Mrs. J. F. Evans entertained a large party of ladies Friday afternoon at a Kensington tea at her residence on Sixth avenue.

Mayor-Elect Lawrence will appoint the members of the police force at the regular meeting of the council on the first Monday evening in April. H. R. Thornberry was brought in from Clarinda yesterday by a deputy United States marshal on the charge of selling liquor without a government license. He gave bonds for his appearance before the grand jury. A man was found yesterday afterdoon lying in an alley just off of Main street ap-parently in a fainting fit. The patrol was on was called and he was taken to the police station. By the time hearrived there he had recovered his consciousness and said no was subject to such attacks. He gave his name as Frank McMiller. Rev. F. L. Hayden, who has been assisting Rev. S. Alexander in revival services at the First Presbyterian church during the past week, went to his home in Avoca to fill his own pulpit over Sunday. He will return tomorrow and will further assist in the meetings, which will continue all the week. So far the meetings have been very interesting, the house being filled each evening.

The work of fitting up the new headquar-ters of the Pottawattamie County Democratic association in the James block on Pearl street, is being pushed rapidly. The room is the same one formerly occupied by the press club. It is to be painted and papered throughout, and a new floor is being put in. When the repairs are completed it will be a handsome place. The members of the association hope to have it in shape to be occu-pled inside of two weeks.

Important Surgical Operations.

The Omaha and Council Bluffs Medical and Surgical institute, located at Twenty-sixth street and Broadway, Council Bluffs, is the scene daily of surgical operations that are important enough to warrant reporting in the medical journals. The institute is filled with patients from all parts of the country, and about as soon as one is discharged another takes the place Several capital operations have been performed during the past week, and in every instance the patients have promptly rallied and are progressing favorably toward recovery. In all the history of the institute, out of hundreds of operations, there never has been a death or an accident.

One of the operations performed yesterday was a peculiarly pathetic case. A bright little 5-year-old girl, daughter of a Mr. McClelland of this city, went through a terrible ordeal. Nearly a year ago her little brother threw a piece of coal and struck her on the left foot just below the ankle, causing a bad bruise. The usual remedies were applied but the wound did not heal and a funning sore resulted. Many physicians treated her unsuccessfully and as a last resort she was taken to the hospital. An examination showed that necrosis of the bone had progressed to such an extent that all the bones of the ankle and foot down to the toes were destroyed. Ordinary surgery would have demanded the amputation of the foot at the ankie, but this was not done. The dis-eased bones were removed and the incisions stitched together. The foot will be crippled and disfigured but it will be much better than no foot at all. The little child stood the operation bravely and quickly recovered from the shock and will soon be ready leave the hospital. Fourteen more patients will be discharged from the hospital on Tuesday.

THE OMAHA BEE. NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Work of the Final Session of the Present City Council.

QUARTERS FOR OFFICIALS SECURED Possibility of Having East Pierce Street

Paved in the Near Future Removed

by Aiderman Casper - Local

News Notes of Interest. The city council held its last session yesterday afternoon, it being an adjourned meeting from last Monday evening. The comnittee which was appointed to look up headquarters for the city offices reported that offices for the city clerk and auditor had been secured in the Sapp building, and for the city treasurer in L. Kinnehan's store. The committee also reported that a contract and been let to P. Wind to put up an office for the city weighmaster in the rear of the patrol house, the price to be paid being This part of the report caused a kick from Alderman Casper, who thought that as the city derived no direct revenue from the office the weighmaster should be required to furnish his own office. Other members of the council called the attention of Alderman Casper to the fact that the weighmaster was not getting rich out of his position and the not getting rich out of his position and the whole report was finally concurred in.

The official canvass of the votes cast at the last city election was adopted, after which a resolution was offered by Alderman Van Brunt thanking Mayor Macrae and Aldermen Wind, Wood and Casper for the good work they had done toward reducing the city indebtedness and placing the city on a firm financial footing, and conveying them the hearty wishes of their colleagues for their future presperity. This resolution was adopted. adopted. Alderman Casper arose at this point and asked that the petition asking for the paving of Pierce street, which he had presented a year or so before, and which had been hanging fire ever since, be returned to him, as he saw no prospects of it being passed, and he did not care to have it run the gauntlet another year without his being in the council to look after its welfare. Other members of the council urged him to let the matter run nwhile, as the new council would probably pass the ordinance, but he was firm and the petition was ordered returned, thus killing all hopes of having East Pierce street paved at least for some time. The council then adjourned sine die.

