

ARE PROSPEROUS AND HAPPY

Nebraska state Lumbermen's Association in Annual Session at Present.

REPORTS OF THE EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

Condition of the Body's Affairs in the State Highly Satisfactory—New Officers Elected—How They Spent the Evening.

Just because yesterday was the second Tuesday in March and the convention of the Nebraska Lumbermen's Association met yesterday afternoon in Washington hall for its third annual session.

Owing to the fact that but a small percentage of the members were able to swim, the majority were unable to cross Harney street and there was accordingly but a comparatively tiny representation when the convention opened.

When the president rapped for order a second time there were before him fully two-thirds of the 145 members of the association, who represented the lumber trade of over 250 yards, and representatives of all the lumber trade journals of the west, in the persons of L. Walker, of Missoula, W. E. Barnes, of the St. Louis Lumberman, James Boyce of the Lumber Trade Journal of Chicago, and H. Deisbach of the Timberman of Chicago.

W. G. Hollis, secretary of the Northwest Lumber Dealers association of Minneapolis, was also in attendance.

The president stated that since the last meeting he had retired from the lumber business and therefore felt somewhat out of place in the presiding officer's chair.

He congratulated the association on its large attendance and the interest manifested. He said he would always feel an interest in the association, which he felt sure would, in the future, be successful, and the members might feel assured of his best wishes.

He thought the association would be beneficial to the entire lumber interests of the west, and that it would certainly come up between the members, but through the association these would be adjusted, and with good officers the organization was bound to prove a success.

Before declaring the election of officers in order the president named the following nominations: Messrs. Baker, Harrison and Powell.

Auditing—Messrs. Dietz, Fletcher and Barber.

Books of secretary and treasurer—Messrs. Jewett, and Powell.

Report of the Secretary.

In submitting his statement of the work of the past year, Secretary Sunderland said: "I will not take the time of the convention by making any very lengthy report. I have to say we have had a very successful year, and the members were well represented over 200 yards and our work has run smoothly, all differences having been settled in a few days, and we were able to elect a board of directors today for adjustment."

The board of directors appointed delegates to the convention of the United Lumbermen held in Chicago last May. We were represented and became members. This United Association of Lumbermen is composed of every lumber organization in the United States and would like to call your attention to section 3 of the by-laws.

"There has been some misunderstanding over the question of the Illinois elevator bill, which would like the convention to instruct the secretary to have the word 'elevator' inserted in section 3 of the by-laws. I have always held in this question that elevators were exempt, as it was so understood at our meetings. If this is put in our by-laws there will be a question about it."

Reciprocity in Practice.

"There is another very important thing to which I would like to call your attention which is likely to be overlooked by the dealer in the country, and that is reciprocity, or in other words, the protection of your jobber to protect you when you don't reciprocate by buying as much lumber from our members. I would urge upon you the justice of trading with our members, everything being equal. Don't ask of our members what you are not willing to give. I have had several instances where parties have written to Omaha for prices, and the Omaha dealer has returned the bill together with the correspondence to the dealer in whose territory the bill was and the correspondence was ignored. It is very hard to ask a jobber to protect a dealer who will not try to help himself."

"The association was not formed for the purpose of building a store wall around each dealer, but to cover each as possible the pernicious habit of sending orders to the lowest bidder who is not a dealer. This would ask the association has done and the members have been very successful in this. We would ask the members to get as many of their friends as possible to join us. This year will be a prosperous one for the lumbermen of Nebraska, and we are glad to get every dealer in the state to join us."

Treasurer Bradford reported as follows: Receipts, $1,750.00; disbursements, $1,515.11; balance on hand, $234.89.

A recess was declared to allow the committees time to report on their reports.

New Officers Chosen.

As soon as the committees were ready to report the committee on nominations was called for, and the following report was submitted: For president—W. A. Friel of Fremont; for directors—John W. Barry of Fairbury, three years; A. Fletcher, Russellville, three years; J. J. Holland, Fremont, two years; for secretary—C. L. Chaffee, Omaha, one year; for treasurer—C. L. Chaffee, Omaha, one year; for auditors—B. H. Bailey, Brock; A. Barrett, O'Neill.

The report was read and resulted in the election of Messrs. Barry and Fletcher for the long term, and Mr. Holland for the short term.

Entertained by Wholesalers.

Mr. Colpetzer extended an invitation to the visitors to attend the opera in the evening and later participate in a banquet at the Millard. He stated that the Omaha lumber wholesalers wanted all the "wooden money" coming to Omaha, and that they were members of the association or not, as they wanted a chance once in the year to get back at their customers out through the state.

