GORMAN'S LATEST SCHEME refiners, who, it is held, are responsible for the trust.

Leaving the National Committee to Work for the Presidential Nomination.

HE IS QUITE FRIENDLY WITH CLEVELAND

Assistance of the Ex-President Will Be Extended the Democratic Schator in the Event That Hill Secures the Lead in the Convention.

> WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, 1 513 FOURTEENTS STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.

Senator Gorman today confirmed the report that he intended to retire from the position he has so long held as a member of the democratic national committee. His withdrawal occasioned much surprise here, as he has been looked upon as the most adroit political general on the national committee. The ostensible reason for the retirement is that Mr. Gorman is suffering from a very severe attack of the grip which pros trated him about a year ago. Coming after his arduous labors to defeat the federal election bill, the disease took a deep told upon his system. Only a short time ago he was again confined to his room for two weeks from an attack of lumbago, which left nim so weak that he seriously contemplated a trip to the south, intending to remain a month.

Is is believed, however, that Mr. Gorman's Ill health is not the only reason for his re-tirement from the labors as a member of the national committee. He and his friends have watched with considerable satisfaction of late the growing proportions of Gorman's presidential boom and it is policyed that it is not improbable that a state of affairs may develop in Chicago which will lead to his

Prepared to Enter the Contest. Mr. Gorman is stripping himself of all incumbrance and preparing to enter the contest if the way is laid open to him. Hill does not like the growing movement toward Gorman.

He had counted on the Maryland senator as one of his main allies and he is rather crest-fallen to find that Mr. Gorman has a candidacy of his own and is on very cordial terms with Mr. Cleveland. It may now be stated that there is a friendly understanding between Senator Gorman and Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Gorman will not try to prevent Mr. Cleveland's nom-ination, but on the other hand if the trend of events show that Mr. Cleveland's nomination will be out of the question it is probable that a good share of the Cleveland following will go to Gorman by and with the advice and consent of Mr. Cleveland himself, who has not forgotten Mr. Gorman's services as national chairman in the campaign of 1884. Mr. Gorman's retirement from the committee also frees him from any possible accusa-tion by the friends of either Mr. Cleveland or Mr. Hill that he is using the party ma-chinery through his influence as a committeeman to affect the choice of delegates in any part of the country. In short Mr. Gor-man's action is construed as the most direct evidence yes made public that he is actually an aspirant for the nomination.

Recognized Cheyenne's Resources. In reporting favorably the bill appropriating $200,000 for a bublic building at Cheyenne, Wyo., and reducing the cost limit to $100,000, the house committee on public buildings and grounds says this: "There are two passenger denots in Cheyenne, one of which was constructed at a cost of $125,000 and the other at a cost of $100,000. The cash receipts of the railroad companies there ag-gregate $1,000,000 per annum. The city is supplied with commodious business houses and comfortable homes. The aggregate banking capital amounts to $1,000,000. The water and sewer systems have cost nearly $500,000. The public and private school buildings are valued at over $250,000. A capitol building has been erected at a cost of over $300,000. Private corporations maintain electric and gas light systems which have cost $250,000. Street car lines are also maintained. There has been completed during the past year machine shops with the capacity for the employment of 1,500 men and involving an outlay of nearly $2,000,000. There are three daily and five weekly newspapers published in the city. The popula-tion is 13,000. The receipts of the postoffice are nearly $20,000 per annum. Near the city is located Fort Russell, one of the principal military posts in the west. The United States district and circuit courts are held in Cheyenne. The government pays out for annual rental for postoffice, courts and other government offices in Chevenne $8,000. Ex-Representative Edwin H. Conger of Iowa, United States minister to Brazil, is here and says: "The reciprocity agreement the United States and Brazil is working admirably; it is a success. Time will demonstrate it one of the wisest step of international policy ever devised. It will increase enormously the trade between the wo countries, and the benefits are mutual instead of all on one side as falsely proclaimed by some enemies of reciprocity at the outset. The Brazilian government is lighly pleased with the arrangement and there can be no doubt of its permanency.'

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA.

City Counc'l Has Decided to Levy an Occupation Tax. There was an unusually large crowd of spectators at the regular meeting of the city council last night. It was expected that at least two of the most important city offices would be filled by appointment of Mayor Miller and the lookers-on hoped to see a fight on. They were disappointed, as the nominations were confirmed without any personalities being indulged in. After the finance committee had reported favorably upon a number of claims, Councilman Walters of the special committee on rules reported in favor of adopting the old rules with one addition. This was a rule com-pelling all members to vote "yes" or "no" on all questions unless excused by a majority vote of the council. Councilman Haley ob jected, but the new rule was adopted, all the other members voting in the affirmative.

A petition asking for the appointment of Charles Belding as poundmaster was referred to the mayor. Charles Cummings wanted the same job and his petition was also re-ferred to the mayor, together with a number of petitions for positions in the fire and poco departments.

C. J. Hamon wanted a sixteen-foot sidewalk laid on the east side of Twenty-sixth street between N and O streets. He will be accommodated.