Oil Paintings Given Away.

The lightning landscape artist, who has attracted such crowds at the Boston store, Council Bluffs, during the last few days, will remain in his studio in one of the large show windows for several days yet. It is to be hoped the weather will be pleasanter this week so that the crowds outside can better enjoy the spectacle of an artist painting a large handsome landscape in oil with lightning rapidity, completing a picture often in ten minutes time. Many of these pictures are very fine, and would not be out of place in any drawing As fast as they are painted and dried they are given away to the customers of the store with every $5 purchase. All these pictures are framed on the place at about one-half the cost commonly paid for the various styles of frames, ranging in price from 65c to $1.75. This is much less than the frames can be bought for elsewhere. We trust that each of our patrons will get one of these pictures. Recollect the picture costs you nothing; you get your goods at special sale prices and the pictures are given you as presents from us, your expense only being for the frames, if you desire to have them framed.

Result of a Family Row. William Scott, who was brought in from Oakland Friday night to answer to the charge of insanity made against him by his wife, Theodosia Scott, was given an examination vesterday morning by the commissioners of insanity. He was not disposed to talk very freely of the matter, but he gave the corrmissioners a few statements of fact in a straightforward way that proclaimed him anything but a crazy man. She stated that up to a short time ago he was au infidel. His home was the rendesvouz for all the people in that part of the country who wanted to have a good time and didn't care how much noise they made about it. As he was an expert fiddler he used to give dances at his house, and the noise his guests made caused his house to be notorious far and

A little while ago he joined the Methodist church and immediately put a stop to dancing in his house. His wife and five full-grown boys pleaded with him and threatened him in turn, with a view to inducing him to give up what they considered his out-landish notion, but all to no purpose. Finding they could not have things their own way they decided to get rid of him, and so made the charge of insanity against him. From the way he told his story it was evident that he was perfectly sane, and after the examination he was ordered discharged. the examination he was ordered discharged. Scott is an old soldier and has a great many friends about Oakland. It is stated that they are highly indignant over the actions of Scott's wife, and threaten to make things warm for her if the operation is repeated.

Progress of the Peters Case. Gregg Sayers, the father of the young man who has been on trial in the district court for several days past on a charge of murderous assault, was put upon the stand yester-day to tell what he knew about the case. According to his story, Peters, the alleged victim of the shooting, was the only one to blame for the unpleasant predicament in which he has been ever since last Christmas day. He testified that he, his sons and Dan Wilson went coon hunting on the night of the shooting. After they had started they went to the house in which they had been living, but which had been taken possession went to the house in which they had been living, but which had been taken possession of by J. L. Peters as receiver, for the purpose of getting some tobacco. Ross Sayers went to the door and demanded that it be opened. Peters refused to open the it be opened. Peters refused to open the door, but, so the old man claims, commenced to shoot. After several shots had been fired Ross stuck his revolver through a broken pane of glass and replied in kind. They then broke in the door. Ross grappled with Peters and threw him to the floor and nit him over the head with his revolver several times. He then bundled him up and started him on his way to Plumer's house, where he arrived several hours later. The old man was put through a searching cross-examination by the prosecuting attorney and showed tion by the prosecuting attorney and showed a good deat of ingenuity in framing his answers. The case will not be completed until Pleasant Leap Year Party. A number of young people were enterained Friday evening at the home of Miss Maie Seeley on Fourth street at a leap year party. Progressive high five occupied the first part of the evening, the ladies' prize, a magnificent Easter lily in bloom, being awarded to Miss Neltie Armstrong, and the rentlemen's prize, a pack of celluloid playing cards, to George Heston of Omaha. After cards, to George Heston of Omsha. After refreshments had been served dancing was indulged in. The following guests were present: Misses Jessie Jackson, Maud Cavin, Neil Hardin, Noil Keller, Alice Bonham, Kittie Ogden, Beile Snyder, Lena Fonda, May Bryant, Lu Smith, Eva Nason, Nettie Wells, Carrie Wells, Neilie Armstrong and Sadie Davis; Messrs, Dobbins, Guy Shepherd, Morris Loule, Will Martin, Ed Smith, Ashby F. Neal, Charles Higgins and George Heston of Omaha, Rolla Robinson, Curtis Stoddard, Arthur Cooley and Will Webber of Omaha, Will Murphy, Ed McCrary, O. J. Martin, Earl Kenyon and Mark Smith

New Livery Stable. S. B. Wadsworth is about to commence the erection of a new building immediately south of the Merriam block, between Main and Pearl streets. The building will have an eighty foot frontage on each street and will be used for livery stable purposes. It is to be ready for use by April 20 and will be occupied by B. S. Terwilliger the present proprietor of the Rink barn. The old skating rink, which has been used for several years past by Mr. Terwilliger, has been leased by the Dodge light guards, who will occupy it as an armory. It will be entirely re-modelled and turned into a first class place for concerts, promenages or dances.