The entertainment was named as follows: C. L. Chaffee, George A. Hoag, Louis Bradford, C. N. Diets, J. A. Wakefield, Chicago Lumber company, Newcomb Lumber company, Star Union Lumber company, M. A. Dierbeck, C. O. H. T. Gady Lumber company.

Mr. Colpetzer said that the entertainment was all crowded into one night because it was feared that some of the wholesalers would be home for business and would not catch them all. It had been decided to "make a night of it."

The invitation was accepted by the president in behalf of the association and vociferous applause.

MAJOR HOURS OF THE BOARD WORK

Board of Education Members Discuss Numerous Interesting Subjects.

TROUBLE ABOUT SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Some Emphatic Language Provoked by a Gentleman Who Insists That a Committee Should Be Appointed to Investigate.

The Board of Education met Monday and continued to wrestle with business matters of a miscellaneous nature for four hours.

Superintendent Fitzpatrick reported that the night schools at the Long building had been closed on account of the falling off in attendance.

Superintendent Hamilton submitted a report recommending sidewalks at the new Kellom school. Adopted.

Mr. Morrison, who introduced a resolution to the committee on buildings and property, to be reported at the next meeting.

Attorney McCoy submitted an opinion upon the matter of the committee on buildings and property. He said he could find no law that would authorize the board to expend money for flags, neither had he found any law that would authorize the board to withhold such power. He thought that inasmuch as the board had authority to furnish books and other articles for the school, that the furnishing of United States flags might be included for that special purpose.

Mr. McCoy reported that the appraisers who had been appointed to appraise the damage to the school property at Mason street had reported that they had found a change in the grade, and had reported in favor of allowing no damage at all. The attorney was instructed to take an appeal and demand damages.

Flags for the School Buildings.

A petition signed by something like 500 citizens asking the board to purchase United States flags for all the school buildings was presented to the committee on buildings and property. The petition was referred to the treasury. General fund, $185,651.26; sinking fund, $41,138.10.

Communication from Bell & Boringham was read and it went on file in short order. The gentlemen called attention to a number of defects in the school buildings, and asked the board to investigate the matter. The items mentioned were the main entrance arch, the door locks and the pricing under the roof.

Mr. Morrison, Mr. Babecek and others thought that scheme was altogether out of the question. They thought that it would cost a few hundred dollars to have hundreds of children arrested and half scared to death by officers. Some other plan for correcting the bad habit of playing "hooky" should be adopted. The resolution was referred to the committee on buildings and property.

On resolution of Mr. Jaynes the board decided to purchase 100 of the books entitled, "Tales from the Arabian Nights," for the public schools. He said he could find no law that would authorize the board to expend money for flags, neither had he found any law that would authorize the board to withhold such power. He thought that inasmuch as the board had authority to furnish books and other articles for the school, that the furnishing of United States flags might be included for that special purpose.

Mr. McCoy reported that the appraisers who had been appointed to appraise the damage to the school property at Mason street had reported that they had found a change in the grade, and had reported in favor of allowing no damage at all. The attorney was instructed to take an appeal and demand damages.

Flags for the School Buildings.

A petition signed by something like 500 citizens asking the board to purchase United States flags for all the school buildings was presented to the committee on buildings and property. The petition was referred to the treasury. General fund, $185,651.26; sinking fund, $41,138.10.

Communication from Bell & Boringham was read and it went on file in short order. The gentlemen called attention to a number of defects in the school buildings, and asked the board to investigate the matter. The items mentioned were the main entrance arch, the door locks and the pricing under the roof.

Mr. Morrison, Mr. Babecek and others thought that scheme was altogether out of the question. They thought that it would cost a few hundred dollars to have hundreds of children arrested and half scared to death by officers. Some other plan for correcting the bad habit of playing "hooky" should be adopted. The resolution was referred to the committee on buildings and property.

On resolution of Mr. Jaynes the board decided to purchase 100 of the books entitled, "Tales from the Arabian Nights," for the public schools. He said he could find no law that would authorize the board to expend money for flags, neither had he found any law that would authorize the board to withhold such power. He thought that inasmuch as the board had authority to furnish books and other articles for the school, that the furnishing of United States flags might be included for that special purpose.

Mr. McCoy reported that the appraisers who had been appointed to appraise the damage to the school property at Mason street had reported that they had found a change in the grade, and had reported in favor of allowing no damage at all. The attorney was instructed to take an appeal and demand damages.

Flags for the School Buildings.

A petition signed by something like 500 citizens asking the board to purchase United States flags for all the school buildings was presented to the committee on buildings and property. The petition was referred to the treasury. General fund, $185,651.26; sinking fund, $41,138.10.

