Camp No. 7. Royal Neighbors of America, will hold their regular semi-monthly meeting this evening in the Knights of Pythias hall, 103 Main street, at 7:30 o'clock. It is desired that there be a full attendance, as there is business of importance to be brought before

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Christian church will give a box sociable at the church, corner of Seventeenth and Broadway, this evening, and at the same time a reception will be given to Elder Carter and family of St. Joe, who have recently moved to this city. It is stated that a company has been formed for the purpose of erecting a cold storage warehouse and contemplates taking immediate action. A meeting of the Merchants and Manufacturers association is to be held at the Board of Trade rooms in the Merriam block this evening at 80'clock to discuss the matter Jim Smith, the colored man who was ar-rested for bissing a little girl on Upper Broadway several days ago, was tried it police court yesterday morning for the offense and discharged on condition that he leave town within fifteen minutes. He started for Omaha with considerable rapidity and 15 cents and has not been heard from since.

Ed Campbell and Ed Yager were arraigned before Commissioner Hunter of the federal court on the charge of selling intoxicating liquors without a government permit. Roland Coppick, who lives near them at Henderson, Mills county, testified that the two men dealt out the liquor in question under guise of an oyster stew, but his story was substantiated, and the defendants were discharged.

Andy Taylor, the barber who was reported to have cloped with $150 of stage money that had been left with him by some of his friends at the wrestling match in South Omaha, turned up yesterday morning and is now looking with blood in his eye for the fellows who started the story. He denies that he made way with anything that did not belong to bim, and states that if anyone has any score to settle with him he can be found at 52916 Broadway.

An attempt was made last evening to break up Chamber's dancing school in the Royal Arcanum parlors as a result of a suspicion on the part of some of the young men who gave the party last Tuesday evening that Chambers had worked against them in keeping away some of their prospective guests.
The young men in question stayed in the hall and as fast as the dancers came they were informed that there would be no more dancing school there. The proprietor at last found out what was going on and there came near being a free for all fight.

A report was circulated on the streets las evening that W. H. Foster, the missing gardener, had been found, and a couple of enterprising newsboys sold several copies of the regular edition of an evening paper which they claimed contained an account of the finding. It all turned out to be a gloriou fake, however as the only foundation the report had was the fact that a man called a the Foster residence during the afternoon and said that he had seen a man walking about in the Jennings timber east of the city which he thought might be Foster and h aurried in to find out what the amount of the reward was. No credit was given his story by the friends of the missing man, as the pretended clue was not followed up.

A young man named Bretz, who was run in for drunkenness at about the same time, missed brand new hat he had been wearing when e awoke yesterday morning and had an idea that Bethers had stolen it. When Bethers returned from his day's work on the chain gang he was stripped and searched, and the new hat was found hidden inside his clothes, where it had been ever since the night be-fore. He was slated with larceny and will have a hearing this morning before Judge McGee. Bethers has been continually get-ting into trouble for the past three or four years, although he is not more than 16 years of age now. NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Life of Mary Olmstead Ended by a Dose of Chloral.

DOMESTIC TROUBLES CAUSED THE DEED

After Figuring as the Plaintiff to a Sensational Divorce Sult the Unhappy Woman Determines to Suicide - Explained All in a Letter.

Mary Olmstead, wife of the gardener who live a short distance east of the city limits, took a dose of chieral night before last which resulted in her death yesterday noon. She is well known in the city, and of late she has been the object of more than ordinary attention from the public as the result of her being plaintiff in a sensational divorce suit against her hus band. She was kept in the insane asylum for some time, and at the expiration of her term of treatment she returned to her home in this city, out, as she alleged, her husband had taken up with another woman and refused to allow her to enter the house. She accordingly began a suit for a divorce which has been pending in the district court for the past six months. For about three weeks, however, Olmstead and his wife have been living together, she having stated to a number of her friends that she did not want a divorce and that the suit was to be dismissed soon.

