PATRIOTIC CEREMONIES WERE OBSERVED

Many Days of Careful Preparation Crowned by a Most Successful Consummation of the Children's Dearest Desire-Details of the Affair,

Yesterday was flag day in Council Bluffs, a new temporary and semi-holiday in the public schools, and the popularity that the first celebration of the day achieved was of such immense magnitude that teachers and pupils and some members of the Board of Education are discussing the propriety of making each subsequent anniversary a school holiday. It was the day fixed by a resolution in the board decreeing that the American flag should be unfurled simultaneously over every schoolhouse in Council Bluffs and every pupil given an object tesson in patri-

C Preparations for the event have been going on for the past two or three weeks, and the object of the board has been fully realized by the intense interest awakened among the children. In every room every child was required to take some part in the patriotic demonstration, and original essays and orations were plentifully mingled with the fiery panegyries of the old masters. All the patriotic literature of the century has been dilligently conned by parent, pupil and teacher for the past few weeks searching for appropriate deciamations, and on the rostrums of the school rooms thousands of ittle hearts beat with a pride that was stronger than any timid fear.

It was arranged to have the flags raised on all the buildings at the same instant, and to have the children in the school yards to witness the spectacle, when it was expected that the triumphant shout that would arise from nearly 4,000 little throats would make a mighty volume of sound. But this plan was not altogether carried out. In some of the schools the exercises began as early as 1 o'clock, and in others as late as 2. All the schools were crowded with visitors, but the buildings that seemed to attract the most at testion from the general public were the Washington avenue and the Bloomer. Both are located near the business center, and the crowds of children and adults flocking into them attracted additional attention and drew great crowds of citizens.

Much Interest Taken.

In the Washington avenue building the exercises begun at 1:30, but the first part of the program was little more than the marshaling of the children and getting them ready to march into the yard in military fashion and watch the hoisting of the flag of the pole that had been creeted on the roof. The hallways were almost filled with visitors and when the pupils began to file into the yard and gaze intently upward the attraction became infectious and everybody on the streets for blocks around were drawn me-chanically to the spot and stood with upturned faces watching and waiting. Some of the curious crowd in the street forgot what the event was to be and gathered the vague impression that there was a fire or something equally important transpiring up on the roof. The 900 pupils filled the yard and it was a perfect ocean of faces that met the gaze of H. H. Field, a member of the board, who had volunteered to take charge of the ceremonies on the housetop, when he looked down before he began to pull up the flag. When it became visible above the curvature of the roof there arose a mighty cheer and every pupil waved a flag of som proportions as the cheers and the flag went

After viewing the flag with intense interest for some time, the lines of march were formed and the pupils marched back to their school rooms, where the remainder of the afternoon was spent in literary and musical exercises, witnessed by as large a number of visitors as could crowd into the rooms and the hallways. The exercises were interest-ing and splendidly adapted to enforce the lessons intended.

At Other Schools,

The spectacle around the Bloomer building was equally enthusiastic and inspiring, and the throng of pupils and friends was so dense that the yard was filled, as well as the build ing. When the flag was unfurled it was enthusiastically saluted by hearty cheers and the waving of small flags. Exercises were held in all the rooms, and in some of the rooms prominent citizens addressed the

The most important of the exercises, of course, were held in the High school, where the advanced pupils presented a varied and By 2 o'clock every one of the nineteen or twenty school buildings was decorated with the national emblem and in all the rooms the children were holding patriotic exercises. This magnificent tribute of the children to e fing of their country has not been made without some sacrifice on their part, and this sacrifice gives the event of the day a still greater importance. For the past two weeks the children bave stayed half an hour after school each day and many of them have taken a large portion of the time fixed for recreation to prepare for the event. It is some thing of sacrifice for a boy to give up an hour of playtune each day, and the fact that the teachers all say that this sacrifice was will ingly made is the best proof that the object of the demonstration has been fully attained

The Last Day.

Today is the last day before Easter, and the last opportunity the ladies will have to select their Easter millinery. The bright weather for the past two days and the fine display and splendid bargains at Misses Sprink & Fearon's caused almost a crush there. Crowds of ladies will be expected today and ample provisions will be made to take care of them and show them the many new things that have just been arranged for display.

Jarvis 1877 brandy, purest, safest, best. A Motor Dog.

The train employes of the electric motor railway have a dog. It is a common sort of a dog of a mahogany color and has but one ambition. That ambition is to make a trip cach day on every motor in the city. He came to the boys of his own free will and has taken every possible means of assuring them that he has come to stay and wants to be considered as one of their number. For the first three or four days he contented himself with following first one car and then another around town and between the Bluffs and Omaha. When he became very weary with his long runs between the two cities he asked as intelligently as a dog could ask for the privilege of riding, and since it was granted he has been the happiest cur in the Missouri valley. Yesterday the motormen chipped in and raised a fund to pay the Council Bluffs and Omaha dog tax and purphered him an elegant collar, and today by chased him an elegant collar, and today he will be decorated with it. He has been given a regular conductor's badge and a number, 500, and christened "Dynamo." He knows the difference between the Omaha and South Omeba motor trains, and that is more than many people do.

Death of Mrs. Megginson. The death of Mrs. Nellie Huber Megginson, which occurred at her residence in this city Wednesday, April 13, brings sadness to a large circle of friends here, where she has lived ever since her girlhood.

