The grand council recommended the adoption of the new Commercial Knight's degree. Norfolk was selected as the place for holding the next grand council in one year. After the business of the session had been completed the whole party was given a banquet at the Hotel Dellone under the auspices of Omaha council, No. 2, after which the delegates from the various lodges accompanied the Bluffz delegation to this side of the river, where the new military degree was conferred on them. The meeting was harmonious and enthusiastic, and when it broke up everyone was warm in his praises of the Omaha council for the way in which the guests had been entertained.

The King of Gasoline Stoves.

The old single generator Dangler was the best gasoline stove ever made, but Shugart & Son have a new Dangler that is unquestionably the king of vapor stoves. It is called the Dangler Surprise, and is simply the old reliable stove with a perfect process generator added. It burns a blue flame when lighted and has no odor in stopping or starting. Shugarts are the only people who handle them.

THE OMAHA BEE. NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

E. S. Fegley Had a Nice Scheme to Punish His Enemies.

WOULD HAVE HIS WIFE ASSAULT THEM

He Prepared a Dose of Blue Vitriol for County Attorney Organ and Others Were to Be Treated in Much the Same Way.

E. S. Fegley, who is now serving out a nine months sentence in the county jail for beating his wife half to death with a batchet, is developing a marked taste for other people's blood as well, and judging from the letters he has been trying to send from the jail to his wife, he will begin to make things warm tor his enemies as soon as his term expires.

All these letters have been intercepted by Sheriff Hazen, although Fegley has displayed considerable ingenuity in his efforts to communicate with his wife. He gave the sheriff a letter one day to give to Mrs. Fegley, and when it was opened it was found to contain a lengthy culogy of the sheriff, which was a lengthy culogy of the sheriff, which was something of a surprise to that official in view of certain remarks that Fegley had made about him some time before. That same day the time of one of the prisoners expired, and just as he was leaving Sheriff Hazen made a thorough search of his clothing which resulted in the finding of another letter, also directed to Mrs. Fegley It stand that Fegley had Mrs. Fegley. It stated that Fegley had written a letter for the purpose of throwing Huzea off his guard, and told her not to pay any attention to the things it contained. Fegley then went on to tell his wife of some plans he had laid to avenge the injuries he had received at the hands of his enemies, as he considers all who had any hand in sending him to jail. He directed her to buy a 50-cent blacksnake and administer a horse whipping to Rainey, a neighbor who testified against him, at the corner of Broadway and Pearl street, and to procure some blue vitriol and throw it in the eyes of County Attorney Organ. Sheriff Daily and Sheriff Hazen were to be treated in a good deal the same way, and life was to be made exceedingly interesting to the people whom he blamed for his having to lie in jail. At the close of his billet doux he made the horrible threat that if she did not do as he told her in every particular he would leave her as soon as he got out of jail, and would marry a colored woman purely for revenge

The contents of the letters, of which fully The contents of the letters, of which fully a dozen have been intercepted, would indicate that Fegley has gone insane from constantly brooding over his imagined wrongs. A close watch is kept over him to prevent him from doing any barm to himself or any of the attendants at the jail, although his desperation is considered to be largely a thing of the over inscription. of his own imagination.

IT WILL BE A GREAT WEEK.

ome of the Attractions at the Boston Store This Week-Fountains of Perfume, This week will be a hummer at the Boston store, Council Bluffs, and the people will have abundant inducement to come in even if the weather should not be just what is desired.

The prime fact of interest to the ladies is the announcement that our immense stock of spring dress goods is now on display, and no lady who loves the beautiful can fail to be pleased with what she sees. There are the latest novelties in wool and cotton dress goods, spring wraps and capes, novelties in embroideries and lace flounchosiery, embroideries and lace flouncing, silk mitts, gloves, umbrellas, corsets, etc. The word novelties is used advisedly. These goods are novelties, and the ladies will appreciate them.

One of the most important events of the week will occur Friday and Saturday when Mr. Leon Meyers, the great New York perfume manufacturer, known as the Perfume King, will spend those days in the store introducing his high grade periumes. There sprays, jets and fountains of perfumes, sprays, jets and fountains of perfumes, high grade perfumes. There will be fragrance. Eight cases of Mr. Meyers' finest goods have been received and unpacked, and some idea of their character can be obtained by the great dis-play in our show window. There is more perfume in the Boston store just now than can be found in all the other houses in the Missouri valley, and on Friday and Saturday they will all go at special prices. 50c bottle of perfume at 19c. 75c bottle of perfume at 81c. $1.00 bottle of perfume at 59c. 50c bottle of Florida water, 19c.

50c bottle bay rum, 19c. There are all the standard odors and many new ones, all high grade, and for Friday and Saturday they go at above special prices. The lightning landscape artist is still with us and those desirous of having a handsome oil painting at a nominal cost will do well to see us within the next few days.

In wall papers we carry the largest and most complete stock in the city and all new goods—not an old roll in the house. Prices just about one-nalf regular paper dealers. Estimates furnished. None but the best workmen employed.

