

FOR THE BIG CONVENTION

Committees Are Working Very Hard to Make Satisfactory Arrangements.

EITHER A WIGWAM OR THE COLISEUM

Where to Hold the Sessions is Still a Mooted Question—What the Street Railway Company Promises—Prospecting for Coal.

The regular meeting of the Real Estate Owners association was held in its rooms in the New York life building yesterday afternoon.

President Boggs presented a letter which he proposed to send to real estate owners of the city urging them to give a helping hand to the effort being made by the association. The letter sets forth that there are a number of industries which could be secured with a little effort and urges those to whom sent to signify on an enclosed slip how much stock they would be willing to invest in the proposed industries.

Judge Scott brought up the matter of a wigwam for the accommodation of the people's convention and various plans were proposed. On a suggestion of Mr. Boggs, the Board of Trade secretary and those in the office were invited to come over for a joint discussion of the problem. The invitation was accepted and the question was participated in by all who were present, including Messrs. J. A. Wakefield, Dan Farrell, Jr., Judge Scott, O. Strickler, Secretary Nason, E. S. Davis, Jeff Bedford, Cadet Taylor, George W. Boggs, E. A. Benson, Nate Cray and Will Cray.

The Board of Trade delegation reported that it had been busy, but had found very few available locations for the wigwam. This was received with disfavor unless satisfactory arrangements can be made with the street railway company. It had been Mr. Frank Murphy, who was put in charge of the building from all the northern lines, the cable, the Harney and the Union Pacific, fourth street and the Walnut Hill, the Sherman avenue and the Seventeenth street horse car lines. The building will accommodate about 10,000 people, and the meeting figured an attendance of 1,500 delegates, 300 press representatives, 300 distinguished guests and fifty visitors from each state, or 2,300 in all. This would leave a surplus of seats of 5,000, which would prove ample.

The question of hotel accommodation was brought up, and it was decided to publish a list of the houses, with their prices and locations. It was also suggested that it would be advisable to run a series of excursions through the state.

Y. O. Strickler brought up the matter of a banquet to the press representatives, and ample accommodations are proposed for ready work and enjoyment.

After the departure of the Board of Trade delegation the association took up the petition of property owners concerning the fifteenth street viaduct. It was referred.

A motion was adopted requesting the senators and representatives to meet at the capitol on the government building, where possible, to be done by Omaha mechanics.

It was resolved to request that the city attorney be requested to see if the recent action of the city council in selling portions of the street were legal.

The committee on ways and means reported that no satisfactory borings had ever been made to ascertain whether or not the coal which so largely underlies the section of Iowa between Omaha and a short distance east of Omaha can be found in Douglas county, and recommended: (1) That as cheap fuel is indispensable for many purposes, the best steps should be taken to prospect for coal, gas or oil; (2) that the board of directors of the Real Estate Owners association will undertake this work and procure a final conclusion provided a fund can be raised; (3) That the valuable assistance of The Bee and World Herald in this connection and their cooperation is asked in this work.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS.

Measures Suggested for the Consideration of the Republican Central Committee.

The committee appointed by the republican county and city committee to draft a primary election law is making progress slowly, but will probably have a report fully defined and ready to present to the joint meeting of the two committees next Saturday afternoon.

Chairman D. H. Mercer of the county central committee has drawn up a bill that he thinks will cover the ground pretty thoroughly. He has modeled it after the fashion of the Australian ballot law, but has left out a great deal of a scheme which is in that law. One provision which Mr. Mercer recommends will doubtless bring out a good deal of discussion. It is to the effect that in case of an election as a delegate to any county, city, state or national convention shall, before his name can be presented to the convention at which he hopes to be elected, pay to the treasurer of the county or city central committee $1, to be placed in the treasury to defray the necessary expenses of holding primary elections.

"I believe that this plan will solve the question of raising funds to bear the primary election expenses," said Mercer. "No man could complain, it seems to me, on account of this arrangement, and a man wishes to go as a delegate to a convention he ought to be willing to pay $1 for the privilege. Where a candidate wishes to have his friends elected as delegates he ought to be willing to put up something for primary expenses. With the number of aspiring delegates as numerous as they usually are in Omaha, this would be a realizable very respectable fund and nobody would have to bear the big end of the load."

