NEEDED TO BOOM SIOUX CITY ONLY

How the Iowa Town Sought to Down South Omaha Two Years Ago, and How It is Working to That End Now.

Some of the persons most directly interested in the South Omaha stock market are endeavoring to figure out whether the scheme of returning to the old freight rates on live stock between Chicago and Missouri river points is one from which this market will derive any real benefit. It is contended by some of the best informed that the plan if successfully carried out will prove a boomerang that will eventually result disastrously to Omaha interests. Their reasons for con sidering it in this light were briefly stated by one of the best known men at the yards yes-

"It is well known that this scheme of organizing the western packers for the purpose of securing a readjustment of rates," said be, "originated with the management of the Sioux City stock yards, which also controls the packing houses at that point. Two years ago the Sioux City men endeavored to spurt into third place as a packing point, and every effort was made to bolster up their receipts as an advertisement for the yards. It is well known that they sent their men into cur own territory to buy stock for their market. The Omaha yards privately sent an agent to watch their pro-ceedings. He soon found that they were buying all the stock that they could lay their hands on at the various shipping points in this state. They left the shippers a blank check and allowed them to make their own check and allowed them to make their own shrinkage and fill out the checks to suit themselves. As nearly as could be ascertained they lost from $25 to $30 per car on stock bought in this way, and found that they could not keep up the pace. When they were forced to come down to a legitimate business basis the bottom fell out of their market and they are looking for it yet.

"They have been losing ground ever since and unless they can formulate some plan to regain their prestige, they may as well give up all hope of becoming a great packing center. Now they are organizing this pack-er's association with this end in view. There is little or no speculation on the Sioux City market. The stock is sold direct to packers and slaughtered. Here in South Omaha the speculators are the life of the market. Be-sides the cattle sold to the packers, we have a number of buyers who parchase large ship ments of stock every week for eastern points and for export trade. It is this fact that is directly responsible for a large share of the prosperity of the market during the past and we don't want to lose our hold.

"It is easy to see that if the rates on live stock to Chicago were made higher than on dressed meat products, as the Sloux City people wish, the speculative element would be eliminated from the western markets. As soon as the rates on live stock were raised the speculators would have no field to do business and would soon desert us. That would not injure Stoux City, as there are no ouside buyers on the market, but it would put us exactly where Sioux City is now. It would be a fatal blow to us, and I do not think that the organization will ever be

The local packers are unwilling to be quoted in connection with the subject, but idmit that they are fully aware of the game Sioux City is attempting to play.

"But we'll fool them," said a leading packer. "We are not disclosing our plans just yet, but when the thing is over Omaha will come out with colors flying." will come out with colors flying."

Horse Market Prospering. The Wednesday horse market at the stock yards is becoming an important addition to the business of the yards. The sales increase every week and a targer number of outside buyers attend the sales. An even 100 horses were sold y sterday, which is the largest number ever sold in one day. Fifty head averaged $100 each and ten head sold at upwards of $150 each. A pair of heavy black draft horses brought $332.50. The highest price paid for a single horse was $177.50 for a coach horse that stood sixteen and onehalf hands high.

Want to Reach Omaha, W. E. Skinner of the Stockyards company returned from an extended trip through Texas and New Mexico yesterday. His trip was connected with the Texas rate question, and he found the cattle owners more determined than ever to obtain access to the Omaha market. The question of irrigation is absorting public attention in western Texas and New Mexico, and it is expected that the grazing area in that section will be materially enlarged during the next few years by the conversion of arid land into grazing

Some Sneak Thieves Caught. Major Clarkson Tells of His Work with the Congressional Committee. Postmaster Clarkson returned yesterday from Washington, where for eight days he was hard at work with forty other postmasters of first and second class offices from all sections of the country, considering the best interests of the service and the legisla

The conference was held at the request of the postmaster general, who presided a every session of the body. The house committee on postoffices and post roads desired practical information and suggestions and for that reason the conference was called.

Omaha was much honored through its representative, as Postmaster Clarkson was made a member of the two important committees and was also chosen to present the report of the conference to the house committee. All of the members of the conference were invited to call in a body upon the house committee, but

"Signs" in the Heavens. CORNELIA, Platte Co., Neb., March 21:-To the Editor of THE BEE: I note that in an issue of late date your correspondent from Fort Podge, Iowa, mentions seeing the unusual phenomenon of a lunar halo in cross sections, seen near the middle of the month. We saw the same in central Nebraska. The cross was not perpendicular, but possessing the incline of the return angle. We also saw about an hour before sundown a solar halo. The mock suns (in Anglo Saxon sun dogs) were 22 o and 90 o from the sun. The latter straight in the north.

Your correspondent mentions that it means war. Old observers here say it means cold. It shows the actual presence of cold. Any the presence of unusual atmospheric condi tions. In old Asiatic days when the atmos pheric conditions were unusual it meant shortage of crops for that climate. For instance, last year our rainfall was in excess near ten inches of water. Such excess on mountains whose slope faces to the east means an equal deficiency for mountain faces sloping to the west, which explains Russia's erop shortage. So it can be seen that unusual atmospheric conditions meant crop shortage, and crop shortage meant inroads upon neighbors, and thus it became to be regarded as meaning war. It does not necessarily mean war in War. It does not necessarily mean war in America. But a continuation of Russia's crop shortage means either micration or forcible seizure of more fertile lands. After Years of Unsuccessful Search for Cure, Martin Anderson Gets Relief from the Chinese Doctor-A Voluntary Test monial. Омана, Neb., Jan. 18, 1892.

To whom It May Concern: This is to certify that I have been a constant sufferer for many years with catarrh, asthma and bronchial affec-tions of the throat, and tried all the patent medicines and remedies I ever heard of, but with no success. I treated with doctors in various parts of the country, but none of them could do me any good further than giving me shor temporary relief. I suffered night an day, and continued to grow worse not withstanding all the medicine I had taken. I had almost given up my case as hopeless when I was informed by a friend of Dr. C. Gee Wo, the Chinese doctor, and advised to go and see him in the nope of getting relief at least, if not a permanent cure for my trouble. I was slow in making up my mind to make such a radical change in my treatment as I knew a trial with the Chinese doctor would bring me, but I finally con cluded to give him a trial, so I called at his office with that intention. I round the doctor a clever, entertaining gentle man, thoroughly posted on my condi tion, and it took only a very short time to convince me that he was the party I was so long in search of. He told me my case was curable, and that he could cure me, and prepared me a specia treatment to suit my condition, and in two weeks I was so much better that I had the fullest confidence in the doctor's ability and committed my case to his treatment. PURE RYE. is so named because it is the quintessence of, or carefully selected, whiskey. It is as smooth, nutritious and wholesome as cream. As a beverage or medicinal stim-ulant it has no equal and is far superior to whiskies distilled from corn, (known as Bourbons). You may know it by its delicious flavor and the proprietary bottle in which it is served. For sale at all first-class drinking places and drug stores. Call for Cream Pure Rye and take no other.
