MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. Plumbing Co. Council Bluffs Lumber Co., coal. Craft's chattel loans, 204 Sapp block. L. Bey was arrested last evening on a charge of disturbing the peace. A case of diphtheria was reported yesterday at 835 East Pierce street. Mary Cart-wright is the name of the patient.

Colonel Alexander Hogeland, the "news boys' friend," will speak this evening at the Union Christian mission, 238 Broadway. The bar in the Grand hotel was opened yesterday to the public, and will remain open until the case now pending in the district court shall have been decided.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Jasper Robinson and Lucy B. Stebe of Lewis township, and to Frank H. Golds-borough and May Krowiton of Omaba.

The infant child of J. L. Osborne died Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the family residence, Hardin township. The funeral will take place this morning at 10 percent. A proposition has been made by the members of the Council Bluffs Rowing association to the Omaha Athletic club looking to a consolidation of the two organizations, with joint headquarters at Manawa. The case of George Wells, who was to have been tried before Justice Swearingen yesterday afternoon on the charge of bur-glarizing the residence of Postmaster I. M Treynor, was continued until next Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Thomas Owens and George Waters, who were charged with attempting to rob the cash drawer of Wilham Keeline, were discharged by Judge McGee yesterday, the evidence against them not being bonsidered strong enough to warrant a conviction. Mrs. Electa Olnstead died yesterday morning at 2 o'clock at her residence, 300 East Pierce street, aged 76 years, of heart failure. She was the mother of David Oim stead. The funeral will occur Sunday forenoon at 10 o'clock from the residence. Golden Rod camp No. 7, Royal Neighbors of America, will hold their semi-monthly meeting this evening in the Knights of Pythias bail, over 103 Main street, at 7:33 o'clock. It is desired that a full attendance of the members be present. A special program of entertainment has been provided.

The flags will be swung to the breezes a week from next Friday from the tops of the various school buildings. The present intention is to have appropriate exercises by the school children, who are busy making preparations for the event. It is probable that the day will be a holiday in the schools. The regular monthly meeting of the Fruit Growers and Gardeners association will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the county court nouse. The following program of papers will be presented: "Manuring Potatoes," by G. G. Rice; "Sproting Fruit Trees," by H. C. Raymond; "Best Time to Transplant Small Fsuit," by Samuel Avery. Important business matters will also combefore the society.

A vigorous protest is being made by the Council Bluffs firms who uo heavy insuring in eastern companies against the order which has been recently issued to the local repre-sentatives of the companies, notifying them not to grant lower rates to them than to the companies that carry less amounts of insur-ance. They threaten to remove their patronage to the companies which are not under e control of the national coard.

The residents of South! First street are still riding, but the prospects are that they will begin to walk today. The decree of Judge McGee deciding the motor injunction suit was entered up yesterday in due form by the atterney for the plaintiffs and the writ will be issued today restraining the company from operating its trains on that street unless a supersedeas bond is filed by the company and the case taken up on an appeal.

Henry Bethers is again the victim of the generosity of his friends. A few days ago he was arrested on suspicion of having stolen a lot of seeds which he claimed had been given him by another boy, but the officers were unable to prove beyond a doubt that they had been stolen and he was discharged. Last night he fell into the clutches of the officers again, this time with a chicken in his possession which he claimed he had been loaned by a boy who had run off and left him to stand the consequences. He was slated with larceny and he and the chicken were locked up together.

Trouble Over Street Car Fare Attended With Serious Results.

KICKED A PASSENGER FROM THE TRAIN

Emmett Daneweed and Fred Greeg Collide With Disastrous Consequences to the Latter According to One View of the Affair.

A lively fracas took place on a Main street motor a night or two ago, the chief parties to which were Emmett Danewood, the cenductor, and Fred Gregg, a railroad man, who, it is claimed, refused to pay his fare. According to the story told by Danewood, Gregg boarded the train and when approached by the conductor for his fare he refused to pay. Several attempts to collect the nickle were equally unsuccessful, and at last Gregg, enraged at the conductor's per-sistence, made a dive for him and was about to annihilate him, when Danewood reached out with his fist and laid his opponent up against the side of the car.