Chairman Richard Smith of the city central committee had something to say upon the subject when he met a Bee reporter. "There is one point in this proposed primary law that will be a great stumbling block to many of us who are thinking the matter over. It is the question of challenging voters who are suspected of being ineligible. How can we, who really have no right to vote in a republican primary, how can we prevent a man from voting in our primaries if he says he intends to vote the republican ticket. Even where parties have been outspoken, democrats or independents, no body has a right to know or to suspect that a man is ineligible. A suitable primary law is going to be a difficult one to make because a good deal will have to depend on the honesty of the voters and the loopholes through which dishonest voters may crawl will have to be watched with great care. It looks to me as though this question of eligibility of voters at the primaries is the all important and most difficult problem in our whole election scheme at present."

A Good Text and Application.

Clergymen do not always seek the texts whereon they ground their good advice in the Book of Books, but sometimes find them in the practices of the day, and in such instances get so close to the comprehension of both saint and sinner that there is no dodging the palpable conclusions.

Quite recently Rev. W. A. Knight of Columbus, O., found his text in the Louisiana lottery. In the course of his remarks he observed: "I want to say to you, when anything comes along and proposes to give you something for nothing you can know it is masked—there is an evil back of it. You can never get something for nothing in this world except by a fortunate or unfortunate accident. I think it is always unfortunate. Believe representations only when the returns offered are in accordance with the natural gains of trade."

This is a truth which standard life insurance and assessment life insurance have been exemplifying to the world for years; the latter by countless failures, the former by the unshaken successes of years.

THREE HOUSES BURNED.

An Early Morning Blaze That Prospered in the Joint of the Firemen.

Shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning a still called house company No. 3 to 423 South Twenty-fourth street, where a little blaze in a one-story frame cottage occupied by Mr. Duffield, had started from a defective stove. It was easily extinguished.

Three hours afterwards a second alarm from the same quarter was sent in, and hose company No. 3 responded. Fire had broken out in the Duffield cottage again, and in the high wind was rapidly spreading to two adjoining cottages. The firemen immediately tried to find and the occupants considered themselves lucky to get out with their lives and a few possessions. The fire had spread to two other cottages were soon reduced to ashes.

The property belonged to the Byron Road company, and its destruction entails a loss of $2,000, covered by insurance.

A Kansas Man's Experience with Coughs and Colds.

Colds and coughs have been so prevalent during the past few months that the experience of Albert Favonius, of Arkansas City, Kan., cannot fail to interest some of our readers. Here it is in his own words: "I contracted a cold early last spring that settled on my lungs and had hardly recovered from it when I caught another that hung on all summer and left me with a hacking cough which I thought I never would get rid of. I had used Chamberlain's cough remedy some fourteen years ago with much success and concluded to try it again. When I had got my cough under control I had a cold and I had not suffered with a cough or cold since. I have recommended it to others and all speak well of it." 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

KELLOM SCHOOL OPENING.

It Will Be Fittingly Celebrated About the First of April.

The new Kellom school is to be opened about the first of April with considerable pomp and circumstance. Miss Paula Arnold is now busy drilling the children of the seventh and eighth grades upon a cantata called "The Dress Rehearsal," which is to be given at the opening. The children of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades will also join in singing national songs. Members of the Board of Education, city officials, teachers, parents and the public in general will be invited to the festival.

Mr. Menequist said yesterday he had just ordered the last piece of material for the new building and when that is put in place the building will be finished. It will require a week or two with good fires burning to get the building thoroughly dried out and in fit condition for occupancy.

DEATHS AT THE HOSPITAL.

Two Colored Men Afflicted with Consumption, Die the Same Night.

Three weeks ago Superintendent Mahoney of the poor farm found two negroes, John Smith and Charles Ford, lying quite ill in a boarding house on South Sixteenth street. The men were in destitute circumstances and were removed to the county hospital and were pronounced by the county physician to be both very low with consumption.

Early yesterday evening Smith died, and a man wishes to go as a delegate to a convention he ought to be willing to pay $1 for the privilege. Where a candidate wishes to have his friends elected as delegates he ought to be willing to put up something for primary expenses. With the number of aspiring delegates as numerous as they usually are in Omaha, this would be a realizable very respectable fund and nobody would have to bear the big end of the load."

CONGRATULATIONS ON THE BIRTH OF A GIRL AND POSTERIOR GLANCES AT THE PROUD TITLE OF "GRANDPA."

The friends of Miss Clara Davis surprised her at her home Wednesday evening. Cards and refreshments were furnished by the company to pass an enjoyable evening.

The King's Daughters of the Presbyterian church were pleasantly entertained by Mrs. W. G. Sullivan at her residence, Twenty-second and H streets, yesterday afternoon.

