MOREARTY FACES THE COURT

One of the Indicted Councilmen Answers the Charge of Boodling.

EXCEPTS TO JUDGE SCOTT'S INSTRUCTIONS

Allegations Made That the Grand Jury Listened to Anarchistic Utterances From the District Bench-Other Cases in Court,

The case of the state against ex-Councilman E. F. Morearty has been called for trial and the attraction in Judge Davis' court promises to draw like a mustard plaster.

The grand jury was in session a few days ago and before it adjourned an indictment was returned charging Morearty with having attempted to do a little booding while he was serving the city as councilman at large The public long ago became familiar with the claim of C. E. Squires, the street sweep-ing contractor. He had a contract with the oity by which he was to sweep the paved streets, payment to be made at the price of $15 per mile. During the months of August, September, October and November, 1890, his bill amounted to the sum of $7,947.68.

Notwithstanding the fact that the city inspector refused to approve of the work, the bill reached the Board of Public Works, when it was rejected. Then it went to the council where it was approved and the amount went into the appropriation ordinence which was passed. Mayor Cushing vetoed the item. For a year the bill raced back and forth between the council and the back and forth between the council and the Board of Public Works, to be approved by one body and rejected by the other. Rumors were set affoat that boodle was being used and when the grand jury con-vened the matter was taken up and investigated. The result was that the indictment returned set forth the statement that Morearty, for the sum of $2,200 had told Squires that he would see the bill was allowed.

When the case was called yesterday
County Attorney Mahoney stated that he was ready to go to trial. Morearty and his attorneys were present, but they wanted a continuance until afternoon in order to prepare a motion, quashing the indictment. They stated that they did not expect the motion would be sustained, but it would give them a chance to go to the supreme court on error, providing that on the trial the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The motion states that Judge Scott's charge to the grand jury was inflammatory and anarchistic in its character; that he at-tempted to prejudice the minds of the grand jurors when he stated that to throw a stone almost any direction it was almost certain

The attorneys in the case say that they do not expect to reach the merits of the case before next week, as it will take several days to secure twelve jurors who have not heard of the case or formed their

In Judge Ferguson's court the case of James K. McGill & Co. against Joseph Porter, D. T. Mount and L. H. Korty is on trial. Plaintiffs are suing to recover $1,200, which they claim is due on account of typewriters and typewriter supplies sold to Porter, who was their agent. Mount and Korty were Porter's bondsmen. The defendants claim that the plaintiffs did not comply with the terms of the contract between themselves and defendants

A Suggestion.

We wish to make a suggestion to persons troubled with rheumatism. Try a few applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. If that does not bring relief, dampen a piece of flaunel with the Pain Balm and bind it on over the seat of pain. The first application is almost sure to relieve the pain and by its continued use many severe cases have been permanently cured. 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

NOT A PORT OF ENTRY.

Collector Alexander Explains Council Bluffs' New Customs House Accommodation. Speaking of the telegram from Wash ington to the effect that Council Bluffs was about to be made a port of entry, Collector Alexander said:

"Council Bluffs cannot be made a port of entry. Ports of entry are only possible vessels from foreign ports may land and unload their cargoes. Omaha is a port of immediate transportation but not a port of entry. Council Bluffs might be made a port of immediate transportation but not a port of entry. The merchants of Council Bluffs entry. The merchants of Council Bluffs have for some time been trying to get some arrangement by which they could be relieved from paying shipping charges on imported goods from the Bluffs to Omaha and back to the Bluffs again. We have done the inspecting of the goods that came to Council Bluffs merchants right along, but on account of the rules which regulate customs offices we have been obliged to have the goods shipped to Omaha and after inspecting them on this side they are shipped back across the

"i suggested a plan to the Treasury depart-ment several months ago that I hoped to see adopted, and for a time the Council Bruffs merchants urged its adoption. My plan was to have the government provide a room on the lowa side, somewhere in Council Bluffs, convenient to the different railroad tracks where imported goods could be inspected and then give this office jurisdiction to in-spect and release goods shipped to Council Bluffs as well as Omaha. That would have saved the extra expense of keeping up a separate customs office over there, and it ould have relieved the importers from paying the expense incident to shipping acres the river and back again. But the Council Biuffs people finally decided that they wanted a customs office of their own, and the other scheme was dropped."

Mr. Dietz suggested that the daily papers be requested to open popular subscriptions, as they had heretofore been very successful in similar efforts. Mr. Weller backed up the lea with the understanding that other efforts should be made if this should prove insufficient. A long drawn discussion over the advisability of paying $4,000 for the use of the Coliseum arose at this point, which was finally closed by the chairman. The other items of expense were called for and Mr. Nason mentioned the payment of the expenses of the national committee, which meets in Omaha in May, and consists of twelve members; bands, glee clubs, uniformed pages, badges, decorations, entertain-

PILED.

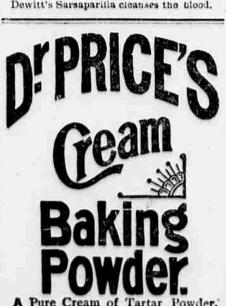

In speaking of the large excess of mortgages filed over those released, Mr. Sackett stated that not more than two thirds of the mortgages filed were ever released. This was strikingly so in the matter of furniture leases. There was no law to compel the mortgagees to cancel the mortgages and they would not do so except in rare in-stances. The mortgagers did not go to the trouble. After they had paid off the mort-gages and had the notes in their possession they did not seem to care whether the mortgages were released or appeared upon the records as being unpaid.

Too Stout to Saw Wood. County Commissioner Stenberg, chairman of the committee on public charities is of the epinion that many of the people who apply to the poormaster for assistance are not very anxious to work even if they have a chance.

Some days ago the county commissioners and the bureau of associated charaties concluded arrangements by which all worthy persons could be furnished employment at the Tenth Street Mission wood yard. The men were to have been paid at the rate of 15 cents per hour. Instead of money they were to have been paid stead of money they were to have been paid in groceries. So far six men have applied for work. The applications were made to County Agent Mahoney, and the men sent to the wood yard. Three reported for duty, but the others were lost in the shuffle.

Mike Ames Knows How He Became Drunk

-Police Court Pictures. A long ungainly specimen of the genus granger responded to the name of Mike Ames in the police court yesterday morning, and after instening to the charge that he had been drunk Tuesday night, squirted an amber colored cascade into the cuspidore, planted his foot on a bench, his cibow, his knee and his chin on his fist and slowly drawted :

"Dinged if I don't believe that's right," "How did you get that way!"

"Ever been here before!" "Nop."

"How do you feel about it?" "Feel like h-l." He was discharged.

Thomas Collins, the famous, pleaded as an extenuating circumstance that there was only one St. Patrick's day in the year, and that he had not appeared in court for the past thirty days. The court was moved, but admonished the culprit that the smallest penalty for plainest kind of homespun drunks in his case hereafter would not be less than $15. John Lawsha, the veteran from Red Oak, Ia., who looks like Prince Bismarck and who claims to be the chief of police of his native town, again came to the front, and professed himself as willing to plead guilty to any-thing. He bearded the tiger in his Douglas street lair a few nights ago and has since been seeking to drown his $290 sorrow in the flowing bowl. Lee Nestlehouse and Henry Phillips gave the prisoner's dock a semi-aristocratic ap pearance with their prematurely baid heads and tailor made clothes. The police call them vags.

Dr. B. F. Monroe, the physician in charge of the Castle cure for liquor, morphine or tobacco says, "I have never seen its equal." This statement should cause everyone interested to investigate the Castle cure, 1416 Harney street.