Her father, Mr. E. A. Huber, brought his family to this city in 1868, and for years, up o the time of his death in 1875, he was one of the most active and prominent real estate dealers here. In 1881 the daughter was married to James G. Megginson and re-moved to her new home in Monroeville, O., where she remained until the death of her husband five years later, when she returned to Council Bluffs and again made her home with her widowed mother here. The two have lived a mutually dependent and almost inseparable life, Mrs. Huber being the only surviving member of a large family, with the exception of a very aged father. The loss of the daughter is therefore a peculiarly neavy blow to her, and her loneliness excites the tenderest sympathy.

Mrs. Megginson has been in ill health for some time past, and has of late been seeking relief from her lung troubles by a stay in Colorado, from whence she returned only to die. She was of a very cheery, happy nature, winning friends easily, and holding them firmly. In her struggle for health and for life she was hopeful and brave to the last, but when she realized that the end was approaching she yielded with a loving sub-mission to the higher will, and the feelings expressed by her to the friends gathered about her bedside seemed inspired by visions of the opening future. The funeral services will be held this afternoon from the residence, 208 Fourth street, Rev. Mr. Babcock, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, offici-

ROBBED A TRAIN WITH EASE

Three Men Hold Up an Express Seventy Miles from New Orleans.

THEY DIDN'T HAVE TO FIRE A SHOT

Glitter of Their Revolvers Induced the Engineer, Fireman and Express Messenger to Surrender Without a Struggle-Bloodhounds on the Trail.

New ORLEANS, La., April 15,-A daring and uccessful train robbery was committed last night within seventy miles of this city. The amount carried by the railroad is said by officials to have been small, and hardly commensurate with the great risks incurred. Passenger train No. 2 of the Illinois Central, northbound, left the city at the usual hour last evening. It was in charge of Engineer James and Conductor Robertson. The train proceeded on its way north without incident, and such a thing as a robbery was not thought of, and least of all apprehended.

When the train reached Hammond station a man boarded the engine. To the surprise of the engineer and the fireman, the unin vited passenger thrust into their faces a big gleaming pistol. The railroad men were ordered to go ahead. The command was obeyed reluctantly, but with seeming good grace. Passenger train No. 2 was scheduled to meet No. 3 at Independence and to take the siding at that point. To this little station, therefore, the engineer piloted his train of human freight, who little conjectured that their guide was at the time under coercion and apprehension of his own life. When No. 2 reached Independence, the siding was taken and the switch barely locked when the southward bound train came trains to stop at meeting points, and the south bound train proceeded on its way to New Orleans without the slightest knowledge that the train which they left behind was about to be robbed. The south bound train and scarcely flitted by when two men, confederates of the man on the engine, skipped nimbly aboard and joined their pal. The engineer was ordered to reverse the engine, and at Newsom's mill, about seventy niles from the city, was told to come to

The engineer and fireman were then used by the robbers as a parleying party, and were instructed to go to the express car and to order the messenger to open the car, which was complied with. An entrance into the car, which bears the treasures of the express car, which bears the treaspress of the express company as well as that of Uncle Sam, was then effected by the robbers. The safe was emptied of its contents. Having completed their work, the knights of the road disap-peared in the darkness, leaving the mails and he passengers undisturbed. The train proceeded on its way north and when it reached Angipaho the news of the robbery was telegraphed back to this city. Superintendent Fisher of the express company said that the amount carried off by the train robbers would hardly exceed $3,000, in his opinion. Every effort is being made by the express and railroad officials and the parish officials to ferret out the robbers. Blood-hounds were sent for and were conveyed to the scene by a special train. The robbery

VICTORY FOR IOWA PEDDLERS.

No Municipal Body May Impose Excessive License Fees.

Stoux City, Ia., April 15 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-The fight which has been bitterly waged between the retail groceries and street peddlers ended today in a victory for the latter. The grocers procured an ordinance requiring the peddlers to pay a license of $10 per day. A test case was brought in and it was today declared in favor of the peddlers. The court holds that the sicense is unfair and beyond the power of the city to impose and that as peddling fruit and supplies is not against public policy, a city can impose only a reasonable revenue license. Public sentiment is with the peddlers, who sell better goods and far cheaper than the grocers' combine.

After Years of Unsuccessful Search for Cure, Martin And rays Gets Relief from the Chinese Doctor - X Voluntary Tree

Омана, Neb., Jan. 18, 1892. To whom It May Concern: This is to certify that I have been a constant sufferer for many years with catarrh, asthma and beonehial affections of the throat, and tried all the patent medicines and remedies I over heard of, but with no success. I treated with doctors in various parts of the country, but none of them could do me any good further than giving me shor temporary relief. I suffered night an day, and continued to grow worse not withstanding all the medicine I had taken. I had almost given up my case as hopeless when I was informed by a friend of Dr. C. Gee Wo, the Chinese doctor, and advised to go and see him in the hope of getting relief at least, if not a permanent cure for my trouble. I was slow in making up my mind to make such a radical change in my treatment, as I knew a trial with the Chinese doctor would bring me, but I finally con . cluded to give him a trial, so I called at his office with that intention. I found the doctor a clever, entertaining gentleman, thoroughly posted on my condition, and it took only a very short time to convince me that he was the party I was so long in search of. He told me my case was curable, and that he could cure me, and prepared me a special treatment to suit my condition, and in two weeks I was so much better that I had the fullest confidence in the doctor's ability and committed my case to his treatment. I continued to grow batter rapidy and am now entirely well. 1 owe my cure to D. C Geo Wo, and am not ashamed to admit it. I advise all who want relief from their troubles to call on Dr. C. Gee We, and they will be cured. For all particulars apply or write to MARTIN L. ANDERSON, write to 3121 Cuming St., Omaha, Nob.
