How Farmers Will Be Affected by the Proposed Grain Grading System.

ONE STANDARD FOR ALL CITIES

Middle Men Will Not Be in Demand as the Producer Will Have a Fair Idea of What His Returns Should Be,

> WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, WARRINGTON, D. C., April 14.

There is a great deal of enthusiasm and congratulations among the granger elements of congress over the bill which passed the senate yesterday directing the secretary of agriculture to fix a national standard for grading grain. It is stated by members of the house committee on agriculture that the measure will be a law within a month, as an affirmative action has aiready been taken by their committee. The bill is not alone in tended to relieve the farmers in the great wheat growing states of the northwest from the tricks of the elevatormen, who grade grain to suit themselves and the market, but to correct wide differences between the wheat buyers, and especially at Duluth, Chicago, Cincinnati, Toledo, Buffalo, Balti-

Mr. Funston of Kansas joins Senator Paddock in the belief that more grain dealers and heavyweight producers fail in business through cheating in the grading of grain than arithme. more and some other places. than anything else.

Very Easily Manipulated.

Mr. Funston, who was chairman of the last house committee on agriculture, and is at present a member of that body, said today: "No person who has grain for sale, be he dealer or producer, knows within 20 cents a bushel most of the time what he will get for when it passes the hands of the grader, id he trusts his fortune to the machinations and he trusts his fortune to the machinations of tricksters when he places the grain upon the cars, without first baving it graded. Number 2 in Nebraska may be number 3 at Chicago, or number 1 at Indianapolis may be number 3 at Toledo. This bill, when it becomes a law, will make grain of the same grade in all markets, and farmers can ship their own grain as well as dealers, for they their own grain as well as dealers, for they need have no fears of being swindled in

The law will be a great blessing to the farmers, elevator men and grain buyers of Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and other great wheat growing states. It is believed by men from those sections that it will give uniformly more satisfactory prices and will certainly remove the speculator and uncerin features of legitimate grain producing and grain growing.

Iowa Politics Discussed.

Hon. Spencer Smith of Council Bluffs, chairman of the state railroad commission of Iowa, a republican, and his colleague on the commission, Hon. Peter Dey, a democrat are here attending the conference of the state railroad commissioners before the interstate commission.

Mr. Smith says: "Prohibition will cut little or no figure in the state and national elections in Iowa this year. The outlook for republican victory is bright enough, and we will carry the state easily. Of course Iowa is as greatly devoted to Mr. Blaine as over." Mr. Doy says: "lowa democrats would dearly love to see Governor Boies nominated for president because of his ability, his character and his wonderful triumphs in two successive gubernatorial elections. Governor Boies is a good man and has the happy fac-ulty of impressing his honesty of purpose on every crowd he addresses. Some one has said of him that 'he has a face like an afti-davit and a voice like the songs of Solomon. Next to Boies Cleveland is the choice of the Kem as a Co-Operation Champion.

Representative Kem has surprised his friends by appearing in the house as a cham-pion of co-operation. He has just reported from the committee on Indian affairs a bill authorizing the Dennison & Northern Railroad company to construct and operate a railway through the Indian Territory. This is the first laborious duty performed by Mr. Kem as congressman. Although there are many Nebraska bills in the committees and on the calendar of the house, Mr. Kem appears to have lost sight of them and to be s to have lost sight of looking after general measures.

Opposing the Pure Food Bill.

Opposition to the Paddock pure food bill is being exerted just now to defeat considera-tion of the measure in the house. It will be necessary for the house committee on rules necessary for the house committee on rules to report a special order fixing a day for the consideration of this measure or it cannot have a hearing. This reduces the field of operations for the opponents of the bill and they are bringing great pressure to bear just now to prevent a special order being re-ported. The opposition comes from two di-rections, the cotton seed oil interests of the rections, the cotton seed oil interests of the south and the manufacturers of patent medicines who do not want to submit their formulas to experts, although they are sure that under no circumstances is it possible for their formulas to be known. The dight is being conducted under the guise of interference with interstate regulations. The friends of the measure openly assert that no honest dealer is opposed to the bill. The no honest dealer is opposed to the bill. The manufacturers of an unbealthy and fraudulent alum baking powder which is sold at the price of and as cream tartar baking powders and certain eleomargarine makers who are disposing of their products for creamery butter are, under the surface, vigorously op-posing this bill.

More Trouble with Chill.

More Trouble with Chill.

A member of the house foreign sffairs committee is authority for the statement that the diplomatic relations between Chill and the United States will shortly end. He corroborates the report published recently to the effect that Minister Egan would never go back to Chill in a diplomatic capacity and adds that he does not expect that anybody will be sent there at least for some time.

"The relations have been strained for quite a while," he added. "This has been known all along on the outside. Montt's re-quite a while," he added. "This has been known all along on the outside. Montt's return was due to the rupture intente and though a report has gone forth that a successor will be sent here. I do not believe it, neither do I believe that this country will send one there to succeed Egan. Diplomatic relations will be quietly dropped."

President Harrison's Position.

All sorts of reports have been current about Washington for several weeks as to some possible pian of opposition to the renomination of President Harrison upon which leaders of the republican party, both within and without congress, who are dissatisfied with the distribution of patronage by this administration, and therefore desire a change, might unite. The latest form which these flying reports have assumed is that several republican senators, who are classed as "anti-administration" republicans, have agreed upon the form of a letter to be classed as "anti-administration" republicans, have agreed upon the form of a letter to be addressed to the president, requesting him in the interest of party harmony and success at the polis to declare that he will not accept a renomination. This story carries with it its own contradiction. It has, however, been given such wide circulation as to deserve attention.

given such wide circulation as to deserve attention.

