The Board of Equalization is meeting every day, as provided by law, but the books are not ready and an adjournment has to be taken every day. It is probable that the same program will have to be carried out for at least a week longer.

George Smith and his brother, C. L. Smith, were brought before Judge McGee yesterday morning on a charge of having burglarized Sherlock's place, and were bound over to the grand jury. George Smith's bond was fixed at $500, which was more than he could furnish, and he is still in the county jail. His brother's bond was fixed at $100 and he was released upon putting up the necessary amount.

The ladies of the Broadway Methodist Episcopal church more than realized their expectations at the apron sale and supper last evening in the Hughes block. The tables were laden with every dainty imaginable, but the numbers were too great for the supply of provisions, and some were obliged to leave without supper. Over $200 was realized from the entertainment, which closed with a musical program.

E. Smith, a healthy looking young man from Missouri Valley, spent a day off in this city yesterday, and by way of amusement put himself outside of several drinks of Council Bluffs mineral water. His exhilaration manifested itself in blood-curdling war whoops which were evidently intended to let the people of Missouri Valley know he was here. He ran into the arms of an officer, and when he was bagged on the charge of drunkenness he wept copiously. He is in jail.

A man from South Omaha crossed the river last evening for the purpose of getting married as one can get married only in Iowa. In hunting for a justice of the peace he ran up against an enterprising young shoe dealer, who thought to get a little free advertising by having the wedding take place in his store. The South Omaha man had the girl, and he had $8 to pay the necessary expenses, but after he had found the justice of the peace it occurred to him that he had no marriage license. A messenger boy was dispatched to the residence of the county clerk, and that official was routed out of bed to issue the license. After all this trouble had been gone through the prospective groom became afraid that the details of the affair would get in the papers, and not thirsting for any of that kind of glory, he bade the shoe dealer an affectionate good night and left for South Omaha with his bride, leaving his friend to swallow his disappointment at not getting his name in the papers.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Actions of an Unfortunate Woman Caused a Sensation.

HER REASON UNDERMINED BY POETRY

While at the Transfer She Embarrassed Those Present by Attempting to Make a Lightning Change of Costume—Other Local News Notes.

Rebecca McCue, a passenger who came in at the transfer from the west yesterday, created something of a sensation in the ladies' waiting room by attempting to make lightning change of costume. Some of the other women prevented her from carrying her purpose into execution, and she was placed in the hands of Depot Policeman James McMillan for safe keeping. The patrol wagon was called and she was taken to the city jail, where she was charged with insanity. In her purse was found a ticket for St. Peters, Minn., where she said she was going to see her father who is confined in the insane asylum there. By her language and actions in the jail she showed plainly that she was insane, and during the afternoon she was taken before the commissioners of insanity for an examination.

It was learned that she had been visiting at Norton, Kan., and that she had already spent a term of about a year in the insane asylum. Her examination was highly interesting, both to the commissioners and the spectators, her replies to a number of questions being such as to throw the laugh on the ones that did the asking. She had with her a book of poems which had been published by a Minneapolis firm, and had her name as authoress on the title page. The book was filled from cover to cover with sentimental "poems," and when asked about it she stated that poetry was the thing that first undermined her reason. The commissioners looked the book through and came to the conclusion that her story was extremely probable.

After her examination the commissioners decided that the best thing to do was to send her to her intended destination, St. Peters, Minn. She was accordingly put on board the train and the employes of the railway were instructed to keep a sharp lookout after her.

A BRILLIANT DISPLAY.

The Boston Store's Spring Opening Last Night a Brilliant Success.

The formal spring opening at the Boston store last night was the event of the week, and attracted immense crowds and widespread attention. From the time the doors were opened until after 10 o'clock throngs of people poured through the aisles, upstairs and down. The attendance included the very best people of Council Bluffs, and many from Omaha and adjoining towns, and the hearty expressions of opinion heard on every hand confirmed the first impression that the display was the finest that Messrs. Fotheringham, Whitelaw & Co. have provided for public entertainment since their advent in this city.