Communication from Bell & Boringham was read and it went on file in short order. The gentlemen called attention to a number of defects in the school buildings, and asked the board to investigate the matter. The items mentioned were the main entrance arch, the door locks and the pricing under the roof.

Mr. Morrison, Mr. Babecek and others thought that scheme was altogether out of the question. They thought that it would cost a few hundred dollars to have hundreds of children arrested and half scared to death by officers. Some other plan for correcting the bad habit of playing "hooky" should be adopted. The resolution was referred to the committee on buildings and property.

On resolution of Mr. Jaynes the board decided to purchase 100 of the books entitled, "Tales from the Arabian Nights," for the public schools. He said he could find no law that would authorize the board to expend money for flags, neither had he found any law that would authorize the board to withhold such power. He thought that inasmuch as the board had authority to furnish books and other articles for the school, that the furnishing of United States flags might be included for that special purpose.

Mr. McCoy reported that the appraisers who had been appointed to appraise the damage to the school property at Mason street had reported that they had found a change in the grade, and had reported in favor of allowing no damage at all. The attorney was instructed to take an appeal and demand damages.

Flags for the School Buildings.

A petition signed by something like 500 citizens asking the board to purchase United States flags for all the school buildings was presented to the committee on buildings and property. The petition was referred to the treasury. General fund, $185,651.26; sinking fund, $41,138.10.

Communication from Bell & Boringham was read and it went on file in short order. The gentlemen called attention to a number of defects in the school buildings, and asked the board to investigate the matter. The items mentioned were the main entrance arch, the door locks and the pricing under the roof.

Mr. Morrison, Mr. Babecek and others thought that scheme was altogether out of the question. They thought that it would cost a few hundred dollars to have hundreds of children arrested and half scared to death by officers. Some other plan for correcting the bad habit of playing "hooky" should be adopted. The resolution was referred to the committee on buildings and property.

On resolution of Mr. Jaynes the board decided to purchase 100 of the books entitled, "Tales from the Arabian Nights," for the public schools. He said he could find no law that would authorize the board to expend money for flags, neither had he found any law that would authorize the board to withhold such power. He thought that inasmuch as the board had authority to furnish books and other articles for the school, that the furnishing of United States flags might be included for that special purpose.

Mr. McCoy reported that the appraisers who had been appointed to appraise the damage to the school property at Mason street had reported that they had found a change in the grade, and had reported in favor of allowing no damage at all. The attorney was instructed to take an appeal and demand damages.

Flags for the School Buildings.

A petition signed by something like 500 citizens asking the board to purchase United States flags for all the school buildings was presented to the committee on buildings and property. The petition was referred to the treasury. General fund, $185,651.26; sinking fund, $41,138.10.

Communication from Bell & Boringham was read and it went on file in short order. The gentlemen called attention to a number of defects in the school buildings, and asked the board to investigate the matter. The items mentioned were the main entrance arch, the door locks and the pricing under the roof.

Mr. Morrison, Mr. Babecek and others thought that scheme was altogether out of the question. They thought that it would cost a few hundred dollars to have hundreds of children arrested and half scared to death by officers. Some other plan for correcting the bad habit of playing "hooky" should be adopted. The resolution was referred to the committee on buildings and property.

On resolution of Mr. Jaynes the board decided to purchase 100 of the books entitled, "Tales from the Arabian Nights," for the public schools. He said he could find no law that would authorize the board to expend money for flags, neither had he found any law that would authorize the board to withhold such power. He thought that inasmuch as the board had authority to furnish books and other articles for the school, that the furnishing of United States flags might be included for that special purpose.

Mr. McCoy reported that the appraisers who had been appointed to appraise the damage to the school property at Mason street had reported that they had found a change in the grade, and had reported in favor of allowing no damage at all. The attorney was instructed to take an appeal and demand damages.

Flags for the School Buildings.

A petition signed by something like 500 citizens asking the board to purchase United States flags for all the school buildings was presented to the committee on buildings and property. The petition was referred to the treasury. General fund, $185,651.26; sinking fund, $41,138.10.

Communication from Bell & Boringham was read and it went on file in short order. The gentlemen called attention to a number of defects in the school buildings, and asked the board to investigate the matter. The items mentioned were the main entrance arch, the door locks and the pricing under the roof.

Mr. Morrison, Mr. Babecek and others thought that scheme was altogether out of the question. They thought that it would cost a few hundred dollars to have hundreds of children arrested and half scared to death by officers. Some other plan for correcting the bad habit of playing "hooky" should be adopted. The resolution was referred to the committee on buildings and property.