Tuesday night about 10 o'clock Olmstead heard his wife get up and move about the room. He supposed she was hunting for a drink and thought no more about it. Early in the morning when he arose he found his wife was still sleeping soundly, and he could not awaken her. At last he occame frightened and called a doctor. In the meantime it was discovered that a two-cunce bottle of chloral which she had been using had been over half emptied since the night before. Every known appliance was used to bring her out of her stupor but to no effect, and she died at noon

It was thought at first that there were cir comstances connected with the death that looked a trifle suspicious. The fact that there had been serious trouble recently be-tween Mr. and Mrs. Olmstead undoubtedly gave rise to this impression. An investiga-tion by Coroner Seybert resulted in the find ing of a letter bearing the signature of Mrs. Olimstead, and evidently written the day before her death, in which she intimated clearly that she had contemplated suicide. This letter will be brought to light at an inquest to be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock. It is probable also that a post mortem ex-amination of the body will be made.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, IA. IT DIVIDED THE CHURCH.

Pastor and Sixty-five Members Withdraw from the Baptist Association. Since the meeting in the First Baptist church last Saturday night, at which it was decided that the pastoral relations between Rev. L. A. Hall and the church should be dissolved, considerable guessing has been going on among the church people of the cit as to what would be the next move of the regular prayer meeting a business meeting vas held, at which a number of new developments came to light.

Rev. Mr. Hall started the ball rolling by stating that it had been decided that he should leave, and he thought the next thing in order was to pay him off. There was $205 back salary due him, and the sconer he got it the sconer he would skip. If they would not him right away he would skip right away, otherwise he would have to stay and bother them awhile longer. It was finally decided that the committee of the nut. Hell fection that the committee of the anti-Hall faction should meet the advisory committee and make arrangements to pay off the debt. L. R. Joseph, the church clerk, then arose and said he had received requests from about sixty-five members of the church for their etters. He then proceeded to read the fol owing list of names of those who had made the request:

Mrs. H. S. Baldy, William Blood, Mrs.
Jennie Blood, Mrs. Lucy Brooks, Clara Bates,
Mrs. Viola Cartey, Vinnie Carley, Miss Flor-Mrs. Viola Cariey, Vinnie Carley, Miss Florence Carley, Annetta Devol, Jessie Devol, Laura J. Diekison. Sarah Goodehid, Elizabeth Goodehid, William Harover, Molfie Harover, Mrs. C. S. Henry, Miss Ella Henry, Miss Sarah A. Henry, L. A. Hall, Mary A. Hall, Harvey Joseph, William Joseph, Allie M. Jeseph, Emma Joseph, Louis R. Joseph, Walter Joseph, Leander Jacobs, Mary Jacobs, Maggie Kelly, Betsy Marble, Frank Marble, John E. Marble, Mary E. McClure, Lillie Miller, Frank Miller, Miss Parkey, Otis Rhodes, Miss Rhodes, Mrs. M. Sears, Florence Sears, Mand Sides, Della R. Sears, Fiorence Sears, Mand Sides, Della Sides, Anna M. Stevenson, Edward Steepey, Mrs. Edward Steepey, Ruth Steepey, E. E.

Ward, Piorence Wilcoxon, Holen Washburn, J. W. Patterson, J. C. Patterson, Mrs. Pat-terson, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Price. As soon as the reading of the list had been completed, Rev. Mr. Hallinformed those present that by the terms of the agreement be-tween the factions they could do nothing but grant the letters. "It was agreed between us that there were two crowds in this church never could work together and never will work together, and we won't work together, said he, and his remarks were becoming of a decidedly personal nature when one of his supporters, S. F. Henry, called for the question and the letters were unanimo siy granted. The meeting then adjourned. "We are going to keep dall with us." said "We are going to keep dall with us." said one of those who had been granted a letter, at the close of the meeting: "it has been decided positively that he is to stay with us and preach for us until the close of his pastoral year, which will be next December. Our meetings will be held in the Masonic temple, but we do not expect to form any church organization for the present. Financial help is coming in from all sides, from men outside of the church as well as from those of our number, and the prospects are that by the close of the year we shall be able to organize a flourishing church." able to organize a flourishing church.