The arrangement of the goods was artistic and beautiful. Everything that has been brought out for the season's trade, all the novelties in domestic and imported fabrics, were shown to the best possible advantage, and of course were the delight of the thousands of ladies who saw them. The display was elaborate in every department of the big establishment, and was especially fine in the dress goods and curtain departments. The latter is a feature which has received unusual attention this year, and there never was a larger or more beautiful and varied assortment of drapes shown in the city, making it certain that the Boston Store will hereafter be the headquarters for seekers after this class of goods.

After the close of the display the proprietors gave their employes the annual banquet at the Grand hotel. A number of friends were present as guests and a splendid feast and a brilliant social time was enjoyed.

Will Not Try It Again.

Four young men who came over from Omaha Wednesday night started the report that a man was shot. It was not long before the police and what few people were on the streets at that hour of the night were scurrying around trying to find the corpse or someone who knew where it might be found. Officer Kemp at last ran across the quartet. The young fellows were somewhat uppish at first at being questioned as to their intentions in starting the rumor, but it did not take long to convince them that they had committed an offense that might lead them to the gallows, and they confessed that they had simply meant it as a joke. They gave their names and were released from custody on condition that they would behave the next time they visited Council Bluffs.

Sent Up for Five Years.

Isaac P. Fisher, who pleaded guilty to the crime of making and passing counterfeit money, was brought before Judge Woolson yesterday morning for a sentence. For making the stuff he was sentenced to spend four years in the penitentiary at Fort Madison and pay a fine of $5,000, and for passing it he was given a fine of $2,000 and a year in the penitentiary.

The case of John Dowlin against Samuel Haas, which has occupied several days, was brought to a conclusion and a verdict was returned by the jury in favor of the plaintiff for $3,500.

The King of Gasoline Stoves.

The old single generator Dangler was the best gasoline stove ever made, but Shugart & Son have a new Dangler that is unquestionably the king of vapor stoves. It is called the Dangler Surprise, and is simply the old reliable stove with a perfect process generator added. It burns a blue flame when lighted and has no odor in stopping or starting. Shugarts are the only people who handle them.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Presbyterian Ladies Hold an Interesting Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Omaha presbytery was held yesterday and last night at the Castellar Street Presbyterian church. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. J. K. Fleming and its proceedings were recorded by the secretary, Mrs. Z. T. Lindsey.

About twenty delegates from towns in the Omaha district were in attendance and they, together with visitors, were given luncheon and supper at the church by the ladies of the mission.

At the morning session the devotional exercises were led by Mrs. David Kerr of Bellevue, after which temporary committees were appointed.

Mrs. Lindsey, as secretary, then made her report, which showed that several new societies throughout the state had been organized.

Mrs. J. C. Denise, the treasurer, read her report, which showed that 1058.13 had been sent to the home board in New York, and $787 to the Forum board in Chicago.

The forenoon session closed by the election of the following officers:

President, Mrs. Asa Leard, Omaha; first vice president, Mrs. David Kerr, Bellevue; second vice president, Mrs. B. M. McClord, Omaha; third vice president, Mrs. T. W. Leard, Schuyler; fourth vice president, Mrs. M. G. L. Pollock, Blair; treasurer, Mrs. J. C. Denise, Omaha; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Thomas Creigh, Omaha; recording secretary, Mrs. Coulter, Omaha.

The afternoon and evening sessions were devoted to addresses, songs and paper readings. Mrs. H. C. Russell of Schuyler read a paper on "Mission Work in Alaska," and Mrs. H. A. Turrill of the same place gave her personal "Reminiscences of Life in Burmah." Mrs. J. M. Wilson of Omaha talked of South America, and Hing Lee told of the "Need of Missionaries in China." His comrade, Soon Qui, sang a missionary song.

PARKS AND VIADUCTS.

South Side Citizens Discuss Measures of Public Improvement.

Parks and viaducts were the topics of discussion last night at a meeting of the South Side Citizens club, which was in session at Mueller's hall, Eighteenth and Vinton streets.