Grand Spring Millinery Opening.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week Mrs. Pfeiffer's spring mil-linery opening will occur. It will be the most elaborate that Mrs. Pfeiffer has ever attempted, and has required weeks of preparation. Miss Lizzie Weitz, an expert trimmer and designer, who has had ten years' expe ience in the great eastern wholesale houses, is in charge of the pattern room. The opening will include both stores, 220 and 341 Broadway.

Buried a Chestnut. Judge Smith rendered a decision yesterday in the case of Jacob Sims, administrator, against David Gray and U. H. White, a resuit of the famous cases which pended in both the district and superior courts for so long between Gray and White to decide pany to file an amendment to their pleadings which was the owner of a large amount of and admittant they are running under the property in various parts of the city. The decision of the court in these cases, rendered some time ago, was that the conveyance of the property from Gray to White was fraudulent and therefore void, so that it belonged to Gray still. As soon as this decision was given Sims stepped in with a purpose of closing down on the property for the benefit of some of Gray's creditors. The decision of the court yesterday was that the claim upon which Sims commenced suit was barred by the statute of limitations, and the case was dismissed at his costs. The property involved in the decision was that at 15 South Main street, besides several lots in Turiey's Glen. A demurrer was overruled in the case of A demurrer was overruled in the case of the Pennsylvania Mutual Life Insurance company against Kimball & Camp. Architect Hyde, of the Grand hotel, was made a defendant in the case and filled a cross petition claiming that he was entitled to a mechanic's lien on the hotel for his pay for superintending the construction of the building. The plaintiffs demurred to this on the grand that he was not a mechanic and ground that he was not a mechanic and therefore was not entitled to a lien. The court felt that he was a mechanic under the statute and accordingly overruled the demurrer.

TWIN CITY CHAUTAUQUA.

Under New Control, With Abundant Means a Brilliant Season is Assured.

With new name, new management, new attractions, new arrangements, new improvements, new everything, the Chautauqua assembly this season will prove a brilliant success without doubt. The plan has been perfected by which the control passes by a lease from the trustees into the hands of Judge J. E. F. McGee and Postmaster I. M. Treynor, who will give the enterprise personal supervision. The well known standing of these two enterprising citizens is as surance sufficient that the assembly will be a grand success, for in their social, business and official records there is known no such word as fail. To make assurance doubly sure they have secured from other citizens a cash guarantee of over $7,000, to be drawn upon if necessary, so that there can be no possible financial stress or hesitancy. Thus provided with abundant capital Messrs. Treynor and McGee will proceed at once to secure the very best talent to be had. This season's program of entertainments promises to be more popular than any ever presented in the west, and will fairly sparkle with brilliancy. The management proposes to secure men whose names have a national familiarity.

The accommodations on the grounds will be bettered and a great change made in the transportation to and from the grounds, so that no possible cause of complaint can exist. With through trains from Omaha, and cars and busses from Council Bluffs, rapid transit at nominal rates will be secured.

Results of Yesterday's Storm. The storm yesterday morning did a great deal of damage to the overnead wites and there was hardly anyone in the city who was not inconvenienced some time during the day by his inability to use some of the modern conveniences that draw their utility from an overhead wire. About 10:30 the fire bell tapped several times, as if for a fire, and then was silent. There was no fire and the alarm was caused by an accident that took place at that instant at the corner of Broadway and Ninth street, and resulted in the crossing of the wires of the alarm system with those of the electric motor line and the consequent burning out of the whole slarm system

The accident was the breaking off of a pole belonging to the Western Union telegraph company at the corner of the two streets above referred to. The pole bore the weight of fifty or more wires, each of which had become loaded down with ice until the pole snapped off by the sheer force of the weight on the wires. A large number of the wires were broken at the same time and the telegraphic connections with all the cities in the country excepting Chicago was cut off.

The main wires of the telephone line were strung along the same pole, and when the wires fell to the ground after the breaking of the pole they lay across two of the over-head wires of the motor company, forming a connection which instantly burned out the fuses in every telephone in the city. The only two wires that could be used all day were those running to Avoca and Glenwood, every other being rendered useless.

It was found necessary to stop the trains on the motor line, and for two hours travel by rail in the city was suspended. Linemen were busy all afternoon repairing the broken lines, but their work is not yet completed. The telephone company had 335 wires down, and it will probably be several days before they will all be put in shape again. The injury to the fire alarm system was repaired last evening so that no danger need be apprehended from its failure to work properly.

