MARTIN FAIRLY DISTANCED

Boyd Wins in the Democratic Primaries with the Greatest Ease.

BUT THE STRUGGLE WAS INTERESTING

The Governor Secures the Election of Sixty-Nine Delegates, While His Opponent Gets Only Thirty in the City -The Returns.

The democratic primaries held vesterday for the purpose of electing delegates to the county convention, which is to take place this afternoon, aroused a great deal of interest among the leading workers of the party

It was a Boyd and anti-Boyd fight all the way through, with the Boyd wing of the party so far ahead that the race became a walk away long before the last quarter pole was reached. There was some very peculiar features connected with the contest. It was openly asserted by the Boyd men, for instance, that the Martin faction had been distributing Hill money, and on the other hand the Martin supporters declared that Mr. Boyd and his friends were handling Hill money. The fight brought out all the fac-tions that have from time to time opposed Governor Boyd within the ranks of his own party, and he had to meet them in a hand-to-hand fight at every polling place, although the Martin or anti-Boyd party was not strong enough in some of the wards to make the contest even interesting.

The immediate object to be attained by the successful leader in yesterday's contest was supposed to be the leadership of the Nebraska delegation to the democratic national convention. It has been asserted, however, that the ultimate object in view was the con-gressional nomination. It was remarked by disinterested parties that there were several congressional aspirants among those most energetically engaged in working for the success of the anti-Boyd tickets.

Returns were received at Tun Ben office last night from Chicago, Millard and Florence precincts, showing that the Boyd delegates had been elected in those precincts. It was also learned that four of the five delegates from West Omana were Boyd delegates. In Clontarf the Martin delegates Result of the Struggle.

The vote cast in most of the wards was large for a primary and at some of the polling places the interest was somewhat excit ing places the interest was somewhat exciting, but there were no personal encounters.
The Boyd ticket was elected in the Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh, and elected three out of eleven in the Eighth ward, making a total of sixty-nine delegates.
The Martin ticket was successful in the First and Nmth, and elected eight out of the eleven delegates in the Eighth ward, making a total of thirty delegates in the city.

Mr. Boyd will therefore go into the convention today with a backing of sixty-nino votes from the city and Mr. Martin with a backing of thirty votes.

Notes of the Fray.

After the votes had been counted in the First ward and the result announced some of the Boyd wing of the party gave it out cold that the ballot box had been stuffed by Martin men. According to the judges 871 votes were east with a majority of 250 for Martin. Tom Lowry and Owen Slaven were openly accused of manipulating the returns. According to the statement of the kickers, a man was stationed at the door of the voting man was stationed at the door of the voting booth all day, whose duty it was to take each man's name as he entered and cast his ballot. The tally of the spotter numbered just 511 when the polls closed. When the fresult was made public by the judges a great howl of fraud went up from the Boyd followers and the kicking which followed would make a government mule hang his head. Mr. Boyd's friends in the First ward spent the night in gathering evi-First ward spent the night in gathering evi-dence of the supposed crookedness which will probably be presented to the convention

The Result in South Omaha.

There was not so much interest manifested in the contest at South Omana as in this city. The result was the election of a list of delegates chosen by the Jeffersonian club at the Thursday night meeting. The ticket is a compromise measure, and is composed of about an equal number of Boyd and Martin sympathizers. It is under-stood that the delegation will favor securing harmony by sending both Mr. Boyd and Mr. Martin to the national convention, one as delegate-at-large and the other as delegate from the district. The delegates are: W. S. Whitten, Frank Snelaney, E. J. Seykora, C. H. Sobotker, Frank Dolczal, J. H. Bulla, Thomas G. McGuire, H. L. Welch, Tim Maloney, J. L. Olson, F. D. Jankovsky, A. N. Hagan, W. H. Stensioff, Herman Zeller, Ed Johnston, J. S. Walters.

The Spring,
Of all seasons in the year, is the one for making radical changes in regard to health.
During the winter the system becomes, to a pertain extent, clorged with waste, and the blood loaded with impurities, owing to lack of exercise, close confinement in poorly ventilated shops and homes, and other causes. This is the cause of the duil, sluggish, tired feeling so general at this season, and which must be overcome or the health may be en-tirely broken down. Hood's Sarsaparila has attained the greatest popularity all over the country as the favorite spring medicine. It expels the accumulation of impurities through the bowels, kidneys, liver, lungs and skip, gives to the blood the purity and quality necessary to good health and over comes that tired feeling.

THE NEBRASKA CENTRAL PLANS.