When the meeting was called to order Isaac Hascall, a member of the committee on viaducts, stated that both the Fifteenth and Sixteenth street viaducts would be constructed. He did not believe that there was a railroad corporation so insane that it didn't know it would have to build the structures, as no court would intervene after the council had taken the necessary action by passing ordinances for both viaducts.

Michael Donovan stated that the South side citizens had a plain duty to perform by working for both viaducts. He did not want to see the South side people get to fighting the rebuilding of the Sixteenth street structure. In order to get both viaducts he thought it best to build the Fifteenth street first and then the railroads would be obliged to rebuild the Sixteenth street viaduct.

The park question was then taken up, and Mr. Donovan made a motion to endorse and adopt the legal opinion of City Attorney Connell in reference to condemnation proceedings for park purposes. He believed that the recent action of the city council in accepting the different propositions for the North and West side parks were, according to Mr. Connell's opinion, illegal. Now that park lands could be condemned and adjoining property benefited could be taxed for improvements, Mr. Donovan was in favor of condemnation. He thought such property could be acquired by the city at about one-half the price asked for the lands. He said the South side lands were worth three times as much as the corn fields, as he called them, on the North and West sides. It was true that the council had set aside $74,000 for the South side park, but if the North and West sides had wanted any more they would have taken the $74,000.

James Brennan did not agree with the speaker on Mr. Connell's opinion. He said the city attorney had acted very unwisely in giving his opinion at this late day. The opinion might be to the effect to delay for years the purchase of the parks. He thought the park commissioners and the council had treated the Southside people very fairly in the matter of setting aside the $74,000 for parks and passing ordinances for viaducts.

The Clarke, Syndicate and Murray tracts were again discussed, and Mr. Hascall made a motion to recommend to the park commissioners to purchase that portion of the Clarke tract south of Sackett street and for a boulevard for an outlet on South Thirteenth street by way of Dominion street. Mr. Hascall said it was just as well to make a start now as any time, as the money had to be expended.

Dan O'Keeffe favored Mr. Donovan's plan of condemnation proceedings, as he thought the park lands could thereby be procured for much less money than the owners of property were asking for their property.

Mr. Donovan insisted upon his motion to endorse the city attorney's opinion, and the result of all the motions and suggestions were left as though they had never been originated, as the meeting broke up by a motion to adjourn just at the time the discussion began to get hot.

IOWA'S WORLD'S FAIR PLANS.

Contract for Building Specifications Awarded and Committees Appointed.

DES MOINES, Ia., April 7.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The contract for furnishing plans for the Iowa building at the World's fair was awarded to Josslyn & Taylor of Cedar Rapids. At the session of the commissioners this morning the following officers were elected: J. O. Crosby president; J. F. Duncombe, vice president; F. N. Chase, secretary. Committees were selected as follows: Compilation of archaeological, historical and statistical information, Ashton, Crosby and Jarnagan; auditing, Guelick, Packard and Stivers; executive, Mallory, Seaman and Packard. To have charge of the various departments, the following were chosen: Live stock, Packard; agriculture and dairy, Chase; horticulture and forestry, Dent; minerals and geology, Duncombe; press, Stivers; woman's work, Ransom; manufactures and machinery, Seaman; education and fine arts, Jarnagan. There was a general discussion of the various matters and technical questions that might otherwise come up to perplex the commission were settled by resolution. In order to avoid expensive meetings of the full commission, considerable power was delegated to the executive committee.

The appropriation of $125,000 being so much smaller than was asked by the commission, has necessitated radical changes in plans and rigid economy in every direction. It is now proposed to add another story to the shelter, a tasteful one-story structure now in Jackson park, and which has been offered to Iowa, provided the state will remodel the building so that it will be creditable to the park. The total expense will be about $25,000 or $30,000.

Evangelical Ministers Meet.

CRESTON, Ia., April 7.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The Des Moines conference of the Evangelical church assembled in this city today. Bishop Bowman of Chicago presiding. The opening service was largely attended and of an interesting character. Bishop Bowman delivered a very interesting address in which he urged the necessity of the ministry being pure and holy examples of godliness. Rev. E. J. Yaggy was chosen secretary and L. N. Day assistant. Credentials were issued to C. Thomas. Rev. J. H. Stewart of Lorimer and S. A. Miller of Creston were received into the itinerancy. The attendance by the ministry today is light, but will be increased largely by tomorrow's delegations.