On resolution of Mr. Jaynes the board decided to purchase 100 of the books entitled, "Tales from the Arabian Nights," for the public schools. He said he could find no law that would authorize the board to expend money for flags, neither had he found any law that would authorize the board to withhold such power. He thought that inasmuch as the board had authority to furnish books and other articles for the school, that the furnishing of United States flags might be included for that special purpose.

Mr. McCoy reported that the appraisers who had been appointed to appraise the damage to the school property at Mason street had reported that they had found a change in the grade, and had reported in favor of allowing no damage at all. The attorney was instructed to take an appeal and demand damages.

Flags for the School Buildings.

A petition signed by something like 500 citizens asking the board to purchase United States flags for all the school buildings was presented to the committee on buildings and property. The petition was referred to the treasury. General fund, $185,651.26; sinking fund, $41,138.10.

Communication from Bell & Boringham was read and it went on file in short order. The gentlemen called attention to a number of defects in the school buildings, and asked the board to investigate the matter. The items mentioned were the main entrance arch, the door locks and the pricing under the roof.

Mr. Morrison, Mr. Babecek and others thought that scheme was altogether out of the question. They thought that it would cost a few hundred dollars to have hundreds of children arrested and half scared to death by officers. Some other plan for correcting the bad habit of playing "hooky" should be adopted. The resolution was referred to the committee on buildings and property.

On resolution of Mr. Jaynes the board decided to purchase 100 of the books entitled, "Tales from the Arabian Nights," for the public schools. He said he could find no law that would authorize the board to expend money for flags, neither had he found any law that would authorize the board to withhold such power. He thought that inasmuch as the board had authority to furnish books and other articles for the school, that the furnishing of United States flags might be included for that special purpose.

Mr. McCoy reported that the appraisers who had been appointed to appraise the damage to the school property at Mason street had reported that they had found a change in the grade, and had reported in favor of allowing no damage at all. The attorney was instructed to take an appeal and demand damages.

Flags for the School Buildings.

A petition signed by something like 500 citizens asking the board to purchase United States flags for all the school buildings was presented to the committee on buildings and property. The petition was referred to the treasury. General fund, $185,651.26; sinking fund, $41,138.10.

Communication from Bell & Boringham was read and it went on file in short order. The gentlemen called attention to a number of defects in the school buildings, and asked the board to investigate the matter. The items mentioned were the main entrance arch, the door locks and the pricing under the roof.

Mr. Morrison, Mr. Babecek and others thought that scheme was altogether out of the question. They thought that it would cost a few hundred dollars to have hundreds of children arrested and half scared to death by officers. Some other plan for correcting the bad habit of playing "hooky" should be adopted. The resolution was referred to the committee on buildings and property.

On resolution of Mr. Jaynes the board decided to purchase 100 of the books entitled, "Tales from the Arabian Nights," for the public schools. He said he could find no law that would authorize the board to expend money for flags, neither had he found any law that would authorize the board to withhold such power. He thought that inasmuch as the board had authority to furnish books and other articles for the school, that the furnishing of United States flags might be included for that special purpose.

Mr. McCoy reported that the appraisers who had been appointed to appraise the damage to the school property at Mason street had reported that they had found a change in the grade, and had reported in favor of allowing no damage at all. The attorney was instructed to take an appeal and demand damages.

Flags for the School Buildings.

A petition signed by something like 500 citizens asking the board to purchase United States flags for all the school buildings was presented to the committee on buildings and property. The petition was referred to the treasury. General fund, $185,651.26; sinking fund, $41,138.10.

Communication from Bell & Boringham was read and it went on file in short order. The gentlemen called attention to a number of defects in the school buildings, and asked the board to investigate the matter. The items mentioned were the main entrance arch, the door locks and the pricing under the roof.

Mr. Morrison, Mr. Babecek and others thought that scheme was altogether out of the question. They thought that it would cost a few hundred dollars to have hundreds of children arrested and half scared to death by officers. Some other plan for correcting the bad habit of playing "hooky" should be adopted. The resolution was referred to the committee on buildings and property.

On resolution of Mr. Jaynes the board decided to purchase 100 of the books entitled, "Tales from the Arabian Nights," for the public schools. He said he could find no law that would authorize the board to expend money for flags, neither had he found any law that would authorize the board to withhold such power. He thought that inasmuch as the board had authority to furnish books and other articles for the school, that the furnishing of United States flags might be included for that special purpose.

Mr. McCoy reported that the appraisers who had been appointed to appraise the damage to the school property at Mason street had reported that they had found a change in the grade, and had reported in favor of allowing no damage at all. The attorney was instructed to take an appeal and demand damages.

Flags for the School Buildings.