It may be stated again in the most positive way that President Harrison is not a "candidate" for renomination in the sense that he is working for that honor which so large a portion of the party sincerely believe he deserves. This very fact makes it impossible that there could be upon the part of any of those who, for conscientious or other motives, oppose him, an intention to ask him to withdraw from the field. If President Harrison is in the field at all it is because of the force of events. He cannot withdraw because he is not an intruder. It has always been perfectly understood that the one desire of both President Harrison and Secretary Blaine was to see nominated at Minneapolis a republican candidate who would be elected. Hence any expression asking his "withdrawail" would be as needless as absurd. This statement is made upon the statement of one of the "anti-administration" senators.

He says that the stock area tributary to this market affords an excellent supply of the heavy cattle suitable for export, and there is every reason to expect that they will soon be in demand by other eastern firms. The only drawback to the shipment of this grade of stock from here is the disparity of rates be tween live stock and the dressed product. According to a decision of the Interstate Commerce commission the rates are the same, but that decision did not apply to transportation contracts made before that time. Some of the packers had contracts with certain roads to carry their dressed meat products for a rate but little over half the rate on live stock. This rate has to be net by other roads, and as a result the rate decision is practically inoperative in certain

TO CUT DOUGLAS STREET AGAIN. Meeting of Property Owners Called to Discuss the Matter.

It is proposed to make Douglas street a better graded thoroughfare than Farnam street now is.

Property owners along Douglas street have prepared a petition to be presented to the city council, asking that the street grade be lowered from Sixteenth to Twentieth streets, and also to establish the grade of the intersecting streets-Seventeenth, Eighteenth and Nineteenth. The petition has been signed by the majority of property owners ou all these streets except Seventeenth, upon which it is proposed to make a cut of three feet at the intersection of Seventeenth and Douglas. The grade starts from the south side of the slley at the rear of The Ben-building, and has a gradual incline to Douglas, thereby making the cut three feet. To this Henry Pundt, who owns property at the southwest corner of Seventeenth and Douglas, objects, and has refused to sign the petition for the grade.

On all of the other streets the petition has on all of the other streets the petition has a majority of 1,200 feet signed, and as only one signature is necessary for the grade on Seventeenth street, Mr. Pundt's refusal to sign it prevents the petition from being sub-mitted to the council. However, a meeting of the property owners will be held this afternoon to get some one to make concessions to Mr. Pundt, in order that he may be sions to Mr. Pundt, in order that he may be induced to sign the petition.

According to Dr. P. Grossman, D. T. Mount and Dr. Tilden the district to be graded includes Sixteenth to Twentieth streets west; on Seventeenth from Dodge to the south side of the alley between Farnam and Douglas, a cut of four feet on the east side and three feet on the west side of Seventeenth; on Eighteenth from Dodge to Farnam, a cut of six and a half feet on the east and six feet on the west side; on Nineteenth from Dodge to Farnam, a cut of nine feet on the east and eight feet on the west

The elevation of Mr. Pundt's corner is 10.7 feet, and it is proposed to make it 10.4 feet by the change of grade, which will make the three feet cut. A cut of four feet is pro-posed to be made on the southeast corner owned by John Harbach; four feet on the Folsom corner and three feet on Dr. Grossman's corner, thus making a slope or fall of one foot from the south side to the north side on Douglas street, and a fall of two feet on Seventeenth from the west to the east side. Mr. Pundt was seen, but declined to have anything to say regarding the proposed change of grade, but Mr. Mount stated that Mr. Pundt felt that his lot has at present all the elevation it will stand. He wants as much cut at the alley as is cut at the inter-section of Seventeenth and Douglas streets. "If a cut of two feet" said Mr. Mount, were made at the alley that would leave Mr. Pungt's elevation one foot more than it

Mr. Pundt's elevation one foot more than it is at present. The petition is signed by a much larger majority than has been any other petition for a change of grade. The majority is about 1,200 feet for Douglas, Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets, but on Seventeenth there is an even stand-off and the petition only needs another name."

Dr. Tilden explained that another petition had previously been gotten up and signed by all except one property owner on Eighteenth. This one was signed by Mr. Pundt. It was proposed to make a cut of two feet on the cast side of Seventeenth and one foot on the west, on Eighteenth a cut of four and one-half feet on the cast side, on Nineteenth a cut of six and one-half feet. This petition got a majority of feet front signers on all streets except Eighteenth, and it only lacked one signer. one signer.

The property owners claim that this last petition will make a much better grade and make Douglas a more desirable thoroughfare than Farnam street, as it will be, after the grade is established, a good business

Mr. Harbach has not, as yet, been asked to sign the petition, although he is a prop-erty owner at the southeast corner of Seven-teenth and Douglas.

OMARIA, April 14.-To the Editor of THE BEE: We want to re-establish the grade of Douglas street west of Twentyninth. We lack about 100 feet of a majority of the feet frontage. Owners of this frontage necessary to a majority want the grade re-established but won't sign the petition for fear it shall commit them to pay a proportion of the damages, if any, assessed against their property by reason of the grade. Will THE BEE explain the charter provision for