WILL MAKE IT A SUCCESS.

New Arrangements by Which the Chautau-qua Assembly Will Be Operated.

The trustees of the Chautaugua assembly at last succeeded in getting together last evening for the first time in several months, and before they separated steps had been taken that insure the holding of an assembly this summer that will surpass all former attempts, if the statements made by those who are at the head of affairs are as reliable as they seem to be. As stated in THE BEE several weeks ago, a scheme has been on foot for some time to lease the property to a company composed of J. E. F. Mct-ee and I. M. Treynor in order that an assembly may be held this summer as a private enterprise, and last evening the scheme was unfolded to the trustees and the public. Judge McGee appeared before the meeting and stated his proposition, which in sub-stance was as follows: He agrees to lease the grounds and buildings for the coming year for the sum of $200, which is to be paid in improvements on the property, such im-provements to be made under the direction of the executive committee. He and Mr. Treyno will undertake the entire management of the assembly and will make arrangements for the finest program that has ever been presented on the Council Bluffs and Omaha assembly grounds. In order that the com-pany may be thoroughly responsible finan-cially a guarantee fund of $5,000 is to be raised among the citizens and in case any lecturer should decline to negotiate on account of the bad credit the assembly finds on its hands, a certified check may be deposited with him so as to assure him that he will get his money. This fund has already been raised, with the exception of about $650, and there is no doubt that a few days more will see the whole sum in the bands of McGes and Treynor. A program similar to those of preceding years is to be presented, including both lectures, concerts

This proposition was discussed at length and finally accepted, it being a previously that the Council Bluffs previously that the Council Bluffs and Omaha Chautauqua association should hold no assembly this year. The assembly now proposed will open July 2 and will last sixteen days. The work of securing attractions will be at once begun.

A vigorous effort will be made to secure better means of transportation to and from the grounds. Nothing has been heard of the Chautauqua motor line for some time past, and the new management does not count on its assistance. The railroads will be induced if possible, to give a 10 cent rate from this city, and a 15 cent rate from Omaha, to the grounds, and to take passengers from the north end of the Burlington switch, on Eighth avenue, instead of from the foot of Main street. Carryalls will also be run, but they will all be under the management of the assombly, so that their runs will be at stated intervals. A waiting room will be secured at some accessible point in the business part of the city and fitted up with benches for the convenience of the public. The new management has entered into the work with a vim, and the prospect now is that this summer will see an assembly fully up to the standard of its predecessors.

After organizing, a number of matters of interest to the members of the order were dis cussed, and among them was the advisability of organizing a ladies' auxiliary. It was de-cided to recommend that such an auxiliary be organized and immediate steps will be taken in this direction. The supreme council was also recommended to accept the commercial knights degree, and the greater part of the evening session was occupied in conferring this degree on the delegates present. Refreshments were then served, after which the session adjourned.

The next meeting of the grand lodge will be in one year at Marshalltown. Next Sat-urday the officers of the supreme lodge will go to Omaha to organize the grand lodge of Nebraska, and on the second Saturday in April to Hastings, Neb., to institute a subor-dunate council.