The wires of the Postal Telegraph company were all down during the afternoon, and the only way of communication between Council Bluffs and Omana offices was by ssenger boy, until 10:30 o'clock in the lames Fox a preliminary examination yesterday morning on the charge of stealing a gold watch chain from C. B. Jacquemin's jewelry store. Harris had met with a change of heart since the first day he was arrested. At that time he announced his willingness At that time he announced his willingness to assist the officers in any way he could in fleding the thief, and he stated to Judge McGee privately that Fox was the man who had the chain. Yesterday, however, he was sulky and refused to answer the questions propounded to him by Courty Attorney Organ, saying that he was so disgusted with the treatment he had received in the bail that he treatment be had received in the jail that he would not say a word, but allow the officers to go it alone in proving up their case against himself and fox. He broke his word, however, and deigned to answer a few questions which he thought he could answer without endangering his own-cause, but he was soon so badly tangled up that he had to fall back upon his first resolve and refuse to talk. After the evidence had all been heard Judge Mcties stated that he had been inclined to believe that Harris was innocent until he saw his actions in court, when he became convinced that he was not all right. He bound over both men to the grand jury and fixed their bonds at $500. They were taken to the county jail in default of bonds.

George Anderson, one of the young men who tried to rob Postmaster Trevnor's house, had a hearing and he, too, was bound over to the grand jury on a $500 bond. His confederate. George Wells, took a change of venue to the court of Justice Swearingen and will have a hearing next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. that Harris was innocent until he saw his

Something About Wall Paper.

The Boston store this season has the largest stock of wall paper they have ever handled, and will make this a special feature this year. Some of our competitors are reputed to be circulating the story that our papers do not measure out full-sized rolls. We invite the public to investigate this, and measure the paper they buy at the Boston Store and save half the cost while discovering that this is a senseless charge. BOSTON STORE, Tapped the Till. It has been developed that George Waters and Frank Owens, the two men who were arrested Friday for attempting to work a till-tapping scheme on two or three butchers here and in Omaha, succeeded in their attempt at one place, and unless something un-forescen turns up the prospect; are very flattering for their going across the state. William Keeline, who keeps a shop on upper Broadway, was the victim, and his till was tapped to the tune of about $9 while he was showing his chickens to one of the couple in the back room of the shop. He identified the two men yesterday afternoon as baving played the game, and an information was filed in the superior court charging them with larceny from a building.

Remembered Judge Thornell. Judge Thornell was summoned to the court house last evening about 7:30 o'clock by the aunouncement that a special item of business wanted his attention. He went at once, and when he reached the court room he found the whole petit jury gathered to-gether awaiting him. One of the members stepped forward and in a brief speech presented him with a magnificent silver water set, consisting of tray, pitcher, and goblets, in behalf of the other members of the jury. At the close of his speech he turned to his fellows and said, "Gentlemen of the jury, is this your verdict?" Judge Thornell acknowledged the gift in a few well

WALT WHITMAN DEAD.

The Good Gray Poet Passes from Out the Shadow Into Everlasting Light. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 26.-Calmly and peacefully like a child asleep, Wait Whitman passed away this evening. He had been ill for some time past, but for some reason the knowledge of his condition did not become public. He had a sinking spell last night, but recovered somewhat. About 4:30 this afternoon he began to sink. A message was hurriedly sent for his physician, Dr. McAllis ter, who rushed to the dying man's bedside a short while afterward. The doctor found the aged poet in a dving condition and so informed those around his bedside.

He asked the poet if he suffered, and the whispered answer was, "no." Ten minutes before his death he said to his attendant, "Mary, lift me." They were the last words uttered by Mr. Whitman. His breath came fainter and fainter, and at exactly 6:43 p. m. he passed away. At the time of the good man's death his bedside in the humble cottage where he passed the inst years of his life was surrounded by a little group consisting of Thomas B. Harne of this city, a close friend; Horace L. Traubel, his secretary; Dr. Mc Allister, and his housekeeper and faithful male attendant. The news of the death was cabled to Lord

Tennyson and other friends in England, Dr. Buck of Ontario, his biographer, and friends in this country. The sick man took very little nourishment during the past three days, an occasional sip of milk; until he could swallow no more This morning he declined nourishment, saying to his hosekeeper: "Leave me alone, Mary, I cannot eat." He had at int reals since his illness, beginning December 17, 14st, which rendered him bedfast, expressed weariness of life, and u willingness to die, and it is believed that he thought that death was near and rejoiced accordingly.

need no explanation:

Whereas. There are always a large number of nonresidents living in tents and paying no rent or taxes in city doin; work with their teams that should be done by the people who make this city their home and many who own their little homes and some wno have to pay high rents and who have to buy their necessaries of iffe here and.

Whereas, We telleve it would be for the best interest of the city that residents of Omaha should have the pref rence of work which is done here, and further, we believe that by so doing it would be of interest to those who have property to rent as well as the teamsters of this city, as the money that would be paid out would still remain in our city instead of going to a foreign state as has ceen done in the past. Therefore be it.

Resolved. That we the Central Labor union of Omaha and vicinity do petition the Omaha city council to pass an ordinance to license nonresident teamsters so high that the resident teamsters can get the work of the city to do and further resolved that these resolutions be published in the daily papers, and we request all persons who are in favor of the above will please send their names into the secretary's box, No. 570, for presentation to the council.