Another blow sent him sprawling on the floor, and then Danewood proceeded to drag him out to the platform. He then gave him a parting sick, which sent him off the train, The whole difficulty lasted but a few seconds, but it was long enough for some lively spar ring on both sides. Gregg at once went to the office of Justice Hammer, where he swore out an information charging Dane-wood with assault and battery. Danewood was arrested, and gave bonds for his appearance this morning at 10 o'clock, when the case will be aired.

Federat Court News Most of the day was spent in federal court in the trial of the case of John Grant against he Union Pacific Railway company is not yet completed and will probably last al! of today. Judge Woolson took time, how ever, to sit down on a number of parties who have been convicted of "boot legging," and he did it with such a vengeance that the floor of the government building sagged perceptibly. When Judge Woolson held his first term of court he made himself a terror to evil-doers by assessing fines of $100 and terms of thirty days each in the county jail to violators of the revenue laws, but judging from the present outlook the man will be ex-ceedingly lucky who gets off with punish-ment so light. The testimony of the judge was to the effect that McMilian had already been averaged by overpaid by a large amount for the work done, and the presenting of the bill exasperated him to such an extent that he lost th control of the flexor muscles of one of his arms for the time being and let a right-hander fly out which caught the carpenter in the face. He was fined $34.60. He at once gave notice that the case would be appealed to the district court and filed a bond of $50 for the appeal.

About thirty member of the Council Bluffs lodge, Rebekah degree, formed a party which started for Gienwood Wednesday night to take part in the ceremonies incidental to the forming of a new lodge of the order at that place. The work of installing the order was performed by C. E. Tucker of this city, assisted by Mrs. D. R. Witter as deputy grand master, and Miss Lillian Huff as grand marshal. The lodge consists of about thirty ladies and gentlemen, and starts out with flattering prospects. After the lodge had been duly installed the work of initiating the members was performed by the degree staff of the visiting lodge, under the leadership of J. F. Spare, after which a grand banquet was spread in Armory hall. At about 2 o'clock in the morning the banquet was trought to an end and the whole party returned to the Odd Fellows' hall, where the officers of the new lodge were installed, as follows: Mrs. Jessie Ring, N. Want a Meat Inspector. The question of appointing an inspector of meat is being again agitated and the people who are derendent upon their butchers, as well as some of the butchers themselves, are making a decided protest against things being allowed to run in so slipshod a manner as they have been in the past. The charge is made that there are certain men who make a business of buying up all the cattle that die of disease at the South Omaha stock yards, dress them and retail them to butchers of the catter who atthem do not know or ers of this city, who either do not know or do not care what kind of stuff they are fur-nishing their customers. The Council Bluffs butchers who patronize these venders of dis-eased meat are able to sell their goods at a greater profit than their neighbors who buy the regulation articles, and the latter are accordingly demanding that an officer be appointed whose duty it shall be to inspect all the meat offered for sale and bring the violators of the law to justice.

There is a state law providing that infringements of the law shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than thirty days, or a fine not to exceed $100. There is also a city ordinance making it the duty of the superintendent of markets to inspect all meat offered for sale, but as no fee for doing the work is named this part of his duty has been allowed to go by default. bis duty has been allowed to go by default. Another ordinance has been passed authorizing the council to appoint an inspector whose compensation shall be $3 per day for actual service, and this sum is to be paid him by the parties who require his services. No formal demand has been made upon the council for the filling of the office, and no fund has been created for paying the incumbent, should one be appointed, and the responsibility accordingly rests with the butchers themselves so long as the law rebutchers themselves so long as the law re-

One of the inci-dents of this term of court was a grand jury. Several indictments were returned which came up for hearing on a piea in abatement entered by the defendants as to the legality of the selection of the jury which found the indictments. The testimony taken disclosed the fact that the names furnished for the jury list were selected with a total disregard for the qualifications to act as jurors. County precincts were given the same representation on the jury as the precincts of Nelson and Superior, containing as they do large villages. Many of the names drawn were those of men who had recently served on the petit jury, contrary to the pro-visions of the statute. On a showing of this the plen in abatement was sustained and the grand jury was quashed.