OMARA, April 7 .- To the Editor of THE BEE: In .my letter of the 2d inst., bearing upon the advisability of building a line of railway to the northeast, I promised to show in another article the importance of the proposed connections at Fort Dodge and the advantages to be derived by building to a connection with these three railway systems. rather than to wait for one of them to occupy and monopolize the intervening territory. In compliance therewith I respectfully submit

The only direct connection between Omaha nd St. Paul, Minnespolis and Duiuth is via the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway, and that company is controlled and operated in the interests of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company, so that in fact we have no competition between the lines leading to Duluth and those leading to Chicago. The proposed Nebraska Centra. line to Fort Donge, in connection with the Minneapolis & St. Louis and the St. Paul & Duiuth railways, will furnish a competing line to St. Paul and Minneapolis fifteen miles shorter and to Duluth twenty-six miles shorter than the existing line, and only twelve miles longer to Duluth than the aver-age length of the existing lines to Chicago, This route will not only give a direct outlet for the products of Nebraska by the northern lake and rall routes and access to the mining districts in the vicinity of Duluth, but will also afford a good connection with all the important railway systems contering at St. Paul, viz.: The Northern Pacific, the Great Northern, the Canadian Pacific and its protege, the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie ("Soo") railway, and reach the stone quarries at Mankato and the important milling interests at Redwing. The Winona & Southwestern, with which a connection will eventually be made at Fort Dodge or Webster City, is being constructed in the in-terests of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railway company of New York.

The latter company is one of the strongest corporations in the east. Its main lines extend from New York to Buffaio on Lake Erie and Oswego on Lake Ontario, and its branch lines penetrate all the best coal and iron districts of New York and Pennsylvania. It is the owner of a large fleet of vessels on the lakes, and by traffic arrangements with the Granc Trunk railway, which crosses Canada, reaches Port Huron. Mich, where it connects with the Flint & Pere Marquette railway, which it controls, the latter having a line to Ludington and Manistee on the eastern shore of Lake Michi-gan. It also controls the Toledo, Ann Arbor can. It also controls the Toledo, Alla Aroot & Northern Michigan railway, which extends from Toledo on Lako Erie to Frankfort on Lake Michigan, giving it a second independent line across the peninsula of Michigan, traversing the best hard-wood lumber and fruit districts of that state. By means and fruit districts of that state. By means of large steel transports it handles its business across Lake Michigan from Ludington, Manistee and Frankfort to Kewanee, where it connects with the Green Bay, Winona & St. Paul railway, which it also controls, the latter connecting at Winona, Minn., with the Winona & Southwestern railway, giving it a direct line under its control from New York and Pennsylvania to Osage, Ia., the present terminus of the last named road, and passing on route the chief lumber points in the states of Wisconsin and Minnesota, viz: Warsaw, Stevens Point and Winona, and also the cedar swamps of Wisconsin, estimated to cover 1,355,000 acres, and to contain 62,800,000 posts, telegraph poles, piles and railroad ties, in addition to large quantities of tamarack and spruce. It will be noticed not only that this is a lake and railway route, but that a portion of it passes through the Dominion of Canada, which relieves it from the control of the interstate commerce act and places it in a position to compete for business without restriction. There is no system of railway which could be extended to Omaha that would give it the facilities for handling lumber, coal, grain and other heavy products, and raw materials for manufacturing pur-poses, that would be afforded by the Dela-ware, Lackawanna & Western lake and railway routes. The connection with the Illinois Central railway will not only give a first-class line to Chicago about the same length as the "Q. and reach the important coal districts of lili-nois, but will also give a competing line to southern points, as the Illinois Central reaches not only a large portion of the state of Illinois, but has an air line by the way of Cairo and Jackson to New Orleans, and branch lines to St. Louis, Memphis and other southern points. Much of the grain and other products of this western country is already finding its outlet through the guil, and the imports at New Orleans are constantly increasing, and would be greatly augmented by the opening of this connection. As the Illinois Central has no lines reaching northern points, it would not be hampered in its business relations with Omaha, as the Milwaukee road is at present. No argument is necessary to show that it would be very much more to the interests of Omaha and Council Bluffs to have the terri-tory between Council Bluffs and Fort Dodge occupied by one railway line friendly to the interests of these cities and independent of any of the above three railway lines, than to allow the territory to be occupied and monopo-lized by any one of the three. If you will allow me space I will also show in another communication that the connections to be secured by the building of a line of equal length to the east instead of the northeast would be of almost equal import-ance. Also, that the construction of these lines will secure to Omaha and Council Bluffs the trade of a large section of western lows which should by right be controlled by these two cities, but which is at present, in fact, controlled by Chicago, largely because the railroads now traversing these sections are interested in the long haul to Chicago, and the service is purposely slow and unsatisfac-tory. It is much harder to do business satis-factorily within the district immediately cast of Omaha than within a like district west, or northwest, and there is a larger trade to be secured if it can only be conveniently and promptly reached. Respectfully,