P. J. Kelly presented a claim for $750, for damages caused by water running into the basement of his building at Thirty-second and Q streets. The claim was referred to the city attorney and city engineer. The mayor and council accepted the invitation of South Omaha loage No. 148, Inde-pendent Order of Oad Fellows, to participate in the parade on the occasion of their cele-bration of the anniversary of the order, April 26. The city engineer reported that the city was under contract for grading in districts 5, 7 and 12 and no bonds had yet been issued to pay for it. The city attorney was in-structed to draft ordinances providing for issuing bonds for those districts. The bond of C. P. Miller as mayor was read and approved. His sureties are Truman Buck and L. M. Anderson. Mayor Miller read the appointment of J. H. Van Dusen as city attorney and the appointment was confirmed by unanimous vote. Wiley H. Beckett was appointed chief of police vice Thomas Brennan, Councilman Wood took the floor to call at-tention to the faithful manner in which Mr.

Brennan had performed his duties and the vote on confirmation was taken. Wood, Bruce and Wyman voted to confirm and the remainder said "no." Walters, Shultze and Haley subsequently changed their votes to "yes" and the appointment was declared confirmed.

The city clerk was instructed to draw a warrant in favor of Chief of Police Brennan for his salary up to the time when his successor takes charge. The council then went into executive session to consider the question of levying an occupation tax to provide funds for assisting in the support of the police and fire departments. After a careful discussion of the situation the city attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance providing for an occupation tax, leaving blank the amounts to be assessed on the several businesses carried on in the city. Over this point there was much discussion, with some difference of opinion as to what would be charged. The trend of discussion soumed to be in favor of charging saloons $200; banks, $35; real estate, $50; dry goods, $10; billiards, $10; packing houses and stock yards, $500 each. A special session of the council will be held tonight to fill out the blanks in the ordinance, and another on Thursday to discuss its passage. It is estimated that the occupation tax will raise

Police Court Doings. Judge Fowler's docket was well filled yesterday and he dealt out police court justice in allopathic doses. Ed Lioses got $20 and costs for beating his wife and an admonition that if it occurred again at would be $200. J. J. Hannegan, an old time drunk, was sentenced to thirty days in the county fail, the first and last five on bread and water. Martin Weich, alias "One-Eyed Riley," who has been a city charge for months, was railroaded out of town under a thirty days' penalty. Thomas Stewart got ten days for being drung and James Conklin was assessed $20 and costs for the same offense.

School Matters. The school board held a special meeting last night, at which all the newly elected members were present. The usual lot of bills was allowed. J. D. Robinson was delegated to see that the gutters of the Albright chool house were repaired.

A rule was adopted that no A pupils shall hereafter be admitted to the city schools after the first two weeks of each term. Notes and Personals. W. R. Sage will erect a cottage at Nine Lincoln's Dual Police Force. Nothing new transpired in the police circles of the city to change the situation from Saturday night until this afternoon. Both forces have patrolled the streets with no clashing of mutual interests. Acting Chief Dinges has instructed his special policemen, who comprise all of the old force, to be extremely careful in their relations to the mer tremely careful in their relations to the men appointed by the excise board Saturday afternoon, while Chief Otto has been equally particular in instructing his men not to in-terfere with the specials. The mayor has taken the situation good humoredly, and to all inquiries states that he has no objections to any of the men appointed by the excise board patrolling the streets as long as they do it simply for exercise.

At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon F. B. Kimball applied to the district court for an order restraining O. P. Dinges and his men from interfering with Louis Otto and his force of policemen in the performance of their duties, and also enjoining Dinges and his men from and also enjoining Dinges and his men from placing any obstacles in the way of Otto and his men from taking possession of the police station for the purpose of transacting the police business of the city. At 7 o'clock this evening the restraining order was issued by the district court and was served upon Acting Chief Dinges and each one of the members of the old police force. The order was, as a matter of course, obeyed. The police station, together with all books, papers, etc., was turned over to Chief Otto and the old men walked out. Captain Miller, a member of the old force, who was reappointed by the excise board, declined to report for duty to Chief Otto, and went out with his fellow members of the old force. The restraining order will be or was made returnable to court Thursday morning, at which time the case will be argued from both sides. It is the general impression that the matter will go to the supreme court again before either side will be satisfied.

In those indictments, Pulaski, as the ex-city dog catcher and keeper of the dog pound was charged with several things. Miss Buck has resigned her place and it will be filled by Miss Smith. Miss Colly comes next upon the list. Each of the sixty-seven candidates for diplomas prepared an essay. These essays were carefully read by seven teachers, each one making a ranked list. Then the seven compared lists and the selections were made upon this basis, if there was not some especial deficiency in scholarship. A. K. Goudy, superintendent of public in-struction of Nebraska, says: "There is no essential difference in the work done or in the manner of doing it, between the country school and the school of the city. The same subjects are taught; they are taught in the same way; the children of both sorts of chools are equally intelligent, apt, and atontive; the toachers are of equal scholar-hip and ability, as well trained and effi-ient."

Getting it Ready for Something, A force of men is busy tearing down the buildings on the Withnell property adjoining the old Herald building site purchased some time ago by John A McShane. The rumor is that the work is preparatory to the building of the much talked of hotel, but Mr. McShane says nothing has been definitely settled ex-cept that the quarter block will be cleared and graied and prepared for a big building of some sort which will be erected sometime.

German Marksmen. Members of the old German Schuetzerverein were to have held a meeting Sungay afternoon at the Elkhorn Valley house, Eleventh and Dodge streets, for the purpose of reorganizing the club for this year's shooting, but as it was Easter day few put in an appearance, and it was decided to postpone the reorganization of the club until nex.