Nebraska Baptists in Session. FRIEND, Neb., March 31.-The semi-annual meeting of the York association of Baptist churches convened here yesterday afternoon. The session was opened by a devotional meeting led by M. G. McLeod of Omaha. The moderator, Rev. C. E. Bentley of Friend, called the meeting to order. Rev. A. W. Luningham, missionary of the association, presented his resignation, which was accepted. He will take up the work of a pastorate. Rev. J. J. Southeastern Nebraska Teachers. TECUMSEH, Neb., March 31 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-The second day's session of the Southeastern Nebraska Teachers association opened this morning with Prof. Gardner in the chair. Discussions about city school work took up the morning and the afternoon was occupied by school officers, the principal subject being the wages to pay good teachers. Dr. Farnham of Peru and Rev. Harsha of this place, by re-quest of the association, made a few remarks upon this question. Notice was given this afternoon that a motion will be made tomor-row to amend the constitution so as to inciude school officers in the association, and change the name to Southeast Nebraska

Educational association.

The total enrollment is now about 240, which exceeds that of any previous meeting of this association. Johnson county had the largest per cent of teachers present, and received honorable meution. Nemaha county having 45 per cent in at-tendance, the largest per cent of any outside county, was awarded the $30 banner, which was presented by Superintendent Pearse this evening. Over 600 persons gained ad-mission into the opera house this evening and heard Rev. Mr. McIntyre de-liver a very eloquent lecture upon the "Sunny Side of Soldlers' Life." His address was well received and held the close atten-tion of the audience for two hours. The association will devote tomorrow forenoon principally to business and election of officers and adjourn at 12 o'clock.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Poor Jonathan." The Conried Opera company was heralded with the pretensions of a first class organieation, and advanced the price of tickets. An appeal was made to patriotic pride by assurances that "Poor Jonathan" was pecul-larly American in spirit and manner. The public had a right to expect a superior enter-tainment, but the performance at the Boyd last evening sadly disappointed that reasonable expectation.

The music and the company are quite ordinary and the libretto is stupid. The score has some technical merit, it is true, but pleasing melodies are few and far between. There are several good voices among the principals, but none of them displays an exceptional excellence. The comedy element is lame and sickly, and the company lacks the dramatic force to put vitality into it. The title of this so-called comic opera is a catch-penny trick to entrap the national vanity. There is nothing distinctively American about the work. A change of a dozen words n the book would make it fit any civilized country, and the costumes would suit any land in which the men wear the swallowtailed coat and the women low-necked, longtrained gowns for fashionable evening dress. In the last act the chorus girls are put into cadet uniforms for a short drill, but in the remainder of the performance most of the caste and all of the chorus appear in the evening dress usual to fashionable society.

Lilliputian Vaudeville. Mrs. General Tom Thumb and company began a three night engagement at the Parnam Street theater last evening. Of course the most interesting persons in the company are the Lilliputians, Mrs. 1om Thumb, Count Magri, her husband, and Baron Magri, a brother of the count. The little folks were well received and commanded the entire attention of the audience every coment they were on the stage. Charles H. Clark, an Irish comedian of considerable merit, sang amusing and catchy songs. Miss Lena Holt is a splendid dancer and a pleasing songstress. The Ciliputians performed a pantomimical musical comedy entitled "The Rivals, or Two Strings to Her Bow." Count Rosebud and Baron Littlefinger introduced several new songs and dances and ended with a fencing scene.

An exhibition by half a dozen trick dogs under the direction of Prof. A. L. Gleason, concluded the interesting performance.

In the room of a miser who has just died at Lynn, says the Boston Advertiser, were found money and securities amounting to more than $60,000. The state of mind which will lead a man to undergo all sorts of denials and privations merely in order to leave a large sum over which his heirs may quarrel. is surely an unhealthy one; and it may be that the physicians of the future will characterize the miser's gree difficin of distinct monomania.
