HARNESSING NIAGARA'S MIGHTY POWER

Its Effect on the Industrial Interests of Buffalo-The Iron and Steel Trade-Au Air-Line Electric Road-Various Notes.

Harnessing the mighty power of Niagara falls is practically solved. In the course of a few months the tunnels will be completed and series of turbine whoels put in place, which are expected to develop 120,000 horse power. The enormous source of power, light, heat and refrigeration is destined to make Buffalo a great industrial center. 'With this enormous electrical power ransmitted and distributed throughout the city," says the New York Tribune, 'coal will no longer be burned and steam engines will be dispensed with in manufacturing processes. Buffalo, by virtue of having the cheapest power for turning its wheels will eventually become the nanufacturing center of the nation. This is the forecast made, not only by sanguine electricians, but also by shrewd, practical business men, who have watched the remarkable progress of the city during the last decade. "Even without the successful operation of the tunnel plant at Niagara Buffalo since 1880 has increased its population 89 per cent, its grain receipts 101 per cent, its lumber shipments 125 per cent, its iron receipts 223 per cent, and its coal business 387 per cent. The commerce of the great lakes has involved exchanges of wheat and coal All the coal-carrying corporations have made Buffalo their shipping point for the west because the grain laden fleet is available for return cargoes. The city is not only the largest grain receiving and coal distributing center in the world, but it is also the principal lumber port of the country and one of the greatest livestock and fish markets. With coal, iron, lumber and salt available for the founding of new industries, it has increased its number of manufacting industries over 200 per cent during the decade. These are substantial results which warrant the conclusion that the success of the proect for converting Niagara falls into a source of electric power will raise the population of Buffalo from 300,000 to ,000,000 in another decade. The manufacturing interests of the country will inevitably center where electric power costing a fraction of either water or steam power can be supplied together with all raw materials."

Air Line Electric Road,

The engineering corps of the Chicago and St. Louis Electric Railway company, consisting of Tyre C. Hughes, chief gineer, and Messrs. E. A. Guill, W. A. Grady, E. T. Lurton and C. T. Elliott, is making the preliminary survey of tue proposed routes of the road. This will be the first air line railroad ever built in the world, and the work of running the line presents some new problems of unknown experiences to practical field engineers. The basis for the work has been long known, and much speculation has been indulged in, but never in the history of civil engineering has such a line been run. It will be 250 miles long. thirty-three miles shorter that any route existing between Chicago and St.

yet far from enough to check the piling up of stocks, which is going on very rapidly. Thus far exceptionally cheap money has helped producers to carry, but any change in the financial situation might cause a good deal of unloading. Reports of low prices come from every section. In billets Pittsburg has touched lowest water mark with a sale of 10,000 tons at $22.75. In the steel rail trade Pittsburg records a sale of 16,000 tons. while the eastern mills figure up only 6,000 tons. There has been some movement in beams in Chicago, where a very large amount of structural work is sure to come into the market. Eastern bridge concerns have taken quite a number of good orders in the west and south, and eastern platemakers continue to capture the lion's share of the western trade. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad contributes its share of the present lively discussion over the possibilities of train speed in the shape of the record for one mile. If 391 seconds for a heavy passenger train has ever been beaten, the time has not been taken, or has not been re-corded. There is the less doubt about the Baltimore & Ohio's record, for it was registered by a mechanical indicator. To attain a speed of ninety-two miles an hour for several hours with our present engines, says the Philadelphia Times, is not to run 100 mites an hour continuously, which is what we are talking about just now, but it is a fair hint as to what may happen before long. That the test was applied on a regular run goes to show that railway passengers