A petition signed by something like 500 citizens asking the board to purchase United States flags for all the school buildings was presented to the committee on buildings and property. The petition was referred to the treasury. General fund, $185,651.26; sinking fund, $41,138.10.

Communication from Bell & Boringham was read and it went on file in short order. The gentlemen called attention to a number of defects in the school buildings, and asked the board to investigate the matter. The items mentioned were the main entrance arch, the door locks and the pricing under the roof.

DEFIED THE AUTHORITIES

One of England's Statesmen Suddenly Develops Evidence of Insanity.

HOTEL FURNITURE CAST INTO THE STREET

Efforts to Quiet the Madman Unavailing—Officials of the Congo Government Accused of Encouraging the Raids of Arabs.

Unbeaten Champion Replies Hotly to the Utterances of Mitchell.

MISSOURI, Miss., March 7.—On the receipt of Mitchell's ultimatum the Associated Press agent hunted up John L. Sullivan and brought him to the Associated Press office, where he was waiting the following:

As my my friend, Mr. Duca, who has been contemplating a match with Mitchell, I will fight Mitchell any time between the 15th of August and the 7th of September, this year. The Olympic club in the city of New Orleans for the purpose of $20,000 and an outside bet of $10,000 a side. I am ready to put up my first deposit of $2,500 now, and the entire sum of $10,000 by the 15th of August. If he is in such a financial condition that he cannot stand the amount of $10,000, I will accept his first deposit of $2,500 now, second $2,500 in thirty days, third $2,500 by May 1, fourth $2,500 by June 1. I will make a most reputable honest man as stakeholder. I insist upon the match coming off between the time specified, the 15th of August and the 7th of September, for the reason that our engagements do not end until June 4, and we remain again on the 14th of September. This is the only way to settle the matter, and to train and allow me only three months from the termination of my season. I cannot extend the limit of my time beyond September 14th, as my friend, Mr. Duca, has said, and myself have made contracts to open our season September 12.

About Those Articles.

"As regards the statement of Mitchell that I had written to sign the articles that the Olympic club for the purpose of $20,000, I can only reply that I know nothing about the said articles, as I have not seen them. I can only say that I have never struck me as peculiar that those articles exist. When we were prepared, where and by whom? Why Mr. Mitchell, I do not know. I have never seen him, and I have never seen any of the articles of which I know nothing. I would avoid any more of this kind of talk, and myself have made contracts to open our season September 12.

Notwithstanding, until today was he considered a dangerous lunatic. He commenced pitching the bed room furniture and bedding into the street, and the crowd that gathered outside threw the rest and all the crockery into the street. Great consternation was caused in the hotel among the visitors and the manager applied to the British consul, who sent a messenger to Mr. Mitchell, and he was placed the honorable gentleman under restraint. An order to lock him up cannot be issued until the morning, and in the meantime, that is tonight, the hotel visitors are likely to have a lively time.

Great sympathy is expressed for the honorarium of the wife, who is here with him. The lady says her husband has suffered from mental strain since 1886. He is a member of the Congo government, and is now 60 years of age. We suppose the name at the lady's request.

INTEREST IN BIMETALLISM.

Secretary Foster Says It is Growing in England—An Interview.

LONDON, March 7.—In an interview with the Associated Press representative, Mr. Foster said that it was impossible to disclose the nature of his conversations with Mr. Goschen. Perhaps they referred to a currency conference, but the matter had not been discussed at any length.

The correspondent having referred to the confidence felt in America that such a conference would be arranged, Mr. Foster said he hoped that the confidence was not misplaced and that if a satisfactory basis would be obtained he would not hesitate to confer with Mr. Goschen on the subject.

Mr. Foster said that he had been constantly approached to express myself on the subject. My business, however, was in the line of recovering my health, and I had been in the Congo for some time. If there is one man in Europe I should like to see, it is Prince Bismarck. I have no time for anything else at present.

Recurring to the currency question the correspondent referred to Senator Teller's resolution in the senate and asked what Mr. Foster thought of it. Mr. Foster said he was a reasonable supporter of the call which was responded to. More than this Mr. Foster would not say. He declared himself much better. Foster had a slight hoarseness, having caught a fresh cold.

WILLIAMS' BAD BREAK.

Alexander of Russia Makes a Reply to One of the Standard Reports.

LONDON, March 8.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Standard reports a startling story in connection with the surprising speech made by the emperor of Germany at the recent banquet at Brandenburg, which caused so much adverse criticism, not only in Germany, but in certain quarters in this country. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe.

The report is that the emperor's comments were seized on the charge of lese majeste, but through the whole of Europe. The report is that the emperor's comments were seized