Republican Convention. The republicans of Pottawattamie county will hold primaries on Friday evening, March II, at places to be selected hereafter, to select delegates to the county convention which is to be held in the superior court room of the county court house on the 12th. At this convention twenty delegates will be chosen to represent Pottawattamie county at the state convention at Des Moines on the 17th, and at the state convention delegates will be elected to attend the national republican convention at Minneapolis in June.

He Recommends Changes. City Attorney Stewart has been examining the ordinance which was passed by the city council at its last meeting granting a franchise to John T. Stewart to build and operate an electric light and power plant, and yesterday he handed in a report to Mayor Macrae as the result of his investigation. This ordinance was the one which was rushed through the council with such haste as to create an impression in certain quar-ters that the aldermen had had some hidden motive to guide them in their action. City Attorney Stewart finds a number of places in which he considers the ordinance defect-ive, looking at it from the standpoint of the city, and he recommends that certain changes be made in it, in view of the liability of vexatious and expensive titigation to arise be tween the city and the company as the re-sult of a franchise which does not state as clearly as might be the rights of the com pany and its relation to the city government. He suggests that the location of the poles, their height, size and kind, be left to the dis cretion of the council, and that a clause be inserted providing that the city shall be allowed to use the poles for wires for the fire alarm and police telegraph. The ordinance should also provide that the wires to be used as conductors shall be erected so as not to in-terfere by contact, induction or otherwise, with other wires used for similar purposes. and that all privileges granted to the com-pany shall be subject to the general ordinances governing such matters. He also recommends that the council reserve the right to provide further reasonable regulations, and that the stipulation be made that the authority granted by the ordi-nance to erect poles and lines cease upon the passage of any ordinance providing that all wires or other electric conductors be placed under ground. All these additional provis-ions were overlooked by the council in their burry to pass the ordinance, but the recommendations of the city attorney are now being considered by the mayor. The signa-ture of the mayor has not been affixed to it yet, and it is not likely that it will be. The subject will come up for further considera-tion at the next meeting of the council next Tuesday evening.

Mending Her Reputation. The case of Susanna Smith against M. O'Boyle was on trial in the district court yesterday afternoon. In the petition filed by the plaintiff it is alleged that O'Boyle, while in conversation with Thomas Mcwhile in conversation with Thomas Mc-Laughlin and a man named Miller last June, made a number of uncomplimentary allu-sions to Mrs. Smith, stating among other things that she had been untrue to her husband and that a man named Katzenstein had been the partner of her guilt. A judgment of $5,000 is demanded against O'Boyle as a baim for Mrs. Smith's injured reputation. The taking of evidence was commenced a short time before time for adjournment.

PORK PACKERS' TROUBLES.

Injunction Restraining Purchase of Land from Armour, Swift and Morris. NEWARK, N. J., March 2 .- Two vice chancellors sat to hear arguments in a suit in the court of chancery this morning for something which has never occurred before in the chancery chambers. Charles Willoughby presented an injunction restraining the Chicago Junction Railway Stock Yards company from executing an agreemen tards company from executing an agreement to purchase lands of the stock yards from Armour, Swift and Morris, for what is alleged to be a price greatly in excess of the value of the property and Vice Chancellor Green requested Vice Chancellor Vanyleet to sit with him in the case on account of the im portance of the issue at stake. The plaintiff asked for an injunction restraining the Junetion Railroad and Stook Yards company from transferring to Armour, Swift and Morris over $3,000,000 of its stock in exchange for what is alleged to be almost worthless lands at Tolleston and a small yard in Chicago called the Central stock yards. The possession of this block of stock would give those three packers control of the Chicago yards. in which about twenty other packers are in Mr. Whitehead read a number of affidavits going to show that Armour, Swift and Morris were impelled to the action they took by the refusal of the Junction Railway company to transport their live stock over its road to the Central stock yards