Lobhart Was Refused. S. Lobhart, who claims to have been elected derman in the Fifth ward on the democratic ticket, appeared at the office of the city clerk yesterday afternoon, accompanied by his attorneys, and made a formal demand upon that official that he administer to him the oath of office. Clerk Stephenson refused to do so, stating that Alderman Smith had aiready been qualified for the position and two aldermen from one ward would be a superfluity. Whether Mr. Lobiart really expected to be allowed to qualify is a matter of conjecture, but it is reported that the demand was morely made as a precursor of something yet to come. The first chapter of the contest between Smith and Lobhart will probably be written tomorrow evening at the city council. It is rumored that an injunc-tion will be sued out restraining Smith from fulfilling the duties of the office, if such a thing can be done, and it is thought that yes-terday's move was made for the purpose of complying with the law that requires an official to qualify within a certain time after Nipped a Gold Chain, Two men entered Jacquenin's jewelry store yesterday afternoon and asked to look at some solid gold chains. A tray was placed on the counter and they spent a few minutes on the counter and they spant a few minutes looking them over. They then wanted to see some plated chains. Soon after the tray containing the plated goods had been put on the show case one of the men left the store. A few minutes after his departure George Gerner, who was waiting on the pair, noticed that one of the solid gold chains was missing, and he immediately grabbed the would-be customer by the coat collar and accused him of pocketing the chain while he was getting out the second tray. The fellow denied the theft, but Gernertook him to the police station and had him locked up on the charge of larcony. The chain was not found about him when he was searched, and it is supposed to be in the possession of the man who escaped. A search was made for him all over the city, but he is thought to have gone to Omaha and there is but little probability of his being caught. The value of the missing chain is $35.

City Attorney's Report. City Attorney Stewart has completed his annual report and yesterday placed it in the hands of the city clerk, who will submit it to the council tomorrow evening. According to it there are now pending twenty-seven suits against the city, of which ten are for damages for personal injuries or injuries to property by reason of a change of grade. In the supreme court there are three suits pending, two of which are for damages and the third was commenced by the city against an ex-alderman to recover money paid him for extra services as a member of the board of equalization. There have been sixty-six cases disposed of during his administration, of which forty-four were the well known L M. Turner liquor cases. In concluding his report Mr. Stewart says that his department sentirely out of debt, and that all expenses ver the sum of $1,200 have been paid his own resources. The amounts of the judgments against the city at the time he as-sumed the duties of the office aggregated to Flaunt the Red Flag. Cuicago, Ill., March 19.-The police tonight added to their unpopularity with the socialists and anarchists of the city by what the latter regard as a repetition of what they term the "Grief hall persecution," of several months ago. Arrangements had been made for the celebration at the Second regiment armory of the 21st anniversary of the revolution of 1848 under the auspices of the Central Labor Union and Socialistic Publishing company.

SUPPRESSED THE FLAG OF ANARCHY. Chicago Anarchists and Socialists Forbidde

This afternoon Chief McClaughry sent a letter to the manager of the meeting, posi-tively forbidding the use of a red flag at the meeting, even as a labor organization em blem. Nothing in the nature of a flag should blem. Nothing in the nature of a flag should be used but the stars and stripes. Further than this, he said, there could be no beer if there was to be speaking. To enforce this special details of officers were stationed in the vicinity of the armory tonight. Beer was sold up to about 9 o'clock, when its further saie was stopped and the speakers came to the front. After the addresses dancing was the order of the evening. All was quite, but many expressions of opinion were made which were not eulogistic of the action of the police. of the police.

IVES IS CHAMPION.

Wizard Jake Schaeffer Beaten by the Young

Napoleon of Billiards. Cuicago, Ill., March 19.-Harry C. Ives is now champion bilitard player of the world. This evening he easily defeated Jacob Schaeffer, who for some time has held the championship.

The game played tonight at Central Music hall was in many respects one of the most interesting billiard matches ever played in this country. Jacob Schaeffer, the world's champion billiardist, and Harry C. Ives were the contestants in the game, which was for

800 points fourteen-inch balk line. The contest was for the world's championship, carrying with it the handsome Brunswick-Balke-Collender company's silver trophy, $1,000 a side and the gate receipts. Henry it. Hines was referee and Charles Matthews marker. The game was made the more in-teresting from the fact that the winner will, before he can hold the title of world's char-plon, have to again win it from George F losson, the latter having already issued his challenge and posted his forfeit for a game to be played within sixty days. Tonight's game began at 8:25. Ives won the bank for first shot and scored nothing. At the outset Ives was quite nervous, and carefully, almost anxiously watched each one of Schaeffer's forty-five points secured dur-ing the first inning. Schaeffer, in contrast to his opponent, was cool and collected, and illowed a slight sarcastic smile to pass over his features as some well-played shot was vociferously applauded.

In the second inning Ives regained his nerve and from that time to the finish the game was carefully played, each shot, especially on Ives' part, being well studied before it was attempted. That the good wishes of the audience of nearly 2,000 people were with Ives was made evident. The score by innings
