thrust into a patrol wagon, taken to the police station and incarcerated in a noxious dungeon. There he spent the night, brooding over his misfortune, ruminating on seats and kicking the grooks out of the bars of his cage.

Yesterday he was marched up with the gang and signed a bond for his appearance. For all this he wants revenge.

Passing of a Pioneer. Thomas K. Wright, a pioneer citizen of Omaha, died at his home, 1304 North Twenty-eighth street, on Tuesday morning, heart failure. Mr. Wright was 74 years of age and had lived in Omaha thirty-one years.

The deceased leaves a family of five grown children. They are Mrs. Maggie M. King, Mrs. William Osborne, Mrs. Joe Breckenman, Mrs. A. J. Eaton and Mrs. Susan Wright.

The deceased was a millwright by trade and a miller of many of the first flouring mills in Nebraska.

The funeral will take place from the family residence at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon under the auspices of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

18 Pounds of Bloods

Is about the quantity nature allows to an adult person. It is of the utmost importance that the blood should be kept as pure as possible. By its remarkable curative powers, salt, rheum, etc., Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven its claim to be the best blood purifier.

For a general family cathartic we confidently recommend Hood's Pills. They should be in every home medicine chest.

So Glad He Told Them. That the average female school teacher is not to be imposed on with impunity was illustrated by the manner in which a party of them turned the tables on a facetious motor conductor on the South Omaha line yesterday.

A party of about a dozen young lady teachers, returning from their schools, were among the passengers in the trailer. When the viaduct was reached the conductor opened the door and said: "The authorities have pronounced this place unsafe for loaded motors and school uniforms. Passengers will please walk."

Indignation gleamed for a moment in the eyes of the bright young women as they looked at the conductor. There was no provision made for an appeal from his decision in such matters. He is the law, and he will place his passengers and his action is final. These women know very well that they were not removed from the car because they were not properly dressed.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Chance for a Hospital is Now Brighter Than Ever Before.

HOW A SMART CONDUCTOR FELL DOWN

He Thought to Get a Joke on Some School-ma'ms—People are Tired of the Mud-Magic City Miniatures.

The Board of Trade held a special meeting last night to consider the project of a city hospital. The Dr. Backus of the University of Kansas, who are the projectors of the enterprise, were present. The plan as outlined by them was that as many as possible of the 4,000 laboring men in the city should be induced to subscribe 25 cents a month for the support of the hospital. In return they would at all times be entitled to receive free treatment and medicine, either at the hospital or at their homes.

The matter was discussed at some length and it presently appeared that the packers made the subscription obligatory with their employees and thought the same plan might be pursued in South Omaha.

Willing to Contribute to a Fund Which Shall Be Used in Reclaiming Men Who Are Too Poor to Help Themselves.

Mr. Milton E. Free of this city says he has a desire to be known as a philanthropist, but he has a plan now under consideration, the object of which is to very materially benefit a number of his fellow men. This is nothing more nor less than the starting of a benevolent fund which shall be expended exclusively in reclaiming drunkards by paying for their treatment at any one of the leading hospitals in the state that have been so successful in effecting an absolute cure of dipomania.

Mr. Free at first offered to be one of fifty or more persons to contribute $100 each to such a fund, but now says he will be one or five or ten to make such a contribution, or if more desirable or effectual in getting the fund started he will give that amount if others will cooperate with smaller amounts, but he thinks that there ought to be fifty men in Omaha who would be willing to thus give of their substance for the benefit of these unfortunate fellows.

Judge Shields Explains Some Points Regarding the Governor's Appointments.

Speaking of the probable course to be pursued by the board on the nomination appointed by Governor Boyd, ex-County Judge Shields said yesterday:

"We shall file our bonds and present them to the city council for approval at the next meeting. If we meet with any interference in the discharge of our official duty of course we shall have to decide upon the necessary steps to be taken."

"What is your opinion as to the legality of the removal of the members of the old board and appointing a new board of commissioners?"

"There can be no question as to the legality of the government's action. The power to remove the members of the Fire and Police commission has been provided for in all such cases. There is no provision made for an appeal from his decision in such matters. He is the law, and he will place his passengers and his action is final.
