Ever since that time the state authorities have been after him on the old charge, and the federal authorities on the charge of bootlegging. Looking Over the Grounds. Four members of the school board, Messrs. Shu-bert, Stacy, Field and Hirsdenstein went to the corner of Madison street and Graham avenue yesterday afternoon to look over the lots which have been offered to the school district for the erection of a school building.

President Waite was unable to be present and Mr. Wells was out of the city, so that no definite action was taken. It is understood, however, as matters now stand, that the site offered by S. B. Wadsworth & Co. at the corner of Kappell avenue and Madison street will be chosen at the meeting of the board. The price demanded is $2,000.

It will be held in Miss Ragsdale's millinery parlor, 337 Broadway, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, afternoons and evenings. The ladies know what her openings have been in the past and they will feel certain that this will justify a visit.

Motors Still Run. It was expected that the decision of Judge McGee in the case of Bixby against the motor company would be rendered yesterday morning in the superior court according to the program laid down last week by the attorneys for the prosecution, and that the trial of the motor company would be held from operating its trains on South First street would be issued. Something About Wall Paper. The Boston store this season has the largest stock of wall paper they have ever handled, and will make this a special feature this year. Some of our competitors are reputed to be circulating in the city the rumor that our store is to sell out full-sized rolls. We invite the public to investigate this, and measure the paper they buy at the Boston Store and save half the cost while discovering that this is a senseless charge.

PROTECT SIXTEENTH STREET. Property Owners Protest Against Abandonment of the Present Street and Viaduct.

Citizens who own property on Sixteenth street as Omaha's great thoroughfare north and south, have at last become awakened to the designs of interested property owners who are trying to bring about the abandonment of the Sixteenth street viaduct, attention to which plan was first called by THE BEE.

This plan was first called by THE BEE. It was in Wall papers we carry the largest and most complete stock in the city and all new goods—not an old roll in the house. Prices just about one-half regular paper dealers. Estimates furnished. None but the best workmen employed.

All on Account of a Woman. Several men were brought before Justice Swearingen yesterday with battered up countenances as the result of a squabble in which a woman and the partial way in which she had dealt out her smiles and other favors played an important part.

The names of the men who were brought before the court were Frank Webster, J. M. Mulvaney, John Mulvaney, W. J. Irish and Jacob Piccard. According to the story told by the participants the quarrel arose because of a woman who when Irish asked a widow, Mrs. Mary Jones, to marry him, she was somewhat annoyed by the suggestion, and not having presence of mind enough to tell him that she would be a sister in law, referred him to "Pap."

Irish conceived the idea that Mrs. Jones had an exceedingly warm place in her heart for Mr. Mulvaney, and as Mr. Mulvaney was a widower of several years' standing and every way eligible, he came to the conclusion that the only thing for him to do under the present circumstances was to marry her, and thus clear the coast. He accordingly bided his time, and last Saturday caught Mulvaney out alone. Mulvaney claims that he held a grudge against Irish because he held the hand in his hand, while Irish claimed that the first blow was struck by the other man. In fact, the testimony of the two men is very conflicting, the only thing they are agreed upon being that the fact that Mrs. Jones likes Mr. Mulvaney a great deal better than she does Mr. Irish. Justice Swearingen is busily engaged in unravelling the tangle, and has not completed the job at the hour of adjourning court yesterday afternoon. The case will be resumed this morning.

The apron sale which was to have been held March 31 by the ladies of Broadway church has been postponed until Thursday, April 7, on account of the death of Mrs. Brennan.

Thomas Tostevin, civil engineer, over DeVol's, 504 Broadway.

Case This Way. A card was received at the office of the sheriff yesterday, asking the sheriff to keep for a man who had stolen a horse, saddle and bridle from Spearman's barn near Papillion, Neb., last Friday night, and was supposed to have come this way. An accurate description of the thief and the stolen property in his possession was given. A man answering the description perfectly was in the city Sunday and was immediately taken to the city jail. There is a reward of $50 for the capture and conviction of the thief, and $25 for the return of the property.

Some miscreant started a fire on the big divide south of this city, which was extinguished by a perfect cyclone of fire and it swept all before it, burning over several miles and across the line of Montgomery street. The fire was started by a man who reached here that several families have been burned out and some stock killed. Owing to the lateness of the hour no definite report can be made of the amount of damage done.