J. H. DUMONT.

A Close Call. Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in this city, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of the state during the re-cent blizzard. Mr. Biaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his re-turn he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia, or long fever. Mr. Biaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamborlam's Cough Remedy, of which he had often neard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was creathing and that in a short time he was creathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful, and says he will never travel again without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.—The (Des Moines, lowa) Saturday Review, 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists. sale by druggists.

DUN'S REVIEW OF THE WEEK

Abundant Evidence That Trade in Every Section of the Country is Inproving.

GOOD REPORTS FROM BUSINESS CENTERS

Theories Regarding the Slackness That Has Existed in Trade-Bradstreet's Weekly Review of Wall Street and Clearing House Statements.

NEWYORK, April 8.-R. G. Dan & Co's Weekly Review of Trade says: Another week brings additional proof of actual improvement in business at many points, while slackness at a few is explained by causes obviously local and temporary. The money market continues abundantly supplied and

Two theories exist regarding the state of business which find frequent expressionthat trade has disappointed expectations to some extent is opvious, and there some who claim that a reacare has begun of unknown duration, which appeared in Europe last year and was only in part deferred here because of extraordinary crops. These have to support them the unusually low prices, and in some departments a shrinkage of sales. But others argue that disappointment is due to excessive expectations, and especially to the failure to take into account the great volume of indebtedness left from real estate speculation at the west and south, and the influence here of bare crops and financial depression abroad. These have to support them, much evidence that the actual business transacted, all branches considered, is greater than ever before at this season, in spite of all obstacles

Influences Which Have Affected the Market -Encouraging Prospects. NEW YORK, April 8 .- Bradstreet's Weekly Wall Street Review says: In point of activity the market the past week has not exhibited any startling improvement. The professional element maintains its supremacy and the fluctuations in prices have in the main been the result of manipulation originated in such circles. Speculation is certainly narrow and has not presented any great element of interest. Nevertheless it would seem that anchange is in progress in the general condition affecting the market and that tendencies have developed which promise to exercise a decisive influence on the future course of prices. The disappearance of the free silver question as an element of uncertainty and disturbance has, it is true tested thus for to stimit is true, tailed thus far to atlm-ulate the sluggish interest of our own public in the share market. The effect of the matter upon foreign financial and speculative circles also was not at first very marked. It circles also was not at first very marked. It is, however, becoming more and more evident that this factor, in conjunction with other circumstances, is giving increased firmness to the confidence which is experienced in the London and continental markets in the stability of American securities and imminent possibility of a further rise therein. It is also to be noted that the circumstances affecting the London market itself have undergone more or less manipulation within a short time. The importance of these events to this market is that they indicate not only to this market is that, they indicate not only a cossation of pressure to sell out securities for foreign account, but encourage the belief that London may become a purchaser here on an extensive scale. In fact, such authorpations have been partly realized this week, the foreign absorption of stocks, while not of the large proportions, being quite steadily maintained. 'At any rate it was sufficient to cause a marked depression in foreign exchange rates and renders gold exports impossible for the time being. Removing, as this did, one of the clouds which has been hanging over the speculative situation, the further prospect of effective support to the market from abroad has not been of any decisive character. CLEARING HOUSE STATEMENTS.

by this treatment, fragrant gums and dyes are used. DR. Sidney Ringer, Professor of Medicine at University College, London, and Physician to the College Hospital, perhaps the greatest English authority on the action of drugs, states in his "Handbook of Therapeutics" that "the sustained administration of alkalies and their carbonates renders the blood it is said, poorer in solids and in red corpuscles, and impairs the nutrition of the body." Of ammonia, carbonate of ammonia, and spirits of ammonia, he says: "These preparations have many proporties in common with the alkaline, potarh, and softa group. Equal with the interest of those having claim against the government is that of INVENTORS who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorneys.

With the view of protecting inventors from worth less or careless attorneys, and of seeing that invontions are well protected by valid patents. THE Bod Buffets AU has retained counsel oxport in patent procedure, and the received and it therefore prepared to
