Filteenth lows infantry: A my earliest recollection I was living in Somerse county, Pennsylvania, near Brugh's tavers at the foot of Lauret bill, with Jacob and Mary Gerbrick the former a blacksmith. They moved from there to Gien Rock valley, Pa. and from there to York York county, Pa. There they left me with a butcher mamed Fred Stallman, telling him they would be back in a few days, but several months passed and they did not return. I started out to find them and they did not return. I started out to find them and they did not return. I started out to find them and the only trace I could get of them was at Pittsburg where they had registered at a hotel that same year list. From that day to this I have never been able to find way trace of of them. I am now about 55 years old. I adopted their name, whether by rights or not 1 do not know, and request that should this fail under the eye of anyone who knew of Jacob and Mary Gerbrick, or who knows of anyone by the name of Gerbrick, they will confer the favor of cammunicating with the undersigned. TO INVESTORS—WE DESIRE TO CALL YOUR Attention to the fact that we are making a speciality of the sale of large acre tracts immediately surrounding this city. We believe acre property close to Omaha, at present prices, is the best investment now on the market, and we are certain no other western city offers as sure and rapid a growth as Omaha.

Omaha's population in 1850 was 30,418.

And IL S. census of 1800 shows 140,457.

An increase of over 300 per cent greater than any other large city in the United States.

Ter or twenty thousand dollars invested in a twenty or forty acre tract on the outskirts of this city today must necessarily increase very fapidly in value within the next few years for a non-resident it is the safest kind of an investment casy to look after, no worry, no city taxes; cannot be stolen or carried off, and the steady and rapid growth of this city is absolutely certain to enhance the value of the property from 3 to 500 percent.

We have pieced in our hands for sale, recently, several large tracts immediately adjacent to this city that are so located as regards receiving the benefit of Omaha's future growth and improvements that they offer a splendid opportunity for a first class investment.

This property has been in the hands of the present owners for over twenty years, until the city has grown up close to it, and we are authorized to offer the same for sale at figures that will enable the buyer to realize a big profit on the investment.

Indian Soldiers Must Not Drink. In reply to a question from Chief of Police

Seavey, County Attorney Mahoney gives it as his opinion that the prohibition to sell liquor to Indians extends to all sorts of Indians, including the soldiers quartered at Fort Omaha. This will in some measure affect the trade of a number of saloons restrocted by the soldier boys.