Chill Will Allow the Claims. (Copyrighted 1892 by James Gordon Bennett.) SANTIAGO, Chile, via Galveston, Tex., March 28.—(By Mexican Cable to the New York Herald—Special to THE BEE.)—I am told that United States Minister Egan in conversation with officials of the Chilean foreign office relating to the Caricosa case said, after receiving the evidence submitted to him by Colonel McCree, which he did not intend to move in the matter, except to refer it to the state department at Washington. I also learn that the United States is now preparing the claims of the Central Traffic Association Stopped by Rumors of Trouble. CHICAGO, Ill., March 28.—It is a matter of considerable surprise in railway circles that the volume of eastbound freight shipments has, so early in the season, fallen below the half corresponding period last year, especially as there was every reason to expect that the volume of the great yield in all parts of the west that the grain harvest of 1891 would be eclipsed throughout the present year. The only explanation offered for this state of affairs is that rates are being secretly cut by way of their gateways, thereby diverting a large proportion of the traffic that would otherwise pass through Chicago. Central Traffic Association, Chicago, Ill., has just issued a circular to its members, in which it says that the rate on the Chicago and North Western for the first of the month is 10 cents per ton, compared with last year's figures.

In consequence of the passenger rate war between Chicago and Ohio river points, the Chicago and North Western has applied to Chairman Finley of the Western Passenger association for authority to use the reduced rates on the Chicago and North Western for the first of the month.

The meeting organized by the election of W. W. Moore as chairman and M. H. Redfield, secretary.

Mr. Alfred Millard stated the object of the meeting to be to take vigorous steps to secure the necessary such a structure and the present wooden bridge was in danger of falling down at any time.

Mr. Lewis Reid agreed that Sixteenth street should have a viaduct, and he said he was pledged to encourage the Fifteenth street structure first, after which he would favor the Sixteenth street improvement.

Hon. E. Rosewater reviewed the situation, and stated that it was a mistake to assume that the Sixteenth street viaduct was a specially constructed for the trade as depicted over Fifteenth. The rail roads evidently intended to oppose the use of both of the structures, and it was reasonably certain that if the viaduct was built they would claim that no necessity existed for the other, while he favored the improvement of Fifteenth street as being an irremediable defect not only to the property immediately affected, but to the city at large. If Sixteenth street was not first provided for.

Councilman Manro suggested that the meeting should appoint a committee to confer with the members of the committee to enlist their support for Sixteenth street. The idea was adopted and the chair appointed Major S. A. F. Schaeffer, William C. Miller and M. H. Redfield as such committee.

Mr. Alfred Millard was elected as the president in most dignified manner. The organization to whom the committee is to report. He is empowered to call meetings and take necessary steps to preserve Sixteenth street as the great thoroughfare north and south.

Property owners south of the viaduct will be meeting in the near future to discuss the question and take action.

BOLD WORK OF THIEFS. They Entice a Junk Man Into a Cellar and Brutally Assault Him.

Yesterday afternoon N. Kittelman, a scrap iron dealer, was walking along St. Mary's avenue looking for a chance to pick up a bargain or a piece of old iron. When near the building where St. Mary's church stands, he was accosted by a couple of men, one of whom approached and said that they had a fine assortment of scrap metal in a basement near by and would like to see him and look at the stuff. He followed the two who were soon joined by a third, and the three proceeded to look at the iron.

The man who was with him was a brute in a brutal manner and badly bruised up. One of the assailants said that they had nothing to do with the man, but that they were only looking for a chance to pick up a bargain or a piece of old iron. That we will use all righteous means for obtaining and maintenance of our temperance laws, which have been so righteously and wisely passed by the state and federal governments, and who violate them and thereby disregard the rights of the community upon which our whole government stands.

That we do most heartily commend our brethren in the cause of temperance, and the present session in defense of our present prohibitory laws.

That we support the opening of the World's exposition on the Sabbath day a direct violation of the laws of God and the rights of civilization and a direct blow at one of the pillars of the Christian church and civil government.

We favor an appropriation of the necessary funds for said exposition providing that said appropriation be made as soon as possible and we agree to co-operate in the exposition on the Sabbath day.