Investigating Mabel Swartz's Death.

DES MOINES, Ia., April 7.—The grand jury is investigating the murder of Mabel Swartz. Three other men who were in the house at the time of the shooting testified that Crafton shot deliberately, and that there was a conspiracy between Crafton and others to kill the girl, as she threatened to leave them and go back to Sioux City, taking property and valuables with her.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

"The Henrietta," the cleverest work of that brilliant author Bronson Howard, will be presented at Boyd's new theater on Sunday evening next for one night only. While we might add that in a sense of duty there is one that should not be overlooked, and that is the cleverest of comedians, Mr. Stuart Robson, the idea of all and a satisfier of all lovers of humor. Mr. Robson will be ably supported by an excellent company of players. The tour this present season with "The Henrietta" has surpassed that of all others. Mr. George S. Woodward, playing the opposite part to Mr. Robson in "Old Nick Van Alstyne" has received none but the most favorable encomiums from the press of the country.

The next attraction at Boyd's new theater, following "The Henrietta," will be Augustus Pitou's great American play, "The Power of the Press," which comes the last three nights of next week. The Boyd will be closed on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Farnam Street theater comes Mr. Newton Beers and his excellent company in his new comedy, "Eloped With a Circus Girl." This is one of Mr. Beers' latest successes, and said to be the very best comedy on the road. Seats are now on sale.

Two Little Fires.

At 11 o'clock last night a watchman discovered fire in the third story of the Brown block, Sixteenth and Douglas street. The blaze was in the office of J. J. Brown, and was extinguished by a chemical engine. Loss in furniture and carpets will amount to about $50.

While the firemen were working in the Brown block another alarm came in, calling the department to the corner of Tenth and Dodge streets. An unoccupied building on the corner was smoking, but a few buckets of water was all that was needed to put out the fire, which was probably started by tramps.

IN FAVOR OF FREE WOOL

ports, or as many as want them, is to utilize our resources in the way of labor and materials in manufacturing for foreign markets. These free ports would, presumably, be devoted to the manufacture of goods for foreign markets. If any of their products were consumed in this country, as they would be, they would pay duties as now, and we would be having the advantage of the low prices without lowering the standard of wages. At present we buy imported articles made by hands not fed in this country, which owe no allegiance to our flag, and we have no control over the production. Under the free port system there would be no free trade whenever the trade was to be with our country. So long as the trade was conducted with articles made from imported materials in the free port or in part of our products there would be no restrictions. In short, every trade advantage would be on our side. With free trade articles manufactured in foreign countries by pauper labor, often would be shipped here free of duty to take the place of articles produced in whole by our labor. With a free port we would furnish all the labor, a great deal of the raw material, and yet none of the products made from free materials imported would be sold in competition to those produced in whole in this country unless they paid the duties now imposed.

Cities Would Be Benefited.

When the proposition was first made at the Treasury department it was received with suspicion. Then it percolated the official heads and was so well regarded that it was believed Secretary Foster would recommend it in his annual report. There were many other important subjects occupying his attention and it went over. A number of the leading senators have been investigating the subject and recognize its merits. One of them will introduce it soon. It would have appeared earlier in this session, but no one had it in definite shape and no one appeared to have the genius or the time to formulate the bill. It is not believed there would be many free ports opened under the bill, but enough to demand an enormous increase of our raw material output and make heavy drafts upon our labor. New York, Boston, Baltimore, Charleston New Orleans, San Francisco, Duluth, Chicago and possibly a few other cities situated on the coast or having lake connections with the ocean would comply with the requirements and undertake the manufacture of goods for foreign markets, with the advantage of free materials from abroad whenever needed. The idea is to make the incoming and outgoing of ships and cargoes in free ports wholly unrestricted, so far as duties are concerned. It would be a good political move, as it would meet the demands for free and raw materials, without any of the injurious effects, and would put a stop to the demands for "tariff reform."