A lodge of Royal Neighbors, the ladies' branch of the Modern Woodmen of America, was instituted at Mission hall last night. The lodge begins its existence with about thirty-five members.

Mr. Denna Albert, business manager of the Drovers Journal, went to Blair Monday and returned on Friday. He was accompanied by Mrs. M. A. Gardner of Blair. They will reside at 2009 N. street.

William Dwyer, a sheep butcher at Swift & Co.'s was badly injured about two weeks yesterday. The knife slipped and entered his left arm between the elbow and wrist, cutting a deep gash and severing the artery. He will be laid up for about two weeks.

James Collins, the 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Collins, died at his home at Forty-eighth and Q streets, of diphtheria, Wednesday morning. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon and the remains were interred in St. Mary's cemetery. Another child of the same family was buried a week ago yesterday and the two remaining children are seriously ill with the same disease.

Receiving the Nebraska Consumer. OMAHA, March 10.—To THE BEE: Some outside manufacturers in their efforts to subvert the home patronage movement are advertising in a way to deceive the people. As an example of this attention is called to the case of labeling cigar boxes with the name of Omaha and some Omaha merchants and then passing off the cigars as of home manufacture. As another example here is a local advertisement that is being run in an evening paper: "Patrolize home industry by buying Nebraska." The article mentioned is of common use in every household and it is the object of the manufacturer to make the consumer believe that the particular brand mentioned is of Nebraska manufacture when it is really made in another state. In order to avoid being deceived by such schemes consumers should be careful to ascertain beyond a doubt the location of the manufacturer of the goods in question. It is really made in another state. ST. ANDREW'S SPECIAL.

First of the Lenten Services Held at Trinity Cathedral Last Night.

The first of the special Lenten services held under the auspices of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew was held last night at Trinity cathedral. The service was intended for men only, and there were about 120 present. The address was by Rev. Mr. Johnston, missionary priest at St. Andrew's mission, Walnut Hill. His subject was "Social Purity," and he dwelt on the signs and symptoms of a forward condemnation of those vices that ruin society and destroy the strength and purity of men and women. The speaker did not waste any words in denouncing the vices, but dwelt straight at the evils to which he wished to call the attention of the gentlemen present. He exhorted the brethren to spurn social evils of every description and to set their mark of purity and virtue high and then live up to it.

The postponed meeting next Thursday night will be held in St. Barnabas church.

A Suggestion.

We wish to make a suggestion to persons troubled with rheumatism. Try a few applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. If that does not bring relief, dampen a piece of flannel with the Pain Balm and bind it on over the seat of pain. The first application is almost sure to relieve the pain and by its continued use many severe cases have been permanently cured. 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Next Sunday night and the three nights following Cora Tanner appears at Boyd's new theater in the new play "Will She Divorce Him," a drama written for her by Gilmour Stuart. As her heroine, Isabel Spencer, the gilded actress, has a character in which she can display to perfection the varied histrionic powers with which she is so richly endowed. The lady's many admirers will receive a new and interesting gratification in Isabel Spencer's given opportunities to exercise the emotional strength which she possesses with rare artistic effect. Her trained force that first drew attention to her as an actress of far more than average ability. The pathos in the lady's new play is relieved by humorous situations. The transition from Cora Tanner's transition from grave to gay, from lively to serene, are veritable triumphs of histrionic art, for they counteract nature so admirably.

Will Pull for Keeps.

The tug of war contest between the champion Sweden team and the German carpenters at Blum's hall tonight will be one of the best athletic exhibitions ever seen in South Omaha. The teams have both been in training for two weeks and the stake of $1,200 added to 75 per cent of the gate receipts will act as a sufficient inducement to insure a fought contest. Each team has deposited $500 in the hands of W. W. Owens, who is the acting stakeholder.

The Swedish team is composed of Nels Lundgren, captain; John Lind, anchor; Gust Lundson, J. G. Jacobson, J. E. Johnson, Alex. Lind, C. E. Johnson and J. Weststrom, Edward Johnson and F. R. Johnson.

John Eggers is the captain of the carpenters and has not decided on all of his men. He has an athletic lot of fellows to choose from and will have a stronger team than the one with which he won the last contest.

Unique but Enjoyable.

The calico ball given by the Young People's Social club at Knights of Pythias hall last evening was an unusually enjoyable affair. The calico dresses did not detract from the attractions of the late guests and the novelty of the affair proved so much of a success that the members of the club contemplate giving a phantom ball in the near future.