PROTECTION FOR THE SEALS.

Negotiations Said to Have Been Completed for a Modus Vivendi.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—Secretary Blaine said today, in response to an inquiry on the subject, that an agreement had not been finally concluded with the British government in regard to a modus vivendi in Bering sea pending the settlement by arbitration of the jurisdictional rights of the United States in those waters. He declined, however, to say anything in regard to the condition of the negotiations.

The departure of the president from the city at this time is regarded as especially significant, in view of a statement attributed to him that he would not go away until the question of a modus vivendi had been settled one way or the other. It is believed that an agreement has practically been reached by the president and the British minister, and the basis of the agreement has been communicated to Lord Salisbury for his action. As it is not likely that the British premier will dispose of the mater for several days, the president probably thought he could avail himself of the interval for a few days recreation. The agreement nearly concluded is said to be substantially the same as the modus vivendi of last year that expires on the 24th prox.

Active preparations are now being made at the Navy and the Treasury departments for the dispatch of vessels to Bering sea. The vessels to be used in this service will be the revenue cutters Rush, Bear, Corwin and Albatross, and the war ships Ranger, Adams and Mohican, and possibly either the Charleston, Baltimore, or the Yorktown, most likely the last named. These arrangements are being made in anticipation of a favorable conclusion of the negotiations for a modus vivendi, which will include active co-operation on the part of the British navy.

HURLBURT WANTED FOR PERJURY.

His Testimony in the Gladys Evelyn Cases Results in a Warrant.

LONDON, April 7.—A report has been made by Sir Augustus Stephenson, solicitor for the treasury and public prosecutor, officially confirming the statement made some time ago that a warrant had been issued for the arrest of Henry Hurlburt on the charge of perjury in the suit of breach of promise of marriage brought against him by Miss Gertrude Ellis, otherwise known as Gladys Evelyn. On the trial of the case the jury returned a verdict for Hurlburt, which was appealed by the plaintiff. The appeal was denied. In the meantime an inquiry was started to learn the truth of the matter. Sir Augustus, in his report, explains the delay in the matter. Difficulties were put in his way, but finally enough evidence was obtained in support of the evidence given by Miss Evelyn in contradiction of Hurlburt's testimony that has enabled him to procure a warrant for the latter's arrest on the charge of perjury. Every precaution was taken to conceal the fact that inquiries were being made, but it appears that it was impossible to prevent Hurlburt from being advised that he was likely to be arrested. Hurlburt left England and went to the United States. The warrant was cabled there, but Hurlburt was again warned and fled to Mexico and thus escaped arrest.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mr. Robert Manteil is presenting a repertory of five plays at the Boyd theater, beginning last evening with "Monbars." This play has been seen repeatedly in Omaha, and last night's production presented nothing of novelty. Mr. Manteil scored a personal triumph as usual, and the charming Miss Behrens won a large meed of admiration. Their support was adequate to a satisfactory production, and a fashionable audience gave vent to its enthusiasm in numerous curtain calls.

Mr. Newton Beers began an engagement at the Farnam Street theater last evening in "Eloped with a Circus Girl." Mr. Beers fills a want in small interior towns, but is hardly equal to the expectations of a city audience.

Summer School at Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 7.—Cornell university announces an innovation and new departure. Following the example of some other universities, summer courses will be offered this year, its libraries, laboratories and museums being opened during a part of the summer vacation.

Brandreth's Pills

No other medicine has such an enviable reputation as Brandreth's Pills. For more than sixty years they have had the unqualified confidence of both the people and the profession. They have never failed to perform the work required of them in a safe and satisfactory manner. Being entirely vegetable and wholly composed of innocent drugs they have never done harm, and although death must finally visit us all, we believe, from long experience and thousands of cases, that life can be prolonged by the occasional use of this medicine. These pills remove all the disease producing matter from the system every time a dose is taken, and since the same dose will always produce the same effect, it stands to reason they must keep the body in a healthy state, and when man has no substance in him which will produce disease he is not susceptible to its influence.
